The most efficient aid to the medical fraternity in its warfare against disease in its own stronghold is a higher degree of knowledge among the people. Means ought to be provided for popular exposition concerning water supplies, foods, drinks, drugs, parasites, and the modes of communication of all communicable diseases. There should be medical museums open to the public under proper regulations Medical schools should habitually provide popular lectures on medical subjects, and these lectures should be given without charge on days and at hours when all classes of society may profit by them. If it is worth while to provide free hospitals for the cure of disease it is more worth while to instruct people, especially wage earners, how disease may be avoided and their productivity increased rather than diminished. Much has been done in placing the latest remedies, such as antitoxin, within the reach of the poor. Better still to place within their grasp the significance of the latest discoveries as to the nature of disease.

One feature of the medical science of the future is the recognition of the fact that medicine is not an isolated science. It is closely linked with all the other sciences. The medical student should have a knowledge of zoology and botany before taking up his professional studies, and the most promising medical research of today makes a large use of biology, physics, and chemistry. Some of the greatest contributions to medical science in the last thirty years have been made by men who were not physicians. "Pasteur was a chemist; Cohn, the teacher of Koch, a botanist; and Metchnikoff a zoologist." Electrical studies have been given to the physician agents of investigation and cure. The medical practitioner of the future must be acquainted with sciences of whose name the old school doctor never heard. The call is for highly-educated physicians, for a wider diffusion of knowledge among the people, and for the elimination of causes of disease as the chief object of study. Under President Eliot and with the generous endowment which friends have placed in his hands, the medical school of Harvard may be relied upon to help meet the demand.

FUR A SQUARE DEAL

One of the most remarkable of the younger generation of United States politicians is Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas. He was scarcely out of his teens when he entered politics, going into the state legislature and graduating from it in a couple of years into congress, where he remained for five terms. At thirty-seven he entered the United States senate and there as in the lower house attracted attention on account of his oratorical ability. The Democrats regarded him as a coming leader and the country generally looked upon him as a public representative of the highest class. But Bailey has lately fallen in the estimation of the people of the republic and is now under fire for his Standard Oil affiliations. The country is on edge with respect to the operations and manipulations of that gigantic monopoly. It will not stand for a connection between any public man and the company and it will drive the man who on the Standard Oil collar out of political life if that is within its ability. Senator Bailey cannot become the instrument of business oppression and hope to hold his place in the senate.

DOG BEGS FOR LIFE

Eloquent Appeal of "Jack" Moves Magistrate to Grant Respite.

Cincinnati, October 5.—"Jack," a yellow dog, the joy and pride of John Hetzler's lowly life, appeared in police court recently to plead for his own life. As he could not speak, he did the next best thing—made motions.

Frieda Overlaender, a neighbor to Hetzler, swore out a warrant, charging the man with harboring a vicious dog. Jack had bitten her son, she asserted.

When Jack wagged his yellow tail and looked up at Magistrate Lueders in police court he seemed to realize that it was life and death with him. He favored life. He stood up on his hind feet. He shook hands with his master as though in last farewell and buried his head in uplifted paws.

The crowd in the courtroom became so interested that the judge had to call a halt. But apparently Jack carried the day, for the case was postponed until October 19.

A Mean Swindler Sent to Prison

Toronto, Oct. 6.—Wilson Freemantle an Englishman who has already served a year in the Central for theft, was convicted on another charge before Magistrate Denison yesterday morning under peculiarly distressing circumstances and was roundly scored by the magistrate.

Miss Katherine Simmons, an auburn-haired Irish lass, tearfully told of how Freemantle had made her acquaintance, made love to her, proposed, and they had become engaged. On the strength of this she had wheedled $38, all her savings, out of her, and spent the money, saying he was daily expecting a $500 Xmas from England, and that they would be married as soon as it came.

"I think you have swindled this poor girl out of her money, and lived on your wits and by crime," said the Magistrate, as he made a conviction and sent Freemantle to the Central Prison for six months.

Weak Kidneys Bright's Disease and Diabetes

Use Dr. Shoop's Restorative to Cure the Cause, If You Suffer From These Symptoms.

Here are the symptoms of Kidney complaints: Urine laden with sediment, brick dust in urine, highly colored urine, greasy froth or bloat in it, stringy mucous in urine, unusual desire to urinate, pain in passing water, pain in the back and over the kidneys, hot, dry and itching skin, hair dry and brittle, painful joints, legs feel heavy, sleeplessness, dullness, loss of weight, chilly sensations, loss of memory, general debility, irregular heart, disorders of eyesight, trouble with hearing, waxy skin, fevers, shifting from one foot to the other in standing. An improper water or treatment is often worse than none. Most Kidney medicines get their effect from results called diuretics. These are practically kidney physics, acting as cathartics act on the bowels. They excite the kidneys to unusual action, they cause overstrain. These diuretic remedies are themselves the frequent cause of serious kidney disease. Don't try to doctor the kidneys themselves, for you will only harm them. Their only strength is nerve power. Dr. Shoop's Restorative vitalizes the nerves that operate the Kidneys. Sold by druggists.

STRICTURE AND KIDNEY DISEASE CURED.

G. E. WRIGHT.

"I had stricture for eleven years. It finally brought on Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had an uncomfortable shooting pain in the groin and feeling as though something was in the urethra. My back was weak and I could scarcely stoop over. Urine was full of sediment. Had a desire to urinate frequently. Family doctors, so-called specialists, patent medicines, electric belts, all failed. I was discouraged. I had spent hundreds of dollars in vain. Finally I consulted Drs. Kennedy & Kergan as the last resort. I had heard a great deal about them and concluded from the fact that they had been established over 25 years that they understood their business. I am delighted with the results. In one week I felt better and in a few weeks was entirely cured. Have gained sixteen pounds in weight."

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

as the Baroness Etheridge of Swinburne, she had the right to claim a hearing before the highest tribunal in the realm.

It was therefore by the advice of her friends, and the express desire of her husband, that she exercised her right of peerage, demanding a trial by the House of Lords, and remained quietly in London to await the issue.

The trial was arranged to be commenced on the fourteenth of the ensuing May.

Meanwhile the enviers, haters and maligners of the beautiful young duchess were busy with her name and fame. Her antecedents were brought up, with many exaggerations, distortions and inventions. The particulars of the alleged first marriage were not known, but what was missing in fact was supplied by fancy. The blackest slanders were circulated, and in order to set the seal of truth upon the packet of falsehood, they said that the Duchess Dowager of Beresleigh and the Ladies Wardour had abandoned the young duchess, a circumstance, they argued, that looked very black for the latter.

The duke and duchess were sitting together in the drawing-room late in the evening, discussing this new calumny, when the doorbell rang.

"Who can it be at this time of the night? It is an odd hour for visitors to call," said the duke, impatiently.

Rose, frightened at the very idea of visitors, listened like a startled fawn.

Then followed the opening of the hall door, and a little bustle of arrival, and in another minute the drawing-room door was thrown open, and a footman announced:

"Her grace, the duchess, and the young ladies."

CHAPTER XXX.

"My dearest George! my dear, dear Rose! You could let me depart and remain abroad, while this great trouble was impending over you! Oh, George, could you doubt your mother's love? Could you, Rose, doubt one who has tried to fill a mother's place toward you? Doubt no more!- if sorrow has come upon you, my children, your mother must bear it with you! If dishonor, she must share it! The hour of adversity and danger is not the time for a family to be separated. 'United we stand; divided we fall!'"

She looked like a queen or a goddess, as she stood there in her noble rectitude.

The young duke released Rose, and with a burst of irrepressible emotion, turned and clasped his mother to his heart.

"Oh, madam! Oh lady! I had rather died than have brought this sorrow upon you"

The duchess stooped and raised her up, saying:

"Come to my bosom, poor wounded dove, and believe that all evils from which we cannot save you, we will share with you."

"And the Ladies Wardour?" said the duke, turning a questioning glance toward them.

"They are my daughters and your sisters," said the duchess, significantly, while the young ladies, with tearful eyes and extended hands, came forward, and silently embraced their brother and sister-in-law. No miserable egotism, no mean question as to how the impending calamity might affect them and their prospects in life, had any place in the souls of these noble girls.

"But, oh! is it possible!" said Rose, with her voice half-drowned in tears, "that hearing of my arrest upon such a dreadful charge, and knowing nothing of the particulars, you still had so much faith in me that you could not believe me guilty?"

"No," said the duchess, emphatically and almost indignantly, "I knew you too well, sweet Rose. And now dismiss forever from your mind the idea that you have brought this trouble upon us! Providence visits us all with a trial in which you have the hardest part to bear, and we the duty of making it as light as possible," concluded her grace, tenderly pressing the hand of Rose.

In an hour from that time the reunited family supped together cheerfully, as though no impending calamity lowered darkly over their heads.

That night, for the first time since her arrest, poor Rose retired to bed tranquillized. And the next morning all London knew that the duchess dowager, as soon as she heard in Paris of the arrest of her daughter-in-law upon a criminal charge, had hastened home to sustain her through the approaching trial that was arranged to be commenced on the fourteenth of May.

In all the woe of this world there is no anxiety so intense as that which precedes a trial for life, and no despair so deep as that which follows the sentence of death.

Such an anxiety now held the soul of Laura Elmer in a state of tension to which physical torture by the rack would have been as nothing. Such a despair loomed darkly before her. All the strong hopes that had supported her in the first days of Cassinove's imprisonment had utterly given way and sunk beneath the weight of impending doom.

She had done all that was possible, and had failed of doing any good.

The warrant that she had caused to be issued for the arrest of Thugsen, alias Roberts, alias Rayburne, had been served upon him. Indeed, that mysterious individual, far from avoiding the officers of justice, had purposely thrown himself in their way, giving himself up, "to have the thing over once for all," as he laughingly declared. He had been taken before the Bow street magistrate, by whom he had been very carefully examined, but in the absence of any positive evidence against him, he was discharged—a result that he evidently foreseen from the first.

Laura Elmer's latest hope went out with the discharge of this man, whom in heart she believed to be guilty of the murder for which Cassinove was about to be tried. She knew Cassinove to be guiltless, but she had no longer any faith in the necessary security of innocence. She could only remember how often the guiltless seemed fated to suffer, and shudder at the inscrutable mystery.

And as the day for the trial approach, without casting any ray of light upon the dark secret of the murder, her anxiety deepened to despair. Her anguish was confined to her own bosom, or confided only to her venerable friend, Dr. Clark.

One evening, after taking leave of Cassinove, and hearing the door locked upon him—a sound that always struck like a death knell upon her ear—she hurried home to her lodgings, and dispatched a note to the venerable physician, entreating him to call on her at his earliest convenience.

The good doctor waited upon her the same evening.

He was shocked to notice the change that had passed over her queenly person in the few days that had elapsed since he had seen her last.

The emaciated figure, the pallid face, looking paler still in contrast to the large, dark eyes and ebon locks, the look and attitude of mute despair, touched his heart.

"Miss Elmer," he said, in a gentle, parental tone, advancing towards her.

"Doctor, this is very kind; sit down," she replied, rising and placing a chair for him. "Doctor," she continued, as soon as he was seated, "I wished to speak to you particularly this evening——" She hesitated in embarrassment.

"Dear child, speak on; but try to take some hope and comfort to your heart."

THE PRIBILOF ISLANDS.

Where No White Man May Land Unless He Has a Permit.

Unalaska resembles other northern stations, having warehouses, docks, the inevitable Greek church and a score of wooden cabins. Whalers leave here for the arctic regions.

Dutch Harbor is a station for our revenue fleet. There is much coming and going of ships of all nations. There is quite a formidable fleet, and only two ships out of twelve carry colors of the same country.

Just before entering the harbor one notices a detached rock high against the side of the cliff. It bears a striking resemblance to a Russian priest in full robes. Touched by the sunset light, he seems to stand blessing the harbor.

Sailing north out into Bering sea, one looks back at the desolate, silent, treeless islands, which seem to wall the edge of the world. Hundreds of miles west they run toward Vladivostok.

Two hundred and forty miles north of Unalaska are the Pribilof islands, not large, but the greatest seal islands in the world. There are many fur seals around the shores of Bering sea and the Aleutian islands, but the great mass of them are bred on the Pribilof group. No white man is permitted to land on these breeding grounds without a permit signed by the secretary of the treasury of the United States.—Outdoor Life.

The Pace of the Camel.

As a matter of fact, and in spite of its having carried Mohammed in four leaps from Jerusalem to Mecca, seven miles an hour is the camel's limit, nor can it maintain this rate over two hours. Its usual speed is five miles an hour—a slow pace, beyond which it is dangerous to urge it, lest, as Asiatics say, it might break its heart and die literally on the spot. When a camel is pressed beyond this speed and is spent it kneels down, and not all the wolves in Asia will make it budge again. The camel remains where it kneels, and where it kneels it dies. A fire under its nose is useless.—Times of India.

The Complementary Virtue.

"What do you consider most essential in being quick at repartee?"

"A person who constantly strives to be quick at repartee," answered Miss Cayenne, "should be quite sure he has friends who are slow to anger."—Washington Star.

Best She Could Do.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 200,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 250 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once that to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

A DISCOVERY OF GREAT VALUE

Because a Cure Was Found for Inflammatory Rheumatism.

There are many types of rheumatism but none worse than inflammatory.

It was this kind that almost killed Mrs. Edw. Warman, of Kent Jct., N. B.

Weak and despairing, she was at her wits' end when the remarkable cure of Thos. Cullen was published. This gentleman was cured of rheumatism by "Ferrozone." Consequently Mrs. Warman used the same remedy. Here is her statement:

"For years I have been rheumatic. I tried various forms of relief without success. The disease increased, settled in my joints and muscles, then swelled, caused excruciating pain and kept me from sleeping. My limbs and arms stiffened, my shoulders were lame and prevented me from working. Week by week I was losing strength and despaired of finding a cure. It was a happy day I heard of Ferrozone. Every day I took Ferrozone I felt better; it eased the painful joints, gave me energy and a feeling of new life. Ferrozone cured my rheumatism, cured it so that not an ache has ever returned. Even damp weather no longer affects me."

Ferrozone has power to destroy Uric Acid, neutralize and enrich the blood, and therefore does cure the worst cases. Mrs. Warman's statement proves this.

By removing the cause of the disease and building up a reserve of energy Ferrozone is certain to cure. Sufferer, isn't it about time to stop experimenting? Ferrozone is a cure. We guarantee this. Sold by all dealers, 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. Remember the name—"Ferrozone."

Disgraceful Scene at the Match

A most unfortunate feature of Saturday's game between the locals and the "Tigers" was a disgraceful free fight on that part of the grand stand reserved for the Hamilton followers of that team, who were present to the number of some two hundred. It seems that a local man entered the Hamilton section of the stand and when requested by several Hamiltonians to sit down so they could see the field, made remarks to them that were resented. The man was shoved off the front of the grand stand, as he would not move. He then returned and hit the man who had shoved him. A friend of the local man came to his aid, and within one minute a fierce fist fight was in progress. Blows in the face were quickly exchanged. Hamilton men, to the number of perhaps fifty piled on to the fighting local man, raining blows on his head, shoulders, arms or whenever they could hit. A frantic struggling mass of Hamiltonians, yelling "Hit 'im," "kill the ——," climbed down from the upper rows of seats to rain blows upon the Peterborough man, the air being filled with sticks and umbrellas. P.C. Mcharry was summoned and placed a Hamilton man under arrest, but was persuaded by some local gentlemen, to let him go. The whole fight which began in the lowest tier of seats, was soon carried to the field in front of the grand stand, and then raged back to the stand benches, was caused by the injudicious conduct of a local man, who was subsequently "piled on" by a number of Hamilton roughs. The players of neither team were in any way responsible for this regrettable contretemps.

HUNTERS' EXCURSION

The fact that the C. P. R. line runs for so many miles through ideal hunting lands, where moose and deer and smaller game galore wax fat, and await the advent of fall, and the accompanying guns and dogs, is, of course, the principal reason why about this time of year the enthusiastic sportsman turns to the well known yellow covered folder, and studies time-tables and maps so industriously. Hunters excursions are round again, and single fare will soon be the order of the day. The C. P. R. announces that from October 9th to November 6th, return tickets to all stations on their main line, Mattawa to Port Arthur, and Mattawa to Temiskaming and Kipawa, will be on sale at single fare, and from October 25th to November 6th, tickets at the same low rate to stations on the Lindsay branch, stations between Sudbury and the Soo and Havelock and Sharbot Lake. All tickets will be good to return until December 5th, with stop-overs allowed anywhere. Special steamship rates to the Soo and Port Arthur will also be in effect. Intending hunters should make a point of calling at the nearest C. P. R. ticket office for further information and for copies of "Fishing and Shooting," "Sportsman's Map," and "Open Seasons and Game Laws," all of which are of particular interest and use to sportsmen, and are free for the asking. C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, C. P. R., Toronto, will gladly mail them to any address, if difficulty is experienced getting copies.

Boy Breaks an Arm.

On Saturday evening as a son of Mr. John Robson, Dublin street, the well known local contractor, was playing with other lads, he fell from a box breaking his arm. Dr Bradd was summoned and set the fractured bone. The little fellow is doing as well as could be expected.

English Papers Please Note.

Our esteemed cotemporaries in the "right little tight little island" will please note that the "Tigers" who devoured the local Rugby players at Riverside Park on Saturday, are bipeds not quadupeds. The Tigers are not related to a bear recently shot near the city.

Mr. D. Derbyshire Seriously Ill.

The many friends in this city of Mr. D. Derbyshire, M.P.P., the popular president of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association, will regret to learn that he is lying at his home quite ill.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down" or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. WAS WOMAN MURDERED BY HER HUSBAND?

Suspicious Circumstances Surrounded the Death of Mrs. Brouwer in New Jersey.

Toms River, N.J., Oct. 9.—The trial of Dr. Frank Brouwer, charged with the murder of his wife, was on the court calendar here yesterday. Mrs Brouwer died in September, 1905, after an illness which was diagnosed at first by her husband as cholera morbus.

Dr. Cate, who was called in, refused from the case, but later, signed the death certificate, setting forth that Mrs. Brouwer died of Bright's disease.

Frevonian E. Hyer, of Long Branch, a brother of the dead woman, heard of these reports of suspicious circumstances surrounding the death and finally began an investigation.

As a result of these investigations the body was exhumed on December 19 and an autopsy was performed.

The digestive organs were removed from the body and sent to Dr. Genth of the University of Pensylvania, for an analysis of the contents. It was then asserted that Genth had reported that he had found traces of arsenic and what was supposed to be ground glass in the stomach.

The grand jury found an indictment, charging Dr. Brouwer with the murder of his wife, and he was arrested by Sheriff Jeffrey and locked up in the county jail at Toms River.

The defence has more than forty witnesses.

A number of citizens who believe Brouwer to be innocent, of the crime have contributed $2,500 to aid in his defence.

Harwood Man Gets Star's Prize

Mr. William Robson Catches Small Mouth Bass Weighing 7 lbs. 3 ozs.

Wm. Robson, a resident of Harwood, Rice Lake, has captured the Toronto Star's prize of $15 brass rod, reel and line for the best small mouth black bass caught in Ontario waters, during the past season. The weight of the fish was 7lb. 3oz., length over all, 23 inches, girth 17 inches.

These figures were verified by Mr. W. J. Edmison, the Harwood postmaster, who purchased the fish from Mr. Robson, had it mounted, and it is now on exhibition at the Daily Star office, Toronto.

Rev. Robt. Laird M.A. Mr. Waddell's Guest

Queen's University, Kingston, in which many local citizens are interested has had its endowment fund, by subscriptions and contributions, increased to over $250,000. This is largely due to the efforts of Rev. Robert Laird, M.A., late of Vancouver, and a former pastor of the Presbyterian church, Campbellford, officia representative of that fund, who spent Sunday in the city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Waddell.

M. H. O. to Analyze Local Milk

Board of Health Consider Isolation Hospital Plans.

Yesterday the Board of Health held a meeting. Those present were Mayor Best, Messrs. W. Eyres, chairman, Dr. McNulty, Dr. Burnham, G. Schneider, Architect Blackwell, Dr. Bingham, M. H. O. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Chairman Eyres brought the matter of the city water before the board. He noted the powers of the board in this connection, as well as referring to the placards posted at Stony Lake and other sources of supply of the local drinking water. The local police have not time to attend to this. He thought perhaps a man should be appointed to look after this. He next took up the subject of sewer connections.

Dr. Burnham here asked where the money was to come from to pay a man to look after the protection of the city water and milk.

The chairman answered that the board had an official paid $400 a year to look after public health. If the official could not do this work for the money paid the board would throw the onus on the city council. The board has no control over the chief of police.

In reply to a question by Dr. Burnham, the board he thought had some control over the medical health officer, although the council employs and pays him.

Mayor Best said the council did no intend to employ a special man for milk inspection: the police could best do that.

Dr. Burnham said the city of Belleville had their medical health officer inspect milk.

Chairman Eyres said if the law was not enforced it was worse than useless. He thought the council should appoint an officer to attend to the above noted matters.

Dr. Burnham objected that this looked like a want of confidence in the present medical health officer.

Dr. McNulty advocated employing a man to look after all the health matters that might be necessary. He thought the present medical health officer did not have very much to do, as the city had been very healthy.

The mayor said the protection of the water supply was the duty of the water commissioners.

The chairman thought the council should deal with the matter; but the board of health would be glad to see the water commissioners step in and assist.

Dr. Burnham thought the medical health officer should be asked to look after the water supply and milk inspection, and if the duties are too onerous for the present salary, let the council pay him in accordance.

Dr. Bingham said the medical health act clearly defines the duties of the medical health officer, and this did not say anything about his going to the back lanes. A medical health officer could not be running off to Fenelon Falls, Balsam Lake and other distant parts.

"Why not?" asked Dr. McNulty.

Dr. Burnham moved that the medical health officer be requested to inspect the milk sold by the various local dealers, analyze it and report the results to a meeting of the board, to be called by the chairman. Seconded by Dr. McNulty. Carried.

Chairman Eyres noted that now the notices re the pollution of the water had been posted, he asked the provincial board to appoint an officer to see that the law is kept. The department replied that they gave the law and as it is in the interests of the city to have the law observed, the city would have to appoint a man.

Dr. Burnham moved that the water commissioners be asked to meet the board relative to seeing that pollution of the water supply is stopped. Seconded by Dr. McNulty. Carried.

Dr. McNulty noted that last Friday a meeting of the local medical society was held in his office, and that they had carefully gone over the plans of the isolation hospital. They thought the kitchen should be in the basement, as the kitchen help could not otherwise be isolated from contagious cases. By having the food cooked in the basement, the cook could go out after his or her day's work was done. They thought also that a convalescent ward should be provided. After patients with scarlet fever left their beds, they must still be isolated for some weeks. It would be a hardship to keep convalescent patients in their sick bedroom for so long.

Architect Blackwell said another ward would cost a good deal of money more than by the original plans.

Dr. McNulty replied that the society considered the present plans altogether inadequate. He recommended that a deputation of medical men go before the council, explain matters, and ask for a further appropriation.

Dr. McNulty moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that the plans be referred back to the architect to revise and change them as suggested by the medical society, and that the architect report the additional cost. Carried.

The meeting then adjourned until next Monday morning.

That Saturday Fight Reviewed

Yesterday two or three local citizens evidently animated by a seemingly supersensitive idea of Peterborough's duty to her visitors or a possibly exaggerated sense of true sportsmanship, either called up by phone, or called at The Times office to remonstrate with us over our account of the regrettable fight at Riverside Park during the game between the Hamilton Tigers and the local club.

To quote from our report of this incident we wound up by saying: "The players of neither team were in any way responsible for this regrettable contre-temps."

The whole burden of complaint seemed to be that our report might be construed as reflecting upon Peterborough's visitors. A more careful resume of our report will show that we distinctly, without fear or favor, said that a local man had started the trouble by his ill-advised action in stopping the view of the Hamilton spectators, when asked to get out of the way, "made remarks that were resented."

The only real cause for complaint that could justly have been raised by even a Hamilton visitor was that we said, "A frantic struggling mass of Hamiltonians, yelling 'Hit him, kill the ——,' piled on to the fighting local man."

This statement is absolutely correct; fully forty to fifty men, wearing Hamilton badges, on the grand stand, leaning over from the upper benches rained down blows, with sticks and umbrellas upon the local man who was responsible for the "mix-up." We cannot see but what our account of the fracas was impartial. If forty or fifty men wearing Hamilton badges could not see two men indulge in a little bout of fist-cuffs without showering blows on the Peterborough man with sticks and umbrellas, their moral and courageous sensibilities cannot be too acute to stand plain English. As we said in yesterday's issue, the members of neither team were responsible for this unfortunate incident and no odium attaches either to the Peterborough team nor to Peterborough as a city.

Sevengala at Opera House

Last night a fair-sized audience greeted Sevengala, a most accomplished hypnotist at the local opera house. The show last night kept the audience in laughter from when the curtain raised until when it fell at the climax. Sevengala had some twelve or fourteen local young men on the stage, who were, or apparently were, completely under the control of this exponent of what might seem one of the "black arts." The young men seated about the stage were impelled to assume and use the actions of various characters as suggested by the main performer.

Possibly the most amusing feature of last night's exhibition was when he placed the double sex attachment under his control and told them they were members of Sousa's band. One was given an ordinary watering can, another, a feather duster, more were furnished with brooms, an enably trombones, and other wind instruments, others had wooden wands placed in their hands. At the proper signal the twelve or fourteen began to render a most effective march or some other symphony, with most surprising effects.

After the intermission that divided last night's program, Sevengala gave a good exhibition of his mind reading powers that fully equalled, if not excelled that of the Fay's.

Interesting Event at St. John's Tonight

Everything points towards the social gathering at St. John's church this evening being a great success. The entertainment, as noted in a former issue of The Times, is a tea given by the rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, and church wardens of that church to members of the Ministerial Association, and representatives of the various Protestant churches of Peterborough, to be held in the Sunday School. The tea is to be held at six p.m. today. Places will be reserved for those sending acceptances to invitations issued, up to the noon hour today.

It is expected that the pastors and leading members of the local churches will be present and a most interesting and instructive time is anticipated.

Ticket Agents on Southern Trip

Messrs. Wm. Bouton, president of the Canadian Ticket Agents Association, and Wm. McIlroy, 1st vice-president as noted in yesterday's Times attended a meeting of the association in Toronto on Saturday when arrangements were completed for the annual trip. This year the ticket agents will meet at Detroit where they will take a special train for Mobile, Ala., going via St. Louis. They will also visit New Orleans for two days, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Cincinnati for one day each, and return to Detroit. They will not leave for about a month yet.

Fall Assizes Opened Yesterday at Noon

Yesterday with a small attendance the Fall Assizes opened shortly after one o'clock. His Lordship, Mr. Justice Britton presiding. Only two criminal cases are on the list, and they are both of a very serious nature. There are six civil cases.

The following members of the bar were present: Crown Attorney Wood, D. O'Connell, T. H. Moore of Lindsay, T. S. Medd, R. F. McWilliams, G. Gordon, Mr. Goodwill, John Green, R. W. Eyre, of Currie, Eyre & Wallace, Toronto, D. Kerr, A. M. Hayes, Mr. Bennet of Roger & Bennet.

The grand jury consisted of Messrs. Geo. Elliot, foreman; C. Young, W. J. Buck, Allan Church, W. G. Ferguson, Thos. Elliot, Robt. Ferguson, R. P. Davidson, Wm. Garvey, J. Peake, Daniel Moloney, Zacchens Burnham and J. H. Foster.

His lordship then addressed the grand jury, and in part said:

"You have come to take part in the duty of administering the justice of the county, and I am glad to hear there are not many cases to be considered. There are only two criminal cases, one a charge of burglary, and the other a charge of picking pockets, which is the most serious. As to these offenders, you will inquire whether there is sufficient evidence to bring in true bills or not. The grand jury are to act just as a magistrate. If you find sufficient evidence to warrant you finding a true bill, do so. You will also attend to the duties of inspecting the jail, etc.

"It is sometimes said there are too many courts, too much law, and too many appeals. We have now in Canada a Supreme Court at Ottawa, which judges sitting there from different parts of the Dominion. We have also the Court of Exchequer, in which to try cases against the crown and Crown against others. We have the Supreme Court of Judicature and the High Court of Justice, which is separated into four divisions. There is now plenty of work for all the judges and all places are filled."

His lordship next referred to the vacant seat not yet filled—that of the late Justice Street, who died recently and whose death was greatly regretted by the members of the Bench.

"It isn't always the case," he continued, "that the work coming before the grand jury, determines the amount of crime, though sometimes it is. Crime is often disposed of, if the prisoner wishes before the police magistrate or county judge. So there are crimes which the assizes never hear of."

In his lordship's experience he always found more work for judges in times of prosperity. He also referred to the House of Refuge, which is being constructed, and later on, he said, there would no be so many vagrants in the county as he had heard there were."

The first case called was Keough vs. Brady. R. W. Eyres for the plaintiff and D. O'Connell for the defendant, with the consent of His lordship, agreed to let the case stand over until after the jury comes.

Kidd vs. Kidd was called, but Mr. Medd stated that the lawyers on the case had agreed to let it stand over until the next sitting of the court. It is expected that this case, which is an action for slander will be settled out of court.

Duncan vs. P. Hamilton was called next. Mr. O'Connel for the plaintiff, and Mr. L. M. Hayes for the defendants.

MANY BOXERS ARRESTED

Were Prominent in the Troubles of Nineteen Hundred.

Tokio, October 9.—Forty-two Boxers, several of whom were prominent in the troubles of 1900, have been arrested at Shanghai.

Twelve others have been shot dead by soldiers of the magistrate of Tsoyunhsen, in Shansi. The Boxers entered the town and demanded food and permission to kill all the Christians in the place, including six missionaries. The missionaries fled to the yamen, but the local officials appeared to be helpless until the arrival of a German lieutenant, who was making a tour, and persuaded the magistrate to collect his soldiers and reestablish order.

The Board of Trustees of the George street Methodist church wrote offering to sell and convey to the Education Board the eastern 10 feet of Grace church lot, on Barnardo avenue for $300 provided the School Board build between the two properties a close board fence, six feet high, smooth side towards the school, throughout; with an ornamental post front. The church authorities noted their reluctance to sell, but did not wish to hamper the Board of Education.

Report of the Committee on Appointments.

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg leave to report that they have appointed Miss Bertha G. Auver of Goderich, Ont., as assistant in the Collegiate Institute at a minimum salary of $800. Miss Bauer will be ready to start work on Monday, 22d inst. Your committee has also granted Miss Warner leave of absence for four months, from the 1st Oct. for the purpose of taking an advanced course in kindergarten work. Miss Cameron has been placed in charge of Miss Warner's room, and we recommend that Miss Cameron be paid $ the minimum salary for kindergarten directors, viz. $37.50 per month. We also recommend that Miss N. Hall be employed to take Miss Cameron's work from Oct. 1st at a salary of $3 per month. All of which, etc.

(Sgd.) W. H. HILL, Chairman.

In connection with the proposed Collegiate Institute, Mr. Morrison asked whether the Board intended to try and get the $21,000 required for this building this fall or wait till spring. Mr. Hill noted that the Board had done all they could at present, as per a resolution whereby the secretary had written the council. Mr Hill (Dought), and Dr. Burnham moved that the Board should wait on the council in connection with the $21,000 required. It was shown by the minutes that a communication had already been sent. Mr Hill noted that as much of the taxes was paid by tenants as by freeholders, he thought it unfair that the rentpayers should not have a say in this matter as they pay the greater part of the taxes.

Mr. Dumble explained that a tenant in "here today and away tomorrow," whilst the tax is on the land for all time.

It was decided that the chairman of the Collegiate Institute Building Committee should arrange for a committee to appear before the City Council relative to the grant of $21,000.

Dr. Burnham moved concerning Thanksgiving Day that the schools be closed from Thursday until the following Monday morning.

Under miscellaneous business, Mr. Dumble chairman of the committee in charge of North Ward improvements noted the committee had got plans from the architect for six more rooms. He noted that new plumbing was required at a cost of $2300, and $2700 for heating, if hot water be used, but by using hot air, $2000 could be saved. He had been in communication with a Brockville firm relative to cost of heating, and was awaiting their reply.

Luther Burbank
(Originator of new forms of plant life)
Says:
"Too much starch in our diet is a cause of no end of trouble."
"I believe that ill-balanced foods resulting in improper nourishment, are at the bottom of the causes leading up to tuberculosis."
We eat quantities of white bread, (starch) potatoes, (starch) pastry, (starch) wheat and oats, (starch) and wonder why we run down and have bowel troubles.
It's plain enough on thinking.
From too much starchy food the lower digestive machinery wearies and fails to digest it (Starch indigestion) Then the partly digested starch lying in the moist warm place in the bowels, naturally decays, gases arise and irritation of the bowels results, showing in poor nourishment and various ails. "What can you do"? Eat Grape-Nuts and Cream instead of bread, potatoes, pastry, wheat, oats, &c., &c., because in Grape-Nuts food the starchy parts of wheat and barley have, in the process of manufacture, been transformed into a form of sugar perfectly digestible.
Starchy food is demanded by Nature to supply energy and warmth to the body, but it should be so prepared that the human system can make use of it without overtaxing the digestive machinery

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday the Toil Terrifying and Easy Hours clubs had only a short run for their trouble, as the police court session only lasted a few minutes.

Joseph Gibbs pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly on Saturday and was fined $2 to be paid in ten days.

John McManus, better known in the local bars as "Fighting McManus," was called, but did not appear. He was arrested on Saturday evening by P. C. Adams for being drunk and disorderly, but was on Sunday let out on his word that he would appear next morning.

P. C. Newhall remarked that when he came on duty at eight o'clock on Sunday morning McManus was still very drunk.

The magistrate fined him $2.

Normal School Plans Now Shown

The plans for the new Normal school for Peterborough are at the office of Mr. W. G. Morrow, secretary of the Board of Education, where they may be inspected.

The time for receiving tenders for the proposed structure expires on Saturday, October 13th. The school will be on outside measurement, 78 feet by 110 feet. In the basement will be a gymnasium and the manual training rooms, while on the ground floor will be the library, reading room and three class rooms. The first floor will consist of two class rooms, one lecture room and laboratories, and the second floor a domestic science room, an art room and an assembly hall.

Local Water Power Poor Yesterday

As has often been noted in previous issues of The Times, the Otonabee river water has recently been well up to requirements. However, yesterday there was trouble. Several leading citizens have posted us in the matters of power from our local water supply, either called at or telephoned The Times to ask, "What is the matter with the water supply, has the bottom dropped out of the river?"

They complained that the power yesterday, was to use the expression of one complainant, "rotten." One important industry was badly handicapped for lack of water.

WHY SO WEARY?

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But It's Dangerous.

You have to work hard. This uses up lost of nerve force and tears down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't shake off. The waiter in your blood must be turned into nutrimest and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which renews the blood and nerves, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, debility, or sickness of any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill, of Orr Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from over-powering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight hacking cough also added to my burden.

"My doctor said to try Ferrozone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous sensations disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 56, I consider Ferrozone is a marvel." (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS: Ferrozone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty, chocolate-coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

PETERBOROUGH, OCTOBER 9 1906

BRITISH RAILWAY ACCIDENTS

Americans used to regard the British railroads as superior to their own in the matter of safety. "There are too many accidents," on this continent, according to the most moderate and expert students of railroading, and until lately it has been the practice to make comparisons with British accident records—greatly to our disadvantage and shame.

Unfortunately the British newspapers now find themselves constrained to use the same formula, "There are too many accidents," in connection with our own railroad service. The terrible catastrophe at Salisbury last summer, in which twenty-three Americans lost their lives, was a great shock to the British people, especially on account of the recognized fact that excessive speed in violation of every rule of safety was the direct cause of the calamity. Now another wreck is recorded, with a formidable list of dead and injured, and the circumstances seem to point to violation of orders. The wrecked express failed to stop at a station where it should have stopped and left the rails at the curve near the point.

These two accidents alone will make the record for 1906 extremely unpleasant and disappointing to the British people and the government department that is charged with insuring the safety of travellers. And the disappointment will be all the keener by reason of the fact that the recently published official report of the British railway department for 1905 shows that that twelvemonth was also "remarkable" for the number of passengers killed in train accidents, which was greater than in any previous year since 1899. The whole number of persons killed on the railroads was 1,093, and the year had witnessed four collisions and derailments.

The records for the current and last years indicate that the conditions in England with regard to railroad safety are by no means ideal and that vigilance cannot be relaxed anywhere for a moment.

MR. HEALY AND IRELAND

A striking remark was made in Montreal last week by Mr. Timothy Healy, M. P. for North Louth in the Imperial parliament, almost a lifelong leader of the home rule party, and supposedly one of its extremists. It was no less than that Ireland will never be a nation separately independent of the British empire. Nor did the remark seem to be made with any particular regret.

The statement was contained in an interview with the Montreal Gazette in which Mr. Healy, after answering a number of questions pertaining to the condition of Irish affairs, was asked the question, "Were you not a separationist years ago?" Mr. Healy replied, "I do not know that I have changed my views, the union was a curse both for England and Ireland, but if we had a constitution the same land. Of course money would have to be spent." "Could all this be done if Ireland were independent?" Mr. Healy was asked. He replied, "As she will never be independent, it is useless to discuss what she might do."

The Ottawa Journal, commenting on the above, says that if Irishmen are coming to this conclusion it would be well indeed for the British empire, and, we venture to think, well for Ireland, and it is certainly common sense. The cold fact is, and has always been the case, that no separation between Great Britain and Ireland is possible without war, and that the victory of the south of Ireland would be impossible. All Englishmen believe, and probably are right, that to have alongside of England, separated only by a few miles of water, an island constituting a foreign state which would be liable to ally itself with other foreign states against England, would be an intolerable condition which England could only allow to be established by the sword. And inasmuch as England numbers thirty millions to Ireland's five, it is more than difficult to believe that an appeal to the sword could ever result in Ireland's favor.

If the home rulers are beginning generally to realize that such is the case, which seems to be evident from Mr. Healy's utterance, and so becoming willing to bend all energies to acquire simply as great a measure of local self-government as possible, which ought to include an Irish legislature sitting in Dublin, they are in a fair way to accomplish more for Ireland than would ever be possible by any campaign either open or disguised for separation from the empire.

Preventics, as the name implies, prevent all Colds and Grippe when "taken at the sneeze stage." Preventics are tasteless candy tablets. Preventics disappear, kill colds quickly, and taken early, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Preventics are thoroughly safe for children, and as effectual for adults. Sold and recommended in 5-cent and 25-cent boxes by J. J. Tully.

Civil Marriages Are Now Legal

Paris Oct. 8.—The Echo de Paris has published a special despatch from Madrid announcing that Minister of Justice Romanones had received from the Bishop of Tuy a communication completely retracting the pastoral letter in which he instructed the clergy of his diocese that civil marriages were void, that the parties thereto were considered to be living in concubinage, that they would not be allowed to participate in the sacrament, and would be refused absolution in articulo mortis as well as Christian burial. The retraction was made in terms agreed upon between the Papal Nuncio and the Government.

Hot Soda Baths.

Hot soda baths are recommended by some persons for rheumatism, and the way they are taken is this: Fill the tub half full of water as hot as can be borne, add half a pound of common baking soda and immerse the body for at least twenty minutes, keeping up the temperature by the addition of hot water from time to time. Vaseline or cold cream should be rubbed into the skin after the latter has been dried in order to replace the natural oil.

A GOOD CANADIAN REPRESENTATIVE WANTED

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"Hope? Comfort? Ah, doctor, when suspense verges so near despair, is it not better to know and confront the worst at once? Methinks there would be the same relief in that as in death."

"Despair is sinful, my child. You and I believe young Cassinove to be guiltless. And believing him to be so, we must believe that he will be acquitted, which is equivalent to believing in the justice of God, which it were impiety to doubt."

"You speak like one of the patriarchs of old. I grow strong and hopeful while I listen to you," said Laura Elmer, earnestly.

"It is the power of the truth spoken, and not of the speaker," said the doctor, humbly. "And now, my child, you must take care of yourself. You must not neglect needful food and rest, and refreshing exercise in the open air."

"Doctor, it was not to talk of myself, but of Cassinove, that I requested you to come to me to-night. Have you seen him lately?"

"No, my child; I have not had an hour's leisure, except early in the morning or late in the evening, just before the prison doors are opened, or after they are closed. But to-morrow I will make the leisure, and surely see him."

"He is fearfully changed, doctor; you will be pained to see him; he has grown so thin and pale from his long and close confinement in that dreary prison. And he is so desolate, doctor; can any man be more desolate than he is? Think of it!—friendless, poor, and in prison, without father, mother, sister, or brother, without a friend in the wide world, save only me——" She hesitated, and her pale cheek flushed.

"But you are all to him—his guardian angel."

"I am his betrothed. I do all that I may for him, yet not enough; I cannot be all that I might be to him were I his sister—or his wife," added Laura Elmer, in a lower tone.

"Well, my dear?" said the doctor, seeing her hesitate.

"Oh, doctor, that I were only his sister, or his wife, that I might have the privilege of being with him always, so that he might never more feel desolate and alone in his sorrow. Doctor, I cannot be his sister, but——" She hesitated, and again her pale cheek flushed.

"You might be his wife," said the doctor, finishing her sentence.

"I promised to be so long ago. Doctor, if instead of coming into Newgate, Ferdinand Cassinove had come into an inheritance, the first use he would have made of his property would have been to ask me to share it with him. Doctor, have I not the same right to share his adversity?" cried Laura, with a burst of tears.

"My child, I know not what to say to you," said the good physician, in painful perplexity.

"Doctor, listen to me further. This privilege that I crave would be the greatest possible consolation to me, and—take notice, doctor—the only possible chance of safety to Cassinove."

"My dear Miss Elmer, explain yourself."

"Listen, then. In the confusion and distress that immediately followed the discovery of the murder of Sir Vincent Lester, I was overlooked or forgotten. At least, I was not summoned as a witness before the coroner's inquest. There were, perhaps, witnesses in plenty without me, who testified directly to those fatal circumstances that were deemed quite sufficient to convict Cassinove. And I was glad to be left out. But now the continual gossip of the people and the press, concerning the tragedy at Lester House, brings my name more and more into the affair, and under the notice of the authorities. They hint at a cause of that murder that makes my cheeks burn and my heart shudder. I live in the daily dread of being subpœnaed to testify as to this cause on the approaching trial. But if I bore this relation to him, doctor, I would not be compelled to give evidence against him."

"But would your evidence so seriously affect Cassinove?"

"It would put the seal upon his fate."

"Miss Elmer, my child, tell me what this testimony is, that I may judge of its importance. You may confide in me with perfect safety, for I shall never repeat your words; and even if I were capable of such a breach of confidence, it could do no harm since 'hearsay' is no legal evidence."

"It was a fierce and deadly quarrel between Ferdinand Cassinove and Sir Vincent Lester on the evening preceding the murder of the baronet," said Laura, in a low and shuddering voice.

"I see, I see, my poor child! I see it all! Tell me how I can serve you. What would you have me to do?"

"Doctor, you are a Christian gentleman—you believe in effectual prayer and in providential guidance. Go home, and reflect on all that I have told you. Put away all worldly thoughts and all conventional ideas. Think only of justice, faith and mercy. Pray to the Lord for direction; and to-morrow, when you visit Cassinove, you will know what to say and do," replied Laura Elmer, with sweet gravity, and she arose as if to close the interview.

He also arose. He looked at her—beautiful, pale statue that she seemed—and taking her hand, replied:

"I will, my child, I will; and may the Lord guide my thoughts and direct and comfort you. Good-night." And he raised her hand to his lips, and departed.

CHAPTER XXXI.

The next day Dr. Clark had an interview with Cassinove in the prison and pointed out to him that the only course to prevent Laura giving evidence was to make her his wife.

Cassinove at first demurred, but the good doctor easily persuaded him that it would be for the best.

And then he took his leave for a short time to make the arrangements for the strange marriage.

First he called at the lodgings of Miss Elmer, whom he found dressed as if for a walk.

"My carriage is at the door, my child, and if you are going to visit our prisoner this morning, I will gladly take you there," said the doctor, artfully.

"I thank you; I was just going; I am quite ready, and need not detain you an instant," said Miss Elmer, joining him.

He took her to the prison, through all the halls and passages to the cell of Cassinove, saw her enter, and then withdrew to procure the special license. Then he called upon Cassinove's old pastor, the Rev. Henry Watson, of St. Matthews. He found the good old man in his study, and in a private interview, explained to him the service for which he was wanted.

Now, among the very few who had an unshaken faith in the innocence of Cassinove, was the Rev. Mr. Watson, the pastor, who had known him intimately from childhood up to maturity. So after a little hesitation at the strangeness of the service required of him, and after being assured by the doctor that there were good reasons why the marriage should be solemnized, the good man yielded to his faith in Dr. Clark and in Cassinove, and though greatly mystified, consented to go and perform the ceremony.

Cassinove was sitting just where the doctor had left him, on the side of his mattress, with his hands clasped together, and his head sunk upon his breast. He looked up as Laura entered, and rising, extended his hands to her, saying:

"Oh, Laura! oh, my guardian spirit! can you surmise what Dr. Clark has been saying to me this morning?"

"Yes, yes, mine own, for I sent him to say it," replied Laura Elmer, with noble truthfulness, as she placed both her hands in his.

NURSERY NOTES.

Where the laundry is considered, children's bibs or napkins made from Turkish toweling have been found very practical. They can be easily washed and do not require ironing.

A nurse who has any nervous habits, such as biting the nails or fidgeting with the hands or feet, should never be kept, as children are very quick to notice and copy such habits, which are extremely difficult to correct.

If a child has a bad bump on the forehead use an application of witch hazel as hot as can be borne. It will take out the soreness and prevent swelling. A little oil or vaseline rubbed in afterward will prevent any tendency to discoloration.

Much trouble is saved in mending children's clothes if the knees and seats of boys' trousers and the elbows of jackets and girls' waists are made double. It is also economical in the end to buy material sufficient for two pairs of sleeves for everyday clothes.

The Kitchen Sink.

The ideal sink is of porcelain with rolled edge, round corners, porcelain back and open plumbing, without a crack or crevice for dirt or the ever ready water bug. He is ready still, but he must live in the open and not lie concealed. A white enamel sink is almost as good as the porcelain and much less expensive. Soapstone and slate are very good, and so, too, is the copper lined sink. The great danger in the porcelain and enameled sinks is the breaking of delicate china and glass. The copper lining is much the best for that. The wooden drain boards tipping slightly toward the sink are a great convenience. Frequently rubber mats with roughened surfaces are placed on these to keep the dishes from slipping. There are besides wire and nickel plated dish drainers, which will keep the plates separated one from another while draining.—Harper's Bazar.

An Adjustable Bed.

A curious and at the same time a most practical invention is an adjustable bed, which can be lengthened or shortened at will. Many an extraordinarily tall person will welcome this bed for in traveling they must often sleep cornerwise. The side rails telescope and carry a cog mechanism, by which the footboard can be pushed out to give the required length. The cogwheels are turned by means of a chain gearing operated by a crank. The mattress and springs are arranged in adjustable sections.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 200,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 2½ per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 2½ per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

NOW IS THE TIME

Summer is Best Season to Cure Catarrh Hyomei Sold Under Guarantee

Summer is the best time in the year for the treatment of catarrhal troubles, and we urge every reader of the Times to use Hyomei now and be permanently cured.

Unlike the ordinary treatment for catarrh, there is no stomach dosing when using Hyomei. The remedy is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes in every outfit, and its balsamic healing air penetrates to the most remote parts of the nose, throat and lungs, searches out and kills the catarrh germs, in all parts of the respiratory organs and soothes and heals any irritation there may be in the mucous membrane.

Hyomei is not alone the only natural treatment for catarrh, but it is the only one sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money unless it gives satisfaction. It kills all disease germs and restores the mucous membrane of the throat, nose and lungs to perfectly healthy condition.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c.

For sale by all dealers. The R. T. Booth Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Magistrate Hunt on Local Option

Lakefield, where it is alleged even by former local option advocates that local option is a failure as far as any reduction in the use of liquor is concerned, it would seem, is not the only place where the isolated temperance (?) plan is doing more harm than good.

In the recent trial of David Butler, proprietor of the licensed Albion Hotel at Orwell, Ont., for keeping a disorderly house, and when Butler was convicted, evidence was presented clearly proving that under local option several villagers in the County of Elgin, had unlicensed houses, in place of former licensed hotels which former are now almost run as brothels. In this case Butler was convicted mainly on his own evidence and admissions.

Mr. E. C. Saunders of St. Thomas, acting for Butler, seemed to try and get Butler to contradict Hepburn's (former Liberal candidate for East Elgin) accusations that the whole matter was a Conservative plot to hurt Hepburn; however, Mr. Cameron, acting for the Crown put Butler through a long re-examination all tending to discredit Mr. Hepburn.

Magistrate Hunt who has acted in that capacity for thirty years, expressed very strong opinions regarding the temperance people of his county who asked the Magistrate to carry local option acts, with the results, that to quote his words, "We have in a good many cases instead of licensed hotels, unlicensed bawdy houses. I know whereof I am talking. Going by these places I see ten to thirty rigs tied by these unlicensed houses and I knew that in every one of these rigs have been a man and woman, and often a girl under fourteen years of age.

The Mission Band meets on Friday at 4.15 p.m.

Eagle Lake Hunt Club Meet.

Last night the Eagle Lake Hunt Club, with Capt. J. Cottingham in the chair, met in the Commercial House, there being present, Messrs. R. Sheehy, Geo. Fitzgerald, C. Gunsolus, W. White, Chas. Westlake, C. Butcher, C. Parker, O. Dumble, W. Hall, M. Dobson, H. Evans. Mr. Chas. Gunsolus was appointed captain; H. Evans treasurer, with bonds of $500.00; W. Hall, secretary, with a nominal obligation of the whole city.

The club leaves for their annual hunt on Oct. 30th.

Charlotte Street Church Notes.

The Literary Committee had charge of the Epworth League meeting at Charlotte street church last night. An interesting meeting was held.

The Young Men's Guild of Charlotte street church will hold its first meeting this season on Friday night. Officers will be elected and the arrangements for the coming year discussed. The Guild is in splendid shape and will no doubt continue to flourish.

Rev. J. H. Lonke, of Havelock, will preach in Charlotte street church next Sunday.

Brantford People Wear Colors.

The Brantford Expositor says:—"Each of the schools of the city has decided on a button of a certain color for each school as follows: Colour for each school to be worn by the pupils: The colors are; Central, red and white; Victoria, black and red; Darling street, red and green; Huron, green and white."

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, further more, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them —people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. GILMOUR HOTEL WALL FALLS AND CAR CRUSHED

Two Passengers Fatally Injured. While Three Others Were Seriously Hurt.

Ottawa, Oct. 10—The destruction of the Gilmour Hotel by fire, with the loss of several lives has been followed by another disaster which, while not of so spectacular a nature, was accompanied by results almost as serious.

As a Gladstone avenue car was passing the walls of the ruined structure shortly after seven a.m. going towards Gladstone avenue, a heavy gust of wind caught that portion of the wall over what was once the main entrance of the hotel, and it came crashing down on top of the car.

The trolley wire and trolley were broken, and the bricks and stones piled onto and over the car, crashing into the windows.

Amidst flying debris, the passengers, who were not disabled or stunned, made a rush for the doors. Few of them escaped to the street without sustaining injuries.

PROBABLY FATALLY.

Alexander Potvin, of the city fire brigade, badly injured about the body, may not live more than a few hours.

William Campbell, contractor of Hintonburg, badly cut about the head and body.

Mrs. Thompson, 57 Monroe street, arm broken and body injured.

Harry Lynch, motorman, knee-cap fractured and cut about the head.

Thomas McCabe, conductor, badly cut about the head and hands.

Fortunately there were only a few people in the car or the accident would have been much more serious. Had it occurred half an hour later the car would have been crowded with people going to work at eight o'clock many of whom would not have escaped, as the weight of bricks and stone in a few moments crushed the car in as easily as if it had been an egg shell.

The accident will undoubtedly be the cause of a good deal of trouble for the city and the proprietors of the Gilmour walls, as the feeling in general that they should have been razed to the ground.

This was the original intention after the fire, but it was later decided that it would be safe to leave a portion of the walls standing until it was decided if they would be of any use in any plan of reconstruction.

The car was smashed completely as though a giant hammer had hit it. It is a miracle that anyone escaped instant death.

That any did escape was probably due to the fact that a portion of the wall where there is a bay window, and where a partition wall connects with the front wall, did not fall.

As a consequence the force of the fall was somewhat broken, and the rear and vestibule of the car was not immediately crushed.

It will be remembered that a Peterborough lady, Miss Loveday, one of the officials of the Barnardo Home here, lost her life in the fire which occurred in this hotel some weeks ago.

Escaped Prisoners Picked Up at Sea.

New York, October 10.—A Boston despatch to The Herald says that after being tossed all night in an old frail metallic life raft by a heavy sea, being swept out through the outer harbor by a receding tide, Charles Jones, of Scotland, and Herbert Jenson, of Boston city, escaped prisoners from Deer Island, were abandoning all hope of seeing land again when they were picked up yesterday morning four miles east of the Graves Lightship, by Capt. Watson S. Dolliver, of the pilot boat Louise, who happened to be in the outer harbor on the lookout for incoming vessels.

The Petition of St. Helena

The Proposed Removal of the British Troops From the Island.

London, October 10.—Every white man resident on the island of St. Helena has signed a petition to the government protesting against the proposed withdrawal of the military garrison there, and a league has been organized in London to promote the wisdom of the islanders.

"St. Helena has 4,000 inhabitants, of whom 200 are whites," said A. G. Wise, the secretary of the St. Helena League, yesterday. "The garrison consists of 200 men, and if they go the sole defence of the islanders will consist of a police force of five natives.

"Moreover, the white inhabitants derive two-thirds of their livelihood from the garrison. The proposed abolition of the coaling station and the withdrawal of the garrison constitute a palpable injustice, in view of the fact that the white inhabitants, following a direct suggestion of the government, imported a large number of expensive sheep and cattle from England.

"If the soldiers leave these animals will be useless to the inhabitants, who limit themselves almost exclusively to a fish diet. All who can afford to leave the island are planning to do so, and the rest will have nothing to live on.

"The result will be that the government will be called on to support these poor people, and will have to pay for the development of the mineral resources, especially the manganese. The cable of the Eastern Telegraph company passes through the island, and this makes it additionally important that the garrison, the cost of which is very small, should be maintained."

Local Horses to be Inspected

In order to assist the horse markets of Ontario, the Provincial Department of Agriculture, is doing what is the best towards forwarding the interests of this important branch of farm enterprise.

Mr. Wm. Collins, secretary of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute has received from the Department of Agriculture, instructions how to assist in investigating the horse industry of Ontario. The province has been divided into six riets and two commissioners have been appointed to go through each district and secure all the information possible regarding the condition of the horse industry.

District No. 6, including Peterborough County comprises the Counties of Hastings, Peterborough, Victoria, Durham, Northumberland and Prince Edward. The commissioners for these counties are J. G. Clark, of Ottawa, and Jas. Irving, of Winchester. Dundas county, a prominent horseman. They will make their inspection of East Peterborough on October, 18, 19 and 20, and of West Peterborough on October 22, 23 and 24. In their work they will be assisted by the secretary of the local Farmers' Institute, who has charge of the farmers' entries in this county.

A public meeting will be held at some central point in each country. Peterborough has been chosen for holding the meeting for both East and West Peterborough, and the date selected is October 24th. Mr. Collins is now making arrangements for the meeting which will likely be held in the city council chamber or some other public place.

Fall Assizes Still in Session

In the case of Duncan vs Peer Hamilton Co., which was continued yesterday, Mr. L. M. Hayes, solicitor for the defendants moved for a nonsuit on the grounds that no evidence had been submitted proving the company negligent in performing the requirements of the Factories Act and the Employers' Compensation Act. His lordship reserved his decision, but submitted several questions to the jury to consider.

Dr. Amys, for the defence, said he had attended Duncan. On the morning of the accident he was called to Peter Hamilton's and after he examined Duncan's hand he decided to amputate the second finger. At the end of the first week after the accident the stitches were taken out and the fingers were apparently healthy. On Feb 28 he found the wound doing satisfactorily. On March 1st Duncan went back to him with the amputated stump wide open and the other was starting to open. It might have been due to mold or to other causes. After this relapse, the doctor said he dressed the wound nearly every day for some time. The first and second fingers healed up. The third finger did not heal satisfactorily. A piece of bone and some of the tissues were removed. The hand was dressed until the 14th of April. By the first of May he might have returned to work safely.

To Mr. O'Connell the doctor stated that Dr. McNally assisted him in the operation. The injuries were of a somewhat serious character. The hand was simply protected from cold. At the time of the set-back, February 27 it was very cold, and plaintiff had to walk to witness office and if cold got into the wound it would cause the set-back.

Wm. Mowry, an ex-employe of the Peter Hamilton Co. was called to give evidence.

Mr. Hayes then moved for a nonsuit, saying:

My Lord, I submit that the plaintiff has no made out a case. Under the Factories' Act these premises do not come (within its scope. Sec. 2, sub-sec. B. of said Act, also sub-sec. 20. None of the reported cases under the Factory Act refer to handworked machinery. The plaintiff's witnesses and the defence is to the effect that for many years none of the hand cranes were unguarded. The crane has been in use for many years without an accident.

Under the Employers' Compensation Act, chapter 160, sec. 3 of sub-sec. 1, the plaintiff must first prove some defect in the machinery. In this case there is nothing to prove that the crane was not all right. The plaintiff's own witnesses stated the crane was set up properly. Mr. Hayes also referred to sec. 6, sub-sec. 3, which provides that before the injured can receive any compensation, he must prove that the employer must have previously known of the defect. The plaintiff by his admission that he made no complaint about the crane puts himself out of court.

Mr. O'Connell in reply to Mr. Hayes said he must express his surprise at Mr. Hayes reading only one section of the Factories' Act, which would in itself bar the succeeding step from the Act, while the Act really includes any place of the nature where five or more men are employed. The Factories' Act provides that gearing must be provided with guards.

His Lordship said he would reserve judgment and then proceeded to present the following questions to the jury for their consideration,

1. Did the accident to the plaintiff happen by the slipping of the handle or by the plaintiff placing his hand on the wheel to lower the hook.

2. Were there any defects in the crane.

In summing up the case his Lordship briefly reviewed the circumstances of the case as brought out by the evidence produced. Both sides, said his Lordship are entitled to the verdict of treatment. This is the poor man's court, and also the rich man's court. Because there has been an accident, there is not necessarily a liability.

The questions submitted were as follows:—

1. Did the accident happen by the slipping of the crank or by attempting to turn the wheel without using the crank?

2. Was the injury to the plaintiff caused by any defect in the arrangement of the machinery or plant, or in the machinery or plant itself?

3. If the injury was caused by defect, what was the defect?

4. Were the defendants guilty of negligence in not removing that defect?

5. Considering that the crane was a hand crane and not a power crane, and considering the way it was used was it dangerous machinery?

6. Did the plaintiff freely and willingly, knowing the danger of the work agree to take the risk?

7. Could the plaintiff, with ordinary care have prevented the accident happening?

8. What damages should plaintiff receive?

The jury on returning to the court room, answered most of the questions in the plaintiff's favor, and recommended the $300 damages be given him.

His Arm Badly Mangled

Brockville, October 10.—John French, Jr., aged 17 years, residing near Lowville, was severely injured while helping around a steam ensilage cutter. In attempting to put the big belt on the pulley of the cylinder his hand caught. The tendons and muscles of the wrist and forearm were torn from the bones, the wrist joints dislocated, while both bones of the forearm protruded through the skin. The doctors think they can save the hand.

DOCTOR'S WORDS

Talks About the Analysis of Postum Food Coffee.

To the Doubting Thomases, the endorsement of a physician as to the wholesomeness of Postum Food Coffee may be comforting.

When coffee causes nervousness and dyspepsia, it's time to stop it. And there is where Postum is a true comforter. It is a warm, palatable and wholesome beverage and at the same time is a liquid food.

Coffee does harm, not because it's well or poorly made—but because of the alkaloid—drug—caffeine, it contains. The habitual use of coffee, therefore, forms a drug habit.

A Buffalo physician said recently, "I have used Postum Food Coffee in my family and find it to be all that is claimed for it—a most wholesome, delicious beverage. When made and served according to directions it is certainly delightful and refreshing.

"I have read carefully Dr. Davenport's analysis of Postum Food Coffee, as printed on the pkg., which I most heartily endorse. I have been prescribing it to my patients."

The Dr. is right, and there's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

NO HOME RULE THIS PARLIAMENT

Mr. "Tim" Healy is Pessimistic of Speedy Progress in That Line

THREE MINISTERS OPPOSED

Irish Administration is Wasteful, Declares Irish Parliamentarian—Land Problem Chief Difficulty.

Montreal, October 9.—Mr. Timothy Healy, better known as "Tim" Healy, is at present in Montreal, accompanied by his wife. He has made an extensive tour of Canada, having gone as far west as Vancouver, and is now on his way to Quebec, from which he will sail on Friday by the Empress of Ireland.

When seen at the Windsor, Mr. Healy spoke very freely and pleasantly of his trip and of the impression which Canada and especially the west had made on him. In speaking of the prosperity of the country and the great progress it had made, he was led to compare present day conditions with those which had held when he addressed a meeting here with Chas. Stewart Parnell, some twenty-six years ago.

The administration of Irish affairs then naturally became the absorbing topic of conversation, and the member for North Louth, in the imperial parliament, spoke his mind very frankly.

WASTEFUL ADMINISTRATION.

"There can be no question about it," he said, "but that the administration of Irish affairs is grossly wasteful and extravagant, and this, in spite of the fact that Ireland annually pays to the British government close upon £2,000,000. Hitherto Irish members have had no interest in affecting economies, except to be revenged on tory placemen; but some years ago when the government insisted on cutting down the number of Irish judges, I demanded that the sum of money saved should be accredited to the Irish people and not put in the imperial treasury. This was done, thanks to the then chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach."

"What is the cause of this wastefulness and inefficiency, of which you speak?" was asked.

TWO GREAT PROBLEMS.

"The whole crux of the problem is in the matters of police and education. The latter question is not so difficult as the other from the political point of view on account of the common opinion of all parties in Ireland that there should be religious education. On this account the educational problem is one which should admit of adjustment without too much unpleasantness for any one party. With the police question it is quite different, and this is one which simply cuts into the flesh. There can be no doubt about it that the cost of police upkeep in Ireland is absurd, being three times as great as that of Scotland, though the latter country is far superior in wealth and population."

Asked if this state of affairs could not be remedied, Mr. Healy continued: "The matter is not altogether beyond the grasp of statesmanship, but it is a very difficult one. Until the land question is nearer settlement and peasant proprietorship has been developed, the landlord class particularly will strongly object to the control of the police being given to any impartially constituted body."

OUTLOOK FOR HOME RULE.

Mr. Healy was somewhat pessimistic about the chances for home rule, which he said would certainly not be granted during the life of the present British parliament.

"Several members of the present government," he said, Sir Edward Grey, Mr. Asquith, and War Secretary Haldane have declared that they will not hold office if the home rule question is brought in. The present house of commons would probably be two to one in favor of home rule, so far as the abstract proposition is concerned, but the house of lords would be overwhelmingly against it. The English people as a whole are most favorably disposed towards the people of Ireland, and I believe progress towards home rule can be made."

Mr. Healy has been one of the most famous characters in Irish politics for many years, where his fighting qualities have earned for him the title of the "stormy petrel of the Irish party." In his early years he was one of Parnell's lieutenants and was imprisoned in the eighties for political reasons. He has travelled and studied much, and a first acquaintance would hardly recognize his nationality or his aggressive characteristics. Although one of the most enthusiastically Irish of all Irishmen, he has for many years passed nearly all his time in London.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday the Sons of Rest and Meandering Mike Clubs seemed to forget that the police court now opens at ten instead of nine a.m., as they did not turn up in time for this "feast of reason and flow of soul," in time to hear full particulars. Only three of either club entered the sacred and foul smelling precincts in time to hear the dread command, issued by the chief: "The court is adjourned."

During progress of hostilities, Joseph Brooks was charged with being drunk. In response to the magistrate's question, "How long do you want?" Brooks replied, "No time at all." "Oh, I thought you got drunk to go to jail." his Worship replied. $2 to be paid forthwith. Brooks asked for time saying he was about to leave for British Columbia to work for the Big Bend Lumber Company.

Fred Cooper was fined $2 on a similar charge and paid the amount. He also paid the $2 owing on obesity for Joseph's little indiscretion. This was clearly a case of Christian charity as Joseph and the man paying his fine had had a mix-up, resulting in certain eyes gone into mourning on each side, the preceding evening. Joseph was thus unable to take the train for British Columbia.

Yesterday morning a seemingly half starved, and evidently half clad boy of ten years of age, almost numb with the cold, was discovered on the old cricket grounds, east ward, by the proprietor of the Maple Leaf Hotel. The poor little lad was given a good square meal at the hotel. His story was that his mother put him out of doors the preceding evening, and that he had wandered about, half frozen all night. The police are investigating the case.

Local Sculptress Exhibits in Paris

"Young Canada's voice is beginning to be heard and heeded all over the world. Sometimes one finds him or her, sturdily and proudly, "pursuing the gleam," and catching it, or the inspiration of it. A Canadian girl in Paris, Miss Katherine T. Wallis, has for the past two or three years done her art and country proud, by passing the critics in triumph and securing a place for her sculpture in the Salon des Artistes Francais. In the Salon of 1904 her lifesize statue, "Mercury under the Charm of His Own Invention," was the exhibit of the young Canadian. In this year's Salon she has a bust in marble, "Augusta Daughter;" her bust in marble, "Magnonne," was in the Royal Academy in 1903, and is now at the rooms of the Women's Art Association in Confederation Life Building here. I believe the Miss Wallis is the only Canadian sculptor who has exhibited in marble or stone in the Salon. Among her other things are "The Piper of Hamelin," a graceful bronze, fourteen inches high, and a bit of terra cotta, ten inches high. "The Grandfather," a bowed, little, old man in a long surtout and soft battered hat, rides a chubby, barefooted child upon his back. It would be a worthy act for those in high places to secure the "Mercury" of this clever young sculptress, and set it somewhere in her native land, so her compatriots could admire it. The greatest pleasure Canadians could give to their talented people abroad is such a recognition.

Smothered in Parents' Bed.

London, October 10.—At an inquest into the death of an infant who had suffocated in its parents' bed, the coroner said that 2,000 infants were so suffocated annually in England. There were six hundred cases in London. He pointed out that in Germany the law made it illegal to have a baby under a year old in the same bed with its parents.

The Russian Financial Position.

St. Petersburg, October 10.—The official telegraph agency has circulated a calming explanation of Minister Kokovtseff's report, with the declaration that the financial outlook in Russia is decidedly unfavorable.

ST. JOHN'S TEA LAST NIGHT A MARKED SUCCESS

Ministers and Laymen of Different Churches Meet Together With a View to Closer Christian Unity.

The tea given last night by the Rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, the wardens and congregation of St. John's church to the members of the Ministerial Association and representative members of their respective churches was a brilliant success in every way; and those present left the prettily decorated school room with impressions which will go far toward establishing in Peterborough a closer Christian unity between the several churches in the interest of the whole community.

The west guild room had been converted into a cosy and inviting reception room, where the rector's warden, Chas. H. J. Mitchell received the guests as they arrived.

The tea, an exceedingly sumptuous one, was served in the school room, under the direction of Mrs. Sherwood and Mrs. Jas. Mills, and other ladies of the church. The room was very tastefully decorated with light green portiers, kindly furnished by Mr. R. Fair, the people's warden; these decorative hangings were charmingly relieved by autumn leaves in abundance. The tables were arranged in the form of a double T, and presented an inviting appearance, clothed in snow white table cloths, bright cut silverware, choice plants and abundance of cut flowers. The decorations were the work of Mrs. H. Rush and Mrs. A. H. Strickton, with a staff of lady assistants, who cannot but be highly commended on the skill they displayed in this direction.

As remarked by Rev. Dr. Torrance the function of last night, by setting a precedent worthy of emulation, may probably mend the names of St. John's Anglican church, its rector and his congregational supporters, down into history as paving the way toward "church union."

BLEST BE THE TIE THAT BINDS.

At the conclusion of the tea, during which, Mr. Halpany's orchestra rendered choice musical selections, the following hymn was sung by the whole gathering.

Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts in Christian love;
The fellowship of kindred minds
Is like to that above.

Before our Father's throne,
We pour our ardent prayers.
Our fears, our hopes, our aims are one,
Our comforts and our cares.

We share our mutual woes,
Our mutual burdens bear,
And often for each other flows
The sympathizing tear.

When we asunder part
It gives us inward pain,
But we shall still be joined in heart
And hope to meet again.

IN THE CHURCH.

After tea the guests went into the grand old historic church, where a short devotional service was held comprising;

Solo—"Hold Thou my hand;" Mr. H. Morphet.

Quartette—"Hail! gladdening light," by Field; Mrs. R. J. Dewey, Miss Seward, Mr. George Chandler, Mr. Allen.

The Apostles' Creed, recited by all. Hymn 273, "O Lord how joyful 'tis to see."

Prayers offered by Canon Davidson.

THE ADDRESSES.

At 7.45, the whole gathering reassembled in the school, where a number of interesting and pithy addresses were delivered by the following gentlemen;—

Ex-Mayor G. M. Roger, D. W. Dumble, Rev. W. H. Manning, Dr. Morrison, Rev. Dr. Crothers, R. M. Donaldson, N. F. Davidson, Toronto; E. J. B. Pense, M.P.P., Kingston; I. E. Hodgins, K.C., Toronto; Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. Alfred Bright, Rev. E. A. Langfeld, Rev. J. G. Lewis, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Rev. W. Major, Geo. H. Williamson, Y.M.C.A.

The subject in discussion was; "How Can Peterborough's churches Best Serve the Community." The answer arrived at was, to be brief; "By all churches working toward the ideal in citizenship and striving for ultimate Christian unity to the glory of God." In the words of Rev. E. A. Langfeld, the marked success of this function was surprising.

Mr. D. Hughes-Charles made a very acceptable chairman of the conference.

Entire Warship Was Stolen

Remarkable Story of the Theft of a Great Warship.

St. Petersburg, October 10.—A remarkable story published by the Retch, shows that even entire ships belonging to the state may be stolen in Russia.

The Retch states that after the war the ministry gave directions for the sale of 22 vessels lying in Vladivostok harbor, among them being three passenger steamers and eight transport.

The sale duly took place, but when the purchasers arrived at Vladivostok to remove the ships they found them in a most deplorable condition, all the most valuable parts, including even the bronze door handles, having been removed.

They further discovered that one of the transports, the Mathilda, was missing altogether. It was ascertained that one day an unknown man went on board the Mathilda with a crew, got up steam, and took the vessel away unchallenged. He then painted the vessel another color and changed its name.

Mansoleum to a Local Lady

Tomb of Late Revered, and Beloved Mrs. Geo. A. Cox is Admired.

Toronto Saturday Night, says that the splendid mansoleum recently erected by Senator George A. Cox, which is now nearly completed, will be the most imposing and costly tomb in Canada. It stands in the new, or southern part of Mount Pleasant, and is in the form of a Greek temple, the architecture being pure Greek Doric. The structure is twenty-five feet high and covers an area thirty-eight feet eight inches by twenty-six feet. It contains ten car loads of stone, it is built of white granite, most of which was mined at Stanstead, Quebec, and some at Troy, New Hampshire.

Mr. Frank Clarke's New Jewellery Store

Mr. Frank Clarke, who will on Saturday open a jewellery store at the south-west corner of George and Brock streets, yesterday received a large consignment of fixtures and fittings for his new establishment at the point. Frank is an old Peterborough boy, who has cleaned up a good amount of money during the past few years, while operating a country store. Frank will only carry a first-class establishment and stock and being no bad as a skilled watch and clock repairer, will undoubtedly command a good share of the city's patronage.

Many Times Stricken.

Easton, Pa., October 10.—After having suffered, according to statements of the attending physicians, at least eighteen hundred strokes of paralysis during two years, Samuel Yahi is dead.

Money Plentiful in Japan.

Tokio, October 10.—The abundance of money in Japan will be seen by the fact that the subscriptions for shares of the South Manchurian Railway were a thousand times oversubscribed. There is a lack of attractive investments.

PALE AND ANXIOUS

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health.

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated. Muscle and fat are added, healthy color is restored, and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 124 King St. East, Toronto, who says:

"After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would waken with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At ten in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism, which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound, and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c boxes or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, of N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

AMERICAN CAPITAL AND CANADIAN ENTERPRISE

The Montreal Herald thinks there is a feeling in some quarters that American capital is playing a larger part in undertaking the development of the natural resources of Canada than is quite creditable to Canadian enterprise.

That the Dominion has benefited, and benefited enormously by the investment of the surplus money which Americans have brought hers during the past ten years, and which now amounts, it is estimated, to no less a sum than $500,000,000, is frankly admitted; but it is thought Canadians themselves might do a little more in possessing themselves of the country's natural wealth. There is possibly a little justice in the criticism. But Canada has every reason to be satisfied with some aspects of the investment of this outside capital. The manufacturing establishments of the Eastern States of America, which found their products shut out of the Canadian market by the same kind of barrier that they and their political friends raised for the protection of their own market, have planted factories on this side of the border that give employment to thousands of Canadians, and in other ways contribute to the wealth of the country.

It is not quite so satisfactory, it is true, to find that Americans are abstracting so large a share of the mineral wealth. Take the Province of Ontario for example. The great nickel mines of Sudbury are owned and operated by an American company; the new smelter that is being erected in the North Bay district, for the treatment of minerals, is due to American enterprise, which probably means that a considerable proportion of the cream of this New Ontario milk will go to Americans; and an American syndicate holds the largest part of the central area of argentiferous deposits at Cobalt. Up west, quite a considerable part of the natural riches of British Columbia go to maintain the mansions of Spokane and Seattle. Still Canada has benefited from all this. It is newer at the business than the States, and has learned much from American object lessons. There is plenty of opportunity for Canadian capital yet.

As regard timber the case is somewhat different. Today a convention is meeting at Vancouver to consider the important question of forest reservation, and the necessity for it is said to be largely due to the activity of enterprising Americans, who are getting into the magnificent timber resources of that province so rapidly as to cause serious apprehension of the denudation of the forests. That the British Columbia government is doing a tremendous business in the sale of timber at the present time, is evident from the official information given out by the Department of Lands and Forests, which shows that some four hundred licenses were issued in July, and the applications for licenses are flowing at the rate of fifty a week. Americans figure largely among the applicants. Now, so far as nature is concerned, there is just this to be said: Americans have practically exhausted their own timber resources. It is well they should not be the cause of the waste of those of Canada.

SUICIDES TO SAVE HUSBAND

Woman Could Not Live and See Family Starve.

Paris, October 9.—Mme. Bachelet, a poor woman, living in the Rue de Luneville, committed suicide the other day to save her husband and her little daughter from starvation.

The woman had been ill for many months and though her husband did his utmost he fell into debt, and the house was about to be sold up. During his absence, Mme. Bachelet, who was insured for $58 in a friendly society, called her daughter to her, and after kissing her drank laudanum. The husband arrived only in time to receive her last farewells, and to hear the reason of her death.

HISTORIC NECKLACE PAWNED

Was Given by Marie Therese of Austria to Marie Antoinette.

Paris, October 9.—There is at present in the Mont de Piete at Paris a necklace which Marie Therese of Austria gave to her daughter, Marie Antoinette.

At the Mont de Piete no information about this valuable and historic necklace could be obtained, save that it was pawned for $8,000.

The Sultan Depressed.

Vienna, October 9.—Private reports from Constantinople state that the Sultan is suffering from deep mental depression as a consequence of his illness, and that his outward appearance has much changed. The deaths within the last two days of two high functionaries at Yildiz Kiosk have made a deep impression upon the monarch. Nishan Effendi, who died suddenly two days ago of apoplexy, was the Sultan's translator and political director of foreign correspondence, and enjoyed His Majesty's confidence, while the death of the chief master of ceremonies, Ibrahim Pasha, is now reported.

October Canadian Magazine

While there is nothing startling in the October Canadian Magazine there is a variety of interest in the various articles and stories. Perhaps the article by the Hon. Ernest N. Warner on "Civil Service Reform in Wisconsin" will attract most readers, especially such as are looking for information as to the various phases of political reform. Mr. Warner is the author of Wisconsin's new act and has been a leader in the whole movement. It is worth noting that the United States has gone ahead of Canada in this particular reform. Some time ago Professor Leacock wrote an article on the decline of poetry, and now Susan E. Cameron, a Montreal Educationalist of standing, takes up the cudgels on behalf of the poets. She belabours the professor rather severely. There are two "Celebrities this month: Agnes Maule Machar, novelist, poet and painter; and Mrs. Herbert Chamberlain, who is a daughter of the late Lieut.-Col. Williams, of Port Hope. The other illustrated articles deal with the old Government House at Fredericton and the proposal to restore it; the work and character of the late Bishop Bompas, of Selkirk; and an exhaustive exhaustive account of the modern methods for securing "Purity in Domestic Products." The stories by W. A. Fraser and Mabel Burkholder, two native writers, are worthy of special mention.

A GOOD CANADIAN REPRESENTATIVE WANTED

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"And are you my beautiful preserver, prepared for the sacrifice which, indeed, I fear it is doing a great wrong to ask of you?"

"It will be no sacrifice on my part. It is the only possible way to save yourself from an unjustly-inflicted death, and me from a fatal remorse."

"Alas! Laura! when I first met and worshiped you—when I first dared to dream of the joy of making you my own—this was not the sort of bridal I pictured to myself!" said Cassinove, with a deep groan.

"No, my own; you thought of conquering fortune, and laying it at my feet and of lifting me to a position higher, if possible, than that from which I fell. This is what you planned for me. And because you planned it, and because it pleased Heaven to disappoint your generous plan, here am I at your side, as willing—oh, yes—as willing to share your sorrows as ever I should have been to share your joys," said Laura, sitting down beside him.

"Oh," groaned Cassinove, "if my guiltiness is no plea to heaven or earth in my behalf, surely this woman's goodness must be! Surely, for her sake, God will bring light out of this great darkness! Heaven will not leave her to suffer!"

Thus they conversed together until their conference was interrupted by the opening of the cell door, and the appearance of the warden, who ushered in a lady closely veiled, and retired.

The lady threw aside her veil, and disclosed the sweet face of a friend.

"My dearest Rose!" cried Laura Elmer, rising to embrace her.

"The Duchess of Beresleigh!" exclaimed Mr. Cassinove, in surprise.

"Yes, it is I, my friends, come to see you once more. Indeed, I should have come sooner, but I have been ill; and oh! in so much trouble. You have heard about it, Miss Elmer?"

"Yes, sweet Rose! I heard, and I should have gone to you, but sorrows—such dark sorrows as ours—make us selfish, I fear," said Laura Elmer, as her heart smote her for the neglect of this gentle friend.

"I could not expect you to come, dear Miss Elmer. Dr. Clark, who attended me in my illness, told me——"

"That Miss Elmer was performing the part of a Sister of Charity to a lonely prisoner so zealously as to leave her no time to bestow upon her friends," said Cassinove, regretfully.

"Something like that, indeed. But I consider such duties as sacred as fully to exonerate Miss Elmer. I fully expected to find her here, and I am glad to have found her."

"I am here every day, dear Rose, to lighten as much as possible these dreary prison hours. But I am here to-day for an especial purpose. Therefore, I am pleased that to-day, of all days, you should be present," said Laura Elmer, gravely.

The young duchess looked from one to the other for an explanation.

"You are here involuntarily to witness a marriage," said Laura Elmer.

Rose looked more perplexed than before.

"Miss Elmer does not wish to be called as a witness on my approaching trial. To prevent this, she is about to bestow upon me her hand. Tell me, madam, for you are a disinterested judge, am I not doing a great wrong to accept so vast a sacrifice?" said Cassinove.

"But I do not understand," said Rose.

"She would immolate herself for the bare chance of saving my life," began Cassinove; but Laura gently placed her hand before his lips to stop further speech, and turning to the duchess, briefly, and in a low voice explained the urgent necessity for the immediate marriage.

"You are right, dear Laura; I feel that you are quite right, although not one in a hundred would think it right, and not one in a thousand dare to do it even if they thought so," said Rose earnestly.

"I am pleased that you agree with me, dear," replied Miss Elmer.

"And I am very much pleased that I happen to be here to support your dear cause. You required a woman's presence, now, did you not? Say so, so please me, dear Laura."

"I can say so with great sincerity, sweet Rose. I did, indeed, need the presence of some woman friend, and I am most happy to have yours," replied Miss Elmer.

Once more they were interrupted by the opening of the cell door and the entrance of Dr. Clark and Mr. Watson, who were ushered in by the turnkey, who immediately withdrew.

Dr. Clark recognized the Duchess of Beresleigh with surprise and pleasure, bowed, and presented the Rev. Mr. Watson.

The little party quite filled up the narrow cell.

"The officers of the prison seem to think that you are holding a levee this morning, Cassinove, and are probably wondering what it is about. I did not think proper to volunteer an explanation," said Dr. Clark, cheerfully.

"Young lady," said the minister, approaching Miss Elmer, and speaking in a low voice, "is this step that you are about to take well considered?"

"Yes sir, it is well considered," answered Laura Elmer, gravely and firmly.

"In the name of Heaven, then, I must proceed. Stand up, if you please," said the minister, opening his book.

Cassinove arose, and led Laura Elmer before him.

Dr. Clark took his place beside Cassinove, and the young duchess stood by Laura Elmer.

The marriage ceremony was commenced with the usual formulas. When they came to the question, "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?"

"I do," said the venerable Dr. Clark, taking the hand of the bride and placing it in the hand of the bridegroom.

When they reached the point where the ring was required, there was no ring forthcoming. Good Dr. Clark had entirely forgotten that little necessity.

But the young duchess, hastily drawing a circlet of diamonds from her finger, offered it for the purpose, saying:

"Keep it, dear Laura, it is the emblem of truth."

The ring was placed upon her finger; the vows were made, the prayers offered, the benediction bestowed, and the the marriage ceremony concluded.

After the cordial clasping of hands and earnestly breathed good wishes, their friends departed, leaving the newly married pair together.

At the usual hour for closing, Laura took leave of Cassinove, and returned to her lodgings. She had soon good reason to know that her marriage had not taken place one hour too soon.

The next morning, while she was preparing to come out, a sheriff's officer was shown into her room, who served her with a document that proved to be a subpoena, addressed to Laura Elmer, spinster, and ordering her, under peril of certain pains and penalties, to appear upon a certain day at the Central Criminal Court, Old Bailey, as a witness on the part of the prosecution in the case of "The Crown versus Ferdinand Cassinove, charged with the willful murder of Sir Vincent Lester, baronet."

Laura read it, and returned it, saying:

"This does not concern me. My name is not Elmer, neither am I a single woman."

"Then will you be good enough to tell me where I can find Miss Laura Elmer?"

"Nowhere, I presume; I, who once bore that name, have now another."

"Then, madam, will you be so good as to tell me your new name, that I may have the mistake corrected" said the officer, taking out his tablets.

"You need not give yourself that trouble. I am the wife of Ferdinand Cassinove, and therefore incapacitated from giving evidence on his trial," said Laura, gently.

The officer looked at her in surprise, and then muttering that he would see about it, departed.

Natural Development and the Fads of the Theorists.

Today even idleness has become a text for child study. The infant must be taught to be idle as he must be taught to work. The theorist who shudders at the vision of the alphabet and the theorist who intends every pastime to convey a lesson toss the child between them like a shuttlecock. "We forget," says one earnest writer upon education, "that the very definition of school means leisure, that the child must have it in abundance and that he must be protected and sheltered from the activities of the great world." Accordingly he is occupied from the time he is three years old doing something which is to mold his character for life, and an audience of adults breathlessly awaits the outcome of every fresh experiment. He is protected from books (his natural friends), but taught "with greater economy of his mental tissues" in a series of infantile lectures. He is protected from using his own mind, but invited to prey upon the minds of his teachers. He is protected from the frank old games of childhood, which are frowned upon as "boorish" and "immoral," and encouraged to think that his most vapid amusements are matters for grave concern. He is protected sometimes from the very sound of words which form part of our common vocabulary and from contact with ideas which form part of our common experience. I have known a family of little children so hedged and guarded lest they should hear of sin, of death, of pain, of trouble, of fairies, of ghosts, of Santa Claus, of Satan, of fear, of prohibition, of transgression, that conversation in their presence resembled those intelligent little one syllabled books which were published in great numbers some years ago for the enfeeblement of the infant mind.—Agnes Repplier in Appletons.

TO STOP WHALE FISHING

Shetland Fishermen Make Application to Government.

Glasgow, October 2.—The Shetland fishermen and curers are making another effort to induce the government to stop the whale fishing in the islands. They show apparently that the decline of the herring fishing on the west coast of the islands has coincided with the existence of whaling establishments in the same quarter, notwithstanding the fact that the whole Shetland catch of last year was a record one. They say that the same phenomenon was observed in Harris, and also that the whale fishers were turned out of Norway because their operations frightened away the fish.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 600 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 250 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 750 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

CURED PAINFUL IRREGULARITIES

Strong Testimony From a Lady Resident of Clarksburg, Proving that Ferrozone Surpasses all Other Remedies.

The health of many women is constantly imperilled through failure of certain organs to work according to nature's requirements.

Where this condition occurs there is no safer remedy to employ than Ferrozone, which has a specific action in female troubles.

Not only does it act directly on the organs, ensuring regularity and freedom from pain, but by forming rich red blood fortifies the system against weakening drains.

FERROZONE
STRONG WOMEN.

Ferrozone possesses a volume of merit totally absent in the ordinary medicine, and its superiority is proclaimed by thousands of women it has restored to vigorous health. From Mrs. F. G. Caldwell comes the following endorsement, written from her home in Clarksburg: "I went through a most trying experience with what is commonly known as 'Female Trouble.' It isn't necessary to state my symptoms, but I suffered a great deal. My health was well nigh ruined, and I got into such a condition that I couldn't even sleep. I was dreadfully nervous, weak and pale. Different prescriptions were recommended and I tried them. But Ferrozone was the first to help. I improved steadily under Ferrozone, and normal conditions were finally established. I gained weight, my color and spirits improved, and my former health was restored. Ferrozone cured me, and with a full heart I recommend this good medicine to all other women."

Beware of imitations—don't allow a druggist to palm off anything else for Ferrozone, which costs 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers.

Drunken Man Has Close Call by Death

Yesterday's Fire on George Street Nearly Terminated Fatally.

Yesterday afternoon when the fire alarm bell called out the brigade, a man sleeping in a building situated at the corner of Sherbrooke and George streets, had a close call from the destroying angel of death.

The cause of this fire was it seems the overturning of a coal oil lamp in one of the olden buildings in the city, where Mr. Martin, a shoemaker, had his place of business.

The fire broke out about two o'clock in the afternoon in the rear of Mr. Martin's shop. It is supposed that the lamp was accidentally knocked over by Martin, the proprietor of the shop, who was found lying on the floor with the flames playing about him. Had it not been for the presence of mind of a few of the people who reached the burning building in time, there would probably have been a fatality as Martin was helpless intoxicated.

In the south-east corner of the burnt building a butcher shop owned by F. J. Goselin, was also totally destroyed. The apartments upstairs and in the rear, which were occupied by Wm. Duncan and Mr. Jordan were also gutted.

Household goods belonging to the occupants of the building were for the most part saved, being carried out by the firemen. The building was owned by W. R. Tetley, and was insured.

Although the firemen worked, as usual, like veterans and experts in their business, the fire took a considerable time to get under control. It is due to the intelligent and hard work of the local brigade that the fire, started in an old and inflammable building did not do more damage.

Presentation to Mr. G. G. Pratley

St. Luke's Young Mens' Guild Honor a Departing Member.

A pleasing ceremony incidental to the regular monthly meeting of the St. Luke's church Young Men's Guild, which was opened as usual by the rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, was a presentation of a travelling bag, accompanied with an appropriate address, to Mr. G. G. Pratley, a member of the league.

The rector moved that he had learned only on Sunday that Mr. Pratley was about to leave. Personally he regretted it exceedingly. As a churchman Mr. Pratley was loyal and and most devoted to his church. Mr. Pratley was baptized in St. Luke's received his instructions, and was also confirmed there. The rector read the following address to Mr. Pratley. To Mr. G. G. Pratley,—

Dear Sir,—We have learned with much regret that you are about to leave Peterborough, and that by your removal our pleasant associations with you in church life will have to be severed.

We desire to express to you before you leave how much we have valued your friendship, and how greatly we have appreciated your active interest in the work of the church. For several years, you have been secretary of the Men's Guild, and during your tenure of that office you have done much to the great others in the affairs of the Guild, and to keep it an active organization. You have been associated with the finance committee of the church and your business knowledge and ability as an accountant have ever been readily placed at the disposal of the church, in your capacity as an auditor.

But more than all, your example as a Christian gentleman and disciple of Jesus Christ has helped many of us to reach for greater spiritual attainments by becoming useful members of the church, in the service for Christ and our fellowmen.

We ask you to accept the accompanying gift as a small token of our esteem and respect, and we beg of you to be assured that our good wishes and prayers shall follow you to your new abode.

We remain, on behalf of St. Luke's church and Men's Guild,

Very sincerely yours,
E. A. LANGFELDT, M.A.
Rector.
FRANK ADAMS,
People's Warden.
G. F. WARDE,
Pres. Men's Guild.

Mr. Warde then presented to Mr. Pratley, a beautiful leather travelling bag, in a few appropriate remarks.

Mr. M. Pappas' Fine New Barber Chairs

In addition to the three chairs Mr. Pappas got the balance of the fittings and fixtures for his new enterprise, including plate glass mirrors, show cases, etc. The barber chairs which are made in St. Louis, Mo., work on a metal pedestal and are upholstered in real leather and the arm pieces, the most recent wrinkle known, are covered with panels of plate glass to save wear and tear on both the chairs and the customers' coat sleeves. Mr. Pappas hopes to get his new place open by Saturday.

If You Suffer with Rheumatism

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy Will Bring the Utmost Relief that Medicine Can.

The one remedy which many physicians rely upon to free the system of the Rheumatic Poisons which are the cause of all Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Gout, is Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy. Dr. Shoop spent twenty years in experimenting before he discovered the combined elements which made possible one almost always certain cure for Rheumatism, etc. Not that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy joints into fresh again—that is impossible. Medicines and will drive from the blood the poisons which caused the pain and swelling. And then that is the end of the pain and swelling—end of the suffering—the end of Rheumatism. This remedy never fails where a cure is possible. It is now put up in tablet or liquid form—ask for Tablets. You who have suffered and are suffering today from pains and aches which you know to be Rheumatism; you who experience backache or twinges of pain in damp weather; you who easily become stiff and lame without apparent cause—just try Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. It is just the kind of a remedy that accomplishes results. Sold and recommended by

J. D. TULLY.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither—being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted FREE, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Annual Y. M. C. A. Opening.

On Friday evening the annual Y. M. C. A. opening and reception of the new physical director, Mr. E. Dingman, who arrives in the city today, will be held. The social and Physical committees are working together to make this event a great success. The program will be given in the gymnasium. A basket ball contest will take place between the Arrows and Alerts, and several other special features will be given. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra will assist in making the evening a success musically as well as otherwise. The general public is invited and no charge is made for admission, so that, with so good a program presented, the room will undoubtedly be crowded.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

CHARGE OF MURDER AGAINST UNION'S LAWYER

Warrants Against Two Maclarens and Others Were Imperfect, and Cases Cannot Proceed.

Buckingham, Que., Oct. 11.—The inquest on Thomas Belanger and Francis Thebault, the dead strikers, was yesterday postponed until today without evidence being taken.

Edmund Guerin, advocate, has been retained to appear for the Crown in the various prosecutions, which will not be continued until the inquests are over.

Mounted dragoons are patrolling the quiet streets, and there is no new phase in the strike situation. The funerals of the victims will take place today.

A warrant was issued yesterday morning against E. Lamoureux, advocate, legal adviser to the local union, charging murder and attempted murder. He is defending the men in their trials.

The cases against the two Maclarens and five other defendants came up at Hull yesterday morning, and were postponed because of certain irregularities.

CASES DISMISSED.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—Messrs. Alexander and Albert Maclaren, proprietors of the Buckingham Saw and Pulp Mills; Major J. E. Vallilee, James Kiernan, Bert Cameron, John C. Cummings, and Philomene Fournier, all charged with murder and attempted murder in the shooting of strikers at Buckingham on Monday afternoon, were brought before Justice St. Jules, stipendiary Magistrate, in Hull yesterday, and dismissed because of omission of the date in the warrants that had been sworn against them. The case of Chief of Police Kiernan on a similar charge will be held at the Hull assizes.

It is understood that new informations will be sworn out against the seven named above. Judge St. Jules mentioned incidentally that it would be better in any event to have these trials stand over until after the inquest.

NO ARBITRATION.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—One feature of the Buckingham strike question which has hitherto escaped notice is the fact that the Labor Department and the Provincial Labor Department at Quebec, both made vain attempts to effect a reconciliation of the dispute. The men were anxious to avail themselves of the good offices of both departments and wrote the Department of Labor here to that effect. The offer of the latter's good offices, however, was declined by the Maclarens. The employes also welcomed Mr. Felix Marcois of the Provincial Department's offer of conciliation and arbitration, but it was understood that Mr. Marcois' services were not desired by the company, and therefore proved of no avail.

Norwood Fair a Great Success

The Norwood fair this fall beats any past exhibition. At Tuesday noon the entries were over 100 in advance of any previous year. Secretary Mr. J. E. Roxburgh is putting himself and his brother directors on the track.

The exhibits were ahead of the average.

Mr. Fred Lissenbe, of Norham, exhibited a field squash weighing 257 pounds.

The root exhibit was as good, if not better, than the Toronto exhibit. Some very large watermelons were exhibited by Mr. Thos. Burkell, of Norwood.

A bunch of home grown peanuts in perfect state of maturity were exhibited by Mr. W. Campbell, Asphodel.

In the grain and the exhibit is good, and the show this year promises to be a huge success.

LOCAL BOY'S SUCCESS

Mr. Charles Lang is Home on a Brief Vacation.

Mr. Charles Lang, a son of Mr. Robert Lang of Water street, is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. Lang holds a responsible position with the Dominion Coal Co., Cape Breton. He left here some three years ago for the Eastern Provinces, and his promotion has been rapid. Mr. Lang now holds a very lucrative position.

He expects, after leaving Peterborough to visit several cities in the Western States on business for his company.

The new Pure Food and Drug law will make it on the label of every Cough Cure containing Opium, chloroform, or any other stupifying or poisonous drug. But it places Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure as safe for 20 years, entirely free. Dr. Shoop all along has strongly opposed the use of all opiates or narcotics. Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is absolutely safe even for the youngest babe—and it cures coughs not simply suppress. Get a safe, reliable Cough Cure, by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's. New Party Formed in New Brunswick

Principal Object to Offset Growing Power of West.

St. John, N.B., October 10.—There is a split in local politics, resulting in the formation of an independent party composed chiefly of Liberals who are dissatisfied with the Tweedie-Pugsley government, but also including a number of Conservative workers who reject the policy of the present opposition. In New Brunswick straight party lines have not been drawn in recent years in local politics, but the parties have, as a rule been those who are for or against the government.

This independent party will hold a convention in the near future to adopt a platform already prepared and to form a ticket for the next contest. There will not be an election for two years, but the independents are determined to be prepared.

The platform, as prepared, sets forth that the principal object of the party is maritime union in order to fight the growing power of the west. The three provinces to be ruled from the one capital with one government formed of about the same officials as now exist in Nova Scotia and one lieutenant-governor.

The name Acadia is suggested for the united province. Already in St. John and King's counties candidates have been selected and the other tickets will shortly be prepared.

DREADNOUGHT SATISFACTORY

Her Trials Which Have Taken Place Have Pleased the Admiralty.

London, October 10.—The Admiralty has issued a report on the preliminary trials of the battleship Dreadnought, the largest warship in the world, which commenced Monday and were finished the next day. The results were most satisfactory. Her manoeuvring power proved to be exceptionally good. The ease with which she steered and was handled, even at low speed, was very noticeable. She proved herself a good sea boat, although the weather was not sufficiently severe to make a very thorough test of her qualities in this direction. There was a complete absence of vibration of the structure at all speeds.

After the preliminary trials, the Dreadnought proceeded on her first official thirty-hour trial at one-sixth her full power, in the English Channel. This was finished successfully.

The manoeuvring of the various powers with her cruising turbines were then completed satisfactorily.

STARTLING DISCOVERY

Strong Box of Wrecked Steamer Found to be Empty.

Paris, October 11.—The Echo de Paris yesterday published a despatch from Cartagena, Spain, announcing that a sensation has been caused there by the discovery that the strong box of the Italian steamer Sicilo (wrecked in August last on Romigas Island, with the loss of about 150 lives) although found to be hermetically sealed, was empty, raising the presumption of the complicity of the crew in the wreck.

Alleged "Dip" is Dismissed

M. M. Morrison is Dismissed at Fall Assizes on Charge of Picking Pockets.

After the burglary charge, as noted in yesterday's Times against John Thorpe had been disposed of, the case of the King vs. M. M. Morrison, of Brockville, was on the tapis.

The offence was alleged to have been committed at the Peterborough fair on Sept. 26, and P. C. Newhall was the main witness for the crown. Mr. Moore of Lindsay, appeared for the crown, and Mr. D. O'Connell for the defence.

Mr. Moore in addressing the jury, said,—Gentlemen, this prisoner is charged with stealing money. James Miller with his wife, went to the fair grounds, there was a large crowd there. Miller knew that his purse with $5 and a cheque were in his pocket. Samuel Newhall, P. C., was also there to watch for pick-pockets. His attention fell upon the prisoner.

Jas. Miller, the first witness called, said that he was a farmer in the township of Smith. He and his wife on September 26, went to the fair between two and three o'clock. Before he went into the crowd he had $30 in cash and a cheque for $45. He had a couple of dollars in his inside pocket. The book was in his hip pocket. When he got inside the grounds he found his pocket book was gone. He telephoned to the bank to stop payment on the cheque.

P.C. Newhall said he was on duty at the fair. When he the grounds in his uniform. His attention was drawn to the prisoner by his nervous movements and his pressing against people and still not purchasing a ticket. He saw Miller just in front of the prisoner. Beside the prisoner were two men talking to him, one on each side. One of the two men saw witness looking. The two left the crowd for town. The prisoner also disappeared. Miller complained of losing his money. Witness then went home and put on his civilian clothes and returned to the fair grounds. He saw prisoner at the Coney Island show. Prisoner was shouting, "Hit the nigger, boys." Prisoner left that crowd to go to another crowd west. There, prisoner went behind a young man and placed his hand on the man's hip, but got nothing. Prisoner then went to a main building and bought a tin and then got into a group of ladies. He seemed very nervous. The prisoner when, he, Newhall, returned to the scene, was going over to some buggies on the grounds. The prisoner took money from one side coat pocket, pant's pockets and counted it and placed it in his inside coat pocket. Witness watched him. Prisoner then went over to the building again, and when he saw witness left the crowd and went out onto the grounds again. Witness followed him and arrested prisoner at Lang & Miller's exhibit. Prisoner said, "Pinking pockets! Oh, my God, two years! His daughter complained of me. I admit my conduct was suspicious and I was with the gang. I ought to have a good kick—I was never in trouble before. I am a respectable medicine man, as you will see later on." Witness did not threaten nor induce prisoner to speak. At the police station he searched the prisoner and found one $2 and $1 in coins, and $1.49 in silver.

Robert Howland stated that he was porter for Graham & Co., at the fair grounds. He saw the prisoner near the nigger show. Prisoner went to the nigger and whispered to him, pointing at the same time to witness. Nigger looked at witness and then shook his head. Prisoner then returned to back of crowd and leaned over the back of a young man. Then he went to another crowd and when he came out he had his hand in his hip pocket. Then he crowded into a crowd of ladies. At that time P. C. Newhall arrived and witness gave the officer warning of the prisoner being there.

Edward Simmons stated to Mr. Moore that he was a laborer and was at the fair that day. His evidence was practically that of the former witness.

Mr. O'Connell moved that the case be dismissed.

His Lordship could not see that the evidence as submitted was anything but suspicion and he could not continue the case unless the Crown could bring forward some stronger evidence.

To the jury, his Lordship said in part that there could hardly be a conviction in his case. It is simply one of suspicion.

The jury declared the prisoner not guilty.

His Lordship concluded; "You are a young man with your life before you and have every opportunity to get an honest living. The jury have found you not guilty and properly so, according to the evidence offered. But in future I would advise you to watch yourself and not get into any trouble which will cause suspicion to be point ed at you. You are discharged."

BULL OF EXCOMMUNICATION

Denied That the Pope Contemplates One Against French Catholics.

Paris Oct. 11.—Monsignor Gabrieres denies that the Pope contemplates issuing a bull of excommunication against the priests and other Catholics who participate in the formation of the League of French Catholics, now being organized with the object of forming cultural associations to take over the Church properties in defiance of the Pope's refusal to recognize the Church and State separation law, etc.

LOOSE TEETH

Made Sound by Eating Grape-Nuts.

Proper food nourishes every part of the body, because Nature selects the different materials from the food we eat to build bone, nerve, brain, muscle, teeth, etc.

All we need is to eat the right kind of food slowly, chewing it well—our digestive organs take it up into the blood and the blood carries it all thrown the body, to every little nook and corner.

If some one would ask you, "Is Grape-Nuts food for loose teeth?" you'd probably say, "No, I don't see how it could be." But a woman in Ontario writes:

"For the past two years I have used Grape-Nuts Food with most excellent results. It seems to take the place of medicine in many ways, builds up the nerves and restores the health generally.

"A little Grape-Nuts taken before retiring soothes my nerves and gives sound sleep." (Because it relieves irritability of the stomach nerves, being a predigested food).

"Before I used Grape-Nuts my teeth were loose in the gums. They were so bad I was afraid they would some day all fall out. Since I have used Grape-Nuts I have not been bothered any more with loose teeth.

"All desire for pastry has disappeared and I have gained in health, weight and happiness since I began to use Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Get the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

At yesterday's session of the police court, a Montreal horse buyer was thrice called, but did not show up until the court had waited some time. He was charged by Robert Graham with owing the latter $21. The Montreal man denied owing him but $8. In the box Graham swore he had hired with Mr. T. Cavanagh a week before the exhibition. Graham said he was hired by Mr. T. Cavanagh, who told him to go to work for the Montreal man, saying that he, Cavanagh, would see that his wages at $2 a day were paid. He worked 18 days and had been paid $17 on account.

The magistrate figured it up that there was only $19 owing to Graham.

In reply to a question by the horse buyer, Mr. Cavanagh said he would see that he would be paid $2.

The Montreal man then went into the box, and said Graham was employed by him in the summer. He asked Mr. Cavanagh to hire a man him. He did not remember exactly what agreement as to wages Cavanagh had agreed to pay. He bought he owed Graham $8, but did no mind giving him a dollar or two more.

Mr. Cavanagh said no agreement was made to wages.

In summing up it seemed as though the Montreal horse-buyer had not had a definite arrangement as to wages. The magistrate, however, thought that a man, under existing circumstances as to living expenses was entitled to at least $1.50 per day, and ruled accordingly.

The horse-buyer asked, "Well your worship who pays the costs of this case?"

His worship replied, "Well, as you seem to have invited investigation by his court, by telling Graham, "You had better take the $8, or go before P.M. Domble. You must take he consequences."

The decision of the court was, that the Montreal man had to pay Graham, $1.50 per day, $6 for Graham's board whilst in Toronto, and the costs of the case, $3.65; or in coolse English vernacular, the horse buyer had noteen of the $8 he offered to stump, $19.65. He was given eight days in which to pay the amount into court.

Happy Marriage in St. Peter's

Yesterday a pretty wedding was celebrated in St. Peter's Cathedral, when Miss Nellie Lewis, second eldest daughter of Mr. T. Lewis, and leader of the choir of St. Peter's cathedral, was united in marriage to Mr. George Scott, of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. O'Brien in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The bride was attended by Miss Annie McCarthy, and was charmingly attired in a travelling suit of blue ladies' cloth, with a waist of a lover lace, and blue hat to match. The bridesmaid was costumed in a costume of cream serge with lace trimmings and wore a cream hat to match. The groom was supported by Mr. Emmet Doherty.

As the bridal party advanced to the altar which was adorned with flowers, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Doherty. The Ave Verum was beautifully rendered by Miss Annie Simons and the Ave Maria by Miss Lavina Hallinan.

The groom's present to the bridesmaid was a gold locket, and to the groomsmen gold cuff links. The bride received many beautiful presents including a handsome piano from the groom's father.

The bride has been leader of St. Peter's choir. The groom is well known in the city, and the young couple have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott will reside at their new home on Rubidge street.

Byers vs. Kidd at the Assizes

Yesterday, the long-talked of and interesting case of Byers vs. Kidd, was settled. This case was one of libel slander.

The plaintiff was John Byers, dealer in timber, residing at Fraserville and the defendant is Walter Allen Kidd, a store-keeper of the same place. The plaintiff claimed $1,000 damages for alleged slanderous statements said to have been made by the defendant. Byers' suit was based on the charge that Kidd unjustly accused him of cutting open and destroying some coal belonging to the defendant. R. F. McWilliams acted for the plaintiff, and D. O'Connell appeared for the defendant.

And the Chinese Still Come.

Vancouver, B. C., October 11.—Despite the $500 poll tax, the Chinese continue to come into this province in considerable numbers, and the revenue does not gain thereby, as the Celestials come in by "the underground route" and thus avoid the head tax. The customs officers are watching the border closely, but it is difficult to prevent the traffic.

YACHT WITH CONTRABAND CHINESE WAS CONFISCATED

For More Than Two Weeks She Had Evaded Detection Only to be Discovered Landing Her Cargo.

Providence, R.I. Oct. 11.—After having evaded the United States customs and immigration officers for more than two weeks, the schooner yacht Frolic, which left Placentia, Nfld., with a cargo of contraband Chinese immigrants, was boarded in the Providence River early yesterday, and confiscated in the name of the United States Government.

Two Portuguese members of the crew were placed under arrest, they being the only persons found on board the boat, two men were arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the smuggling of Chinese into the United States; while seventeen Chinese believed to have been passengers on the Frolic, were also arrested.

The most amazing part of the affair lies in the fact that despite the vigilance of the coast guards, and the revenue cutters from Eastport, Maine, to Cape Hatteras, the Frolic entered the harbor Tuesday afternoon without attracting any attention, those who saw her taking her for a fishing schooner.

It was by the purest accident that her identity was discovered.

Early yesterday morning Earl Rush who is employed at the coal docks, a mile or two men huddled on the wharf of the coal yard. He discovered that they were Chinese, and he was about to eject them from the premises when someone on board the schooner cried out; "Don't bother, those fellows. I will look after them."

Rush then returned to the office of the company and reported the occurrence to Henry Clark, the night watchman.

Clark became suspicious that the Chinese were being smuggled into the country, and he informed the police of what had happened.

Officers were despatched to the scene, and within a short time eight Chinese had been captured.

Meanwhile the customs and immigration officials had been notified of the affair.

The vessel was not boarded immediately, however, as there was no wind stirring, and it would be impossible for the craft to get away.

Burglar Gets Three Years

John Thorpe Charged With Breaking into Beehive Store Found Guilty.

Yesterday the assizes' jury took something over half an hour to consider the case of John Thorpe, charged with burglary.

It might be noted that, up to noon of Tuesday, the prisoner did not engage any counsel to defend him, nor did he have any witnesses suppoenaed to give testimony on his behalf.

He pleaded not guilty and announced his readiness to go on with the trial. As no lawyer had been asked to defend the prisoner, Mr. Goodwill, of Roger, Bennet & Goodwill, was appointed by the judge to act for the prisoner.

For a first offence (we mean a first case defended) Mr. Goodwill made a most able defence, and one that reflected great credit upon the young limb of the law. It was generally conceded that Mr. Goodwill will make his mark among local barristers.

Thorpe was charged with breaking into the store of Mr. T. Elliot and stealing therefrom some $12. Mr. Moore, of Lindsay, the prosecuting attorney, addressed the jury.

Mr. Moore outlined the nature of the case and the line of evidence which would be submitted by the Crown during the trial.

The first witness called was John McHarry, P.C., who said that on the night of July 26th and 27th he was on duty. That morning about four o'clock he heard a noise in the lane off Hunter street. He went down the lane and at the Beehive, found a hat coat and vest. He tried the door, but could see of bear nothing. He went to the corner of George street. He met Mr. Finnie, the night watchman, and had a talk with him. The two returned to the lane and saw the prisoner come out of the lane with the hat and coat.

Witness caught the prisoner at the Hunter street bridge. He took him to the station. Prisoner said he was in the lane, but did not break into the store. The prisoner was taken to the police station where he was searched when there was found on him $6.25 in 25c. pieces one ten cent piece, one half dollar, one pass dollar, a knife, besides American coppers and nickles. Witness then telephoned Mr. Elliot and when he came down they went to the store and found money, about $1.00 on the floor. Mr. Elliot said the money accounted for was 10c or 11c short of what was left. They searched the prisoner again and found a ten cent piece and a copper. The back door of the store was broken in at the bottom large enough for a man to crawl through.

To Mr. Goodwill witness said the night was a dark night, the electric lights were on. The nearest one was 500 feet away. He went up the lane that morning at four o'clock for the first time. When he first went into the lane he did no notice the door broken. When he met Mr. Finnie he (Finnie) said he did not see a hat and coat in the lane when he was there before earlier.

Edward Finnie said his duty took him along George street. He found everything all right at 12 o'clock. An hour or two afterwards he met McHarry on George street.

Mr. T. C. Elliot said he owned the Beehive. On the morning of the 27th he was notified by phone that his store had been robbed. When he arrived on the scene he found the lower part of the door had been broken out. He also found the cash drawer had been broken open. They found a dollar and nine cents on the floor.

Miss Florence Derry stated that she was the cashier for Mr. T. C. Elliot. She closed he store the day before about one o'clock, having counted the cash about 12.30. There was $9.92 at that time. There were other sales which amounted to $2.10 after the cash had been counted. There were coppers, five cent pieces, twenty-five cent pieces and a one dollar bill.

In addressing the jury Mr. Goodwill said that the prisoner was a man without friends or means. He had no one to defend him until noon today when he consented to appear on behalf of the prisoner. By the evidence it was proven that a crime had been committed. The question is, is the prisoner the man who committed the deed?

His Lordship in addressing the jury carefully went over the evidence and pointed out that circumstantial evidence was just as good as if some one had seen the deed done. The only thing to be careful of was to make sure the circumstances are consistent. If after you have considered the evidence you think it is sufficiently strong, then find the prisoner guilty, if not bring in a verdict of not guilty.

The jury retired at 4.35 o'clock. At 5.15 the jury returned to the court room with a verdict of guilty.

The prisoner was sentenced to three years in Kingston penitentiary.

Lynched a Negro, But the Wrong Man

Kansas City, Mo., October 11.—A special to The Journal from Little Rock says:

"Blackburn, the negro taken from the gaol by a mob at Argenta, Arkansas, last night, and lynched, is not believed to have been the man wanted.

"Fully 500 negroes deserted their homes in Argenta and came to Little Rock to spend the night. The leaders stated that they were afraid to remain in Argenta for fear of another outbreak by the whites."

Grain Elevator Collapses.

Regina, Sask., October 11.—The big grain elevator, belonging to Joseph Glenn, of Indian Head, at Grand Coulee, has toppled over and several thousand bushels of grain were thrown on the tracks. The C. P. R. is co-operating with Mr. Glenn in an effort to clear the right of way, and the grain is being rapidly loaded into cars.

Canadian Will Serve in India.

Toronto, October 11.—Captain J. H. Binsley, of Stanley Barracks, has received orders to prepare to move to India, where he will be attached to an Indian cavalry regiment for two years. This is in consequence of the arrangement for the exchange of colonial officers among the corps of the several British colonies.

Japan Controls Telegraph Lines.

Pekin, October 11.—China has protested to the International bureau of the telegraphic administration at Berne, Switzerland, against Japan's continued control of the telegraph lines in Manchuria, asserting that the operation of the cable from Port Dalny to Japan is a violation by Japan of her former agreement on the subject.

HOW CONSUMPTION STARTS

Tired When You Waken—Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out—Soap All Gone.

Your limbs feel "draggy" and exceedingly heavy. You are [illegible] Your head aches, your back aches, your nerves are [illegible] Your appetite is poor, your sleep does not refresh you. Something is sapping away your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up. Then you catch [illegible] Start today. Build up your blood supply. Restore tone and strength to the nerves before they are beyond repair. Take Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated. Flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops and bounding, joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferrozone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Dowd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this.

"Household worries and cares had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In 50c. boxes only, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

ARCHBISHOP BOND

The late Archbishop Bond, who passed away in Montreal on Tuesday, was a moral force in the community, which was effective far outside the limits of his own church. He was an untiring campaigner on behalf of the movements which uplift humanity, and had his full share in making Montreal a better place in which to live and especially a safer place in which to rear a family.

Within the Church of England, the archbishop has held for years a unique position. Here, again, his influence has overflowed the boundaries of his official powers. Ever a friend of charity and breadth of view, he was a constant champion of the forward movement of the church and a great power on the side of progress. His many official connections with the organizations which make for advancement and bettered social conditions, render this abundantly clear even to those who have not come in contact with his work.

As a man, he had hosts of friends throughout the country who will sincerely mourn his demise. For some time failing health has prepared his many friends and co-workers for the day when they must do without him, and now the brave spirit, which this preparation has possibly done something to create, may be given its sad burden to carry.

KEENE

A special meeting of the Sons of Rest was held on the park on Saturday night last for the purpose of electing a president for the next six months. At seven o'clock the park was so crowded with anxious and excited members that it was impossible to accommodate any more. Minney Wale, the president, arrived on the scene at precisely 1.30 o'clock and at once took the chair. After opening the meeting with a short prayer, he rose to his feet and informed the brethren that, as the object of this meeting was to elect a president and transact other necessary business, he would now declare the meeting open for business. He then asked the secretary to read the minutes of the former meeting. Bobtail Pue rose and said that he considered it unnecessary to waste time over the reading of the minutes as this was only a special meeting that he would now give the names of the four candidates, namely: Minney Wale Jonas, Fighting Archy, Howden Doris and Fatty Drummond. Minney Wale now rose and said that it was customary for candidates to address the brethren on the eve of election, and would now intimate to them to do as they had done in the past elections: uphold and support him and he would pledge himself to faithfully and conscientiously transact their business. With these few remarks, he took his seat. Fighting Archy now rose amidst great applause and spoke as follows: Dear brethren, I stand before you tonight feeling confident that you will support me for I feel that I am better qualified to fill the president's chair than Minney Wale, I tell you, brethren, he is not reliable and if a man is unreliable he is no good. For instance, just imagine for a moment how many breaks he has made and lies he has told about the weather during the past year. I consider him nothing more or less than a false prophet and should not be supported by such a body of right-thinkers as the Sons of Rest. With these few remarks I will take my seat, asking for your support. Howden Doris next rose and said that he did not profess to be an orator but nevertheless was a strong thinker and it was not his intention to take a back seat on an occasion of this kind. He asked the support of the brethren, and, if elected, would exert himself to promote the interests of the order. Fatty Drummond, last, but not least, now rose and spoke as follows: Dear brethren, I feel that I am your coming president, and when elected will try to do my duty in every possible manner. As the time is limited I will take my seat, asking for your support in this election. Minney Wale now rose and asked Shiney Jim and Bucksaw Carter to distribute and collect the ballots and Wazy McFarlane and Skunkhunter Bennie to count them. After the ballots were collected and counted, the result was as follows: Minney Wale Jonas, 6,469; Fighting Archy, 6,449; Howden Doris, 6,445; Fatty Drummond, 2. Minney Wale was declared elected by one of a majority. Minney Wale was so rejoiced over his victory that he went into hysterics. He laughed ten minutes and then cried himself to sleep. Fighting Archy threw a pail of water on Minney Wale, which was fundamental in arousing him from his stupor. He then thanked the brethren for their support and promised to support them during the next six months. He said the meeting was now open for general business. Poney Moore rose and laid a charge against two Revivalists and their followers for disturbing the meeting tonight by singing hymns, preaching, and commenting on the sins of others and forgetting their own short-comings. Minney Wale rose and said that he intended to be severe on such conduct and would impose a fine of one thousand dollars on the two Revivalists, and one hundred dollars on each of their followers; to be paid before next Saturday night or he would imprison them in Farmer Richardson's outhouse for six months and feed them on stale eggs. Pinty Mac laid a charge against Shiney Jim for driving a schoolmarm to Hastings on Sunday last. The president fined Jim fifty dollars for desecrating the Sabbath day, with a warning to any clear of schoolmarms in the future. Rob Roy McGregor laid a charge against Harnessmaker Stillman for taking an Otonabee farmer's daughter to Millbrook fair. Minney Wale fines Harnessmaker fifty dollars, to be cash down. He paid the fine at once, and chuckled over the fun he had at the fair. Wolf Howson fell asleep and snored so loud that the president decided to close the meeting. He then asked Floridale Dixon and Cockatoo Elliot to sing the closing ode. They commenced to sing the ode, but Floridale got away up in the key of G and upset his stomach and sprayed its contents in Cockatoo's face. This ended the ode. The president declared the meeting closed until next Saturday night at 7.30 o'clock.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

And Laura Elmer went on her way to the prison, where she found Ferdinand Cassinove in close consultation with his counsel The latter arose with a smile to greet the lady, saying:

"My client has just told me of the ceremony that took place here yesterday morning. I had already learned that a subpoena was out for you this morning, one day too late. You have achieved a great stroke of diplomacy, madam, and saved my client."

"If anything can save him in such extremity," murmured Cassinove, under his breath.

"When does the trial come on, sir?" inquired Laura of the lawyer.

"To-morrow, madam."

CHAPTER XXXII.

It was the morning of the day of the trial—the trial, par excellence, of the session—the trial of the tutor, Ferdinand Cassinove, for the murder of his employer, Sir Vincent Lester, one of the oldest baronets of England.

All London was talking of it. It formed the subject of conversation at every breakfast table, every office and every shop in the city, as well as at the chambers of Messrs. Clagett and Fulmer, counsel for the prisoner, and at the cell at Newgate, where Ferdinand Cassinove awaited his summons to the courtroom.

At an unusually early hour, a crowd, composed in part of the most respectable citizens of London, collected in front of the Old Bailey to await the opening of the doors.

As soon as the doors were thrown open, this crowd pressed into the courtroom as into a playhouse, to witness the agonizing spectacle of a fellow-creature on trial for his life, as if it had been a play got up for their entertainment.

At ten o'clock the judges entered the courtroom, and took their places on the bench.

And soon after the order was given to bring in the prisoner.

All eyes were now turned in the direction of the door through which the prisoner was expected to enter.

And in a few minutes Ferdinand Cassinove made his appearance, walking between two police officers.

His step was firm, his carriage erect, his glance keen, and his bearing proud. His face was pale only in contrast to the darkness of the ebon locks that waved around his lofty brow, and the sable suit of clerical cloth that formed his usual costume.

Dr. Clark unwillingly took his place among the witnesses on the part of the Crown.

And Ferdinand Cassinove was ushered into the prisoner's dock. He looked around himself, over the sea of faces upturned to him, no friendly look among them; the hundreds of eyes fixed upon him; no kindly glance from them. Curiosity, horror and vindictiveness was the expression of the multitude.

Wearily, despairingly, Cassinove turned from this hostile array to look upon the group of witnesses for the defence, who were seated on his right hand. They were very few in number—consisting of his venerable pastor, his old family physician, and his colleague, all come to testify to the excellence of his character from his childhood up. With these Cassinove was associated the old Colonel Hastings, dressed in deep mourning, and looking worn and wasted as though from illness. Cassinove beckoned Mr. Fulmer, his junior counsel, and inquired:

"How came Colonel Hastings hither?"

"He presented himself this morning as a voluntary witness for the defence. He has just arrived from Baden-Baden, where his constitution received a terrible shock in the death of his only and idolized son."

"Death of his son? Mr. Albert Hastings? When did he die?" inquired Cassinove, in surprise.

"About a month ago."

"What was the cause of it?"

"I do not know. I have not had an hour in mind, although I feared it was from the dissipation of his brain, out after losing hundreds and pounds at a gaming table in Baden-Baden. It has broken his father's heart, as you may see. The old man was ill for many days after the catastrophe, and has only just arrived in England, to serve you, if he can, he says."

The attorney general proceeded to open the case for the Crown by stating at large the facts attending the murder for which the prisoner at the bar had been indicted, commented severely as he progressed upon the atrocious nature of homicide in general, and of this murder in particular, wherein he said were all the vices of ingratitude, hypocrisy and cowardice. Wherein the prisoner, young in years, but old in crime, had heinously murdered his own benefactor—not in broad daylight, face to face with his intended victim—no! but "in the dead waste and middle of the night," when all the household, save himself, had sunk to innocent repose, the cowardly assassin stole to the bedchamber of Sir Vincent Lester, and there, in that scene of stillness, in that hour of darkness, while the victim lay helpless in sleep—"innocent sleep"—plunged the dagger into the heart of his benefactor.

The clerk then called the name of "Clara, Lady Lester."

And there was a general rising and craning of necks to catch a glimpse of the baronet's widow, as she moved from her seat among the witnesses and went forward to take the stand, where her stout, black-robed, deeply-veiled form stood revealed to all eyes.

After having the oath duly administered to her, she was requested to look at the prisoner, and turned to meet the full, dark eyes of Cassinove fixed with a look of anxious solicitude upon her. This was the first time she had seen him since the night of the murder, and his expression of countenance evidently surprised her.

Cassinove and Laura both wondered what Lady Lester would have to testify in regard to the murder, when they knew that her ladyship had slept soundly through the whole of the travelscenes of that fatal first of October. It was known when she began to speak.

"I am the widow of the deceased. I know the prisoner at the bar; he filled the situation of tutor of our young son, and resided in our house for nearly twelve months."

"Can your ladyship inform the jury what seemed to be the state of feeling between the deceased and prisoner?" inquired the counsel for the Crown.

"At first the deceased and the prisoner seemed to entertain for each other as cordial a friendship as could possibly exist between persons of unequal rank and age. Gradually, but evidently that friendship cooled, until, at length it changed to a bitter enmity."

"Will your ladyship tell the court how this enmity exhibited itself?"

"In many daily acts of mutual annoyance; in many looks, words and deeds of hatred."

"Your ladyship will please be specific and instance some of these stated acts of mutual annoyance."

"In the first place, Sir Vincent Lester very much disliked the attention paid by Mr. Cassinove to a young person residing in the capacity of governess in our family. And, though Mr. Cassinove was well aware of Sir Vincent's disapprobation, he not only persisted in those attentions, but augmented them——"

The crier called "Silence!" and the examination of Lady Lester proceeded.

"This was one of the ways in which the prisoner annoyed the deceased. Will your ladyship tell us now, in what manner the deceased annoyed the prisoner?" questioned the counsel.

"By throwing every obstacle he could in the way of Mr. Cassinove's conversation with the governess."

"What motive do you suppose the deceased had for this course of conduct toward the prisoner?"

This question was challenged, objected to, and ruled out.

The counsel put it in another form, and inquired:

"What was the cause of this hatred?"

THE DIVINE NAME.

Ineffable Word That Is Never Used by Many Israelites.

An eminent rabbi has given his view of the ancient Jewish rendering of the name of the Deity. He says that the term "Jehovah," the ineffable tetragrammaton, is never pronounced by many Israelites. They use the word "Adonoi," which signifies "the Lord." The translators of the Bible followed this custom, rendering the word "Jehovah" as "Lord." In ancient times the Pharisees replaced the tetragrammaton by Shem. They used "Shemo," which is also Biblical, as the sacred name, and this name is yet retained to some extent among the Jews. But it would appear from passages in the Psalms that Adonoi, or Lord, for Jehovah was more ancient even than the times of the Pharisees. It thus occurs eight times in Psalm lxxxiv. It also appears in the book of Exodus, where "Jehovah" had been used in the original Hebrew. This substitution would seem to be older than any other, and it is yet common among all Jews.

The rabbi says he has found that the ancient translations testify in favor of "Adonoi."

Looking at the English translation of the Old Testament, it will be found that the name Jehovah appears in the books of Genesis, Exodus, Judges, the Psalms and Isaiah. It is not in the New Testament.

The Advice of Experience.

It has sometimes been remarked by the student of child life that the only child learns to read sooner than the child belonging to a large family. There may or may not be psychological reasons for this, but the story of the small boy of five who was struggling with his alphabet blocks for the first time may be enlightening to those who wish for reasons. The small boy was really rather interested than otherwise in the large A that fulfilled its usual function of standing for an apple tree, but he had a brother who was nearly eight. "You leave 'em alone," advised the brother; "if you once begin to read you can never leave off."—London Chronicle.

Acting Naturally.

It often requires courage to be natural—a higher form of courage than that which marches behind the safe end of a gun. Moral courage which is not dependent on appearance or intimidated by custom is a finer quality than the daring of the speculator or the unflinching nerve of the soldier exposed to the fire of an enemy. It takes the best stamp of bravery to be true to oneself, and be who is loyal to the inner voice, who keeps faith with himself and maintains self respect, wins a victory in the battle of life. To live undaunted by the demands of unworthy conventionalism is not to live in vain.

His Arm Badly Mangled.

Brockville, October 10.—John French, Jr., aged 17 years, residing near Lowville, was severely injured while helping unload a steam ensilage cutter. In attempting to put the big belt on the pulley of the cylinder his hand caught. The tendons and muscles of the wrist and forearm were torn from the bones, the wrist joints dislocated, while both bones of the forearm protruded through the skin. The doctors think they can save the hand.

Smothered in Parents' Bed.

London, October 10.—At an inquest into the death of an infant who had suffocated in its parents' bed, the coroner said that 2,000 infants were so suffocated annually in England. There were six hundred cases in London. He pointed out that in Germany the law made it illegal to have a baby under a year old in the same bed with its parents.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00, 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 280 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

Few Possess the Vitality and Girlish Beauty of the Olden Times.

Never before was physical health and vigor so highly esteemed and so eagerly sought for as today.

No man finds happiness in a sickly wife, and the woman who wishes to enjoy the pleasures of life should spare no effort to maintain perfect health.

Is your daughter growing up strong and ruddy? Has she strength to drink in greedily all the pleasures that youth so zealously seeks—or is she compelled to use the street car instead of enjoying the delightful exercise of walking—does she after the ball arise refreshed and vigorous, or is she exhausted, indifferent, and perhaps irritable?

When strength and vigor can be so easily maintained by Ferrozone, when the glow of health is so quickly brought to the cheeks and elasticity to the step, it is plainly a mother's duty to see that Ferrozone is on hand to assist her daughter back to health.

Upon the wake of Ferrozone quickly follows a stream of rich, nourishing blood which imparts that power and surplus energy so earnestly desired by those in ill-health.

Stop and think what this means for your daughter—certainly a great deal, and it can be accomplished by Ferrozone.

Every growing girl and young woman derives enormous benefit in many ways from this nutritive, vitalizing tonic.

It is specially suited for young women and is a guarantee of health and regularity as long as it is used.

Ferrozone is free from alcohol and perfectly safe to use. Prepared in the form of a chocolate-coated tablet and sold in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

It is announced that this year the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's fine hotel at Caledonia Springs, Ont., will be kept open for accommodation of visitors all winter. Contractors Kick re Normal School

It now seems that the local contractors complain that the new Normal school is not being handled in a manner that gives them a fair chance.

It is alleged that when the plans arrived they were placed in the vault of Mr W. G. Ferguson, the chairman of the Board. He was away part of the time just then, and consequently the plans were not obtainable. Then they were moved to the office of Mr W. G. Morrow, secretary of the Board of Education, and have been there since in the vault of the Toronto Savings and Loan Co.

Those interested have told The Times that the T.S. & Loan Co. offices are only open during the hours of 10 to 4, consequently they, the contractors did not have a fair show in tendering for the building.

It might be added that whilst the complaint of our readers seem well founded, we do not know anything anent the merits of the case.

P. Protestant Home Annual Meeting

Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Protestant Home was held on Tuesday afternoon when reports of the work for the past year were presented and officers elected for the ensuing term. The meeting was held at the home and the reports presented showed the affairs of this worthy institution to be in gratifying condition. Following is the report read by the secretary;

In reviewing the work of the Home for the past year, there is much to encourage and gratify those interested in the work.

Apart from the general routine, two questions that have given the committee serious thought have been satisfactorily settled. For many years the Home has not been able to accommodate all the applicants for admission, and in the majority of cases these persons were most deserving.

In view of this fact, at the annual meeting last year the trustees of the Home, Dr. Halliday, Mr. J. B. McWilliams and Mr. G. M. Roger, were asked to confer with representatives of the city and county councils and the clergy of this city, to devise some means by which those in need could be provided for. In January a meeting was held and the result was the county council decided to build a House of Refuge, and when this is completed it is hoped there will be no more difficulty in providing for the poor.

There have been four deaths, all persons of very advanced years. Seventeen applied for admission, who at date of application, could not be admitted.

The committee of management is very grateful to all who in any way have contributed to the comfort and pleasure of the old people.

And to those ladies who have been added to the committee and taken an interest in the business meetings.

The most sincere thanks of every one connected with the Home are due to the clergy and physicians who respond so generously to the calls made upon their time.

The officers also thank the editors of the newspapers for their kindness in giving space to the work and needs of the Home.

W. MILLER, Secretary.

Total receipts for the year were $2,656.95. expenditures $2,145.02, balance $510.93.

The following officers were elected;

President—Mrs. Roger.

1st Vice Pres.—Mrs. Hall.

2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. J. B McWilliams.

Treas.—Mrs. W. M. Roger.

Asst.-Treas.—Mrs. R. S. Davidson.

Sec.—Mrs. W. H. Miller.

Asst.-Sec.—Miss S. Robinson.

Pupil Was Hurt at Havelock

What might have terminated in a disastrous accident occurred last week in the Havelock public school.

It seems that, on last Tuesday, about 3 p.m., while the continuation class was performing an experiment in chemistry, a large piece had been placed in a Florence flask, which by chemical action with the water heated the glass and water to a very high degree, when one of the pupils placed her hand on the flask. The cold water coming in contact with the hot glass burst the flask, throwing glass and water broadcast. A number of pupils who were standing by observing the experiment were slightly injured by the flying glass. The pupil who put her hand on the Florence flask had it cut considerably.

Mr. Frank C. Walker Passes Away

On Tuesday Mr. Frank C. Walker, 22 Waterford a resident of the city, passed away. Mr. Walker had been ill for some weeks, death being caused by bronchitis and heart trouble.

Deceased came to Peterborough four years ago from Cedar Rapids, Iowa. For the past fourteen years he had been connected with the Quaker Oats Co. I will be remembered that three weeks ago Mr. Walker was sent to Richmond, Vt., to remain there for a few months. He became serious ill and had to return home, where he gradually sank until death came.

The late Mr. Walker was born at Burlington, Iowa, and the remains will be taken there for interment. He is survived by his wife and one son, Roy, and one daughter, Emily. A brother, Chas. H., resides in Chicago, and two brothers in Nebraska, John and Edward. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. C. H. Ferris and Mrs. S. E. Smith, both of Nebraska.

Bad Boy Blows in the Bullion

As noted in a former issue of The Times a small boy, some ten years of age, has recently been forced through stress of circumstances, to wander about the streets of this city, sleeping, by night, wherever chance guided his footsteps. Yesterday the lad's father, said that the boy was not ill-treated and had run away. He was given $1 to take to the House of Providence, along with a child that was to be left there for a few hours. The boy left the child but not the dollar, which, it appears he blew in.

One little girl handed the teacher fifteen cents and told her that the boy had given it to her. The teacher then sent a note to the boy's parents inquiring about the lad's sudden acquisition of wealth.

On returning home that afternoon the lad was questioned but stuck to his story that he had handed the dollar over to the House of Providence. He was given a whipping, and sent to bed, but instead of going to bed ran away. His mother searched for him all night, leaving the doors open. She could not find him. This sufficiently explains what might have seemed the nucleus of a hard luck story.

Minden Echo Has Changed Hands

One of this county's brightest papers the Minden Echo, which for over 20 years has been owned and edited by Mr J. H. Delamere, has been purchased by Messrs. Arthurs and Baker, the former being Principal of the Minden Model school, and the latter for many years past as a successful manufacturer and insurance agent. The new proprietors will assume all the responsibilities of journalism next week, and will be armed with due authority (backed up by a six-shooter and good nerve), to answer all arguments against the policy of the paper.

IMP OF INDIGESTION

How to Get The Better of This Cause of Misery.

A scientific writer upon stomach troubles says: "If you have ever suffered from indigestion,—and who has not?—your imagination has probably pictured a ferocious little imp dancing in the pit of your stomach, causing that organ to neglect all of its duties, with a result that is not only painful but fills you with misery from day to day." This writer certainly had suffered with indigestion, for there is no more disagreeable, nerve-racking and sick-all-over disease than indigestion.

A great many people who have been treated for years for diseases of the heart, liver or kidneys, when they used Miona stomach tablets found that not only did Miona cure the stomach disorder, but it made them well all over and the other troubles were also cured. If you suffer with nervousness, sleeplessness, indigestion, sick or nervous headache, pains in the back or sides, get a 50c. box of Mi-o-na and take one of the little tablets before each meal. It will do you a world of good and you will soon be well and free from indigestion, and its symptoms.

READ AND YOU WILL LEARN

That the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula on the bottle wrapper is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous or harmful agents and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful ingredient in the cure of all stomach as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

Mr. Hayes Wins His Case.

Yesterday Mr. M. L. Hayes, of Messrs. Hall & Hayes, won out on an important case, that of Duncan vs. the Peter Hamilton Mfg. Co. This was a case in which the result was not to be considered so much on its relative merits as the principle involved. Mr. Hayes made a most masterly case and, as usual, cleared his clients.

NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERIES TROUBLE NOW ACUTE

Story of Negotiations Between Great Britain, Newfoundland and the United States.

Toronto, October 12.—Hon. A. H. Morine, former leader of the Newfoundland Opposition, was seen at his residence here yesterday by a press representative and asked for an expression of his views regarding the modus vivendi just agreed upon between the British and the United States Governments. Mr Morine said:

"The use of purse seines is bound to be injurious to the fisheries, and if in addition Newfoundlanders can be employed by Americans to use these seines. It will have the effect of destroying the colony's opposition long in force against the use of such seines. Therefore, even the concession of their use under the modus vivendi for one year is regrettable, and likely to be followed by bad results.

WEST COAST PORTS.

"To understand the situation, it must be remembered that in ports on the west coast of Newfoundland, Americans have the right under the treaty of 1818 to catch fish of all kinds. It has heretofore been the practice for the Newfoundlanders to engage in the fall and winter fishing for herring and then sell their catch to the Americans at the price of $1.25 per barrel, as fixed by a regulation of the Colonial Legislature.

"This fall and winter fishery should be distinguished from the ordinary taking of herring for bait, because pursued at a different season, and the catch goes into food consumption.

"This fall and winter fishery was naturally very profitable to the Newfoundlanders, but it was interfered with last autumn by the Colonial Government, an action protested against by the Newfoundlanders interested. The reason for this interference was the bringing of pressure to bear on the United States Congress, because of its rejection of the Bond-Hay convention. That rejection had greatly annoyed the Premier, Sir Robert Bond, and his interference with the herring fishery of the west coast, as due apparently more to a desire for retaliation than to any good reasons of state.

ADOPTED PURSE SEINES.

"Personally, I opposed that legislation on the grounds that such interference would drive the American fishermen to the use of purse seines and other methods which they now threaten to adopt. When the American fishermen came last fall, they found great difficulty in obtaining their supply of herring, because having always relied on the Newfoundlanders, they lacked the necessary fishing equipment. They were thus forced to adopt purse seines and power launches, when they would probably prefer to go back to the old way of purchasing from the Newfoundland fishermen.

"The Americans claim that their rights of fishery, under treaty of 1818, may be carried on in any manner, and that they are justified in the use of purse seines. They contend that they are not liable to interference by any regulation of the Colonial Government passed since 1818, on the ground that the Colonial Legislature has authority only over its own people and not over citizens of a foreign country enjoying treaty rights. Therefore, the legislation of the Colonial House on the one side and the claims of the Americans on the other side, placed the British Government in an extremely awkward position.

"It is understood that negotiations between the two Governments have been going on for a year, and I gather from the Newfoundland newspapers that they were being carried on with the full knowledge and consent of the Colonial Government.

WAS GOVERNMENT CONSULTED?

"When the British Government came to the point that it must either fall out with the United States Government or abandon the Colonial legislation, it is probable that they asked the Colonial Government to withdraw from its attitude on the question. To override the legislation of the colony without giving the Government an opportunity to state its views or make modifications, would be an outrage. I cannot conceive it possible that such an outrage has been committed. Reading between the lines, I am forced to the conclusion that the Government of Newfoundland was consulted, that it refused positively to modify its course, and that the British Government was thus forced to either make a modus vivendi with the United States Government or to quarrel with that Government.

"In my opinion, the modus vivendi will afford opportunity for a better solution of the difficulty than could otherwise be the case. The mere fact of making it is not objectionable, provided it was not made without due time for consideration by the Colonial Government.

"Personally, I consider the whole difficulty to have arisen through the Government's unnecessary and, I think, unwarrantable interference with conditions long in vogue in carrying on the fall and winter fishing. I am in entire accord with the policy of preventing Americans obtaining bait fishing of any kind in those portions of the waters of Newfoundland, if they have no treaty rights. But this has nothing to do with the fisheries concerned in the modus vivendi.

"It should be borne in mind that if the present Government of Newfoundland found itself in a position where it had to abandon a policy which it had deliberately taken up and exploited, there are political reasons why it should prefer to have the abandonment apparently forced upon it by the British Government rather than voluntarily back down. I don't think any hasty expressions of anger at the British Government are justified at present. I am prepared to suspend judgment till I know to what extent the Colonial Government was apprised in advance of the intentions of the British Government."

W. A. Kidd Got the Judgment

The Jury is Sent Back Twice to Reconsider Their Verdict.

The fall assizes are now only a matter of history. After the case against Morrison of Brockville, was concluded, the case of John Byers v. W. A. Kidd Mr. R. F. McWilliams appeared for the plaintiff, and called John Byers, Robt. Oak and James Handley as witnesses. Mr. D. O'Connell appeared for the defendant and only called John Kidd as a witness.

The plaintiff, John Byers, accused John Kidd, with slander, by charging him with putting and destroying certain bags of coal which were left by the defendant alongside the rail way station at Fraserville.

The defendant claimed that the occasions on which he had said the words complained of were privileged by law, as being during judicial proceedings or in answer to plaintiff's questions. He had only said that Campbell had told him Byers cut the bags.

The jury retired for 20 minutes to decide, came to the conclusion that the case should be dismissed and that each side pay his own costs.

The jury returned to their room and, after an hour's deliberation brought in practically the same verdict.

His Lordship seemed to be exasperated by this, and ordered them to think matters over again and get a flat verdict.

As the presiding judge had to catch a train, his Honor Judge Weir awaited the jury's verdict, which was in favor of the defendant.

Improvements in Southern Hotel

Yesterday morning Architect W. Blackwell inspected that building known as the Southern Hotel, preparatory to extensive alterations and additions to be made. As soon as the contract is let for the additional building to be erected at the north side of the present premises, work will be rushed ahead with all celerity.

This hotel belongs to the Chamberlain estate. The reason given for the property being denied a license last summer was that there was not enough accommodation for guests, and the License Commissioners demanded that several changes be made. In the meantime the hotel business has been sold by Mr. Dunn to Mr. Nixon, and the latter has made application for a license.

The Board of Commissioners was to have settled the license question on Wednesday night, but owing to Mr Kendry being out of town, this will be decided next week.

In the new addition, to be erected, will be the bar, starting at the front and extending 40 feet back, 18 1-2 feet wide To the rear of this room will be a large lavatory and wash room, with a tile floor.

To the rear of the whole building will be a large kitchen, serving room and pantry, the three covering an area of 40 feet by 18 feet. The present bar will be converted into a large hall.

On the second floor there will be thirteen large, and comfortable bed rooms, a parlor in the front, and a bath room and lavatory.

On the third floor there will be fourteen large bedrooms, a bath room and a lavatory.

Czar Fears Death From the Clouds

Airship That Will Drop Explosives Over Palace.

Brussels, October 11.—The "Independence Belge" publishes a story from its St. Petersburg correspondent regarding the reasons which caused the Czar and his family to leave Peterhof for a cruise along the coast of Finland.

According to the correspondent, revolutionaries, who found it impossible to approach the Castle of Peterhof either by land or sea, determined to attempt an attack by balloon. They accordingly purchased two dirigible balloons from an American inventor some weeks ago and were merely waiting an opportunity of directing these balloons from the German frontier to Peterhof in order to throw high power explosives on the imperial residence.

According to the correspondent's informant, revolutionaries were especially desirous of destroying the infant Czarevitch and Grand Duke Vladimir. The authorities learned of the plot and the imperial family were advised to leave Peterhof.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday the "Easy Hours" club had a good representation at the police court.

The "piece de resistance" of the session was that of Jeremiah Brown, alias Thomas Smith, who was sentenced by the police magistrate, to two years less one day in the Central Prison, for burglarizing the residence of the late Mrs. Dunaford, Simcoe street, on September 26.

It was noted in a former issue of The Times that Brown burglarized the residence of the late Mrs. Dunaford, behind the Bank of Montreal, and stole a number of articles which he tried to sell, but was arrested by P. C. Metharry. When arraigned in the police court on the 27th Brown pleaded guilty and was remanded for a week His sentence was once more enlarged. In the meantime, Chief Reesor had written to the Central Prison authorities, and was informed that the prisoner's real name was Brown, and that he had served eight terms in that institution, the last being eighteen months for larceny in Ottawa Brown was discharged on the 23rd of September, so he was only three days before he was arrested by P. C. Metharry, on the 26 h. inst.

The magistrate said, "You have pleaded guilty. You are an old offender and have served several terms in the Central. You go under different names and behave yourself in prison, because you have to, but you do not behave yourself, when you are out."

"Liquor is the cause of it," remarked the prisoner.

"Two years less one day in Central."

"Will you give me two years in Kingston?" asked the prisoner.

"No I think you are better in the Central," replied the magistrate.

As Brown left the court room he remarked, "I'll be around to see you as soon as my two years is up Chief."

RACE WAR INEVITABLE

Sees Terrible Struggle of Whites With Blacks.

New York, October 11.—"A terrible struggle is sure to come between the south keeps on disfranchising negroes and nobbling them." So spoke Bishop Walters, president of the National Afro-American council, which is holding its sessions here.

Rev. George W. Lee, the Washington colored minister, said "If he had the power to stop such cruelties to his race as that at Atlanta, he would use force to do it. The council is meeting to raise money to test the "Jim Crow" and disfranchisement laws of the Southern States. The members met last night at St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal church, in West Fifty-third street The speeches all resented bitterly the ills which the blacks of the south bear.

Grover Cleveland Opposes Hearst

New York, Oct. 12.—The World publishes a statement by Grover Cleveland on the New York political campaign, which it states was written yesterday by the ex-President at his home in Princeton. The statement follows.

"It is difficult for me to overcome my reluctance to express my views of the present political situation in the State of New York, and yet I can never lose the interest in her political welfare which has grown out of my long residence there and my participation in her political movements. I confess I was exceedingly surprised by the outcome of the present Democratic State convention.

"Though I was not near enough to be in touch with the incidents leading up to this result my estimate of the conservative good judgment of the Democracy of the State and my conception of Democratic principles and purposes were such that I was profoundly startled by the selection of a candidate to represent them in the pending canvas.

"Of course every voter of the State must act in with his own conscience in determing his action in this emergency, but I cannot but regard the Democratic situation presented to my old associates in New York as an afflictive one."

Duncan's Case Is Dismissed

In the case tried at the local Fall assizes that of Byers vs. Kidd for slander, and after the argument was concluded and the jury had retired, Mr L. M. Hayes, of Hall & Hayes, solicitor for Peter Hamilton Co. moved for judgment in the case of Duncan vs. Peter Hamilton Company on the jury's answers o questions submitted to them.

Our readers will remember that whilst the jury answered most of the questions in favor of the plaintiff, they also said that Duncan could have avoided the accident by using reasonable car.

Judgment was therefore rendered for the defendants, who consented that if should be without costs provided that no appeal against the judgment was taken by the plaintiff.

AGAIN GUARD THE STRIKE-BREAKERS

Trouble Likely to Break Out Again When Militia are Removed—Funeral of Victims.

Buckingham, Que., Oct. 12 -The strike at Buckingham was broken yesterday, if only temporarily. In the afternoon the Maclaren Company brought logs down the Lievre River to their mills, and these were soon running merrily, after over a month's rest. The bringing down of the log was effected under the protection of the Ottawa detachment of militia, the Royal Canadian Dragoons from St. John's, Que., a machine gun and the police, a display of power which seemed wholly unnecessary, and indeed was more amusing than imposing.

The strikers here are exceedingly quiet, and have been ever since Monday, and to all appearances there will be no more trouble. The police, however, think differently. And one of the detectives told the correspondents that so soon as the militia were removed the trouble would break out again This is in accordance with views expressed by some strikers, who maintained but no betterment can be made except on the basis of the advance in wages to the men. The bringing down of the logs was the only matter of importance yesterday. The issuing of a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Lamontagne, the strikers' attorney, has awakened considerable criticism, and it is freely stated to be simply a dodge to deprive the strikers of their counsel. Mr. Lamontagne gave himself up yesterday, along with Dr Rodrigue, the coroner, but they were not detained, and it has been agreed by both parties to suspend further prosecutions.

Workmen were again engaged on the logs yesterday, and the militia were posted on the heights commanding the river and the mills.

The funeral of Thos. Belanger, the union leader, and Theriault, the other victim, took place yesterday morning, and was largely attended.

WORLDS GROWS MORE VULGAR?

Sir William Richmond Deplores Wane of Things Beautiful.

London, October 12.—Sir William Richmond, one of the most celebrated Royal academicians, in a lecture complained that the world is growing vulgarly democratic and vulgarly superficial. Commerce is flooding the markets with undesirable and unbeautiful objects The average taste for beautiful things probably is less than a century ago, notwithstanding the multiplication of art schools, and people dress in bad taste. Imitation is taking the place of creation. He said perhaps it was because people's minds were stuffed with heterogeneous knowledge that they created so little.

KING HAS HIS WIVES KILLED

France May Be Forced to Discipline Anamite Monarch.

Paris, October 12.—Thanh Thai, King of Annam, according to stories reaching Paris from Indo-China, has again been guilty of such atrocities that the French Government may be compelled to adopt rigorous disciplinary measures.

The mails now report that in August the King was seized with a homicidal mania, ordered seven of his wives to be executed and looked on with delight while they were slowly tortured to death. A few days later the King shot down a prince, who was 70 years old, a member of the council of the royal family, highly esteemed and the last surviving son of King Minh Mang. When the French resident called to remonstrate with Thanh Thai the latter declined to permit him to enter the palace. The King wanted to come to Paris, and the King of Cambodia did, but the French press declares that such a fiend shall never be allowed to visit France.

Hand Crushed at C. G. E. Co. Works

Yesterday one of those seemingly unavoidable accidents that are an unfortunate feature of work in all large factories, occurred at the Canadian General Electric Works. A young man named Killingbeck, whilst working at this factory had one of his hands caught in some machinery, and before he could extricate it, the hands was badly crushed. The tops of two fingers were cut off and the injury was a very painful one.

The hand was dressed by Dr Young Mr. Killingbeck will be laid up for several days.

GERALD WHITE ELECTED

Son of Late Member Defeats the Two Liberal Candidates.

Pembroke, Oct. 11. Returns in the North Renfrew bye-election for the Commons show Gerald White, son of the late Hon. Peter White, elected by over 800 majority. I is not yet known whether both of the Liberal candidates secured enough votes to save their deposits. Dr. McKay has probably more more than 400 votes. He had a majority in no poll, and in several had only two or three votes. He did best at Osceola, where he split the vote with Mr. Murray.

$21,000 FOR THE NEW COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE

Bylaw Providing for This Additional Amount Will be Submitted to the Ratepayers—Franchise for Steam mines Wanted.

The Committee of the Whole Council met last night, when there were present, His Worship Mayor Henry Best, Aldermen Ball, McIntyre, Duncan, Graham, Wilson, Adams, Johnston, Hicks and Mason.

A deputation from the School Board waited upon the Council with a view to getting an additional grant of $21,000 toward the latest estimated amount required for building the Collegiate Institute, and equipping the same

The deputation consisted of Messrs. W. H. Hill, L. M. Hayes, Dr. Morrison, D. W. Dumble, Secretary G. W. Morrow, B. F. Ackenman.

Dr Morrison, chairman of the Board's Building Committee, explained that the Board had $40,000 for Collegiate Institute, and now they have an economic plans as possible prepared for a Collegiate Institute building and equipment, the carrying out of which will cost $61,000, thus calling for an additional grant from the city of $21,000.

In 1900 there were in attendance 191 pupils; in 1902, 234 pupils an increase of 43; in 1904, 268 pupils, an increase of 35; in 1906, 293 pupils, an increase of 25. Thus during six years the increase of attendance at the institute was 102. There are in the City of Peterborough 24,000 pupils attending the public and separate schools, it takes the average pupil eight years to go through the public school course; this year about 300 wrote on the entrance examinations of which 105 passed. Taking this as a basis we may reasonably argue that if 100 pupils entered the Institute this year, in eight years we will have about 800 applying for entrance to the Collegiate Institute. Principal Fessenden declares that at present there is no room for one more pupil.

The present building, Dr. Morrison pointed out has been under the ban of the inspector for many years, and should he report the condition of affairs, the government grant would be withdrawn. The Board are now almost in a position to ask for tenders at once, in which event work on the foundations could be started this year, and more advantageous consideration received at the hands of a contractor, having the winter ahead of him in which to prepare for his work next spring. Of course should a bylaw be submitted to the people there would no be time to take advantage of such a proposed early start in construction, and of the advantages before mentioned But the council have the privilege of assuming the responsibility in granting the sum of $21,000 to the Board for educational purposes.

Messrs L. M. Hayes, D. W. Dumble, B. F. Ackerman and W. H. Hill also spoke on similar lines.

Mr. Hayes pointed out the fact of the Cosgrave Carpet factory coming here will increase the revenue for schools, as whatever inducements they secured from the city, school taxes will not be included. Mr. Hill did not approve of submitting a bylaw to the freeholders as they would by such action disfranchise one-half of the people deeply interested in no small a subject.

Mr. R. M. Bensonsin, solicitor for the Board urged that in consultation with the city solicitor, he is quite clear that the council has the power to grant this $21,000 on motion only, without going to the ratepayers. This is a provision made by the Legislature with a view to empowering city and town councils to vote money themselves for school purposes, instead of leaving the matter in the hands of ratepayers to the exclusion of the bulk of citizens directly interested. In Peterborough there are 2,400 scholars, which might be divided three or four to a family, this leaves in Peterborough 600 to 800 heads of families directly interested in school matters. Of this number there are probably 300 to 400 heads of families who are freeholders. You, Mr. Mayor, are here not only to represent freeholders, but all freeholders and tenants alike. If you submit a bylaw to the people on this question, there will only be 300 or 400 interested citizens who are at liberty to vote thereon. These are very good reasons why the council should vote this money without submitting a bylaw in the interest of all concerned in school matters.

His Worship replied that heretofore the Public schools have been robbed to feed the High schools, and the object of the Legislature's ruling is to raise the Public school standard. This year the School Board have had $35,000 for the new North Ward school; they also want $32,000 for improvements at the west and north ward schools, and another $21,000 for the Collegiate Institute. He did not think the people would stand for such an expenditure in one year for school purposes.

Dr. Morrison explained that in all probability the proposed addition to the west ward school will not be needed now that the north ward school is to be enlarged to meet Normal school requirements.

Ald. McWilliams supported the School Board's action, although seeing that the ratepayers voted down the last $50,000 bylaw for Collegiate Institute purposes, he thought this matter should go to the ratepayers again. He himself would support this measure both at the polls and morally.

Ald Adams contended that Mr. Dentinson's argument was more from a Public school standpoint than that of the Collegiate Institute. Out of the 293 scholars at present attending the Collegiate Institute, but some 250 belong to the city; this would represent no more than 80 or 90 families, leaving but a small proportion of even ratepayers interested in the Institute.

Mr R. M. Dennistoun replied in contention that assuming that each family comprised three children, there would possibly be but one attending the Institute at the same time. Such a reasonable assumption would still leave 300 or 400 freehold families directly interested in the Collegiate Institute.

The result of this discussion was that the council were unanimous in submitting a bylaw to the ratepayers instead of themselves directly granting the $21,000 asked for by the Board. The deputation acquiesced, and, whether the bylaw will be submitted at an early date or at the January elections will be decided later on.

PUBLIC STEAM HEATING.

Mr. A. B. Brintnell, of the Dominion District Steam Heating Company, Limited, interviewed the council with a view to securing a franchise for laying mains for supplying steam to public and private buildings for heating purposes. Mr. Brintnell explained that this system started with a Mr. Holly in the city of Lockport some 28 years ago Since that time the principle has been so perfected that steam can now be carried through street mains for a distance of 12 miles. This system is now in use in 400 cities and own. In Chatham, Ontario, the system is considered a booming success. The mains would be laid in the streets four feet deep A mile of street work could be done within three weeks or a month. The company intend organizing a local company, and Mr. Brintnell has already several Peterborough gentlemen interested. The system of heating buildings reduces the risk of fire, and wherever installed 10 per cent. has been allowed off the fire insurance rates. He has yet to hear of one city that has refused a franchise for this purpose.

This proposition was referred to the Manufacturers Committee to look into and report.

MILK INSPECTOR.

Ald McIntyre, father of the milk inspection bylaw, brought in a proposition made by his special committee regarding the appointment of a milk inspector.

The committee have a man in view who could undertake his duty in conjunction with his everyday business.

Ald McWilliams thought it might be advisable to appoint a new city official who could take up a number of duties, say inspection of milk, of garbage, of truancy, etc.

Ald. Mason acquiesced in this scheme which might include inspection of plumbing. The present plumbing inspector appears to be under the supervision of no particular person

The Board of Health want a man appointed to attend to all matters pertaining to health. The Board would like to meet the council regarding this matter next Monday.

Ald McWilliams moved.—That Ald. McIntyre arrange for a joint meeting with the Board of Health and the Water Commissioners, re this matter—Carried.

To Enlarge Welland Would Aid Oswego

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 12.—Oswego, N.Y., is interested in the suggestion that to make a cheap route to the seaboard the Welland Canal must be enlarged The statement is made that if a big canal is dug all of the traffic will not go down the St. Lawrence river by any means, for should Canada decide upon the enlargement of the Welland, the work will be completed about the same time as the barge canal through New York State. The route from Oswego to New York and the seaboard is much shorter and quicker than from Kingston and Montreal, and a large portion of the western grain would find its way through the Lake Ontario port. Canada, to get trade must enlarge the Welland Canal, but in so doing she will have to divide the business with Oswego.

THE SCOURGE OF CONSUMPTION

Thousands Are Dying—If Tired, Languid or Run Down Get Protection Before Too Late.

Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever-present tubercular bacilli develops.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferrozone, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Manotick, Ont., tells as follows of her enormous gain in health from Ferrozone: "For two years I was not well. I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tiredness hung over me like a load of lead. Housework of any kind I simply couldn't do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my condition was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—it sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE PASSING OF AUTOCRACY

The feudal empire of Japan has become a limited constitutional monarchy, the white Czar has begun the experiment of summoning his people to take part in his deliberations, and now Persia is about to enter upon an era of representative government. The approach of Russia from the north, England from the east, and Germany from the west has made clear that the days of Oriental despotism dependent upon isolation have ended. The empire of Persia must be bound together by a patriotic sentiment, a feeling of pride in a common country, or the land will be divided among the great powers. The most effective way to rouse this national sentiment seems to be to give the people a voice in the conduct of affairs, and the Shah has proclaimed the law by which a parliament is to be chosen.

Every male Persian between the ages of 20 and 70 who can read and write and has not been convicted of a felony may cast a secret ballot for a member of parliament if he lives in the Teheran district, or for a parliamentary elector if he lives in one of the twelve other districts into which the empire is divided. Parliament will consist of the sixty members of the Teheran district, chosen directly by the voters, and ninety-six members chosen by the twelve electoral districts. The members are elected for two years and are to be paid salaries at a rate fixed by parliament itself. The limitations of parliamentary authority are not fixed with great definiteness, but the natural tendency of such a body will be to encroach gradually upon the imperial prerogative and to become more and more powerful if Persia is at all fitted for self-government.

It has been frequently asserted that the Oriental character is such that an arbitrary form of government is the best for Asiatic nations. The startling progress of Japan towards a democracy is considered an exception. The Persians, however, belong to the Aryan race as truly as the Germanic nations. They are not Oriental in the same sense as the Turks, the Tartars, the Chinese, and the Malays. With a fair opportunity, and with some allowance for the blundering inevitable at the beginning, the Persians ought to develop a capacity for self-government. The experiment cannot fail to have the best wishes of the civilized nations of the world among which Persia ought to take her rightful place instead of lingering among backward barbaric despotisms. Under autocracy Persia is prey for the spoiler; under parliamentary government Persian independence should be assured.

FLOODS BRING DEATH

Mexico City, Oct. 11.—Recent floods in the southern part of Jalisco and Colima have resulted in great destruction of property and loss of life.

The steel railway bridge below Tuxpan was destroyed and a steam shovel, weighing 28 tons, was borne by the torrent for a considerable distance. In one place the water rose 60 feet. Many houses were destroyed by floods in Tuxpan and Papollo.

Twenty-five lives were lost in the Santiago River; fifteen were drowned by the capsizing of a boat while crossing the river. All were natives.

GOT EIGHTEEN HOURS

Fanjoy, Having Shot Kenealde in Mistake for Game, Goes to Jail.

St. John, N.B., Oct. 11. — Before Judge Landry in the Queen's County Circuit Court last evening Stanley Fanjoy was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to jail until two p.m. today, a period of about eighteen hours.

Last November Fanjoy, while tracking a wounded moose in the county woods, fired at a moving object, thinking it was his game. Instead it was William Kenealde, and he was shot dead.

The Crown believe there was no malice, but that there was negligence, and this and also the fact that Fanjoy held no license to shoot moose, decided the Crown officers to prosecute Fanjoy, and he was found guilty, with strong recommendation for mercy.

The Perils of Marriage.

"I married a widow, who had a grown-up daughter. My father visited our house very often, fell in love with my step-daughter, and married her; so my father became my son-in-law and my step-daughter my mother because she was my father's wife. Some time after my wife had a son. He was my father's brother-in-law and my uncle, for he was the brother of my stepmother. He was also my father's grandson. My father's wife, i.e., my stepdaughter, had also a son. He was, of course, my brother, and also my grandchild, for he was the son of my daughter. My wife was my grandmother, because she was my father's wife's (that is, my mother's) mother. So I am at the same time the husband and grandchild of my wife, and as the husband of a person's grandmother is his grandfather, it seems I have become my own grandfather.

Only London Humor Genuine.

All the best humor that exists in our language is Cockney humor. Chaucer was a Cockney; he had his house close to the Abbey. Dickens was a Cockney, he said he could not think without the London streets. The London taverns heard always the quaintest conversation, whether it was Ben Jonson's at the Mermaid or Sam Johnson's at the Cock. Even in our time it may be noted that the most vital and genuine humor is still written about London.—Illustrated London News.

For the Stomach Heart and Kidneys

Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a Cause Cure—not a Symptom Cure.

It is a common mistake to take artificial digestants for stomach troubles—or heart stimulants for weak heart—or so-called kidney remedies for diseased kidneys. These organs do not act separately or of their own accord—they have no control over themselves—and not once in 100 times is the trouble the fault of the organ. It is the fault of the nerves which control the organs and only through these nerves can stomach, kidney or heart disorders be cured. Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wisconsin, learned early in his medical experiences that these little nerves were the power nerves—that through them only was it possible to reach [illegible] nerves, headache, insomnia, [illegible] backache, heart weakness, [illegible] nausea, and Bright's disease and all other affections of the kidneys. For all of these ailments are not separate diseases and are not to be treated as such. They are merely symptoms of deranged nerves, and when the nerves are restored the symptoms and the ailments disappear. The remedy which Dr. Shoop prescribed for these ailing nerves is known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It relieves the pain and distress of kidney, stomach and heart trouble quicker even than these medicines designed simply to give temporary relief. Dr. Shoop's Restorative can now be had of druggists everywhere. For sale and recommended by

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH — A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

between the prisoner and the deceased?"

Here, even the cold, calm Lady Lester reddened, as she replied:

"I can testify with certainty only to the enmity; the knowledge of its cause belongs only to Him who seeth the secret heart of man."

"But what then does your ladyship suppose to have been the cause?"

This question was also objected to and ruled out. And after a close cross-examination, that elicited nothing more than a reiteration of the first testimony, Lady Lester was permitted to withdraw.

Sir Ruthven Lester was now called to the stand, and duly sworn. After which he corroborated the testimony of his mother, but added nothing new.

The next witness called was Soper, the valet of the late baronet. He testified that on the evening preceding the murder the deceased had come down from the schoolroom in a great passion, saying that Cassinove had deeply offended him, and should not remain in the house another twenty-four hours; witness attended deceased to his chamber, and waited on him until he got into bed, when he said, "If I live until morning, I will turn that fellow out of doors." Witness then closed and secured the window shutters, so that no one from without could possibly enter the room, and left his master to repose. That was the last time he saw deceased alive.

Cross-examination elicited no further testimony, and Soper was directed to withdraw.

While this witness was being examined, Laura had contrived to move nearer to Cassinove, and now sat at the corner of the desk, where she might easily converse with the prisoner, for she knew what was next coming, and wished to be beside him to comfort him by word and look.

Watson, the butler, was now called to the stand. Again there was a lifting of all heads and craning of all necks to get sight of this most important witness, who was most interesting as the first discoverer of the murder.

Being regularly sworn, he said:

"My name is John Watson. I have lived as butler in the service of the deceased for the last twenty years. I know the prisoner at the bar, who has been tutor at Lester House for the last twelve months. I had observed for the last few weeks the state of enmity between the prisoner and the deceased. On the night of the murder, I was sitting up late in my office, adjoining the pantry, engaged in making out my accounts, when, it might be about two o'clock in the morning, I was startled by the cries of 'murder! murder! murder! murd——' four times, only the fourth time the word seemed strangled in the throat of the one that cried, and then followed a deep, ominous silence. I threw down my pen, and rushed upstairs, toward my master's room, whence those cries seemed to have proceeded; I burst open the door, and found my master, wounded and dying, yet grappling with a death-grip the collar of the prisoner, who stood over him with a blood-stained, dripping dagger in his hand. As soon as my master saw me he exclaimed, feebly:

"'Seize him! Seize him! He has murdered me, the villain!'

"And by this time the chamber was filled with my fellow-servants, who had been roused by the cries of murder, and hurried to the spot as quickly as they could spring from their beds and throw on their clothes.

"I said, 'In the name of Heaven, what is all this?'

"'He has murdered me—he, he, the wretch!' exclaimed my master, who immediately fell back and expired."

"Did the deceased mention the prisoner by name?" inquired the counsel for the Crown.

"Not once."

"Did the deceased appear collected and self-possessed when making this daring declaration?"

"No; he seemed wild and distracted."

This witness was now subjected to a severe cross-examination, which failed to shake his very important evidence.

The other domestics were all examined in turn, and all corroborated the testimony of the butler as to the position in which the deceased and the prisoner were found on the occasion of the discovery of the murder, as well as the testimony of Sir Ruthven and Lady Lester in regard to the enmity that had existed between the tutor and the late baronet.

Dr. Clark was then called to the stand and examined as to the condition of the body when found, the nature of the wound, etc. And with the conclusion of his testimony, the evidence for the Crown closed.

And the court adjourned until nine o'clock the next day.

The crowd immediately dispersed, commenting, as they went out, upon the weight of the evidence and the prospects of the prisoner.

"Not a hope in the world remains for him," said one.

"The clearest case I ever knew in my life," said another.

And all agreed that the guilt of the prisoner was abundantly proved, that the defense would be a mere form; and that his conviction and execution were as certain as any future events could possibly be.

And through all this crowd of unpitying faces, and Babel of accusing and condemning tongues, passed the prisoner in charge of the sheriff, and his beautiful wife leaning, as before, on the arm of Dr. Clark. As they walked the short distance between the courthouse and the prison, Laura found herself beside Cassinove, who said, in a low voice:

"What a case they have made out against me, dear one! They have even proved enmity between Sir Vincent and myself, which, Heaven knows, existed but on his side. And they have proved this without your evidence. Alas! dearest, you have sacrificed yourself in vain."

"No, not in vain; if my affection and presence can sustain you through this ordeal or comfort you—afterward," murmured his devoted wife.

As the hour for closing the prison had arrived, Laura took leave of him at the gates, and returned to her lodgings. And as soon as she had entered her chamber and closed the door, she threw herself upon the bed and gave way, in floods of tears, to the pent-up agony of the whole day.

Neither food nor drink had passed her lips that day; body as well as mind was utterly exhausted.

There was none to comfort her; no kind hand to bring her a refreshing cup of tea, to restore fainting nature; no kind voice to whisper a word of hope to revive failing courage. She was utterly alone in her anguish. Could Rose have known this she would have left her luxurious palace and come and brought Laura away from these miserable lodgings, or else remained to console her in them. But the young duchess had only seen Laura abroad, or at the prison, clothed in her decent mourning, and could not guess at the miserable poverty, want and loneliness into which her gifted friend had fallen.

Thus Laura was alone in her anguish; nor would she have had it otherwise, while Cassinove was alone in his prison cell.

She passed the night in paroxysms of grief, alternating with fits of prostration and stupor that were rather nature's swooning than healthful sleep. Near morning, after a paroxysm more violent than any preceding one, she fell into a stupor deeper than usual, so that it was late in the morning when she awoke from this last swoon or sleep—from deep unconsciousness to sudden and piercing realization of all the misery of her situation. But the necessity of self-control and self-exertion was imminent. She felt that she must go to the prison, and, hopeless and comfortless herself, speak words of hope and comfort to her husband.

She arose, but found herself so feeble as to be near falling again. With a great effort, she bathed her face, smoothed her hair and arranged her

THE BUSY BEE.

The average countryman would laugh at you if you were to tell him that you had seen the wasps this summer playing the part of the exemplary bee and gathering honey from the flowers in the garden. But the countryman would be wrong and you would be right, for of late, for some mysterious reason, the wasps have been busy among the tall flaming spikes of the red hot pokers (Tritoma uvaria), whose blooms are especially fine this August.

What the bees think of it one cannot say, but they are not to be seen mingling with the wasps. The latter, when they feel inclined toward honey, usually make an attack upon the nearest beehive, and very often come off second best, unless they attack in force. But now that the wasp has shown an inclination to gather honey first hand from flowers, surely the scientist can step in and teach it to store it for the needs of man in the comb, which it can already make as perfectly as the bee, though of a different material. The chief difficulty, perhaps, would be to prevent the wasp, like the child in the strawberry bed, from eating all he gathers on the spot.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Keeping Friends With Bees.

A contributor mentions a singular custom adhered to by many country people who keep bees. It is that of telling the bees whenever anything unusual is about to take place or has taken place, such as a death, birth or marriage. It is believed that if this were not done the bees would leave the hive or some misfortune would befall the family.

In illustration the correspondent says that his brother had a good many hives, and some years ago, when his daughter died, the bees all left. The old gardener at once attributed it to his having forgotten to give notice to the bees, who were duly informed the next time there was a death in the family, and they remained in their hives.—London Standard.

Bees Hold Up Railway Station.

A large parcel dropped on the platform of Burgess Hill station, Sussex, burst open, and out buzzed a swarm of bees. The parcel contained a hive. In spite of the stationmaster's order to pack the bees up again none of the staff would approach.

At length a forlorn hope, consisting of an aged porter, was induced by the guerdon of a shilling to attack the parcel, but when the bees, possibly mistaking him for a new kind of flower, hummed around him he dropped it and ran. The bees held the platform till the evening, when they returned to the hive. Then the parcel was closed and sent on to its destination.—London Daily Graphic.

A Destructive Bee.

From a Camberwell correspondent we have received a quite distressing account of the destruction caused in his conservatory by the leaf-cutting bee.

Last Sunday a solitary bee found its way through the open windows, but the news that rose leaves were available in that part of a district where rose culture is uncommon had been conveyed with such success that this week the glass house was swarmed with the bees. Our correspondent says the noise they make is like the working of countless pairs of minute scissors. The trees have denuded his roses of their leaves and have even turned attention to the flower of the geranium.—London Globe.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 2½ per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 2½ per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

VERY PREVALENT IN YOUNG WOMEN

A Condition of "White-Bloodedness," is Fast Increasing.

It is always associated with langour and sensitiveness to cold. All the mucous surfaces, such as the gums, lips and eyelids, are blanched and waxy looking, the skin is pallid and colorless.

The pulse becomes rapid and feeble; there is loss of appetite and enfeebled digestion, palpitation of the heart, breathlessness and tendency to faint. In extreme cases there is complete disappearance of the menstrual flow and dropsical swelling of the limbs.

Physicians know of no remedy so prompt in results as Ferrozone, which contains all the elements lacking in debilitated blood.

Ferrozone not only improves the present quality of the blood, but actually forms more blood—the rich, red kind that nourishes and feeds the organs that require assistance.

"About a year ago," writes Mrs. S G. Manhope, of Rothesay, "my daughter complained of feeling tired. She was very pale and listless, and kept losing strength until too weak to attend school.

"We read a similar case, that of Miss Descent, Stirling, Ont., being cured by Ferrozone, and this induced us to get it for Elaine. It took three boxes of Ferrozone to make any decided improvement, but when six boxes were used my daughter was beginning to be her old self again. It didn't take much longer to make a complete cure. It has made a new girl of Elaine. She has gained ten pounds in weight and looks the picture of perfect health. She is stronger and enjoys the best of spirits."

Every growing girl and young woman can make herself strong and healthy with Ferrozone. Price 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

Local Tailor Stops Dog-Fight.

Yesterday afternoon some excitement was in evidence in front of "Mac" the tailor's store at 445 George street. A lady leading a pet dog, by a silver-plated chain, whilst watching for a south-bound street car, was startled by feeling the chain in her hand being dragged violently. To her intense disgust, she saw a brindle bull dog trying to put her pet out of business. As ladies do under similar circumstances, the lady screamed for help. Mr. McLean, hearing the lady's cry, at once rushed out and with some difficulty succeeded in separating the combatants. "Mac" had his coat sleeve torn by the bull's teeth but managed to get him away from the lady's pet dog. When looking at his torn coat Mr. McLean remarked, "Well, that's a dog gone shame."

Had Skull Fractured by Bursting Pipe

Yesterday morning what might easily been a fatal accident, occurred at Lily Lake in the township of Smith.

As a result of the bursting of a steam pipe, John Fraser, of Peterborough, one of the Lakefield Cement Company's workmen, is in St. Joseph's hospital, with a fractured skul, and other severe injuries. It seems that Fraser was working near a coil of steam pipes, when one of them burst and a fragment struck him on the head, fracturing the skull.

The injured man was carried to his home near Jackson Park. His injuries were attended to by Dr. McNulty, and afterwards he was removed to St. Joseph's hospital, where he now lies in a precarious condition.

Fraser is unmarried and resides with his sister.

Mr. W. H. Cluxton Defends Canada

A good patriotic letter is printed in the Toronto Mail & Empire over the signature of a gentleman well known in this city, Mr. Walter H. Cluxton.

The letter reads as follows:

Sir,—In this month's copy of the Theater Magazine, Mr. James K. Hackett, an actor, writes about himself as follows: "When I was born where my parents were spending the summer, at Wolfe Island, which happened to be just across the dividing line, on the Canadian side (the only thing for which I cannot forgive my mother), my father made a wise observation that was a comment upon his wisdom.

Mr Hackett seems to regard it a misfortune that he was born in Canada. Perhaps in Mr. Hackett's estimation the word Canadian carries with it some stigma. Maybe he feels that his accident of birth has kept him from attaining his true position in the world; that a marvellous and brilliant career was marred at the outset.

While we are disposed to consider his attitude exceptional, we do not dispute his right to an open-minded opinion. But we do object to his posing as a Canadian, as he did recently in the Munsey Magazine, when Canadian celebrities were under consideration, and as he does when touring Canada, in order to gain cheap advertising therefrom.

Yours, etc.,

WALTER H. CLUXTON.

Put Your Money Into Copper

Rare Chance to Invest in a Proven Copper Mine.

It is now known to every intelligent man that the demand for copper, in this age of electrical advance, is daily increasing. Manufacturers must have copper for nearly every kind of machinery made.

The Del Roy Copper Mining and Smelting Co., with head offices in Kansas City, Mo., own some of the best copper mines in the world, situated in the San Andreas Mountains of New Mexico. These are not a prospect but proven mines that already show 50,000 tons of rich copper ore, which on a daily output of 100 tons of ore give a net profit of $1306.25.

With such profits as above noted, it seems old-fashioned conservatism to leave money in banks or other investments that only return 3 to 4 per cent, while the concerns using such money are re-letting the funds at large profits to themselves. The security on money placed in a proven and rich copper mine is fully as good as that offered by any financial institution in the world.

For a limited time only, the Del Roy Company are offering a block of their stock, non-assessable at 50 cents per share, or one-third the par value. This company will within 18 months pay 20 per cent. interest on every share of stock. For further particulars see adv. in this issue.

Fancy Dress Carnivals.

The Peterborough Roller Skating Company will hold two fancy dress carnivals this fall. The first of these will be held on Wednesday, October 24th. The company will give some valuable prizes: one to the best dressed lady, and one to the best attired gentleman. One will also be given to the best dressed couple, lady and gentleman.

Mr. Geo. H. Noyes Hurt at C.G.E. Co.

Mr Geo. H. Noyes of the east ward, an employe of the Canadian General Electric Company, is laid up for several days owing to an accident that happened in that large establishment. One of his hands was badly lacerated by a circular saw. His injuries were dressed by Dr. Young. It will be some time before Mr. Noyes will be able to resume work.

Mr. Frank Clarke Gets Goods.

Mr Frank Clarke, who will, in a few days open up a fine new jewellery store at the south-west corner of George and Brock streets, yesterday received a large consignment of watches, rings and other jewellery, amounting to some $6,000 in value. Mr. Clarke hopes to open his new store tomorrow.

Eminent Doctors Praise its Ingredients.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator . . . makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "in Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women, constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding), due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anaemic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions . . . and general enfeeblement, it is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

Radiator Factory at Hastings

The Hastings Star says: —Messrs. Sturgeon and Davidson came down from Peterborough on Monday and arranged for going ahead with the Radiator factory at once. The plans are nearly finished for the building, which will be 150x60, and the site has been chosen, purchased and surveyed. The site is about three blocks west of the bridge on Water street, and was purchased from Mr. H. M. Fowlds. This is one of the best sites that could have been chosen, as it is convenient to shipping, both by rail and water.

A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. DESPERATE EFFORT TO LAND AT HALIFAX

But all the Adroitness of an Alleged Smuggler of Chinese Was Not Sufficient to Foil the Police.

Halifax, N.S. Oct. 13—A passenger on the steamer Silvia, from Newfoundland yesterday, registered as "Hearn," showed undue haste to get ashore, and brought such attention upon himself that he was arrested on suspicion of being J. B. Lehamann, wanted in the United States on suspicion of being connected with the smuggling of forty contraband Chinese from this colony into the United States from the yacht Nonita.

He admitted his identity, and the police notified the United States Consul-General here.

Extradition will likely be applied for.

About three o'clock this morning, as the steamer Silvia from Newfoundland, was docking here, a man was seen to approach the gangway before the steamer was tied up.

Someone on board the Silvia shouted to the Customs officer to look out for the man who was trying to land.

The Customs officer went aboard the steamer, and met a man coming towards him with a dress suit case in his hand. He wanted his luggage examined right away, and said he was in a great hurry.

As this man was speaking to the Customs officer, orders were shouted on the ship not to let anyone land and the first officer of the ship was placed at the gangway to prevent the landing of the passengers.

The man who wanted his luggage examined, finding he could not land, disappeared for a time, and was next seen going ashore on the stern cable of the steamer.

He passed up the south side of the wharf in the dark, but was seen by the night watchman, James O'Leary, and turned back. The man then went back on board the Silvia.

He then made arrangements with a man to personate him by taking his grip and dress suit case and putting on his overcoat. This ruse did not work, and the personator was turned back also.

At this stage of the proceedings, the Customs officer telephoned to the chief of police to send down some officers to the wharf.

In response to the call, Police Sergeants Hamlin and John Nickerson, with a private detective, arrived on the scene.

The policemen officers were directed to search the ship, but for some time the supposed smuggler of Chinese could not be found.

As the engineer had left the steamer for Dartmouth, where he resides, it was thought that the man had got into the boat and gone to the other place with him, but after the return of the boat to the steamer, this was found not to be the case.

It was also learned when the boat returned that a man had hailed them from the stern of the ship. This satisfied the officers that the man was still on board.

The police then set to work to make a further search, and the man was found.

Before the man was arrested by the police he said he would give $500 to go away, as, after doing the United States authorities, it was hard to be tied up in a hole like Halifax.

The man under arrest took a trip in the Silvia six weeks ago, and then gave his name as J. F. Lohneman, and on his return, was recognized as the same man who came on board under the name of J. F. Hearn.

The alleged smuggler of Chinese would have got ashore had no the Customs officer given orders that no one could land until the ship's papers were delivered to him.

Council Acted Right re Coll. Institute

Whether the freeholders of Peterborough vote for or against the $21,000 asked for by the Board of Education, whereby to complete the long talked of Collegiate Institute, the city fathers were well justified in placing the onus of granting this sum on those whose pockets are strictly affected.

There were remarks passed in this connection that should meet with severe criticism. We understand it was argued that as a majority of the children attending the Institute are the progeny of those who do not own property, but simply pay rent, that thus, the council should pass this $21,000 by-law without consulting those directly and financially concerned.

Whilst all credit should be given to the Board for furthering the interests of Education in the city, to raise the foregoing argument is to induce the thought that advocates of such legislation have a sinister motive in getting their money under any old circumstances.

Surely those on whom the new by-law is a perpetual tax should have something more to say than those who might, and only might, all things considered get a benefit, but who pay nothing. This section of the council is one of the best and fairest that has honored their year's occupancy of civic trust.

Opening of Dominion Parliament.

Ottawa, October 13.—Mr. Lavergne, M. P., Quebec, Liberal whip, was here yesterday. He is understood to be conferring with the Premier as to the date for opening Parliament.

Senator Cox Should be Remembered

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—It is evident to all readers of the Peterborough papers, that a former Peterborough man, raised and educated here, but now living in Toronto, is doing all in his power to advance the interests of this city. I refer to Senator Geo. A. Cox, one of the best friends and constant advocates that Peterborough has.

Now Sir, the Senator, whilst owing to the exigencies of business is impelled to live in Toronto, this time and money are often emphatically in evidence towards advancing the interests of his city. Surely such interest is worth notice by the city and her citizens.

We all know that people are too apt to overlook or forget benefits rendered a whole community. Take for instance, Mr. James Stevenson who, in bygone days did as much, if not more, than any man that ever lived here to advance Peterborough's prosperity. What is there today of any tangible shape to display any recognition of what he did to help along the prosperity of the city?

Allowing for the forgetfulness of people for benefits conferred, in the case of a man now out of a position to repeat such benefits, surely, even allowing for the short memories of human beings, the citizens of Peterborough, might easily, in the recent memory of one of the Cox Company brought here by Senator Cox, we might do something to show our appreciation of what Senator Cox has done for Peterborough. Could we not have a leading thoroughfare or park of some public property given the name of "Cox," to let posterity know that the present generation has at least a spark of gratitude for benefits conferred.

Yours truly,
INGRATITUDE.

Christian Practice vs. Christian Precept

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—Doubtless you were present at the recent splendid meeting held at St. John's church and enjoyed not only the kind hospitality of the rector, but the equally splendid ideals as to Christian brotherhood presented by several of the speakers.

Unfortunately precept seems to be one thing but practice quite another. As you are doubtless aware, commencing on Wednesday next there will gather in Peterborough some three hundred pastors and delegates of Baptist churches from all parts of the Dominion.

These visitors have to be entertained until the following Monday of Tuesday. Needless to say the local Baptist churches are doing their utmost to meet the demands for hospitality. But will it be believed that, although repeated appeals for help in entertaining have been made to the sister churches, only eight homes in all have responded outside the Baptists of the city. I feel this only needs to be known to be promptly remedied. The Billeting committee are, I believe, short of something like one hundred billets for gentleman and lady visitors.

Is it too much to hope that some of the precepts in regard to Christian brotherhood, etc., that were so eloquently expressed on Tuesday night will now be put into practice, and Baptist hospitality extended ungrudgingly to other churches in the past be reciprocated now.

Yours truly,
CEPHAS.

EVERY LITTLE NOISE

Coffee Nerves Easily Irritated.

Ever notice how cross and irritable a coffee drinker is when he has not had his usual dram?

Trifling noises that a naturally healthy person would never notice, sound like a boiler factory or a brass band to a nerve-poisoned coffee slave.

But there's a big difference when such a one finally learns the cause of his trouble, quits coffee, and uses well made Postum.

"For 12 years I was afflicted with stomach trouble, loss of appetite, my food distressed me and caused heartburn. Every little noise disturbed me.

"None of my physicians relieved me, but all advised me to stop drinking coffee. About two years ago my husband brought home a package of Postum, and we gave it a fair trial—followed directions about boiling it 15 minutes—and liked it.

"Very soon I noticed a change in my condition. Now, with Postum as my beverage, I sleep better, eat without distress, and enjoy life, since every little disturbance or noise does not shatter my entire nervous system.

"Today, thanks to Postum, I am a well woman, and every member of my family has been benefited by it. A friend while taking dinner with us a while ago remarked on the delicious coffee I served. When I told her it was Postum she was surprised, saying she tried it and did not like it.

"When I told her that boiling it 15 or 20 minutes gave it that rich flavor, she followed directions and then knew for herself.

"In addition to the great relief I have experienced from distressed stomach and irritated nerves, since using Postum, I find I am more level-headed and every little noise does not disturb me as it used to." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

His Worship, County Police Magistrate Geo. Johnson has his own troubles. The latest worry, causing the dictator of local justice to do some thinking, was that when a man named Arnold was accused of stealing a dog from Matthew Houlahan. There was no evidence to support the charge and the case was dismissed. It was shown that the dog had simply wandered away from home and strayed to Mr. Arnold's place.

Yesterday morning shortly after 10 o'clock, P. C. Adams arrested a shantyman who had taken advantage of his being returned from the wilderness to the delights of city life, and thereby absorbed a goodly end tuasty jag.

The shantyman had such an exaggerated jag aboard, the constable had to have him conveyed to the Hotel de Cops in an express waggon. Prior to be taken into custody the man nearly fell into the trench that is being dug by the Gas Company.

Mr. Bradburn Home From Cobalt

Mr E. O. Bradburn, who for the past few months, has been prospecting in the Lake Abbitibbi district, has returned home. Mr. Bradburn says that while the country is practically rock, and is extremely hard on one's clothes. Nevertheless he is well pleased with his trip and enjoyed himself.

It is five years since he left Peterborough. The first three were spent in the Cobalt district, where he located a claim and did considerable work on it. He found mineral and has what he confidently believes is a good thing. He brought several samples of ore home with him and it shows rich silver and also copper.

Local Assessment Not Satisfactory

Many Complaints Regardiad the Way the Assessment Has Been Done.

There is considerable dissatisfaction over the way the assessors have performed their work this year, many complaints having reached The Times from citizens who think that they have not been fairly treated. While it is true the Court of Revision is open for all who feel thus, many do not care to fight it out there. It is an open secret that the assessment has to a great extent, been fixed by one of the two assessors, and that many alleged inequalities may probably be due to this fact. The Times proposes in the near future, if possible, to show up a few of these, and let the public judge for themselves.

Many of the schedules are improperly made out. They should give the value of the land and the buildings in separate columns, which was not, we believe, generally done. Under the heading of "Duties of Assessors," the assessment act says:

Section 32—Every assessor shall prepare an assessment roll in which, after diligent inquiry, he shall set down according to the best information to be had, the particulars hereinafter mentioned and in doing so he SHALL observe the following provisions:

Sub-section 1—The assessor SHALL set down the particulars in SEPARATE COLUMNS as follows:

Column 14—Value of buildings.

This is clearly a very serious matter, and the Council should certainly see that the present system is changed by the appointment of a competent assessment commissioner, who will do his duty impartially, regardless of religion or politics.

Cephas Letter Worth Careful Consideration

In reference to a letter that appears in this issue signed Cephas, and which letter conveys a regret that the Protestant churches of Peterborough, are not, through their members backing up a strong delegation of Protestant ministers to our city, there seems to be something in the writer's contention.

As Cephas notes, the splendid and encouraging gathering held on Tuesday in St. John's church, would indicate a universality of interest in the local churches of the city.

It is not for us to criticise or recommend Cephas' letter speaks for itself and is well worth careful consideration and possible indirect action.

Try to Assassinate Judge.

Chehalis, Wash., October 13.—An attempt to assassinate Judge M. Yoder, a well known attorney, by blowing his house up, with dynamite, was made. The judge received several threatening letters during the trial of a divorce case, but paid no attention to them.

1060 PASTOR'S CALLS

A Sturdy Minister.

A N. H. minister though he would have to quit the ministry because of a growing misery from undigested food.

He was induced to try Grape-Nuts and is now well and hearty and says:

"For four years I suffered severe agony at times, as a result of improper food. I could not do much work and was in misery much of the time.

"I had made up my mind that I would have to leave the ministry, but one day a friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts and I am thankful that I did, for today I am well and can give God better service than ever before.

"Last year was the hardest of my ministry, but by the daily use of Grape-Nuts I stood up under the strain with comfort. I attended 57 funerals, was in the pulpit every Sabbath except three, made 1060 pastoral calls, and the best part of it is I do not have any more "Blue Mondays."

"There is hardly a day passes that I do not recommend Grape-Nuts to some person who is suffering as I suffered for 9 or 10 years and who might be well."

FEEBLE-MINDED IMMORAL WOMEN

Immigration Agents Condemned for Sending These to Canada—Gibson Act Approved.

Hamilton, Oct. 13.—At the annual meeting of the National Council of Women in the City Council chamber yesterday an interesting paper on immigration was read by Mrs Short, Kingston.

During the year the council brought 658 women to this country who had been received at the various homes under the direction of the council.

The report condemned the practice of unscrupulous agents in England, who get a pound per head for each immigrant sent out, and who do not hesitate to send out feeble-minded or immoral women.

Mrs Short recommended that a receiving station, with a representative of the council, be placed at Quebec or Montreal, where the immigrants could be subjected to proper investigation.

Already a place of this kind had been established at St. John, N.B.

MORTALITY OF INFANTS.

Miss E. Ritchie, of Halifax, read a paper on "Matters Concerning the Public Health." She stated that the reports showed a decrease in the mortality of infants.

In some places the laws with regard to compulsory education were being broken, for often children as young as eight years were found working in departments of stores. It was better to have a low birth rate and a low death rate than a high birth rate and a high death rate.

A GOLDEN LINK.

Mr. Adam Brown was in the chair at the evening meeting. He spoke of the great benefit of the Gibson Act, framed by Col. Gibson, in saving children from vice. Before it was passed we had institutes for the blind, the deaf, the aged and infirm and for the insane, but nothing for wayward children. The Gibson Act was a golden link in the chain. It had been the means of saving about 3,000 children from vicious influences.

CHILD SAVING.

Mrs Lilian H. Hollister, treasurer of the National Council of Women of the United States, spoke on general way of the work of child saving in the States. Every year about 8,000 unfortunate children were taken before the juvenile court in New York City and were sent to homes where they were cared for.

Mr J. J. Kelso, Toronto, said each church should have a district under its care and should look after all the neglected children in that district. The whole question was not a matter of how to try the children in the courts, but to prevent them from going there by leading them aright. Institutions for the care of children should be emptied instead of being filled.

McDairmid & Jury to Run Two Stores

Mr McDairmid of McDairmid and Jury, the George street druggists, called on The Times yesterday, in reference to a statement made in these columns a few days ago, to the effect that his firm had purchased the old established business of ried on by Mr. Dickson Davidson, under the trade name of Ormond & Walsh. Mr. McDairmid found fault with The Times for stating that the upper or northern store would be closed.

Such is not the case. It is the intention of this enterprising firm to carry on business both at their present and their recently purchased business. Mr. Ed. Mahon will act as manager of the lower store.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR.

This afternoon a great game of football will be played on Riverside Park. This time it will not be the Tigers vs. Peterborough, with an incidental scrap thrown in, but the Quakers will tussle with the Quakers. The coin handlers are determined to make the Quakers feel their oats, and both sides will put up a strong game. It is now up to the sport loving community to put their great coats on and turn out to witness a good live game of Rugby.

Changes in the Streets of Hastings

Hastings Star says: The town's representatives met Mr. W. R. Tiffin on Tuesday and decided about the extension of Water street to the west. Mr. Tiffin wanted the street extended behind the depot, but as the town's representatives would not agree to this, it was finally agreed to extend Water street, according to the original plan, giving a 30-foot highway.—Hastings Star.

Bishop Sweatman Named by Synod

Montreal, Oct 13.—The Anglican Synod yesterday appointed Coadjutor Bishop Carmichael Lord Bishop of Montreal, and decided to recommend Bishop Sweatman of Toronto, to be Primate of all Canada.

Maple Sugar Adulterations.

Ottawa, October 13.—The Department of Inland Revenue announces that from March to June of this year, over three hundred and fifty samples of maple sugar and maple syrup were examined. These samples were collected from traders all over the country from Vancouver to Great Britain. As a result of the examination a number of suits are about to be entered against dealers who were selling the adulterated product in place of the genuine, and had thus violated the Adulterated Food Act. Mr. Duncan McCormick, K. C., of Montreal, is at present in Ottawa in connection with these cases.

Mr. Gunsolus Ships to B. C.

Yesterday Mr. Chas. Gunsolus, the Hunter street harnessmaker shipped a large consignment of collars, harness and sundries to the Big Bend Lumber Company of British Columbia. He also shipped a large order of collars to Playfair & White, Midland. Peterborough made goods seem to catch orders from all over the Dominion. The goods Mr. Gunsolus shipped this week were of a very superior grade and made right in the city. He yesterday received a large order for harness from Calgary, Alta.

Irishmen Coming to America

Irish Party Do Not Place Confidence in British Parliament

Dublin, October 13.—Messrs. Kettle and Hazelton leave Queenston today as delegates of the Irish party to America. Replying to an address yesterday, Mr. Kettle said the Irish in America want the Irish party to be a disciplined fighting party.

Their home reception, he said, entitled them to assure their American kinsmen that the battle would be fought to a finish, while the Government was friendly yet they kept in mind Parnell's old gospel that no reliance could be placed in British Governments.

Husband in the Lurch

Toronto, Oct. 13.—Augusta Simira Marsh, an eight-year-old child, along with her mother, visited her uncle in King county. Mrs. Marsh's husband also lives in that district, and, when he heard his wife, who had left him two years ago, preferring to live with relatives in Buffalo, had returned with their child, Augusta, he immediately issued a writ under the habeas corpus to get possession of the infant.

It appears that Mrs. Marsh is not asleep, however, for, when they endeavored to serve the writ on Saturday, she and her child were not to be found. The papers had the story Tuesday, and now it appears that Mrs Marsh is safely over on the other side, probably in Buffalo. The writ has not yet been served.

TO RESCUE THE JAPANESE

Steps Urged to Protect Yellow Men in California.

Tokio, October 13.—The Yorozu Choho, a widely circulated newspaper of Tokio, demands that steps be taken to rescue the Japanese in California from the maltreatment which it says they are receiving there. The Journal considers the matter to be one touching the national pride. Since the republicans of California adopted a plank in their party platform demanding the exclusion of the Japanese, it is declared that the latter have been subjected to outrage and prosecution.

Leaving 50,000 compatriots to such treatment, the paper says, must discourage emigration, and check attempts at national expansion.

General Booth's American Tour.

London, October 13.—Colonel Kitchiff, of the Salvation Army, has left for New York, Toronto, and Chicago, to pave the way for General Booth's American tour, which begins in January.

STRIKE-BREAKERS REACH THE MILLS

Only Smile When People Talk of Danger—Maclarens Said to Have Won the Day.

Buckingham, Que., Oct. 13. The lagers of the strikers dropped one more point or two yesterday afternoon, when another gang of non-union men landed in town, driving in big wagons, with bales of blankets and coats. They were brought here to work in the mills, it is supposed, and are skilled lumbermen, secured from Ottawa and Montreal. They were put to work on the boom. They smile when approached by a striker, and say that they are going to work regardless of danger. It is persistently reported that the power in the big pulp and saw mills will be switched on in a day or two, but the rumor lacks confirmation. The new men were employed by Thief detectives and more, it is said, will put in an appearance this morning. The big eddy at the foot of the falls, which did not contain a log Thursday, was packed with timber last evening. The wind was favorable all day, and the effort to loosen the jam has been very successful.

Messrs. Maclaren and their foremen are elated with the work done so far. "The strike burst when these logs passed out of the boom," said one employe, standing on the bank and surveying thousands of rolling, floating logs, which were jammed above the falls Wednesday. "The strikers avowed that these logs would never be moved, but they have been beaten after all." The soldiers surrounded the workers all day, but no disturbers materialized.

Milk Supply Should be Inspected

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Dr. Hodge's, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, some time ago issued circulars relative to the milk supply of many of the towns and cities of the Province.

The answers are generally to the effect that better provision should be made for the inspection of milk and of dairies, and that the law should be made clearer with respect to the regulations of the use of dilutions and preservatives in milk.

Were Refused Entrance to States.

Kingston, October 13.—Two wealthy English ladies, Miss Holmes, London, and Miss Whitfield, Sheffield, were refused admittance to the United States by the immigration officer at Cape Vincent. They had only resided in Canada a month and for this reason were refused entry at Cape Vincent. They were told to go to Montreal and make special application there. They were highly indignant over the treatment accorded them.

Waterworks Dept. are Kept Busy

The local water works commissioners have been busy lately. Sup. Henderson states that all the new mains and services in connection with the waterworks system, to the Brinton Carpet Company's works have been completed. The work of laying mains to the new public school in the south ward will also be finished in a couple of days. A main has been laid from Park street to Romaine and from Romaine to Aylmer, along Aylmer to the new school. The sizes of the mains are eight and five inches.

"We have put down about two miles of new pipes," said Supt. Henderson, "and have still considerable work to do before winter sets in. We have also installed about 225 new services and cannot keep pace with the number of applicants for water. We are, however, doing the best that we can. The number of new services this year exceeds that of any previous season."

You need bracing up, need more nourishment in the blood, need a powerful medicine to vitalize the nerves and distribute force and staying power to all over-worked organs.

The most marvelous success is Ferrozone, a nourishing tonic so scientific as to be the admiration of every physician. Ferrozone performs wonders for people in poor health; it acts directly on the blood, enriching it with strength and new life that is at once dispatched to all parts of the body. Ferrozone feeds the nerves and vital energies, supplies force, determination and joyous, buoyant spirits.

A case where there was lassitude and lack of strength is told by Mr. David Brown, of post-office box No. 39, Beeton, Ont.: "About a year ago my health commenced to fail. My hands and feet seemed always cold. I felt worn-out and exhausted, weak as a little child. My face twitched. My limbs and arms commenced to lose their sense of feeling and finally my left side was perfectly numb. All my color left. My appetite ran down. Ferrozone was the first to give me any help. I improved with it very quickly. It toned up the blood and started circulation, so that the numbness gradually disappeared. My condition was perfectly cured by Ferrozone, and I have been well ever since. (Signed) David Brown."

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP ABROAD

The reports which come from abroad relative to the success of municipal ownership are increasingly discouraging. The machinery does not work so well as had been expected. The carefully prepared figures prove faulty when the results are examined. The net earnings are made possibly only by reducing the amount set aside for depreciation to a figure insufficient to cover the natural wear and tear. Even the small net earnings would entirely disappear and leave a heavy balance on the other side if the municipal plants were compelled to pay taxes of the amount assessed against the private corporations. Government employ is shown not to be without its limitations, and the discouraging effect of the system upon private initiative and enterprise is everywhere apparent.

Such are some of the deductions easily drawn from a paper on "Municipal Ownership," read at the annual convention of the association of Edison illuminating companies in Chicago a few days ago. The writer may have had a purpose in view and his arguments may be somewhat colored. But they have their value and may tend to offset the "information of a misleading nature" upon which he asserts that much public opinion favorable to municipal ownership is based.

Some citations from publicists of England are given which deserve careful attention. The most striking are those by Lord Goschen, Sir Felix Schuster, and Lord Avebury. The first arraigns municipal ownership for having caused extravagant expenditure, accumulation of debt, and the invasion of field after field of private enterprise. Sir Felix Schuster uses these expressive words:

Private enterprise is, after all, the backbone of our industries, to which nearly everything great that has ever been done in this country is due, and on private enterprise we believe the future of our trade, of our commerce, and of our public life depends.

Lord Avebury gave five reasons before the London county council why municipal trading is undesirable, stating that the legitimate functions and duties of our municipalities are already enough; that municipal trading involves an immense increase in municipal debt, that it involves municipalities in labor disputes; that there is not the same stimulus to economy and attention as under private ownership; and that municipal trading is a serious check to progress and discovery.

The salient features of these expressions of opinion is the disastrous effect of the suppression of individual enterprise. That such a view should be taken in a monarchical country where people have been accustomed to having much done by the government only emphasizes the opinion advanced by Vice-President Fairbanks the other day considering the same thing from the standpoint of a republic.

Considering the failure of Glasgow's experiment with the municipal telephone, the conspicuous lack of success attending the London municipal steamboat service, and the increasingly large number of unfavorable comments made by students within the countries affected and by American travelers abroad, there is good reason for thinking that the attractions of municipal ownership may be offset by many most serious objections, some of them fundamental from the point of view of long accepted American notions.

STOPPING THE WASTE OF LIFE

The message of prediction of Mr. James Crichton-Browne, the noted British alienist, is certainly more cheerful than that of Dr. Forbes Winslow, another eminent alienist. The latter finds that "according to the statistical figures of insanity, it can be shown that before long there will be actually more lunatics in the world than sane people." If we could not hope to check the increase of insanity, the problem of reducing the rate of mortality would hardly seem worthy of attention. Better no human race at all, the average man would say, than a race of lunatics.

But Sir James evidently believes that we shall preserve our sanity as a race. At any rate, great concern about the needless waste of human life, about premature and preventable deaths, would seem to imply such a belief. And Sir James is confident that in half a century science will save annually 200,000 lives in England alone by means of sanitary and hygienic measures and other methods of prevention. The war on consumption, popular education, legislation insuring safety of employes in industry, restrictions on child and female labor, abolition of sweatshops, are, no doubt, some of the factors he has in mind in making his optimistic forecast.

And it is pleasant to reflect that whatever makes for life and health and comfort makes for sanity. A longer-lived race will assuredly be a sane race. For insanity is caused by worry, by monotonous and underpaid toil, by intemperance, by lack of pure air and sunshine, by overwork.

Dr. A. T. Schofield, another English expert, in dealing with the question of premature and needless deaths, advises moderation in eating and the cultivation of cheerfulness. Excellent advice as far as it goes, but it applies to a very limited class. The appalling infant death rate in England is due neither to worry nor overfeeding. Lack of proper and sufficient food, the ignorance of the mothers, extreme neglect through poverty, and like causes notoriously account for a high percentage of infant deaths. In the case of adults, unemployment, starvation, filthy and congested quarters, adulterated food, are surely to be reckoned among the chief breeders of disease and death.

The problem of life saving is social as well as individual. As far as large classes of the population are concerned, it is primarily social.

MONUMENT TO FATHER O'GORMAN

Illuminated Cross May Also be Placed on Steeple of His Church.

Kingston, Oct. 12.—A fine monument is to be erected over the grave of the late Rev. Father O'Gorman on Howe Island by his devoted parishioners and friends.

His grave is beside the Howe Island church, on a hillside, and overlooks the majestic St. Lawrence which flows past on its way to the sea.

It was Father O'Gorman's intention to have placed upon the steeple of his Howe Island church a large illuminated cross, which could be seen up and down the river for many miles, including the Thousand Islands.

This cross is likely to be erected as another memorial to the deceased priest.

Low Rates to the West via Great Northern Railway.

Effective daily until October 31st, inclusive, cheap one-way Colonist rates will be in effect from all stations in Ontario to all points on the line of the Great Northern Railway in the States of Montana, Idaho, Oregon, and Washington, also Vancouver, Victoria, Nelson, Rossland, and other points in British Columbia. Full particulars on application to H. E. Watkins, General Eastern Canadian Agent, 10 King street east, Toronto.

Pressing Sleeve Seams.

For pressing the seams of a sleeve procure a three-quarter round, short length of lumber. Pad it and cover with a piece of white ironing cloth. This furnishes a firm base for the pressing, which is utterly lacking in the customary broom handle.

Sofa Pillows.

The best sofa pillows are covered with waxed cotton. This is done by ironing the inside of the cover with a hot flatiron rubbed on a cloth well saturated with beeswax. When treated in this way it is impossible for small, elusive downs to work through.

Furniture Polish.

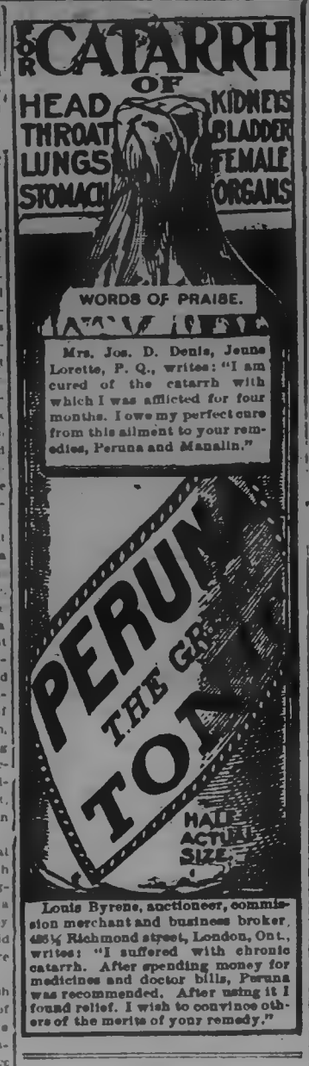
This is an excellent furniture polish where a bright surface is desired: Half a pint of alcohol, half an ounce each of rosin and shellac powdered. Mix these with the alcohol, then add half a pint of linseed oil. Shake thoroughly before using.

One should never tamper with moles. It is unsafe and sometimes is followed by serious consequences. If any treatment is necessary go to a reliable physician for it.

A teaspoonful of vinegar put into an oil lamp or stove that smells or smokes will cause it to burn with a clear light and prevent smoking.

To give the house a pleasant odor take some live coals and sprinkle ground cinnamon on them.

When buying table linen buy the best quality the purse will allow.



Mrs. Jos. D. Denis, Jeune Lorette, P. Q., writes: "I am cured of the catarrh with which I was afflicted for four months. I owe my perfect cure from this ailment to your remedies, Peruna and Manalin."

Louis Byrene, auctioneer, commission merchant and business broker, 485½ Richmond street, London, Ont., writes: "I suffered with chronic catarrh. After spending money for medicines and doctor bills, Peruna was recommended. After using it I found relief. I wish to convince others of the merits of your remedy."

PRETTY EYES.

It Takes Care and Patience to Acquire and Preserve Them.

The woman who wants pretty eyes will not have them circled with dark lines. Nor will she have great eye sacs under her eyes. The pretty girl's eyes are never heavy in the lids. They are never laden underneath with great bags. They are never red as to the lashes, and the brows are never unruly.

On the contrary, the eyes of the pretty girl are of the shining variety, beautifully clear, and of the kind which can open wide and look one right in the face.

To get eyes like this one must not abuse the eyes. The girl who sews late at night, the girl who rubs her eyes, the girl who lets her lids and lashes become neglected, this girl cannot hope to have pretty eyes.

The eyebrows should not be neglected. The woman who wants nice eyebrows can heat a little almond oil and apply it nightly to the eyes with a small brush. In this manner the eyebrows can be influenced. Often they are inclined to grow straggly. But by painting them with a brush regularly they can be trained into shape.

King Edward's Fast Clocks.

During the season the platform of the station for Sandringham is now and again occupied by bands of people who complain angrily that they are half an hour too soon for their train. They have not discovered in time that all the clocks at Sandringham are kept half an hour fast. This is a curious fancy which the King shares with several of his friends—Lord Pembroke, for instance, whose clocks at Wilton House are all half an hour fast. At no place, however, is the scheme carried out more thoroughly than at Sandringham, where all the clocks in the house, stables and kennels, and even the church clock, are kept exactly half an hour fast.—London Mail.

Lovesick Lake

—Mr. Thomas Nichols, of Harvey, has started to tow his wood. He has three hundred cords to bring down. Mr. John Millage has one hundred and fifty cords to bring down.

—The Government is going to repair the lock gates at Burleigh and also the locks and dam at Lovesick, and have them in good repair for next season's work.

—The tourist season of this place is over, and all have settled down to somber quietness. The Hillop Camp was the last of the season, but certainly not the least. It consisted of four young gentlemen from Toronto. Messrs W. J. Chalmers, R. W. Chisholm, W. Walker and G. White. Mr. Chalmers, a member of the Toronto police force, was two days late in arriving, and the people in this neighborhood thought he was on a business trip. He certainly was, for he succeeded in capturing three fine maskinonge. We have our doubts as to whether they were placed before the J. P. or not. Mr. Chisholm proved himself to be a good shot and succeeded in bringing down a number of ducks every time he went shooting. He also enjoyed himself taking snapshots of the beautiful scenery around the locks. Messrs. H. Walker and G. White attended the Bobcaygeon Fair and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. They were very lucky fishermen and caught a number of bass and maskinonge. This is the first time for the above mentioned young men to camp here, and they were delighted with their outing. These gentlemen will always make friends wherever they go by their kind and courteous manners.

"A Tug of War."

—One of the most delightful and interesting pictures that brings sunshine to one's home is entitled "A Tug of War" and has been selected by the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal as their annual gift to subscribers this season. It is a beautiful gravure, 22 x 29 inches, on the best plate paper. It certainly is a gem worthy of the best place on the walls of any home. When one sees the picture and learns that it is given absolutely free to all who subscribe to that great family weekly there is no longer cause to wonder why the Family Herald and Weekly Star has five times the number of readers of any other weekly in the country. Any person remitting one dollar for a year's subscription to the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal will get the picture free, and from the demand we learn you cannot get your dollar in too quickly. "The Tug of War" is a high class production and would command a high price if sold in the stores, but it is reserved for Family Herald subscribers.

COAL

A Second Crow's Nest

Coal is actually today the greatest commodity of the world. With coal we run our mills and factories and our great railroads; with coal we propel our ships, provide our navies, and warm our homes. With coal we generate and produce electricity, with a few exceptions, where water power is available, but there are not very many Niagara Falls, however, with coal we produce iron, copper, lead, silver, gold, and all other metals that we need, and must have, because all of those metals are to be found mixed in with the rock and in the ore.

Without coal we could not make coke, and coke made from a certain kind of high-class bituminous coal is the only fuel yet known to man that produces a heat intense enough to melt ore and hard rock into a liquid, by which process we are enabled to extract the metals we need.

England would not be the great world-power she is today if it was not for her inexhaustible supply of coal.

Coal is the basis of all industrial and commercial wealth.

Coal mining in British Columbia has always been a great success. It is a great deal like diamond mining in South Africa—a bonanza of the first magnitude.

The great mountain barrier of the Rockies shuts out the eastern coal, leaving the great Pacific coast to be supplied by the British Columbia fields, excepting a small tonnage from the State of Washington of a very inferior quality; in fact, so poor that the United States navy of the Pacific division get all of their supply from the Dunsmuir Coal Mines on Vancouver Island, and pay the duty on it, but neither the Washington nor the Vancouver Island coal is of any use for furnace and smelters coke, because the coal from both of these places contains a great deal of sulphur, and does not make good smelters coke.

Nevertheless, Dunsmuir made millions after millions every year from mining coal, and died a few years ago the richest man in Canada. He made it all from coal, and his mines will be productive for generations to come, and are worth more today than thirty-five years ago, when first opened up.

OPPORTUNITY.

To see it, and grasp it in time, makes a man the master of his destiny. DO YOU WANT TO MAKE MONEY HONESTLY, AND LOTS OF IT? Would you like to become interested in a coal proposition in British Columbia, and make $10,000 in three to four years from now on an investment of $150.00? We offer you the opportunity to do this.

You have $200.00, $500.00 or $1,000.00 or whatever the case may be, in bank, drawing 3 per cent. interest yearly. Does this satisfy you, when you can many times double your money in one year in an investment like this we offer you?

PUT YOUR SAVINGS IN COAL. It is safe, and as good as Government bonds. There are no "ifs" about coal mining. There never was known a failure in coal in British Columbia, if quantity and quality and shipping facilities were assured, and the business was managed right and honestly.

The price of coal and its commercial value is always advancing from year to year, whereas the demand is increasing enormously every year.

Millions and millions of dollars have been made in coal mining year after year by all those engaged in the business, and to prove this we refer to the statistics on hand for the year 1902, where it is shown that nine of the leading bituminous coal mines in the United States and Canada made the enormous profits of $47,450,857 (one year's earnings).

There is no field of investment more absolutely safe and profitable than coal mining.

We now offer to the public 100,000 shares of the British Columbia Amalgamated Coal Company's treasury stock at the low rate of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER SHARE.

The par value of this stock is one dollar, and is fully paid and non-assessable, and shareholders are exempt from personal liability. Once paid and secured it is settled for ever.

This Amalgamated Coal Company controls 17,560 ACRES OF COAL LAND in Nicola Valley, B. C., and, according to coal experts' reports, this great area is underlaid with inexhaustible quantities of high-class bituminous coal, the best for steam, blacksmithing and cooking purposes, estimated to contain approximately 1,440,000,000 TONS OF COAL.

TWO RAILROADS.

are now building into the Nicola Valley, the Canadian Pacific and the V., V. and E. (Great Northern), and the C. P. R. has already constructed and completed a line from Spence's Bridge, on Thompson River, to Nicola Lake, a distance of about fifty miles, whereas the V., V. and E. are rushing the work as fast as money and labor can do it, and it is expected to reach Nicola by Christmas.

This is certainly a rare opportunity for the small investors, for $250.00 you can now buy 1,000 shares of Amalgamated Coal Stock, which in a few years may pay you a yearly revenue or income of $10,000 figuring the dividend at $10.00 a share (the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. paid a dividend last year of $10.00 a share). This is an illustration to show what a few hundred dollars invested in coal stock means to investors. The Crow's Nest stock was offered to the public in the year 1896 at ten cents a share, and is today worth over $300.00, or $300,000 for 1,000 shares. You can get 1,000 shares of our stock today for $250.00, which may be worth as much as the Crow's Nest is today if you hold it long enough. Do you realize what this means for you? That the British Columbia Amalgamated Coal Company's stock will reach the $100.00 mark in from six to seven years from now is the belief of those who have seen and examined the properties and are familiar with the local condition in that country. Get in on the ground floor. Act quickly, and do it now. Do not ask your neighbor for his advice. Use and act on your own judgment. It will soon be taken. Call early or write, and we will give you any further information that you may desire.

BETTER THAN LIFE INSURANCE.

A source of income that will last as long as you live. An asset that you can leave behind you for your friends and relatives. Have you a wife? A dear child, a sister, brother, or friend, whose welfare you have at heart? If so, why not invest $50, $100 or $200, or any sum you can afford, in this coal stock, and get a certificate issued in their names; that will give them an income for life.

TWO YEARS FROM NOW

the stock should begin to pay handsome dividends, and in another year or two may have a cash valuation on the market from the dividends it then will pay of at least $10.00 per share. This calculation is based on sound and conservative business judgment, and on well-tried laws of natural growth. It is quite safe to say that when the Amalgamated Coal Company shall have fully equipped its four properties on Cold Water River, in Nicola Valley, B. C., and has built up a market for its product, and can produce coal and coke on a large scale, which may require six to seven years to accomplish (taking the Crow's Nest Coal Company, as an example), this stock should then be worth on its own merit, from the dividend it then will pay, $100.00 per share.

Opportunity knocks once at every man's door. To see it and grasp it in time is the keynote to success and wealth. This is meant for you. This is your greatest opportunity.

THE IRISH PROPOSALS

IRISH LEGISLATION TO GO BEFORE BRITISH COMMONS.

Powers of the Proposed Irish Council Defined — Irish Secretary to Be Chairman—Irish Boards to Be Abolished — Financial Arrangements—Powers to Be Devolved Those Generally Grouped Under the Head of "Local Government."

Further information has been received as to the manner in which the Irish proposals will be carried out. All the members of the Irish Council or the majority of them will be directly elected. The new Council will consist of 103 members—the number of the Irish members in the House of Commons with the addition of 48 councillors directly elected for larger areas by electors having a rateable value of more than £20. This is almost the same as the "Legislative Council" and the "Legislative Assembly" of Mr. Gladstone's bill, only that they will form one body and not two. Yet it will be remembered that in 1893, whilst it was provided that they should sit and vote separately, they were, after a disagreement and a bill being sent up a second time, to vote together.

Peers and clergymen would be eligible for the 48 councillorships. The Nationalist party as at present organized would not easily gain a large majority in the Council. For the councillorships it is expected that "Devolutionists" like Lord Dunraven and Mr. Talbot Crosbie would stand and be sure of election on the restricted franchise.

Irish Secretary to Preside.

An important office may be given to the Chief Secretary in the scheme. He would be ex-officio chairman of the Irish Council. Like the Speaker of the House of Commons, he would take no part in debate, and only vote when there was a tie, if at all. As representing the Lord Lieutenant, he would send for the leader of the party having a majority in the Council, and would in consultation with him appoint the chief heads of departments. The head of the finance department would occupy a position in the Irish Council analogous to that of a Premier in a Parliament; he would also be practically the Under-Secretary for Ireland. He and his colleagues would, following Parliamentary practice, be dependent jointly for the continuance of their posts upon a vote of the Council; but this vote must be upon some subject within the powers of the Council, and therefore of strictly Irish local concern. The object of these arrangements is to give the Chief Secretary and Lord Lieutenant an executive possessing the confidence of the representatives of the Irish people.

As chairman of the Council, the Chief Secretary would be charged with the duty of ruling as a matter of order, but, if necessary, on the advice of the law officers of the Crown, whether, in any measure or action proposed, the Irish Council or its Ministers would exceed their statutory functions. Against his decisions there would be a right of appeal, probably, as in the bill of 1893, to the Court of Exchequer or the King-in-Council, imitating colonial practice.

Abolition of Boards.

The scheme includes a reorganization of the Irish Government. The many Irish Boards will be recast into a few well-defined and compact departments, such as finance, land, education, peasant, police, etc. The judiciary will not be molested, the bill now before Parliament for the reduction of the numbers of the bench being a step sufficient for the present. The Lord Chancellor, the Attorney-General, and the Solicitor-General will continue to be members of the Imperial Parliament, and to be Ministers responsible to it, and not to the Irish Council. They will attend the Irish Council, but not vote or speak, except in an advisory sense, after being called upon by the chairman.

The Chief Secretary would be the spokesman of the Irish Council and its ministers in the House of Commons. All Irish legislation would still come before the House of Commons; all the Irish members would still be there. The Irish Council, would, however, deal with Irish private bills, sending them on to Westminster for simple passage or rejection. Adopting a now disused form of Parliamentary procedure, formerly common, the Irish Council may initiate legislation by means of Orders-in-Council, or by resolutions, which, if passed, would, in the ordinary course, be drafted into a ministerial measure for the Imperial Parliament. Thus, if the powers of the Irish Council are at first limited, its freedom of discussion — an important point with Irishmen—would be practically unlimited.

Financial Arrangements.

The financial arrangements will be the crux of the scheme. Simplicity will be aimed at. The elaborate provisions of the bills of 1885 and 1893 will not be revived. The fixing and collection of taxes will remain with the Imperial Parliament. Customs, excise, postoffice, etc., will be as at present. The plan adopted will be to meet all Imperial charges first. Ireland's net contribution to the Imperial Exchequer is less than £2,000,000, and her total sum raised by taxes about £9,500,000. Of the balance of £7,500,000, nearly half is earmarked for one purpose and another, but it is estimated that about £4,000,000 of Irish expenditure could be handed over to the Irish Finance Department, and placed under the control of the Irish Council. To follow existing methods as closely as possible, the Irish estimates would be laid before the Irish Council first, and discussed in detail. They would then be laid en bloc before the Imperial House of Commons, and would give Irish members and other the usual opportunity for a general discussion. The Irish Council would sit when the Imperial Parliament was not in session.

Members of the Irish Council, if Irish Ministers, would not be answerable for their acts in the House of Commons when they were members of that body also. The Chief Secretary, as their Ministerial chief, would assume the onus of any defence or explanation. For various reasons, it is generally assumed that this dual position would seldom arise — would, in fact, be deliberately evaded. Criticisms in the Irish Council would be enough for the Irish heads of departments, and would usually come from the Opposition—the same people—in both the Council and the House of Commons.

Powers To Be Devolved.

The subjects to be devolved upon the Irish Council will include those generally grouped under the head of Local Government, including education and police, as in England and Scotland. Safeguards, on the lines of the bill of 1893, will be provided against the disarming or reduction of the police, or its substitution by local police.

In addition to these powers, section 26 of the bill of 1893 will be adapted to a quite constitutional but uncommon service. That section dealt with the state of transition between the old system and the new one proposed, and it gave very wide powers to the Lord Lieutenant, by way of orders-in-Council, to change the Irish Administration, and even to modify the law, so long as no new principle were introduced. Certain subjects, including, it is said, the land legislation, will be delegated to the Irish Council on these lines. The Law Offices of the Crown, advising the Chief Secretary, will, before drafting the orders-in-Council, satisfy themselves that the charges proposed by the Irish Council are within the legal principles of existing legislation. That being so, the draft of the orders-in-Council, as in section 26, will be laid before the Houses of Parliament for not less than two months before they are made. Their rejection may be moved in either House, but this is not the practice. This method of orders-in-Council will also be availed of for the general administrative changes which will be initiated, at least, before the Irish Council meets, a detailed scheme of that character having been, it is believed, drawn up some time ago by Sir Antony MacDonnell. Its object is efficiency and economy.

University Settlement.

It is also hoped that before the Council meets certain necessary amendments of the Land Act of 1903, especially with respect to congested districts, may be passed, and that a scheme which will lead to a settlement of the University question will be agreed upon.

The whole scheme will be open to revision in five years. That period will be short enough, if the Irish Council fulfils expectations, for the reform of the Irish administration and the revision and amendment of the very complicated code of law existing in Ireland. Those who are friendly to the scheme anticipate that the old divisions of Home Ruler and Unionist will soon disappear under the influence of responsibility, and that the Irish Council will be dominated by a very practical group of men, drawn from all the old parties, and from even the old officials, who will set to work to justify the existence of the Council, will be as careful as the new County Councils were to avoid friction, and will strive, by winning confidence, to obtain a gradual extension of their power to rule their own country.

SCHOOLBOYS' UNIFORMS.

Details of Dress That Are Insisted Upon by English Masters.

At many schools uniformity of dress is insisted upon. It is surprising how much the casual visitor is impressed by trifling details of dress, and if boys were given much latitude in this respect the impression would not always be a good one. Black coats and waistcoats with black ties always look tidy and respectable, and are frequently the rule. At Harrow boys over a certain height are allowed to wear "tails," which, however, do not look well with straw hats. The Harrow straws are familiar to most people, having a crown of hardly an inch in height; these are worn all the year round, a custom which prevails also at Winchester. At Eton top hats are the usual headgear, and one is sometimes treated to the spectacle of a boy clad in football things surmounted by a top hat.

At some schools one is struck by the enormous variety of caps worn by the different boys, every house having its own colors for the different school games. When clothes are changed for football or cricket this is reasonable enough, but under ordinary circumstances the neatest uniform is some dark suit with black ties, the members of the various school teams being possibly allowed to wear their colors as a mark of distinction. At many schools the boys are compelled to wear cap and gown, the prefects in some cases having the distinctions of tassels to their mortarboards. At Bradfield and Radley the boys wear gowns, and at Winchester all the "collegers" were compelled to do so, but a mortarboard is very heavy to the head, while a gown is rather a hindrance to a boy, though it may help to keep his clothes clean.

It is customary for prefects or monitors to carry walking sticks as a mark of distinction, and in the old days at Winchester prefects used to wear cowlers or "cow shooters" as an especial mark of dignity. At Harrow a boy's great ambition is to get his "fez," which in appearance is much like a smoking cap with a long tassel, but which confers a great distinction upon the wearer. Brown boots are not generally allowed at school. All these various little details of dress are most rigorously enforced by the boys themselves as well as by the masters, with quite regimental exactness.—Bally's Magazine.

The Dreadnought Knighthood.

Rear-Admiral Sir Henry Deacon Barry, who received the only knighthood in connection with the launch of the Dreadnought, is going back to his old love, the sea, says M. A. P. It is practically settled that he will relieve Rear-Admiral Lambton and take over the command of the third cruiser squadron. This welcome news was conveyed to Rear-Admiral Barry by His Majesty the King, who congratulated the admiral upon his appointment. Sir Henry was born on Nov. 27, 1849, so is rapidly approaching his fifty-eighth year. His connection with the navy began in 1863, and the year 1869 saw him promoted to sub-lieutenant. He became a full-fledged lieutenant in 1873, was appointed commander in 1884 and captain in 1892. After an interval of twelve years he was gazetted rear-admiral, and in 1905 was invested with the Companionship of the Royal Victorian Order. He has served three years as Assistant Director of Naval Intelligence; has been a member of the Ordnance Committee, Director of Naval Ordnance and Torpedoes at the Admiralty, and Admiral Superintendent of Portsmouth Dockyard, for which office Rear-Admiral Spencer H. M. Login is named as successor.

A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. The Bridal Eve disordered dress. And then she sank down in her chair.

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH — A NOVEL

Some refreshments were absolutely necessary to sustain nature through the coming hours. After some painful hesitation, she rang her bell, knowing very well that her landlady, who was also maid-of-all work to her lodgers, would answer it.

There are some creatures bearing the human form, yet so much lower in nature than the lowest animal, that "it were base flattery to call them brutes."

Of such was Laura's landlady, with whom she dreaded coming in contact, as a refined and sensitive nature must dread collision with a thoroughly coarse and vulgar one.

These later bitter sorrows, that had so crushed Laura's heart, had discrowned her of much of that queenliness of spirit and of manner that had once commanded homage from all who approached her. Perhaps, also, Mrs. Brown was much too obtuse to be impressed by anything more subtle than material agency. Be that as it may, since Laura had fallen into arrears for her lodging, she had suffered much from the coarse insolence of her landlady, and hence she shivered with apprehension when she rang the bell that was to bring this animal to her presence.

The landlady entered—a tall, stout, vulgar woman, with a red face, bloated cheeks and small, watery eyes. She entered with a swaggering walk and an insolent air, demanding harshly:

"What do you want?"

"A cup of coffee, if you please," answered Laura, with a low voice and averted face.

"You'd better pay for what you has had before you ask for more."

"I will certainly pay you for all if you will be kind enough to bring me the coffee."

"I'll not do it until you pays for what you has had."

"I have not a penny in the house ——"

"Then, you've no business to be in the house yourself. But them as wears diment rings ain't no call to want money," said the woman, fixing her piggish eyes upon the brilliant that the young duchess had given Laura as a wedding ring.

At another time Laura, for the sake of the giver, would have hesitated to part with the gift; but now time pressed, she had great need to take refreshment and proceed at once to the prison to comfort Cassinove. So she drew the ring from her finger and handed it to the woman, saying:

"Here, take it and keep it as security until I pay you, only bring me the coffee."

The promptitude with which Laura offered the ring excited the suspicions of the woman, who, like all vulgar natures, piqued herself upon being "sharp."

"No, I'll not take it as security for a piece of glass set in brass for what I know, and not worth twopence."

For answer Laura held the ring out, turning it about in the morning sunlight until it burned and flashed until the living rays of light leaped from its centre.

"Well, then, and it may be a real diment, for what I know; but, even so, how did you come by it? Them as visits jailbirds is to be suspicioned; and I never received no stolen goods in my life."

"Very well, then be good enough to leave the room," said Laura, in a calm, commanding tone, that enforced obedience even from that stolid creature.

Laura then put on her mantle and bonnet, and though very feble, went downstairs and walked the short distance to Oilspur street, where she remembered to have seen a pawnbroker's shop, kept by one Issachar. The rude speech of the landlady had done her this service—it had suggested the means of relieving her present necessities, that would never else have presented itself to her mind. At another time she might have grieved to part with her ring, and blushed to enter a pawnbroker's shop, but now heavier sorrows and keener anxieties absorbed her whole soul. She entered the shop, where a little, dark, hook-nosed, gimlet-eyed man stood behind the counter.

"How much will you give me for this ring?" said Laura, advancing and laying it upon the counter.

"Eh, mine shole, vere did you get dish?" exclaimed old Issachar, pouncing upon the jewel, and glaring upon it with ravenous eyes.

"No matter, so that it is mine, and I have a right to part with it!"

"Do you want to shell it?" asked the pawnbroker, with difficulty concealing his eagerness.

"No, only to pledge it. How much will you advance me upon it?"

"Eh, mine tear, it ish not vort sho much, hither, now I looksh at it," said Issachar, recovering his composure and craftiness.

"Very well; name the sum that you are willing to advance upon it."

"Eh, nine tear shole, shonish is very scarsh. I will advance five pounds on it."

The ring was worth an hundred guineas, at least, but Laura was far too much oppressed with trouble to chaffer with the fellow, so she said:

"Give me the money, and a receipt for the ring, so that I may redeem it as soon as I can."

Issachar immediately handed her the money and a ticket, and eagerly took and locked up the ring, which he hoped would yet revert to himself.

Laura left the shop, returned to her lodgings, and rang again for the landlady. That animal sulkily made her appearance.

"How much do I owe you?" inquired Laura.

"Two-pun-ten, and I reckon you'll never owe me less," said the woman, insolently.

"Here are three pounds. Bring me the change and my coffee immediately."

The woman obeyed, and soon set before her lodger a comfortable breakfast.

Without removing her bonnet, Laura hastily drank a cup of coffee, ate a morsel of bread, and then, feeling somewhat refreshed, put the mask of a cheerful countenance over her sorrowful heart, and proceeded to the prison. She reached the cell a little before the hour that the prisoner was to be conveyed to the court. The governor was with him, but retired as soon as his wife appeared, leaving the unhappy young couple the solace of a few moments' private conference.

"How did you pass the night?" inquired Laura, affectionately, sitting down beside him on the cot.

"Well, dear love, very well," said Cassinove, assuming a more cheerful countenance than his sad heart warranted. "And you, Laura?"

"I slept until quite late this morning," she said, evasively, smiling in his face.

"That is right. To-day, dear love, must decide my fate. Can my true wife be firm?"

"Firm as a rock and true as steel! Never doubt me," replied Laura, courageously, although her heart was secretly breaking.

He pressed a kiss upon her brow, and then opened the door to admit Dr. Clark and the officers who had come to conduct him to the courthouse.

Dr. Clark greeted Laura and Cassinove with great kindness. And then, as it was near nine o'clock, the party set out for the session-house. The prisoner walked between the two officers, and Laura leaned upon the arm of her venerable friend, as on the preceding day.

They found the space in front of the courthouse thronged with people, who were trying in vain to press into the building.

They found the courtroom much fuller than on the preceding day, crowded, in fact, to suffocation.

"As I am to be examined to-day for the defense, my dear, I may sit beside you, and take care of you," said the good old doctor, as he supported Laura toward the upper end of the court.

As before, Cassinove was placed in the dock, where he stood pale, firm and calm, above the crowd of faces turned up to him in morbid curiosity or cruel vindictiveness. He looked before him toward the bench, and saw that the brow of the judge was stern; toward

Many a man is looking out for his health, but looking for disease in the wrong direction. He takes medicine for his nerves, which seem "gone to pieces." He "doctors" for his heart, which is acting irregularly. He constantly stirs up his liver with pills and powder. But he does not get any better. He is looking for the cause of his complaints in the wrong direction.

It is a common thing for some one who has used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for "stomach trouble" to find that when the diseased stomach is cured the "weak" heart is made sound, the sluggish liver stimulated, and the throbbing nerves tranquilized. This fact alone suggests the truth which every leading medical scientist knows and recognizes—that diseases which seem remote from the stomach are often caused by the disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. When the diseased stomach and the digestive and nutritive system are cured of disease, the other organs are cured with them.

Food is the basis of life and of strength. But it is not the quantity of food eaten which supports the life and health of the body. The body is sustained by that portion of the food which after being eaten is converted into nourishment and properly assimilated. When the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased or "weak," only part of the food eaten is converted into nutrition, and the body and its organs are therefore only partly nourished. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures the diseases of the stomach and digestive and nutritive system which prevent the proper nourishment of the body. In that way the body is once more strengthened in the only way possible, by food properly digested and perfectly assimilated.

Any person suffering from disease in chronic or aggravated form, is invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence strictly private and confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." The main motive of substitution is the desire of the dealer to make a little more profit out of you by selling you a less meritorious medicine.

ABLE TO WORK AGAIN.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glessenaugh, Somerset Co., Penna., writes: "I had been doctoring for about a year and a half, being unable to work most of the time. The doctor said I had heart disease and indigestion. It began with a choking and oppressed feeling in the chest; later on I was troubled with a hungry feeling, and I seemed to be raw from my throat clear down into my stomach. My appetite was unusually poor, I was weak and nervous, and my heart kept throbbing continually, and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and began to use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

"SUFFERED ALL THE TIME."

"I feel that I would be doing an injustice to you if I did not send you a statement of my case," writes Mrs. David W. Guice, of Mansburg, Franklin Co., Miss. "I had liver complaint and indigestion. Everything that I ate disagreed with me. I suffered all the time with swimming in my head; heart beat too fast; my feet and hands were cold all the time. Did not sleep well at all. Was able to get about but very little. I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' in May, 1897, and by December I could begin to get about very well. Have been doing my work ever since except washing. Feel better than I have for several years. I would recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all who are troubled as I was. I am now sixty-one years old and I think you must kindly for the happy relief and cure."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery" and should be used with it when a laxative is needed.

WORLDS GROWS MORE VULGAR?

Sir William Richmond Deplores Wane of Things Beautiful.

London, October 12.—Sir William Richmond, one of the most celebrated Royal academicians, in a lecture complained that the world is growing vulgarly democratic and vulgarly superficial. Commerce is flooding the markets with undesirable and unbeautiful objects. The average taste for beautiful things probably is less than a century ago, notwithstanding the multiplication of art schools, and people dress in bad taste. Imitation is taking the place of creation. He said perhaps it was because people's minds were stuffed with heterogeneous knowledge that they created so little.

REAL ANNIE LAURIE.

Heroine of Maxwelton Braes In Her Home Is Vital Human Personality —The Portrait of Annie Laurie.

And it's there that Annie Laurie
Gave me her promise true

Maxwelton braes are just as bonnie to-day as they were 200 years ago when William Douglas, the young laird of Fingland, wrote the song that has made his name immortal, and that is likely to hold its place in the heart of the English-speaking races as long as our language shall last.

Of Douglas himself and his love story history gives us but meagre information. We know little except that he loved Annie Laurie, of Maxwelton, who gave him her "promise true," but who alas! married not him but his wealthier rival, Fergusson of Craigdarroch. Local tradition adds that he was a hot-tempered fellow, ready on provocation to quarrel and to pursue it to the sword's point—for he fought a number of duels. Fingland his property, was only a little Dumfriesshire farm, but he was a member of the historic house of Douglas, the proudest family of Scotland. When he lost his betrothed, he left the country and sought service in the great war that had rent Europe in twain at the time—the war in which Marlborough won his victories over the generals of Louis XIV. Later—so the story goes—he came home again and married Bettie Clark, of Glenbolg, who bore him many children; but no living descendant of the line is known, and his modest patrimony has long since passed into the hands of strangers.

Of Annie Laurie we have much ampler chronicles. She was born at Barjag Tower, a few miles from Maxwelton, the residence of the Riddles, her mother's people. Her father recorded the event in a manuscript note still extant at Barjag:

At the pleasure of Almighty God, my daughter Annie Laurie was born upon the 16th day of December, 1682 years, about six o'clock in the morning, and was baptized by the minister of Glencairn.

Her girlhood was mainly spent at Maxwelton House, which even then was a mansion of some age. It had once been called Glencairn Castle, and had belonged to the Earls of Glencairn, whose title dated back to 1488. In 1640 it was purchased by Stephen Laurie, a merchant of Dumfries, who had prospered in his business, and whose wife was the heiress of Provost Corsane.

To most pilgrims to Maxwelton, the most attractive part of the mansion is the eastern tower, the interior of which is known as Annie Laurie's Boudoir. In her days this quaint old apartment could be reached only by an outside stairway. One of its arched sides has since been cut through, making it a part of the spacious, old-fashioned drawing-room. Tradition insists that it was the scene of William Douglas' wooing of the fair maid of Maxwelton. It looks as if it might have been built for an oratory, with its early English arches springing from the low stone pillars set in the four corners.

Until one goes to Maxwelton House, Annie Laurie is the heroine of a lovely ballad, a tender bit of sentiment embodied in unforgotten melody. When one has stepped across the threshold of her childhood home, he takes on the vital personality of a breathing human creature. She looks down from the wall of the old dining-room — a fair and stately woman with ivory skin, haughtily arched lips of scarlet, and hair black as night. With never a jewel to break the perfect lines of her throat and bust, the white satin gown in which she sat for her portrait falls back from her bosom, parted low in simple style. She seems a living embodiment of the courtly grace of a proud young Scottish matron in the days of the Stuarts.

Not far away hangs a companion picture of Fergusson of Craigdarroch, a handsome young fellow who might well have been a fit mate for the brilliant beauty of Maxwelton.

The music of "Annie Laurie" is not nearly as old as the words of the ballad. It was written a little more than 40 years ago by Lady John Scott, whose husband was a younger son of one of the Dukes of Buccleuch. She was a musician of genuine talent, and several of her other songs have gained wide popularity, though none of them has sung itself into the hearts of the world like the simple and beautiful melody to which she set William Douglas' touching lyric.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 200,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

THE GOLDEN MESSAGE

Created another stir in Boulder County last week when ore was brought out literally sprinkled with free gold from the bottom of the Addison shaft at a depth of 80 feet. Black tellurium and sylvanite are also showing in greater abundance The prophecy of our experts have not only been proven, but have been surpassed beyond expectancy.

THE PEOPLE OF BOULDER

are viewing the great chunk of rich ore that was brought down to the office last Saturday. Col. Teters, whose knowledge of mining it is not necessary to mention, scrutinizing the big piece of ore said: "That ore is a credit to any mine, and will be the life of the Sunshine District." M. B. Tomblin, another recognized authority of Boulder County said: "Eighty per cent. of the high grade streak on that piece of ore is gold."

CAPITALISTS FROM ILLINOIS

made a trip to Boulder last week to look over the property of the Golden Message Mining Co., and expressed their approval of the mines and management by purchasing a large block of the stock.

THE BIG PROPOSITION

is fast rounding into shape, and will soon be ready to turn out the bullion. Additional men are being put to work at the mines as fast as room can be made for them. A few feet further and the Addison drift will strike the rich dyke that crosses four of these claims, and on this dyke cross-cuts will be made to the St Louis, Noondale, and Ravine, thus connecting the four large ore bodies which will be operated through one main tunnel and shaft. The shaft in the Addison will soon reach the 50 foot mark and then a new level will be run parallel to the one above till it reaches the dyke, on which cross-cuts will again be made to the other mines. This plan will be followed throughout, so at all times the working of the mines will be on good ore, and will never necessitate cutting through dead rock.

THE LARGE GROUND FLOOR OPTION

is almost gone, but as long as there is a share of it left it will sell at 25c. No further notice will be given until the 50c. option is put on. The success of this company is assured, and we give you this chance to get in on the ground floor as long as the ground floor option lasts. You may use the wires at our expense in notifying us the number of shares you want, and we will hold them for you at 25c until your remittance comes, provided you act at once.

OUR PROPOSITION

We are offering you a chance to invest in one of the leading mining propositions in the West, or a free trip to Boulder and return. If you desire to invest in a proposition that you have seen and know is all right, we invite you to come to Boulder and we will take pleasure in showing you our property, and in case you find that we have misrepresented it in any way, we will pay your fare to Boulder and return. That is fair, isn't it? If you want to make a good investment, take us up on this proposition.

Marvellous Fighting Crafts for England

London, Oct. 13.—The Daily Telegraph says it learns that the three so-called armored cruisers, the Invincible, the Inflexible and the Indomitable, which are now being built on the Clyde and Tyne, are in reality a new type of battleship, having a broadside fire equal to that of the Dreadnought, and a much higher speed.

The paper says they will be the most wonderful ships ever built for any fleet, having greater offensive power than any two battleships now in commission, combined with extraordinary speed.

The object seems to be to enable them to overtake any foreign cruiser and sink it by their tremendous concentrated gun fire. It is expected that they will be shortly launched. When completed they will probably have cost £1,750,000 each.

HERALDIC INACCURACIES.

Strange Blunders Said to Have Been Made in New Chapel.

The new chapel of the order of St. Michael and St. George at St. Paul's, which was opened by the King on June 12, is condemned as containing a mass of heraldic inaccuracies.

The York Herald, Mr. Ambrose de Lisle Lee, seen by The Daily Mirror at the College of Arms, described it as "a regular feast for the amateur heraldist," and pointed out some of the most glaring of the mistakes to be seen.

"The mistakes," he said, "are such that should strike the veriest beginner in the study of heraldry. We were never consulted in the matter, and I can only suppose some antiquarian was consulted by those responsible for the decoration of the roof.

"The most glaring errors occur in the three quarterings—those of the King, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Cambridge.

"The insignia of the Order necessitate the arms of the knights being encircled by the ribbon containing the motto of the order. This in each case is omitted and the motto is placed in a scroll beneath the coat where the ordinary or 'family motto' usually appears.

"The badges of the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Cambridge are of silver, they should be of gold. The ordinary peer's helmet is of silver.

"The coats of the Duke of Cambridge are those of his father, not his own at all. The mistake here is probably due to the amateur heraldic belief that royal coats-of-arms are heraldic, whereas, as a matter of fact every member of the royal family bears special grants for certain differences.

"The quarterings of the Prince's royal coats are in the wrong order, in place of ermine which should be found in each, is given, and the arms of the Principality should be on the Garter as also given as well as the other insignia.

"This list is not exhausted, despite the fact that the composition of the Order of the Garter, of which, of course, all three were members specifically states that arms are never to be shown without the Garter."

JEST AND EARNEST.

Judicial Witticism Heard In a London Police Court.

A few bright bits of dialogue enlivened the gloom of the Metropolitan Police Courts recently.

In a motor-car case at the North London Police Court a professional singer said that the driver sounded his horn. "Was it a tenor hooter?" Mr. Fordham, the magistrate asked.

"I should say it was a cross between a baritone and a bass," the witness replied.

An applicant for a summons at Acton said that his neighbor had threatened to "turn him inside out."

"Do you really and seriously anticipate that he will do anything of the sort?" the magistrate asked. "You people about here get abusive to each other, and then one wants to get the better of the other and comes here and asks for a summons."

"The other man got here first, and has a summons already," said the warrant officer.

"There is very little meaning in bad language," said the magistrate at Acton to a foreigner who complained that a neighbor had used bad language which he did not understand.

"Always be polite to the policeman," was the advice given by the same magistrate to a prisoner.

At the Clerkenwell Sessions a German cook was sentenced to three months' imprisonment for theft.

"Good-bye. Better luck next time," said she as she left the dock.

The judge as an afterthought, ordered her to be brought back. And told her she would be deported at the end of her sentence.

"Oh, I am so pleased," she said. "I want to go, but I shall come back again."

A woman who charged her husband at the West Ham Police Court with assaulting her, said:

"I would not care if he only hit me with his fist, but I cannot stand hob-nailed boots."

Mr. Labouchere as the "Pigeon."

At Carlsbad I had once a curious experience with the late Lord Russell of Killowen. He was fond of whiling away an hour at some little game of cards one day I met him in the town, and he proposed that we should play at bezique. A friend of his, with whom he was walking, happened to have a pack of cards in his pocket, so we sat down at a table before the leading cafe and began to play. A person in civilian garb came up to me and told me that we could not play with the cards that we were using. I supposed that he was a waiter of the establishment, and that we were expected to buy our cards at it, as I said that we would pay for the pack all the same. He then said that he was a Government official, and that only cards with the official stamp were allowed in Bohemia. "What is he saying?" said Lord Russell, who did not understand German. I replied that he wanted us to buy official cards. "Non sense," said Lord Russell, and went on playing.

The waiter again protested, and said that if his directions were disobeyed he would have to take strong measures, for the Lord Chief Justice played on. I told him that if we did not obey orders we should certainly be walked off to prison. Then he allowed me to order other cards, but stared at the officer as though he was going to commit him for contempt. When he wanted me to explain why we were not allowed to play with our cards I said that it was a little awkward to do so, but, on pressure, I said that the official had not liked the looks of him and his companion while he considered that I had the air of a pigeon, and that he rather suspected the cards. He had, therefore, interfered to prevent me being plucked.—Henry Labouchere, in Truth.

One Better.

"Run away!" said the Englishman boastfully. "Hif Hi was to 'it you Hi'd make a cripple of you."

"Faith, thin," retorted the Irishman, "Ol'd be kinder to you than that. If Ol was to hit ye Ol'd make an angel of ye."

The Neglect of Science.

It is [illegible] that the real nature and [illegible] scientific research [illegible] regard it as a kind of hobby pursued by cranks for amusement, or by a glorified class of conjurers who hitherto to get rich upon patent rights; they divorce it altogether from serious purposes. When the fact is plainly brought home that people are dying by thousands from preventible disease it might be thought that generous support would be given to the organization of research designed to alleviate the ill. The reverse prevails; neither the work nor the worker receives any large measure of public sympathy, and all endowment is left to a few public spirited individuals. The public never realizes that the laborer in the field of science is worthy his hire. Honors, it is true, await the discoverer, but what a number of investigations there must be which are fruitless because of the lack of monetary support. Medical science has a stronger claim perhaps than any other province of research on the generosity of the public, and yet how niggardly is the response to all appeals for funds to carry out the work of combating disease by scientific methods. Readers of The Lancet will thoroughly endorse the view of Prof. Lankester that if the people of this country wish to make an end of infective and other diseases they must take every possible means to discover capable investigators. They must discover them and employ them, and if good result is to be made at all certain it is probable that where a pound or so of public money is now spent it will be necessary to spend thousands.

Nothing short of the annual allocation of a generous sum of money out of the public purse will serve the purpose, and the public should learn that it is a fundamental truth that on the successful prosecution of scientific research depend, after all, the health and welfare of the community."

Negroes Wreck Vengeance on Davis

Tuark Oct. 13.—Anthony Davis, a negro driver was found dead under a round house half a mile from the business center of town.

It is believed he was lynched by members of his own race, of whom a number were seen in the vicinity about midnight.

A week ago Davis was arrested on a charge of trying to assault a colored girl. The negroes in the vicinity expressed great indignation.

TOM LEWIS WAS CLOSE

Ran Regimental Canteen and Gave Very Little Away.

Goderich, Oct. 12—Tom Lewis, of London, whom recent developments have made notorious, is particularly well known to the boys of the 33rd Huron Regiment.

During the camp of this year and last year at London Lewis ran the men's canteen and was caterer for the officers' mess as well.

Militiamen do not expect overly much principle in a "barkeep," but this one earned the reputation of being the "closest" man "on the job."

The boys who paid 40c for a dozen bananas and top price for every thing else with no thing "on the house," will not soon forget big Tom Lewis.

Mr. G. A. Hickey Gets the Contract

New Tug to be Built Here for Use on the Trent Valley Canal.

As an indication of the progressive and strictly up-to-date spirit actuating the Dominion Railway and Canals Department in their desire to serve the public interest, it might be noted that this department will build a new boat, during the winter, for use in the Trent Valley Canal.

Mr. George A. Hickey, the local ship wright, is preparing the plans and moulds. Mr. Hickey is a practical ship carpenter, and the boat, will be of tug design. It is understood that this new addition to our local fleet, will replace the present steamer Empire, which has been in commission a great many years.

The new boat will be 51 feet over all with 12 feet 8 inches beam over 5 feet draft.

The boat will be built at the McDonnell estate yards, Point St. Charles, and will be completed by the spring. The cost will be $5,000. She will be equipped with the latest style of engine and will have a speed of about 12 miles an hour. She will be constructed of oak and will have about 2 feet 8 inches keel board solid ships. 3 feet aft, and 4 1-2 feet forward.

The moulds will be finished in a few days. They will be of thin pine. The moulds are afterwards cut into sections and the frames bolted together ready for planking, after being placed across the keel.

An Event in Sunday Journalism.

The people of the middle West are rapidly discovering that the Sunday Magazine of The Chicago Record-Herald is not only a real magazine but also one of the greatest in this age of magazines. In recent display of enterprise in paying $25,000 for the exclusive serial rights of Conan Doyle's new romance, "Sir Nigel," compelled even the editors of the famous monthlies to acknowledge the presence of a new and powerful rival.

When this was followed by Anthony Hope's new Zenda romance, "Sophy of Kravbonia," the reading world needed no further proof that the Sunday Magazine of The Chicago Record-Herald was able to capture the finest and most costly new fiction offered in England and America. Its illustrations and cover designs in color have from the beginning been of unsurpassed beauty and artistic grace. Its short stories, descriptive articles, humor, poetry and sketches of all kinds are the choicest that the literary market affords, many of them being written by the most popular authors and magazine contributors in the United States. In short, it is an entertaining, high-class magazine that will bear comparison with the best independent weeklies or monthlies, whatever the price.

There is nothing else like it in American journalism.

Gilmour Hotel Was a Fire Trap

As our readers will remember, with regret, a local lady, Miss Loveday, of the Barnardo Home here, perished in the Gilmour Hotel fire.

An Ottawa despatch says,

The Gilmour Hotel fire inquiry which has been in progress since Sept 15, the day after the fire, was brought to a close at the eighth session last night about midnight, when the coroner's jury brought in a verdict of some length and added a long list of recommendations on hotels and public building, as follows:

"The bodies found in the ruins were, in the belief of the jury, those of Miss Elizabeth O'Neill, waitress of the hotel; Miss Jane Loveday, nurse, Peterborough, and Mrs. Agnes Beckett, milliner, Ottawa, who came to their death by suffocation and burning in the fire which destroyed the Gilmour hotel on the night of Sept. 14, 1906.

"The fire originated in the motor room at the base of the elevator shaft, by a fuse blowing out.

"That the rapid spread of the fire was due to the great draught in the elevator and stairway; and we also find that there were inadequate appliances for suppressing the fire at its start, no proper provision for the alarming of guests in case of a fire; that there was not a fire escape in every room, either rope or ladder and that the outside stairways were not properly constructed and free of access in compliance with the provincial act and city bylaw.

"We also find that there were not sufficient stairways known to the guests, nor sufficient proper notices, nor red lights to notify guests of the location of fire escapes."

Bold Burglars in Bowmanville

The Bowmanville News says; On Monday night last someone forced an entrance through the back of the Bienne House bar and stole $10 from the cash register, a quantity of cigarettes and some bottled liquor. The same night he Arling on hotel, at the station, was visited in the same way, but the visitors there only succeeded in getting about $3 in change a bottle of whiskey and some cigars. There is no doubt that the same parties did both jobs, and that they are local characters. At the Bennet House, in their haste, a bottle of gin was dropped and broken on the floor.

Partridge at Family Window.

Campbellford Herald says: Mr. and Mrs Robt. Lawson were awakened one morning last week by a sudden noise at one of the window panes. Upon investigating the cause it was found that a large cock partridge had come in contact with the window in its rapid flight. He not leisurely on the window sill for fifteen or twenty minutes and finally took to the woods.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the affect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address, free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of.

The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

Drunken Painter Badly Hurt

Accident at Fenelon Falls', G. T. R. Station on Thursday.

A Fenelon Falls despatch says that a most deplorable accident occurred at the Grand Trunk depot in that village as train No. 43 was pulling in from Lindsay. Mr. Thos. Stephenson, a painter, while intoxicated, staggered along the platform and fell against the twelfth car from the engine. He was knocked down, and being unable to act with any quickness his foot was crushed under the heavy wheel, and later had to be amputated above the ankle. Parties who witnessed the accident say Stephenson was for unable to escape so easily, as he might have been killed.

HIDDEN GOLD MINES.

There May Perhaps Be One In Your Own Back Yard.

There may be a rich gold mine in your back yard if you happen to be living on the site of an ancient lake, writes Waldon Fawcett in Technical World Magazine. In scores of places scattered all over the country there are pits and mounds of black sand out of which gold, platinum and other precious minerals may be extracted. The national government itself is the promotor of this latest mining sensation, which promises to make as many overnight gold kings as the discovery of Alaska itself.

It had long been known that platinum existed in unmistakable quantities in what are known as the "black sands" of the Pacific coast, but the deposits were practically useless because of the lack of an efficient and economical method of concentration or treatment. It was to the solution of this problem that the government experts applied themselves. As a first step a general invitation was extended to Pacific coast property owners whose holdings included such deposits to send to the government samples of the wealth bearing sand for free tests.

From the very outset the results were both gratifying and surprising. The government investigators not only found platinum in quantities that exceeded their expectations, but they discovered that the black sand, or sediment, was rich in many other valuable substances, notably gold. In some instances it was evident that a given deposit was well worthy of treatment, merely for the extraction of one or two minerals, as, for instance, a large shipment of the sand from Humboldt county, Cal., which showed an assay value of $1,000 per ton in gold and platinum alone.

Dr. Day and his assistants have accomplished such wonders on the Pacific coast that the government has hastened to broaden the scope of the work, and an experiment station has been established at Chapel Hill, N. C., for the treatment of the low grade gold deposits of the mid-Atlantic and southern states.

Buenos Ayres.

Buenos Ayres today boasts rightly and truthfully of nearly 1,100,000 inhabitants. It is growing faster than any city in the United States excepting New York and Chicago, and the time is soon coming when it will run an even race with Paris as the first Latin city of the world. We have no place like it in North America. It might possibly be described as having the beauty of Washington, the wealth of New York and the hustle of Chicago in well measured proportions. It can point to parks and boulevards more beautiful than any in Washington, opera houses, clubs, newspaper buildings finer than any in New York, street car systems and hotels better than those of Chicago.—New York Times.

A Record In Denmark.

The first degree of doctor of medicine to be given to a woman in Denmark has recently been conferred on Froken Eli Moller. This title is not attained by passing an ordinary examination in medicine, but must be gained by writing a treatise of actual value to the community or by setting forth some novel and important theory, and, moreover, in the latter case the candidate must stand prepared to defend this theory against the arguments of certain appointed professors of the subject treated. In truth, this honor is not lightly given in faraway Denmark, nor is it to be easily won apparently.

Sven Hedin's Perilous Trip.

There is something that stirs the imagination in the thought that Stockholm's most distinguished son—surely no one will deny the title to Sven Hedin—is even now crossing over from Turkestan to the starting place on the Tarim river, in the heart of Asia, which knows him so well already. His rooms on the Blasieholm are shut up, and no one knows less than himself whether he will ever enter them again. For the third time he is essaying the most dangerous journey that yet remains on this law abiding planet—that to Lassa.—London Telegraph.

Medical Secrecy.

The question of a medical man's obligation of secrecy has again risen in the striking case of the Gironde assises. In 1868 two Jonzac doctors who called to attend a sick person suspected it to be a case of criminal poisoning. They believed that they knew the guilty person, but hesitated to denounce him. They consulted their confreres, who said, "A crime discovered by us in the exercise of our art becomes a professional secret." This theory, however, is not universally held.—Petit Parisien.

The Wealth of France.

The population of France is about 40,000,000 people; the wealth of France is nearly $45,000,000,000. Robert P. Skinner, United States consul at Marseilles, in some recent statistics, shows how evenly this wealth is distributed. The number of estates administered in 1904 was 394,787, and of these one-half were for values ranging from less than $10,000 to a little over $100,000. Only three were over $10,000,000.—Review of Reviews.

A South African Spellbinder.

Litia, the son of King Lewanika, is described by Trevor Battye as a most intelligent man, anxious for the improvement of the people and probably sharing the view of his father, who, on his return from attending the coronation, began the opening speech to his people with the words: "You are simply baboons! Simply that!"—London Spectator.

WEDDING STATIONERY

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS are always in order. The season for the final result of being a disciple of Cupid finds expression in the Hymeneal ceremony at the altar—that occasion when "two hearts that beat as one" are joined together—pronounced one.

For this auspicious occasion the printing must be chastely dignified—must be appropriate in appearance to this one time of life when everything "best" is donned—when happiness reigns supremely.

MONTREAL BANK PROTECTS DEPOSITORS

Great Excitement Over Seemingly Assured Failure of the Ontario Bank—Local Panic Quickly Averted, Depositors Getting Their Funds.

On Saturday morning Peterborough had its nearest approach to a general panic, when it became generally known that the Ontario Bank had declared its inability to meet the bank's liabilities.

Long before the regular opening hour, crowds of excited and nervous men and women gathered at the corner of Water and Simcoe streets, eagerly seeking to withdraw their funds deposited in the Ontario Bank.

The first intimation of trouble, as far as can be learned, in Peterborough, was conveyed by the Toronto evening papers, received here on Friday night. As this news was of so startling a nature, and hoping the news of Friday evening might either be a canard or later on shown to have been exaggerated, The Times omitted mention of the trouble in Saturday morning's issue. The news however, proves to have been only too true, and that the Bank of Ontario is in serious difficulties. Fortunately, however, the high standing of this bank in commercial and financial circles, together with its well known and sound assets and large reserve fund, gives hope that the stockholders will not meet with serious or any loss; the depositors are already assured of absolute immunity from loss, as the Bank of Montreal, with its almost limitless assets and wealth, has assumed responsibilities as far as depositors' funds in the Ontario Bank are concerned. When the Ontario Bank doors here opened Saturday morning, within five minutes the long corridor, facing the ledger keepers and other employes, was filled with a packed mass of humanity, embracing both sexes in about equal numbers who struggled and elbowed their way, endeavoring to get pass books checked and cheques for whatsoever each one had on deposit certified or cashed.

About 10.30 Manager Crane announced that the responsibilities of the bank in respect of depositors had been assumed by the Bank of Montreal, and that that building was not the Ontario Bank, but the Bank of Montreal. This announcement somewhat allayed the excitement and there was a considerable withdrawal of depositors, but enough, who could not realize that their money was absolutely safe remained to constitute a crush. The state of affairs continued with a decided accession of intensity when at noon the closing of the factories released hundreds of the operatives, very many of whom joined the crowd, besieging the wickets, especially of the Savings Department.

In consequence of the large withdrawals the deposit accounts of the other city banks have had considerable accession, the Bank of Montreal naturally getting the bulk of the new accounts. As Manager Eardley-Wilmot notified the crowds that his bank would pay all certified cheques on the Ontario bank. Many deposited their withdrawn savings in the Post Office Savings Branch.

All depositors, can rest perfectly assured that they do not incur the slightest risk of losing a single cent.

As early in the morning as possible, signs reading "Bank of Montreal," were posted over every window of the Ontario Bank premises, thus showing that in the death of the Ontario Bank has arisen a larger and stronger Bank of Montreal.

As far as can be ascertained, local citizens who hold stock, of a par value of $100 per share, in quantities of five shares or more, are as follows:

As it was rumored throughout the city on Saturday that Mr. C. McGill, formerly local manager here, but now general manager of the Ontario Bank "Cupid nor be found," it might be noted that such report was absolutely false, as Mr. McGill was interviewed by the Toronto Globe, at the King Edward Hotel on Saturday evening.

A Toronto despatch received on Saturday says; — As a result of financial difficulties following unfortunate investments or speculations on the part of the general manager, Charles McGill, the Ontario Bank will today be taken over by the Bank of Montreal.

Losses to the Ontario Bank, placed in round figures as at least one million dollars, have caused this unusual transaction.

The Ontario Bank was incorporated in 1867. Its officers are; G. R. R. Cockburn, president; Donald Mackay, vice-president; R. D. Perry, Hon. R. Harcourt, R. Giles, Thomas Walmsley and John Fleiv.

It has branches in Allis on, Aurora, Bowmanville, Buckingham, Q., Collingwood, Cornwall, Fort William, Bolstein King City, Kingston, Lindsay, Montreal, Mount Forest, Newmarket, Ottawa, Peterborough, Port Arthur, Sudbury, Toronto, Trenton Tweed, Waterford and Warnaw.

G. R. R. Cockburn, states that the appropriation of the funds was the real difficulty, and this had all occurred in the last few months. The bank as a bank was all right, and in a healthy working condition.

PROVINCIAL DEPOSIT.

The Provincial Government account with the Ontario Bank is a large one and, while no uneasiness is felt, Hon. J. P. Whitney, the Prime Minister, and Hon. Col. Matheson, the Provincial Treasurer, who have been in Ottawa in attendance at the inter-Provincial Conference, are now on their way to Toronto, presumably to look into the situation.

The Ontario Bank is also behaving soon, for the liquor license fees in Toronto. All license payments are due through this institute, and the half-yearly deposits are now almost due.

At the present time there is only about $20,000 of license funds in the bank, the second payments are not due until November 1st.

In the absence of the Minister, Hon W. J. Hanna, and pending his instructions, Mr Saunders said there would be no more deposits.

MR. M'GILL TALKS.

On Saturday, Mr. McGill, former general manager of the Ontario Bank expressed his gratification that the depositors are safe, when informed that the Ontario Bank, in its financial trouble, was to have the backing of other banks, and that an agreement to that effect had been reached and signed by the respective managers.

Mr. McGill was evidently under great nervous strain, and when shown a clipping referring to his alleged operation in stocks his hand trembled.

"That's not so; it's all rot!" he exclaimed as he proceeded to read of his alleged dealings in Tennessee Coal, Consolidated Gas and the speculation in a large banana plantation.

He further denies being associated with Mr. Cronte in business deals.

He declined to discuss his alleged speculations or investments, which it is said he made on behalf of the bank. He would neither confirm or deny the report that the funds of the bank were involved to the extent of one million dollars.

As regards the validity of the Ontario Bank notes, it might be noted that they are absolutely good. Each of the 35 banks chartered by the Dominion of Canada, has to make a deposit with the government of a large percentage of the face value of notes issued by the respective banks, and any possible deficit wherewith to meet their notes by the Ontario bank would be made good by the rest of the banks.

THE LOCAL BRANCH.

The local branch of the Ontario Bank is in a most healthy and flourishing condition, the manager, Mr. John Crane having, with consummate skill and diplomacy, backed up by a large and growing popularity among all classes of the community made the Peterborough agency possibly the largest and most lucrative branch of this bank.

ENTERTAIN A QUEEN UNAWARES

Frenchmen Won by Simplicity and Gracious Ways of Margaret.

Paris, October 13.—Queen Margaret of Savoy, the King of Italy's mother, put up at the village inn at Autun, near Dijon, on her recent motoring trip. She won the hearts of the French officers stationed there by a gracious action.

The queen, who arrived with only two ladies in waiting, was escorted into the common diningroom by the landlord, all unsuspecting that his guest was royal. The officers gave only an appreciative glance at the ladies, who were seated at a separate table.

When dessert was served the queen ordered the waiter to ask the colonel of the regiment if Margaret of Savoy could offer champagne to his soldiers in which to pledge her health. The astonished officers sprang to their feet and raised their glasses to the good fairy whom they had entertained unawares. The queen offered a graceful toast. Her simplicity so charmed them that they formed a bodyguard and escorted her to the outskirts of the town.

Fire Fiend at Work Last Night

Last night about seven o'clock the fire alarm brought out the brigade for a long run, that might have been saved. Last night's fire was a clear case of incendiarism; the beginning of last night's fire was when on Friday night a clear attempt at arson was perpetrated at Mr. Curtis residence, which is in Douro, some distance north of the Nicholls Oval. On that night, when Mr. Curtis, who drives a delivery cart for Adamson & Dolbin, of Simcoe street, arrived at his home he saw smoke pouring out of an open window of his residence. The family were all out at the time Mr. Curtis at once rushed into the house and, with difficulty succeeded in putting out the fire. Coal oil had been thrown all over the floor and the fiend had then set fire to the place and fled through the window, leaving it open behind him, so that a draft would cause the flames to destroy the house more quickly. Only Mr. Curtis' fortunate arrival in the nick of time saved the house.

Last night Mr. Curtis and his family were in the house. Mr. Curtis heard a peculiar noise and rushing out, saw that his barn was on fire. He saw a man rush towards the fence. The man turned and pointed a revolver at Mr. Curtis. Curtis ran into the house for his retover, when the man rushed across fields to the woods. Then remembering that two horses were in the rapidly burning barn, devoted his attention to trying to save the animals. At great risk, as flames were darting everywhere, he managed to get the horses, Mr. Curtis on his head to save the animals. He managed to get the latter straps loose, but the terrified animals refused to leave their stalls and were burnt to death. Whilst trying to save the horses Mr. Curtis was severely scorched, one hand being badly burnt. Had the fire fiend waited for a few minutes longer in starting his dastardly work some cows would have been in the barn and also burnt.

Owing to the barn being filled with hay, straw and other combustibles, it burnt too rapidly for any chance of saving the structure. It was only with the greatest difficulty that the house was saved, by a bucket brigade. When the fire brigade arrived, there being no hydrants or water supply available, all the fire fiddlers could do was to use the Hatchocks. Mr. Wheeler's house, which adjoins that of Curtis was only saved with difficulty. One of the horses burnt belonged to Mr. Curtis and one to Adamson & Dobbin.

It was not known last night what, if any, insurance, Mr. Curtis had, but the loss was heavy. Mr. Curtis has a good description of the man who set fire to his barn, and it is to be hoped an arrest, with heavy punishment will follow.

Arabs Continually Defeat Turks.

Constantinople, October 15.—The rebellion against Turkish rule in the Province of Yemen, Arabia, shows no sign of subsiding, and whenever a pitched battle is fought the rebellious Arabs seem to be victorious over the unwilling conscripts sent to subdue them. Severe fighting has occurred in the district of Azir between the Government troops and the tribe of Benichar, in which the Turks were routed with the loss of 100 men killed and 60 wounded. The casualties of the Arabs are estimated at 300.

Man and Wife Killed by Train.

Binghamton, N. Y., October 15.—A special to the press from Whitney Point, says Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Parsons were killed by a Lackawanna engine there last night.

UNDER THE MANAGEMENT OF
JOHN CRANE

THE DOMINION BANK UNDER MR. J. CRANE

Another New Bank Opens in This City Tomorrow in Vacant Store to West of Ontario Bank.

That Peterborough is rapidly forging ahead in the eyes of both the industrial and financial circles of Canada is daily being demonstrated. Following on the failure of the Ontario Bank, and consequent closing of one of Peterborough's leading banks, The Times is able to announce that the Dominion Bank opens a branch in this city tomorrow in temporary premises, viz., in the vacant store, recently occupied by Messrs. Rich. Hall & Son, immediately to the west of the former Ontario Bank.

It will be pleasing intelligence to the many friends of Mr. John Crane who until Saturday night, has so ably managed the local branch of the Ontario Bank, that this eminent local financier, has accepted the position of local manager of the Dominion Bank. With Mr. Crane in charge of this latest addition to Peterborough's banks the success of the Dominion Bank here as elsewhere is assured.

The Dominion Bank, which has its headquarters in Toronto, is one of the strongest and most flourishing banks operating in the Dominion of Canada. The paid up capital of the Dominion Bank is $3,000,000 with a reserve fund of $3,800,000, which latter in proportion to capital shows great strength and progressive management. The Dominion Bank has 40 branches throughout Canada, and its stock is listed high among Canada's strongest financial institutions.

This latest accession to the local banks has forty branches in business in Canada. Its total deposits amount to $33,000,000 and total assets of $42,000,000.

The officers of the bank are Mr. E. B. Osler, M.P., president; Mr. W. D. Matthews, vice-president; Mr. Clarence A. Bogert, general manager. The directors are, Messrs. A. W. Austin, W. R. Brock, R. J. Christie, Timothy Eaton and Hon. J. J. Foy.

Want no War For Such a Trifle

London, Oct. 15.—The Statist says, "It would be monstrous if a serious quarrel were allowed to spring up between this country and our American kinsmen because of the Newfoundland fisheries. It would be better, infinitely better, to bear the cost of whatever damage may be inflicted up on Newfoundland than run the risk of a serious quarrel. The arrangement respecting Behring Straits caused utter disappointment, and, in fact, almost every act of the home government touching the colonies does give more or less dissatisfaction. It is not surprising that this should be so, for the colonies have not the due representation in negotiations they ought to have."

The Saturday Review concludes a long article, says; "We imagine some of the public men in Newfoundland do not realize the sanctity of treaties or the gravity of repudiating them, and that they would do better if they could be brought within the education and influence of an Imperial Council. Pending the formation of such a body, Newfoundland would consult her interests by seeking admission to the Dominion, though we fear the time is not yet ripe, and insular patriotism is still too strong for that step just yet."

The Spectator, referring to the Roman Catholic Archbishop of St. John's remarks, says; "The government were quite right to arrange a modus vivendi. It would be impossible for the whole Empire to go to war with the United States over a small fishery dispute. War, thus provoked, would fall neither upon us nor on Newfoundland, owing to our immense preponderance at sea, but upon Canadians."

Varsity to Drop Rugby

On Account of This Year's Fatalities, the Game Will Probably be Black-Listed.

It now looks as though the nerve and muscle straining game of rugby is to be tabood at Toronto University on account of the fatalities and accidents which have already occurred on Varsity's grounds this year. Although the season is only recently commenced two students, Cameron Paulin and W. Glynn Ellis, are dead, and Ray Forsythe has a broken leg. Such terrible results from playing the game have again given great prominence to the question as to whether the game should not be prohibited. A report is to be made as to Cameron Paulin's death, and the result will likely be to put an end to Rugby at Varsity.

Standard Oil Trial Reveals Things

Findlay, Ohio, October 15.—Disclosures yesterday in the trial of the Standard Oil Company, of Ohio, have suggested to men interested in the prosecution of oil and other trusts that at least one large combination of capital in the United States, frightened by the aggressive action of authorities against illegal corporations, and by the likelihood of future hostile legislation, has devised means of evading federal and state regulations affecting them in this country. That the indicted concern in Ohio, the Manhattan Oil Company, was owned by holding by a company in England, the General Industrial and Development Company, of London, was admitted on the stand by its president, who testified under the promise of immunity. The lawyers are speculating as to whether other big corporations in this country did not seek similar refuge.

FIGHT OVER POWER QUESTION

Winnipeg Aldermen Strongly Against Municipal Ownership.

Winnipeg, October 15.—The fight over the power question in Winnipeg is growing bitter. Despite the fact the city has come to terms with Cecil B. Smith, the power companies are lobbying at the city hall for the right to bring power into the city. One company already has made an offer and another will make a proposition this week.

To complicate matters, two outside companies are at loggerheads over their water rights, and there promises to be a big legal fight.

There is a big factor in the council fighting against municipal development, claiming the city's finances are such as not to warrant it.

FEIGNING DEATH SAVES LIFE

Chauncey Brooks McCormick Tells of His Battle With Buck.

New Haven, Conn., October 13.—Chauncey Brooks McCormick, the Yale senior, who was yesterday gored by a buck, said today he saved his life only by feigning death when the animal attacked him.

"I knew that if I moved he would finish me," said McCormick. The buck carried my body dangling a hundred yards on his antlers and then threw me down and tore my body with his horns. After he thought he had killed me he started away."

Surgeons occupied hours stitching up the long and deep gashes made in McCormick's body by the antlers. His back and right arm and leg were torn, but unless blood poisoning sets in he will recover. McCormick is president of the Yale French club.

Kills Father to Save Mother.

Marion, Ill., October 13.—Scott Boatwright was shot and killed this afternoon by his son Clyde, who used the revolver in defense of his mother. The father, who was drunk, had been attempting to kill the son with an ax, when the mother appeared and was made the object of the old man's attack. The sheriff investigated, but decided that no arrest was necessary.

G. T. R. Short Cut Open to Lindsay

The first train of the new link in the Grand Trunk line, or what is more commonly known as the "short cut," in the grain route to Midland, entered Lindsay on Friday morning, and later on in the day a Grand Trunk official passenger car passed down the line and went through to Belleville. Now that the short cut has been opened a great deal of the traffic which formerly came over the long grade on Victoria avenue, will henceforth be switched on to the new route. Contractor Johnston has made good progress on the cut and has done the work well. All the ballasting material was secured from a large pit at Fenelon Falls, and is of the best quality.

Magistrate McSweyn Passed Away

On Saturday the sad news reached Peterborough that Mr. John McSweyn, police magistrate for the County of Victoria was dead.

Mr. McSweyn had gone to Coboconk on Wednesday evening to preside in his official capacity, but was compelled to adjourn the court owing to illness. His condition grew serious and word was sent to his home in Lindsay, when his daughter, Miss Virgie, left to wait on him. During the night, Mr. McSweyn's condition grew steadily worse, and he passed away early on Saturday morning.

Mr. I. Eastwood's Rich Gold Mine

Mr Isaac Eastwood has returned after a week's trip to New Ontario to look after a rich gold mine he owns on the Wahnapitae River. The samples Mr. Eastwood has brought back are very rich in free gold. Not only is the flake gold scattered plentifully throughout the quartz, but the ore is of the easiest class to work. Judging by the samples taken at random, this mine will run thousands of dollars to the ton of ore. It is one of the most promising mines on the continent. Since Mr. Eastwood's previous visit some one had set fire to the cottage he had there. On this account he had to sleep in the open under the trees.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

On conclusion of Saturday's police court, a young married woman living on Smith street, accompanied by her husband and little boy, appeared before the magistrate, and as a result an information was laid, and the case will be tried at this morning's police court. The lady who laid a charge of trespassing against the alleged offender, stated that indecent proposals were made to her by a married man of this city, while she was working at the rear of her house. He walked through the building from the front door, she says, and offered her money, when making improper proposals.

THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA HERE

Still Another Bank Has Decided to Open Here, Having Secured Temporary Premises.

Peterborough seems to have lately drawn the attention of the banking world of Canada on her marked progress, both industrially and financially, and it is a matter of congratulation for her citizens to see so clearly demonstrated that the whole Dominion, as expressed by the monetary press has faith in the ultimate growth and prosperity of this city.

Mr Neil, inspector of the Royal Bank of Canada, has been in the city for some days concluding arrangements for opening a branch of that bank, and on Saturday made definite arrangements whereby he has secured temporary premises for a branch in Peterborough. This gentleman who will assume, at least, temporary charge of the local branch, is in the city, and will open the local branch as soon as possible.

The Royal Bank of Canada, is one of the strongest, most progressive, although conservative in the Dominion of Canada, having a paid up capital of $3,500,000, and a reserve fund of $4,200,000. The Royal Bank has seventy-three branches, including those in Canada and other countries, and has representatives in all the large banking circles of the world.

The head offices of the bank are in Montreal, and the directors at that point are Mr. Thos. E. Kenny, president, Mr. H. S. Holt, president of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co.; Mr. James Redmond, general manager of the Ames Holden Company, Ltd., and Mr. F. W. Thompson, vice-president of the Ogilvie Milling Company. There is every reason to suppose that so strong a bank as the Royal, with its many agencies, and well known directors, will obtain a large share of local patronage.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle, of Moncton, N. B, Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for woman's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, gave me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the place of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn, U. S. A, and Kingston, Ont.

THE HEARST CAMPAIGN

The Chicago Public, one of the most aggressively radical publications in the United States, takes a view of the Hearst candidature in New York which may indicate something of the attitude that the radical element will assume. The Public does not like Hearst. It says that the way in which he brought about fusion between his Independence League and the Democracy "makes the heads of politicians of all parties swim with amazement," and has no doubt but that there was a deal with Tammany. Moreover, it charges him with being "a political self-seeker, who, though he often leads good causes, seldom if ever prefers his cause to himself." And this charge it supports with instances such as Hearst's defeat of the Democrat-Radical Maguire in California, "because he could not use him for personal purposes," his attack upon Henry George in the New York Mayoralty contest in which that greater died, his attitude toward Mayor Dunne in Chicago, and his coldness toward Tom Johnson in Ohio, and Bryan when he went abroad a year ago.

But in spite of all this, The Public urges all "progressive voters" to poll for Hearst. A vote against him will be understood as a vote against the causes which he has espoused, and unless the Radicals are determined to vote against the progressive movement, until the angels come down to Hearst. It is altogether likely that this feeling will get Hearst, the standard bearer, a great many votes which would never go to Hearst, the man. Then there are the people who want "something done" to the trust combinations which the Hearst papers politely call the plunderbund. They do not agree with all the Hearst program, and they thoroughly dislike his style of journalism. But they would like to see a man with a war club prancing down Wall street, and they think that this would be about the "yellow" sort of antic that would appeal to Hearst. President Roosevelt was probably not astray when he urged the Republicans to beware of over-confidence and to "look out for Hearst."

20,000 SWEDISH IMMIGRANTS

To be Brought to Canadaby the Salvation Army.

London, Oct. 14.—The News Hamburger Zeitung says that the Swedish Government has learned that the confidential council of the Salvation Army in London has arranged for Swedish Agencies to start immediately with preparations for a "delivery" of 20,000 Swedish immigrants or immigrants of Scandinavian nationality.

The reason given for this most particular "order" was supposed to be the keeping of a promise of General Booth, given to the Canadian Government about fifteen years ago, to bring a contingent of Scandinavian Salvation Army members to Canada.

The article concludes by saying that the support that the Salvation Army had in these northern countries in their social and philanthropical work from the governments of these countries has now ceased for once and all time.

Case of Leprosy In Montréal

Montreal, Oct. 13.—Montreal is said to have leprosy within its borders.

Albina Fleboire, a woman of 45 years of age, is now at the Montreal jail, and there is reason to believe she is suffering from the terrible plague.

The woman has been suffering for olves, years from sores all over her body. Her face is so covered with these sores that it is almost impossible to distinguish the features.

Before her arrest in St. Henri the on Aug. 30 last, she had been taking in washing, although for some time previous to that she had been in receipt of a disorderly house where low characters of all nationalities were wont to foregather.

A commission of doctors composed of Dr. Picot, the civil physician, Dr. Wade and Dr. Laberge, city medical officer, has gone to the female Jail today to study the case of the unfortunate woman and report thereon to civic authorities.

Should the case prove to be one of leprosy the woman will probably be removed to the Lazaretto at Tracadie, N.B.

FORTUNE AWAITS THEM

Toronto, Oct. 13.—A little fortune of between $20,000 and $25,000 awaits Clara Eva Dolsen and her child, who was born in Toronto twenty years ago.

Clara Eva Parther, or Spafford, as she was sometimes known, was a prisoner in the Mercer, and Cornelius Dolson was serving a term in the Central Prison.

Both were released about the same time, and the woman found her way to be Haven. The two were friends before, and a "marriage was arranged" at the suggestion of those in charge of the Haven.

A child was born, but as the husband and wife had separated, it was taken to a home for infants. The mother was the daughter of an English Church clergyman, and had wealthy relatives. A sum between £4,000 and £5,000 has been left her, and a firm of solicitors in Bolton, Lancashire county, England, is advertising in American papers for information as to mother or child.

A copy of the advertisement came to Mr. Taylor, city relief officer, and he remembered the couple as those for whom he had purchased the marriage license over twenty years ago. He has traced the husband to a city over the border, and the mother and child to England, but there the clue is lost.

Paid For the "Von."

Either in an unguarded moment or with premeditation Herr Georg Grell of Coburg signed his name "von Grell" and was straightway taken to court charged with false pretenses and asked to produce documentary evidence justifying his appropriation of the "von." The best he could do was to display an ancient hatbox which contained the "von" in gold letters. The hatbox had belonged to his father. The evidence was not accepted, and, his father being dead, Herr Georg was fined 500 marks for "falsely assuming a title to which he had no right."

The Putnam Cottage.

The Putnam cottage in Greenwich, Conn., is to be dedicated as a museum by Putnam chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. This is a small house whose legend is that Israel Putnam was occupying it as his quarters when surprised by British cavalry, and he dashed away on his trusty mare down the precipitous steps of "Put's hill," was shot at, but turned at the foot of the steps and shouted, "I'll hang ye to the next tree when I get ye!" The cottage is about 200 years old.

Oldest Fixed Date In History.

Professor James E. Breasted, the Egyptologist, who has lately returned to this country from Egypt, writes that the oldest fixed date in history is 4241 B. C. In that year, he says, the calendar was established, the year beginning on what would now be July 19. Consequently the calendar now in use is 6,147 years old. The professor arrived at these conclusions during his long exploration trip to the Nile valley, when he compared the astronomical dates in the old and middle kingdoms of Egypt.

Champion Whittler.

B. F. Clay of Philadelphia, a retired ship carpenter nearly eighty years of age, is said to be the champion whittler of the world, says Technical World Magazine. Aided only by his penknife and a piece of sandpaper he has cut from a single block of wood a quadruple linked watch chain, over three feet long and many other exceedingly delicate and difficult pieces of work. During the last few years, since his retirement, Mr. Clay has cut scores of watch chains.

Twenty Minutes Time Enough?

To Cure the Worst Headache From Any Cause—New Reduction Method.

Most headaches and pains yield instantly to the new Reduction Method—Dr. Shoop's Twenty Minute Headache Cure. The cause for these pains is congestion—a rushing of blood to the nerve centers—which distends the veins to nearly the bursting point. Swollen and enlarged, these veins and capillaries exert an irritating pressure on the myriads of nerve branches and fibres. Then, there's pain, and finally that excruciating, consc- less ache. This new Reduction Method disperses the blood, distributes the overflow, and dilates it to the per channels. It frees the nerve erves from all pressure and irritation—the pains and neben disappear because their cause has been re moved. You may try thou- and remedies—you may drug and stupify the nerves into submission—but the remedy which brings prompt relief and permanent cure will be successful because it reduces the congestion—it must subdue the Reduction Method. Medicine has thus found a way—simple and sure, yet the only way—to thoroughly overcome these attacks of Headache and Neuralgia. The effect of Dr. Shoop's Twenty Minute Headache Cure is prompt, perfectly suited to all forms of Headache and absolutely positive in every temperament. For sale and recommended by

A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

A GOOD CANADIAN REPRESENTATIVE WANTED

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

the jury-box, where the faces of the jurors were very grave; he glanced to the right, where the witnesses for the defense seemed sorrowful and despondent; to the left, where those for the prosecution appeared confident and vindictive. And then from all these bloodthirsty or despairing faces his eyes turned for rest and comfort upon the beautiful, pale brow of his devoted wife, as she sat close to the dock, sustained by the proximity of the venerable Dr. Clark.

The crier called silence in the court, and Mr. Fulmer, the junior counsel for the prisoner, arose to open the defense.

This advocate was young, ardent, enthusiastic, eloquent and armed with perfect faith in the innocence of his client and the consequent justice of his cause.

He began by reviewing the address of the Crown's counsel, and pulling to pieces with great ingenuity the enormous mass of testimony raised against his client. It was all circumstantial evidence at best, he said; a mere mountain of fog, that could not stand for a moment before the clear sunlight of his client's irreproachable character. The dying declaration of the agonized and distracted man, upon which such great stress had been laid, could not be distorted into an accusation of his client, since the name of Mr. Cassinove had not been mentioned. If the dying man clung with a death-grip to the prisoner, he clung to him only as his preserver. The deportment of Cassinove when discovered at the bedside of Sir Vincent Lester was not that of detected guilt; he exhibited no agitation except a benevolent anxiety to procure medical assistance for the wounded man. Neither could there be any adequate motive on the part of Mr. Cassinove for the perpetration of so heinous a crime. The enmity said to have been observed between the prisoner and the deceased was not proved by any overt act on the part of either; the alleged enmity, therefore, existed only in the opinions of those who had testified concerning it. And, finally, Mr. Cassinove's whole life, from childhood up to the very hour of his arrest, had been distinguished for the love and practice of truth, justice and benevolence, and they formed the most overwhelming refutation of the heinous charge that had been brought against him. He would undertake to establish by unquestionable testimony every point that he here advanced. And he hoped and believed that the jury, after hearing this testimony, would acquit the prisoner before leaving their seats. For, in view of Mr. Cassinove's irreproachable character, the slight foundation of the charge brought against him, and the strength of his cause, he would venture to claim for his client not only an honorable acquittal, but a triumphant vindication!

Merely to show the line of the defense, I have given this sketch of the young counsel's opening speech—a skeleton that he filled out and clothed with all the wealth of his legal acumen, and all the richness of his burning eloquence.

At the close of his speech, he called to the stand the Rev. Henry Watson.

The venerable pastor advanced, and being duly sworn, testified that he had known Ferdinand Cassinove, the prisoner, from his infancy up to the present moment and had always known him as distinguished for perfect integrity, pure conscientiousness, and, above all, for a fervent benevolence that had often moved him to acts of great self-sacrifice to save others from even trifling sufferings. And here the venerable pastor related several instances in which he had seen those qualities of conscientiousness and benevolence severely tested and brightly illustrated.

He withdrew from the stand amid murmurs of surprise from the spectators, whom his evidence had seriously impressed in favor of the prisoner.

Dr. Clark, the next witness, corroborated the testimony of his predecessor as to the excellence of the prisoner's moral character, and also to his appearance and manner on the night of the murder, which, witness said, were not those of a guilty man.

Many other witnesses corroborated the statement of the clergyman and the physician, among whom was Colonel Hastings, who gave his testimony with an earnestness and even solemnity that made a great impression.

The young Percy Lester was called to the stand, and again every head was lifted, and every neck strained, to get sight of the youngest son of the murdered man in the witness-box on the part of the prisoner; and murmurs of sympathy passed the crowd as they gazed upon the lad standing there in his deep mourning, with his earnest young face upturned towards the clerk who was administering the oath.

What the boy had to say was not much, and yet it made a very great impression, for he spoke with a fervent, earnest, loving faith in the prisoner's innocence, and his unvarying kindness toward every creature, and he gave many instances of that kindness.

When examined on the subject of the enmity alleged to have existed between the deceased and the prisoner, the boy said:

"There was only a coolness between my father and Mr. Cassinove; but Mr. Cassinove did not hate my father; he always respected and admired him, and taught me to reverence him."

The cross-examination of the lad only brought out this testimony with increased force.

And here closed the examination of witnesses for the defense.

The senior counsel for the prisoner arose and addressed the jury in a powerful speech, made up a review of the evidence, strengthened by sound logic, illumined by clear reason, and warmed by burning eloquence.

And here rested the defense.

There was no rebutting evidence offered. The counsel for the Crown said that they were not disposed to question the previous good character of the prisoner in order to prove him capable of committing that crime which it was already abundantly proved that he had committed. They had nothing to do with the prisoner's past life; they took him up from the moment of his perpetration of the felony that had placed him at the bar; and they would only recall the attention of the jury to that indestructible mass of evidence which neither the logic of the learned counsel who had just preceded him, nor the eloquence of the talented advocate who had opened the defense, had been able to move. There stood the convicting fact as firm as ever—the prisoner discovered in the very attitude of assassination, with the weapon of secret murder in his hand, held arrested in the grasp of the dying man, whose very last words accused him as his assassin. That was the fact proved by more than a dozen eyewitnesses; the fact that could not be explained away by any ingenuity of sophistry, and upon that convicting fact the prosecution would rest its case. And he resumed his seat.

Here Laura turned very pale, and dropped her face in her hands; but only for an instant; then recovering herself, she looked up in time to meet Cassinove's anxious gaze with a smile of encouragement.

The judge rose to charge the jury. He summed up the evidence on both sides, characterizing that of the prosecution as strong and irrefutable testimony, and that of the defense as an affecting expression of feeling and opinion on the part of the witnesses, calculated rather to move the sympathies than to convince the reason of the jury, whose duty it was to be guided by reason rather than sympathy, and to bring in their verdict in accordance with facts rather than opinions. But after hearing and well weighing the evidence on both sides of this case, if a single doubt of the prisoner's guilt disturbed their judgment, he enjoined them, in the name of justice and humanity to give the prisoner the benefit of that doubt.

The judge resumed his seat, and the jury, in charge of the deputy sheriff, retired to another room, to deliberate upon their verdict.

LOVE'S AWAKING.

The first time that my lover said my name
It seemed as if the earth broke into flame
And put on majesty, and in my heart
Grew music when my lover said my name.

The second time my lover said my name
The earth seemed changed, but still I knew the same.
The birds all sang for me, and every flower
Was mine because my lover said my name.

The third time that my lover said my name
A sudden silence on the earth there came,
And in the hush of it my trembling heart
Was still, for my lover said my name.

TOM LEWIS WAS CLOSE

Ran Regimental Canteen and Gave Very Little Away.

Goderich, Oct. 12.—Tom Lewis, of London, whom recent developments have made notorious, is particularly well known to the boys of the 33rd Huron Regiment.

During the camp of this year and last year a London Lewis ran the men's canteen and was caterer for the officers' mess as well.

Militiamen do not expect overly much principle in a "barkeep," but Jim one earned the reputation of being the "closes" man "on the job."

The boys who paid 40c for a dozen bananas and top price for everything else with nothing "on the house," will not soon forget big Tom Lewis.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 250 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

YOU FEEL TIRED ALL THE TIME

Night comes and it's hard to sleep. Morning dawns and the anxious tired feeling is still there. Unwilling to get up, a strong desire to rest just a little longer.

Unwise to neglect this gradual decline. It can't cure itself—but Ferrozone by forming rich pure blood at once supplies nutriment for building up the system. This extra nourishment is distributed throughout the entire body, gives force to the nerves, strength to the muscle, and power to the digestive organs.

At once you feel braced, toned, strengthened. You know a powerful force is building up depleted energies, you realize what it means to have the vim and spirit of robust health.

Search the world over and you won't find a tonic to nourish, build up, and fortify a weak body like Ferrozone. Physicians claim it is the best all round strengthening medicine ever discovered.

To take Ferrozone regularly is an insurance policy of health, a guarantee that you will be free from vexatious spells of tiredness and debilitating sickness of every kind. Surely it's worth while trying a medicine that Mrs. H. S. Gold, of Bowsman, Man., speaks of as follows:

"I want to state my case, because I think it may be the means of assisting other suffering women to health. A year ago I was almost a wreck. I was pale and emaciated, suffered from nervousness and hysteria. Little things that went wrong in the house bothered me. The doctor advised different treatments, but they didn't help. He said my low condition of health was due to weakness that might never be cured. Ferrozone had a peculiar grateful effect and built me up quickly. The ills I suffered from are cured. I am now strong and vigorous, and was made so by Ferrozone." (Signed) Mrs. H. S. Gold.

Before your ill-health assumes a chronic or malignant form build up with Ferrozone. Sold everywhere, 50c per box or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

STICKS IN THE STOMACH

Feeling That Often Comes to People With Weak Digestion.

A poor sufferer from indigestion once said that his stomach felt as though it was filled with sticks and as though some of them were on fire and burning him up inside.

When the stomach and the organs of digestion and nutrition are weakened and do not act properly, the symptoms of ill health that follow are many and varied. There is often a feeling of heaviness in the stomach, there is distress and nervousness, dizziness, nausea, nervous and sick headaches, inability to sleep well, pains in the side and limbs, specks before the eyes and a general peevish, irritable condition.

All these troubles are the direct result of indigestion. Cure this by strengthening the stomach and digestive system with Mi-o-na stomach tablets and your symptoms of ill health will vanish like dew before the morning sun; life will be joyous, and digestion will be so natural that you will forget you have a stomach.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets cost but 50c a box and are sold under an absolute guarantee that they will be successful in every case where used according to directions or money will be refunded.

Gas Main Trench Walls Cover Boy to His Shoulders.

What might easily have proved a fatality occurred Saturday morning at the corner of George and Simcoe streets.

It seems that a boy named Oliver Guerin, water carrier to the gang laying the large new gas mains here, was walking inside the deep trench dug for the pipes when suddenly the south bank caved in, covering the boy to his shoulders. The workmen rushed at once to his assistance, but the earth had packed in closely round the boy, and it took fifteen minutes work to release him. Guerin was almost unconscious when rescued.

When examined in Ormond & Walsh's drug store, where he was carried, he complained of a sore back, and his legs were bruised and crushed by the pressure of the earth. The boy was taken in a cab to his home on Crescent street, where he was attended by Dr. McGrath.

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's pecular diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which is in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate, nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.

Newfoundland Troubles Give Vent to Opinions in Mother Country

RESENTMENT ON MINISTRY

Many Criticize British Government While Ministerial Apologists say Trouble is Not Serious.

London, October 15.—The latest developments in the Newfoundland crisis causes no small uneasiness in ministerial quarters, especially among those whose influence opposes "Little Englandism" of the extreme Radical section, and much prominence is given in the press to the outspoken criticism of Templeman's Journal in Victoria, as indicating the policy of the Canadian Government's active sympathy with Newfoundland's resentment at the action of the English ministry in overriding Colonial legislation at the bidding of the United States. The Standard plainly declares this is a grotesque conception of the relation which is proper to exist between a self-governing Colony and the Imperial Government.

Newfoundland's irritation is mostly of political manufacture, and ask in so many words why does not Newfoundland go into the Confederation as Canadian statesmanship would moderate her extravagant claims. They forget the Alaskan fiasco. One thing certain is this: the Newfoundland incident following the Alaska, Natal and New Hebrides affairs, greatly strengthens the demands for larger colonial powers in internal affairs, which they will happily prepare to press at the Colonial conference next April.

300,000 Victims of Year's Plague

Lahore, October 14.—The report on the plague in the United Provinces in 1906, which has just been issued by Major Chator White, shows that entire districts have been swept, and that over 300,000 people died from its effects.

The Muttra district, which was the worst, had 48,844 deaths, as against 4,185 in 1904. "The scourge paralyzed the people," is the collector's graphic description.

It is believed that the rat flea is chiefly responsible for the spread of the plague, and war has been waged against rats. Here is the rats' death record. Bareilly, 215,105 rats killed; Allahabad, 68,466 rats killed; Budaun, 65,241 rats killed; Agra, 57,711 rats killed.

Most of the municipalities gave rat traps away to the inhabitants, and Major Chator White urges that the rat war should be carried on indefinitely.

Count Witte Has Enough.

Paris Oct. 15.—Count Witte, when questioned yesterday by the Associated Press in the matter of the St. Petersburg reports of a movement in Russia to induce him to resume the direction of Russian finances, said: "Never, never will I return to power. I do not desire to speak ill of the Emperor, who is my imperial master and to whom I owe everything, nor of the Government, nor of my country, but I have said enough. You cannot make that statement too emphatic."

BUILDING A BIG DAM

One to Cost $10,000,000 to Be Constructed Across Mississippi.

Chicago, October 15.—A $10,000,000 dam to be built across the Mississippi, furnishing a force which will generate 250,000 horse power, is the latest word in civil engineering circles, told by W. H. Pringle in his article "The Mississippi as a Mill Stream," in the Technical World magazine for October. This dam will furnish more power than does Niagara Falls at the present time, and is being promoted by a syndicate aggregating $30,000,000 in capital, who have already spent $50,000 in preliminary surveys, etc. The article gives a clear account of the curious difficulties which had to be overcome in promoting this project—showing the government had spent $5,000,000 in building a canal for navigation of the river past the rapids opposite Keokuk, Ia., and that the new water power scheme would necessitate the overflooding of this great national canal. But nevertheless congress was induced to look with favor on the undertaking, as the promise was made that, although, as the works in the neighborhood would be drowned out, new ones would be constructed without cost to Uncle Sam, and that $40,000 a year would ultimately be saved the government in the cost of operating their canal. It is expected that the actual construction work on the dam will commence the first of the year.

St. John's Church Love Feast Noted

The Toronto News editorially says—"It was no merely academic discussion on "How the Church May Best Serve the Community," which took place in Peterborough a few days ago. The municipality and the Ministerial Association deserve credit for having brought about a condition of affairs which has made it possible for members and laymen to express honest and intelligent opinions on how civic and church life may be improved without at the same time exciting ill-tempered recrimination. This result has been obtained by continued and well-directed effort, no small share of the credit for which belongs to the Rev. Canon Davidson, president of the Peterborough Ministerial Association. Any conference on the subject has, to a certain extent attained its object, which develops a conviction that to be most useful the church must be regarded as part of the community, and no as separated from it. To adopt the phrase of Mr. Hughes Charles, manager of the Bank of Commerce at Peterborough, "The Church represents both the laity and the clergy, and if the church is helping the best interests of the community we are simply helping ourselves." Just as true was it by the Courier's saying that the church has an opportunity to free public life from undue partisanship. Both the community and the church cannot fail to gain greatly by any interchange of ideas which will bring about an understanding that full citizenship includes an obligation to make public affairs righteous as well as conspicuously successful. Peterborough has set an enlightened and praiseworthy example which other municipalities would do well to follow.

Suicided by Hanging.

Quebec, October 15.—Norbert Cote, aged about 50 years, was found hanged in his barn on Wednesday at Windsor Mills. He leaves a wife and one son, and it is feared that he committed suicide, as his mind has been unbalanced for some time past.

MORE PARTICULARS RE BANK FAILURE

The Bank's Shortage May Reach a Million and a Quarter Seemingly Due to General Manager's Speculations.

The Ontario Bank loses, it is estimated will amount to $1,294,000, in seemingly alleged speculation by some officer of the Bank. The criminality or otherwise has yet to be proven.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ontario Bank was held yesterday afternoon, to formally sign, seal and deliver the contract with the Bank of Montreal. E. S. Clouston, president of the Bank of Montreal, and W. S. Clouston arrived in Toronto yesterday morning.

President Cockburn says: "I honestly believe that General Manager McGill's speculations began in an effort on his part to enlarge the bank. One step led to another, and towards the last he became reckless."

Ex-Manager McGill says: "The loans were made in pursuance of the bank's business. Losses were made on securities. I deny that I have been engaged in speculation with the bank funds on my own account."

Some investments made in McGill's own name, have been turned over to the bank.

The speculations were mainly in American stocks. Some of the last ventures were very wild.

On Saturday President Cockburn of the Ontario Bank announced that this notice had been sent to the various branch managers:

"Until further instructions regard all the assets and property of your bank as the property of the Bank of Montreal, and regard yourself as acting for that bank."

In an interview, Mr. Cockburn said: "We get a bonus of $1,000,000 and everything over at the end. The other banks are willing to back the Bank of Montreal to the extent of two and a half millions. Yes, and here's something else. The bankers' fund, you know, guarantees a five per cent. premium on our notes."

The Ontario Bank directors are not superseded by the transfer. The question of criminal action has not yet been discussed. Pecuniary, no moral, dividends are sought a present. Discussing the matter of instituting a prosecution, Attorney-General Foy has said that his department had no information of any wrong-doing upon which the Crown could act. If President Cockburn or any shareholder have information to lay before the authorities had been committed, he could lay an information with the magistrate and the law would be set in operation in the ordinary way.

President Cockburn intimates that the shareholders, when settlement is made, may not lose much. An expert accountant began work yesterday on the books, and as soon as his report is completed a general meeting of the shareholders of the Ontario Bank will be called.

The "run" on the Ontario Bank in Toronto on Saturday morning will go down in banking history as an affair somewhat lacking in the dramatic interest that usually belongs to an event of the kind. In the head office, Toronto, and in each of the several branches throughout the city placards appeared soon after the opening, bearing the simple announcement: "This is the Bank of Montreal." The effect was marked in each case, a number of anxious depositors deciding to allow their accounts to stand, while remarks freely passed from lip to lip highly complimentary to the soundness of the Bank of Montreal.

THE "EMPIRE" SPEAKS.

The Mail and Empire of yesterday, referring to the recent crash says, that "The loss sustained by the Ontario Bank, owing to speculations of General Manager McGill may total the paid-up capital of $1,500,000. Mr. McGill admits a shortage of one and a quarter millions. An expert is now conducting an investigation of the books. The general manager, so it is announced has been submitting false returns to the directors for several years to cover up his speculations. He will in all probability be apprehended. A director of the Ontario Bank stated to the Mail and Empire representative that matters were in such a chaotic state it was really hard to say whether the shareholders would realize 50 per cent. on their stock or would be called upon to pay 25 per cent. or more. He had every reason to believe that the statement presented at the last annual meeting on June 19, had been so prepared as to deceive not only the directors, but the auditors. While there was not the slight cat dupont of the culpability of the general manager, it was just question who her the directors could be held responsible for the acts of Mr McGill. The director in question said it was a matter of the deepest regret that such a sound and promising institution should be wrecked by the speculative mania of its most trusted official. It was idle to speak of the general manager's operations as investments. They ran the gamut of some of the most speculative works on the New York market, and were even carried on to the wheat pit at Chicago. Buying speculative issues on margin with a reckless if not criminal disregard for the funds entrusted to his care was a procedure which could not be condoned, and of which the Government authorities must take cognizance."

MR. CHOATE SPEAKS.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—Mr. A. P. Choate when interviewed at the King Edward Hotel, said in part as follows:

"As my name has been connected with that of Mr. McGill in reference to the Ontario Bank difficulty, I say publicly that I have never at any time been interested, directly or indirectly, with him in stocks, at any time. Mr. McGill was formerly manager of the Ontario Bank at Peterborough, my native town, and it was there I became acquainted with A. he lived at the King Edward Hotel I naturally saw considerable of him But I knew no more about his affairs than any of his hundreds of Peterborough friends. His record in Peterborough was one of undoubted success, as he built up a very large, and profitable business for the bank there. It was the general sentiment there that the Ontario Bank had not only the largest business, but the safest local business. As to stock transactions I wish you to say that I have never gone into partnership, pools or joint accounts with any person or institution, at any time. I am not identified with the Ontario Bank and have not been a shareholder in it for some years past."

LIBERALS WOULDN'T FIGHT

Government Had Chosen Albert Mackie as its Candidate; and Refused to Countenance Interlopers.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—News filtering in from North Renfrew shows that hundreds of Liberals did not vote owing to their being two candidates in the field.

According to Pembroke people the Government did not want either Murray or McKay, and refused to intervene or make an effort to get McKay to retire.

It was felt that it would be better to suffer the criticism of losing the riding than to be bothered with unsatisfactory men.

The Government choice was Mr. Albert Mackie, son of the late T. Mackie, M.P., and with him in the field a fight would have been made for the riding.

As it was there was no organization and no effort to get out the vote.

Mr. R. Birmingham, of Toronto, thoroughly organized the riding for the Conservatives, and did it well.

WANT MUCH OF BROTHERS

Indian Secret Society Issues a Remarkable Circular.

Calcutta, October 15.—The Calcutta Englishman publishes a remarkable circular emanating from a native secret society. Its tenor may be gathered from the following extracts: "Golden Bengal—Fifty thousand people are required to die: you all be ready. What is the good of crying any more? The only thing is to give out blood from the heart. Wherever you are assembled together, you promise that you will break the nests of the Feringhi Babul-birds, tearing them to pieces and throwing them into the waters of the Ganges. Until we do this we shall not see our interests looked after.

"Come, brothers, wherever you are—Brahmin, Kayastha, Sudra, Chundal, Mussulman, Christian, who is thinking it glory to style himself 'Son of Bengal,' come, brothers, assemble together, let us forget all mean self interest."

Successful Social and Promenade

Was That Given by St. John's Anglican Young People's Association Last Night.

The social and promenade given last night by St. John's Anglican Young People's Association was a big success in every way. An unusually large gathering of guests were present in St. John's spacious school house, where the business of the association's annual meeting was held immediately preceding a very acceptable program of vocal and instrumental music. The promenades, an innovation to entertainments of this nature were freely participated in by the young people present to the stirring accompaniment on the piano of Miss Sherley Wesley, Miss I. Hogan, Miss English and the church's choirmaster, Mr. R. J. Devey.

The vocal numbers were of an exceptionally pleasing character, as evidenced by the numerous encores demonstratively insisted upon. The contributions by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Firth were splendidly and artistically rendered, and the association owe this talented couple a debt of gratitude for their kind services last night, when the young people were more than anxious that this function should prove a success in every way.

The program was followed by refreshments served in the basement in an informal manner, which proved a very acceptable termination to a very happy evening.

Mr. Chas. Reid was the gathering's unanimous choice as president for the ensuing year. This will be Mr. Reid's second year as president of the society which has during its four years' of existence proved a valuable adjunct to St. John's church, and the continued success and prosperity of which is undoubtedly assured.

WORK of DISBANDING

Now Almost Complete in Cuba, But United States Will Not Immediately Withdraw.

Havana, Oct. 15.—The United States, through its Peace Commissioners, is not ready to announce when it will withdraw from the Island of Cuba and surrender the reins of government to the Cubans, but this action cannot be taken until the time arrives when fair elections are assured.

The disarmament commissioners sent to Santa Clara province, Hernandez and Montagudo, have returned here and report to Governor Taft that they have disarmed and disbanded all the forces in that province.

More than 8,000 men have been disbanded and 1,000 rifles surrendered to the provisional government, and have been brought into Havana.

Reports of trouble in various places are pouring in, but Governor Taft says that investigation always shows these to be not serious.

Ottawa Like Washington.

Ottawa, October 15.—At a meeting of the Ottawa Board of Trade on Monday night, a resolution in favor of the creation of Ottawa into a district similar to the district of Washington, will be debated. A petition favorable to a federal district is being circulated asking the city council to submit the question to a referendum.

The meeting on Monday night will indicate what attitude the business men of the city will assume towards the question which is fast becoming an issue in the capital.

PUBLIC STEAM HEATING A POSSIBILITY

Manufacturers' Com. Last Night Heard Representative of Proposed Company.

Last night a meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee of the City Council was held. Mr. A. H. Brintell, representing the Dominion Steam Heating Company of Toronto, was present in the interests of his company who are asking a franchise from the city.

Mr G. E. Bradshaw, district manager of the company, in a well timed and concise address, showed how the ratepayers of the city would make money by having the system introduced into Peterborough.

The chairman of the Manufacturers Committee asked several point blank questions, including among others, the effect upon the streets, also asking information upon the financial standing of the company, and the control of such patents, by users here.

The proposed local company of the patents covering the special features of this heating system.

In reply Mr. Bradshaw clearly demonstrated that the company would guarantee to leave the streets in as perfect condition as at present. As to the financial standing of the company, the speaker said but no work would be begun or even considered until the entire capital of the company was provided for. As to control of the patents Mr. Bradshaw assured the committee that the company will make such arrangements not only in their own interests, but in those of local subscribers, that any Peterborough company formed, will be absolutely protecting.

The committee decided to send a deputation to either Detroit, Mich., Lockport, N.Y., or Chatham, Ont., to investigate the working of such branches as the company has already established.

From such investigations, as The The Times made yesterday, there is no doubt but what the company will be established and do a large business here.

Local Banker is in Great Demand

Flattering Offers Made by Various Banks to Mr. John Crane.

As noted in yesterday's issue of The Times, Mr. John Crane, the popular and efficient ex-manager of the Ontario Bank's local branch, has been made local manager of the Dominion Bank, which opens up this morning, in temporary quarters in Messrs. Richard Hall & Son's former drygoods establishment, Simcoe St;

As Mr Crane is one of Peterborough's most prominent citizens, as well as former successful manager of a leading bank, it will be of interest to his many personal friends and business associates to learn that, since the lamented failure of the whole Ontario Bank, this gentleman, between Friday evening and Sunday noon was offered a managership by no less than five chartered banks of Canada. Such an experience is probably unique in the history of Canadian banking.

Without wishing to appear fulsome in our praise of Mr. Crane and his successful career, it is a well known fact, no only in Peterborough, but throughout Canada, that Mr. Crane brought the Ontario Bank here to a high state of success both financially and in public esteem.

It is generally conceded that a large percentage of the former patrons of the Ontario Bank will loyally stick with the former manager in his new position with the Dominion Bank.

Mr. J. Everett Oles to Take a Rest

The many customers of Mr. A. W. Creasman's large drygoods establishment, George street, will for some time miss a face that has become familiar and popular among those doing business in this store.

Mr J. Everett Oles, who is one of the best posted men in his line in the trade, has decided to take a well earned rest, and has consequently tendered a resignation that it is not perhaps ultra vires to say depends on his own volition as to the extent of its term.

Mr. Oles, who as generally known, has recently had a sad family bereavement, whilst retiring temporarily from the scenes of his active and useful business career, will not leave Peterborough, but simply take a long rest both mentally and physically.

He will be succeeded by Mr. Alf. Temple of Ottawa, who has arrived in the city and who himself is a thoroughly practical man in the drygoods and clothing business.

Fire at B. Lastar's Store Last Night

Last night about one o'clock the firemen were aroused by the clang of the fire bell, and given a run to B. Lastar's George street store on the corner of King street. When the brigade arrived on the scene, which they did in their usual prompt manner, it was discovered that fire had taken place in the cellar of the store. The blaze made a very dense smoke and bothered the firemen for a short time, but they soon got it under control, and did not let the fire get past the cellar. The damage was small.

Local Stores are in Great Demand

Mr. H. Pappas Offered $5000 for Palace Pool Room Premises Lease.

To illustrate the present great demand, which is rapidly increasing, for not only residential but business property, it might be mentioned that yesterday five thousand dollars was offered for a single George street ground floor store.

As noted in a former issue of The Times a few weeks ago Mr. H. Pappas, who now operates two stores on George street, between the City Hotel and Messrs. J. R. J. McPherson's new stove and electrical establishment, secured a ten years' lease of the former Palace Hotel premises. The latter location has recently been greatly improved, and is in course of preparation for a cigar shop, barber shop and pool room.

Yesterday the representative of a chartered bank that contemplates locating in Peterborough, made Mr. Pappas a direct offer of $5000 for the lease of the ground floor of the former Palace Hotel alone. This amount for the lease, exclusive of rent, does not include the two upper stories. Mr Pappas refused this offer as he considers that in the ten years covered by his lease, he would make several times the sum offered. It is possible that the bank in question may raise the amount of their offer for this lease of one of the most desirable locations on George street.

Big Money From Production of Lead

The increasing importance of Canadian manufacturing industries through the past year has resulted in a growing demand for lead. The consumption of this mineral in Canada has increased from 6,000 to 20,000 tons per annum, while prices have correspondingly advanced.

Lead mining is now one of the most important industries in the Dominion. The Stanley Smelting Works, a most important factor in this field, is now selling a limited amount of stock at par, $1.00; to secure additional equipment.

It is interesting to know that Edward J. Stanley and Robert E. Cushman, officers of the Stanley Smelting Works, have spent their private funds to develop for the past four years the great wealth of their mines, located only a hundred miles north-east of Toronto, and as a result of their hard work they have over $2,000,000 of lead and zinc silver ore in sight blocked out in their mines. All they require now is up-to-date equipment for handling this great mass of ore, such as air compressors, another concentrating mill, and the completion of their present smelting plant.

The above gentlemen have risked their own money to make this a commercial investment, and as soon as the equipment is installed the company will increase their production to 20 or 30 tons of pig lead per day. Mr. Cushman, treasurer of the company, when interviewed at his office, 54 Victoria street, and asked regarding the sale of the shares, replied that more than half of the stock had already been subscribed for, and that the company had already ordered the necessary machinery, and would be smelting lead as soon as it was installed.

This company has a very bright future before it, from the reports of prominent people in Toronto who are taking advantage of the company's excursions to and from the mines every Friday night at 9 o'clock, and returning in time for business on Monday morning.

Subscriptions for this stock can be made at the Toronto office of the Stanley Smelting Works, 54 Victoria street, Toronto. 'Phone Main 7m.

200 MINERS ENTOMBED

Durham, Eng., Oct. 15.—An explosion occurred in the Wingate colliery near here, at about midnight, resulting in some 200 men being entombed. About 100 of these are believed to be safe in a lower part of the colliary, but there were between 60 and 80 men in the seam where the disaster occurred. Up to ten o'clock yesterday ten bodies had been recovered, and every effort was being made to ascertain the fate of the remainder of the entombed miners.

Up to two o'clock in the afternoon 24 bodies had been recovered and 30 miners had been brought out alive.

Forty-four were rescued from another 131 is expected that the 131 also who, it is now announced, are confined in a lower main will be safely brought out before night. They have signalled that they are all right, and are not considered to be in danger.

The explosion was apparently caused by fire damp.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle, of Moncton, N. B., Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for women's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, gave me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the place of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

PETERBOROUGH, OCTOBER 11 1906

AN EARLIER DAY FOR MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

In a few months electors who would like to give their working hours to business and their leisure time to social affairs will be called upon to hurl themselves into a municipal campaign, which, starting about the first of December and continuing through the festivities of Christmas, only ends with the ushering in of the new year. A more inopportune time could scarcely be selected for the annual upheaval in civic circles. It is the one time in the year when peaceful conditions are insisted upon by the pulpit; when the hand of good-fellowship extended to one and all meets the requirements of the season. Yet the contentious and the earnestly-inclined who join hands for the purpose of choosing municipal rulers, make it a season of electoral turmoil disturbing alike to the shop and domestic circle. The Ontario Municipal Union, recognizing the inappropriateness of the present arrangement, has decided to petition the Provincial Government to change the date of our municipal elections so that nominations may take place on the last Monday in November and polling the first Monday in December—following the lead of Manitoba, which has adopted this system. It is to be hoped the Government will listen attentively and sympathetically to the objections raised by those opposed to the existing method and consent to a change in the manner desired.

THE FIRST ELECTRIC TRAIN IN NEW YORK

We have referred on several occasions to the project of electrifying the New York Central lines. The undertaking is, of course, a formidable one, and progress will be slow. But there is evidence at hand to warrant the belief that it will be sure and steady.

The other day hundreds of employes and spectators watched with keen interest the arrival at the Grand Central station of the first railroad train pulled into New York City by an electric motor. It was an experimental trip that the train had made. A distance of seven miles had been traveled in eighteen minutes. There was no thought of high speed, the idea was to test the use of electrical energy in railroading with references to smoothness of operation, control of the motor, avoidance of jar, etc.

The experiment is pronounced by the engineers, officers and spectators to have been a complete success. The New York newspaper reports and interviews declare that at the starting point, Highbridge, there was no jolt of any kind. The acceleration of speed was imperceptible and instantaneous. There was no noise whatever, and the passengers hardly knew that their train was in motion during the entire trip. The control was perfect, and the train, even while running a mile a minute, could be stopped easily in a little more than its own length. The train, it is asserted, can attain the maximum speed in less than one-third the time of the steam locomotive.

For the immediate future the plan is to limit electrification to the distance between Stamford, Conn., and New York City. The New Haven and Hartford's tracks are to be used between Stamford and Woodlawn, N. Y., and the Central's for the rest of the distance. Eight of the heaviest Pullman cars constituted the "first electric train" that moved into New York. The electric engine was one of thirty-five 100-ton locomotives of 2,300 horse-power that will be used in the initial electric zone when the new system goes into actual operation—early in November, it is hoped. One hundred and eighty-six steel cars have been ordered for this service.

The change may mark a revolution in railroad engineering. Every progressive railroad man in the country is undoubtedly studying every detail of it with deep interest, and every traveler looks forward to the power substitution which means so much from the standpoint of comfort and safety.

Montreal Has Case of Leprosy

Medical Commission to Report on Disease of Inmate of Female Gaol.

Montreal, October 15.—Montreal is said to have a case of leprosy within its borders. Albina—Filebotte, a woman of from forty to forty-five years of age, is now at the Montreal gaol, and there is reason to believe from her condition that she is suffering from the terrible plague.

Dr. Riottot, who has visited the cell in the female gaol where the woman has been kept isolated for some time, as well as the sisters who have to look after her, are of the opinion that her case is one of leprosy, or at least that it so closely resembles that dread malady that it should be thoroughly investigated.

The woman has been suffering for eleven years from sores all over her body. Her face is so covered with these sores that it is almost impossible to distinguish the features. Before her arrest at Sy. Hyacinthe, on August 30 last, she had been taking in washing, although for some time previous to that she had been an inmate of a disorderly house, where low characters of all nationalities were wont to foregather.

A commission of doctors, composed of Dr. Picotte, the goal physician; Dr Valois, and Dr. Laberge, city medical officer, went to the female gaol to study the case of the unfortunate woman, and report thereon to the civic authorities. Should the case prove to be one of leprosy, the woman will probably be removed to the lazaretto at Tracadie, N. B.

Odd Chance Saves Two Lives.

Twelve Escape From Asylum

Pittsburg, October 13.—Superintendent Hutchinson, of the Dixmont Insane asylum, admitted today during an investigation by members of the state board of charities, that twelve patients had escaped from the institution during the last year, and that five of them had not been heard from. As a result of the escape of Bertha Bellstein, thematricide, the dismissal of the two nurses who cared for her was recommended, and it is intimated that others willfollow.

The new Pure Food and Drug Law will mark it on the label of every Cough Cure containing Opium, Chloroform, or any other stupifying or poisonous drug. But it passes Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure as made for 20 years, entirely free. Dr. Shoop all along has bitterly opposed the use of all opiates or narcotics. Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is absolutely safe ever for the youngest babe—and it cures. It does not simply suppress. Get a safe and reliable Cough Cure, by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's. Let the law be your protection. We cheerfully recommend and sell it. J. D. Tully.

STRUGGLE OVER POOL ROOM

Proprietor Will Obtain Mandamus to Compel the Granting of a License.

Wheatley, Oct. 13.—Orley Wigle, who has been running a pool room here without a license, was fined $10 and costs of about the same amount.

The case has stirred up considerable feeling here.

Opponents of the pool room succeeded in having the license raised to nearly two hundred dollars a year.

It was supposed that this would be prohibitory, but Wigle demanded a license, and was ready to pay the increased rate.

The Township Board then refused to grant a license, and Wigle kept his place open with the above result.

WEDDING STATIONERY

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS are always in order. The season for the final result of being a disciple of Cupid finds expression in the Hymeneal ceremony at the altar—that occasion when "two hearts that beat as one" are joined together—pronounced one.

For this auspicious occasion the printing must be chastely dignified—must be appropriate in appearance to this one time of life when everything "best" is donned—when happiness reigns supremely.

Marriage Announcements
Marriage Invitations
Marriage Reception Cards
Post Nuptial Reception Cards

All of these we are able to supply in a proper form and printed artistically. Our work is conducted under the supervision of skilled typographical mechanics and may be unhesitatingly presented to the most fastidious critic.

Our charges for such work are moderate—yet good printing is ever valuable. However, we give quality for our figures, and an order entrusted to our care will be speedily, carefully and satisfactorily executed.

No work can be well done which has to be done hurriedly. Time is necessary for the accomplishment of faultless printing. We will fulfil all expectations if given ample time for completion.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish. W. A GOOD CANADIAN REPRESENTATIVE WANTED

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

As the door closed upon the last receding figure, a dread silence fell upon the crowded courtroom. The shadow of the scaffold seemed to lower darkly over the scene. A stifling atmosphere of mortality seemed to fill the room.

And the prisoner and his devoted wife? How bore they this hour of breathless, suffocating suspense?

Life—death—in the trembling balance of fate!

Life—death! Oh, God! if it should be life—what an infinite deliverance! what an overpowering rapture of joy!

But if it should be death?

As the long drawn agony of this hour grew heavier with every slowly-passing minute, Laura became whiter, colder, and more oppressed; her face seemed marble, her hands ice, her breath gasping; she was upon the verge of swooning.

"For the love of God, a glass of wine for my wife, quickly!" exclaimed Cassinove, leaning over the dock, and addressing an officer of the court.

The man kindly hastened away in search of the required restorative, and presently returned, bringing a glass of brandy and water—there was no wine to be got.

Dr. Clark placed the glass at the lips of Laura, and forced her to swallow a few drops, after which she gently pushed it away, saying:

"Thank you, it is over now; I will not let my courage fail again; no, I will not indeed, Dr. Clark. I will not, dear Cassinove." And she sat up.

She had need of all her firmness now, for the sudden low murmur and subdued motion of the crowded courtroom announced some event of supreme interest at hand.

She looked up, and her heart paused in its pulsations; her brain reeled, and her sight failed, as she perceived the black group of the jury solemnly reentering the court. The scene receded from her senses; the voice of the clerk sounded distant and dreamy as he asked the question:

"Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon your verdict?"

"We have," responded the solemn voice of the foreman.

"Look upon the prisoner. Prisoner, look upon the jury."

Ferdinand Cassinove stood up and confronted the twelve men who held his fate in their hands, and fixed his eagle eyes firmly upon the face of the foreman.

The clerk of arraigns spoke:

"How say you, gentlemen of the jury, is the prisoner, Ferdinand Cassinove, guilty or not guilty of the felony with which he stands charged?"

There was an instant's pause, in which you might have heard the beating of the hundreds of hearts in that hall, and then the foreman, in a broken voice, dropped the word of doom:

"Guilty."

There was heard a woman's half-smothered shriek, and then the silence fell deeply, as before.

Then the voice of the judge arose.

"Ferdinand Cassinove, have you aught to urge why the sentence of the court should not be pronounced upon you?"

Cassinove advanced to the front of the dock, and answered:

"Yes, my lord. It were unjust to one who bears my name, as well as to my own conscious integrity, to let that sentence pass without protestation. And though what I have to advance will not affect that sentence in the least degree or delay my death for an hour, still, for that lady's sake, as well as for my own, I must repeat here, at the close of my trial, what I pleaded at its commencement, and say that I am not guilty of the death of Sir Vincent Lester, so help me God, at this, my utmost need! That the judge and the jury have performed—conscientiously performed—their duty, in accordance with the amazing weight of the circumstantial evidence against me, I freely admit; but that the circumstantial evidence has misled them into the conviction of a guiltless man, I must insist. I am guiltless of the death of Sir Vincent Lester. I said it at the commencement of my trial; I say it now. I shall say it in the hour of death, and on the day of judgment! My lord, I have done." And with a grave inclination of the head, Cassinove resumed his seat.

A murmur of admiration, doubt, and compassion ran through the crowd. But above this arose the voice of the crier:

"Let there be silence in the court while sentence of death is pronounced upon the prisoner."

And a silence like that of the grave fell upon the breathless assembly.

The judge then put on that solemn part of the judicial insignia, that badge of doom, the black velvet cap, and rose from his seat. The prisoner was also directed to stand up. Cassinove once more arose, and advanced to the front of the dock.

The judge addressed him:

"Ferdinand Cassinove, after a careful and impartial trial, you have been convicted by a jury of your peers of the heinous crime of willful murder. It becomes, therefore, my painful duty to pronounce upon you the sentence of the law. But before passing it, I would admonish you that however you may insist upon your guiltlessness, the weight of the evidence against you, and the atrocity of the crime with which you have been convicted, leave you not the slightest hope of pardon in this world. And I implore you, in view of the short space that remains, to lose no time in seeking, by repentance and confession, that Divine mercy which is never refused to the penitent sinner, however darkly guilty. The sentence of the court is that you, Ferdinand Cassinove, be taken from hence to the place from whence you came, and from thence to the place of execution, and be there hanged by the neck until you be dead, and may God, in His infinite goodness, have mercy on your soul."

And the judge sat down, overcome by his emotions.

Cassinove bowed to the bench, and then turned to see how his wife bore this decree of doom. She was standing up, pale and still, with her hands clasped, and her eyes raised to the face of her husband. The agony of suspense was past now, and the calmness of death seemed already to overshadow her.

"The blow has fallen, love, it is all over!" murmured the deep-toned voice of the young man.

"Yes, it is over; we must die! Well, what matter, since we are alone in the world, and shall leave none behind to mourn our loss! We will die!"

"We, dear love?"

"Yes, we; for I have neither the power nor the will to survive you, Cassinove."

"God give you both, sweet wife, with many years of earthly usefulness and happiness, after this restless heart and brain of mine shall be calmed in death."

"Ah, do not pray for it, Cassinove. All that enables me to endure this hour is the firm conviction that I shall not survive you."

The officers, who had considerately held back while this little by-scene was going on between the husband and wife, now advanced to remove the prisoner.

At Laura's urgent entreaty, Cassinove requested that she might be permitted to accompany him to the prison, and the request was immediately granted.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

Among the spectators in the courtroom, who had awaited in the greatest anxiety the result of the trial, was the poor little dark-eyed woman, whom we have known as the Widow Russel, but who was, as has since been shown, the wife of the miscreant, Thugsen.

She had remained closely veiled, and carefully concealed in an obscure corner of the courtroom, whence, unnoticed, she had watched the progress of the trial. When the verdict of the jury was rendered it was her half-smothered shriek that broke the breathless silence of the room.

After the sentence of death was pronounced, and before the crowd began to disperse, she crept out, in a sort of horror of amazement, and bent her tottering steps toward Giltspur street, murmuring, as she went along:

Capitalization is low, only $40,000.00; 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world; more than 200 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 2½ per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 25 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—The annual harvest dinner of All Saints' church will be held on Nov. 8th.

—The great Baptist convention opens tomorrow night in the Murray street church.

—There will be a Thanksgiving service in Mark street Methodist church on Thanksgiving morning at 10.30 o'clock. Rev. J. G. Lowis will preach.

—With four new banks in Peterborough within one year, it was yesterday suggested that this city be rechristened, "The Bankers' Paradise."

—It is generally conceded that the local branch of the Bank of Montreal will locate in the premises formerly occupied by the Bank of Ontario, on the diagonal corner of Water and Simcoe streets.

—Mr. Chas McGill has resigned his position as general manager of the Ontario Bank, and Mr. A. D. Braithwaite, Toronto manager of the Bank of Montreal, has assumed Mr. McGill's late position.

—Mr. E. Pitt of the inspection staff of the Bank of Montreal, has arrived in the city in connection with the transfer of the local Ontario Bank's business to the charge of his own establishment.

Royal Bank Absent Assured Here.

Mr C. Neill, Inspector of the Royal Bank of Canada, who as originally noted in Monday's issue of The Times has been here for several days arranging for opening a branch of that strong bank in this city, left yesterday for a day or two. Whilst the actual location of the Royal Bank in Peterborough has not yet been absolutely settled, as far as was ascertainable yesterday, it is an uncontradictable fact that this bank will establish a local branch within a very few days, probably on Wednesday or Thursday of this week. Mr. Neil is a thoroughly posted and efficient banker who, by conversation with a Times representative, is adjudged to have great confidence, not only in the certain successful future of Peterborough, but also in the ultimate prosperous business outcome of the Royal Bank in this city, as in its 73 other branches.

Why the Gas Was Off Sunday.

The consumers of gas along George street who were deprived of this loud smelling but useful vapor on Sunday, now find that such seemingly high handed proceedings was absolutely necessary. It was done to permit a connection being made with the big new main at the corner of George and Brock streets. The gas was turned off Saturday night, and the Gas Co's men started to work at 12 o'clock, and continued until 6.30 a.m. Sunday morning, and then started at 12 o'clock, and worked all day until 6 p.m., when the connection was completed.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday the "Hobo Heros" and "Peripatetic Pete" clubs turned in, from their sun-warmed loafing places to hear the trespass case on the rapis at the police court.

Maurice Mosher was charged with trespassing on the premises of Mr. Robt Steele, Smith street. Mrs. Steele, said that the accused came to her residence one day last week, when her husband was out. He made the pretence that he was looking for a housekeeper. Mrs. Steele answered his questions and he started away but came back again, and in an indirect way made an improper proposal to her, producing money. Mrs. Steele told him to leave at once or she would set the dog on him.

Mosher did not appear in court. His Worship imposed a fine of $10 and costs, amounting in all to $15, or in default of payment 15 days in jail.

The November Delineator.

The November Delineator treats of the established styles for Autumn both in dress and millinery, and also devotes much space to the accessories of dress which women find so alluring. The spirit of Thanksgiving season is preserved in a poem by Theodosia Garrison, a foot-ball story by Violet Coen, and an old-fashioned Thanksgiving story by Harriet Prescott Spofford; and the Kitchen department is stocked with suggestion for a variety of Thanksgiving feasts ranging from "A Rational Thanksgiving Dinner," to "A Vegetarian Thanksgiving Dinner." For the feminine fingers that grow so busy preparing Christmas gifts between November's and December's great feast days, there are numerous suggestions for practical and ornamental gifts in the Needlework department. In the Children's department "The Doll's Dressmaker" will help educate the little mothers in the fashioning of garments for their dollies.

Besides the fiction mentioned, the three serial stories, "Fraulein Schmidt and Mr. Anstruther" by the author of "Elizabeth and Her German Garden," "The Diary of a Baby" by Barry Pain, and "The Chauffeur and the Chaperon" by the Williamsons, continue to hold the interest displayed in them from the start. Storiettes by Anne Warner and Louis Macke, and several bright skits fill the department of "Miscellanea." The children will be pleased at the appearance of a "Bunny Rabbit" story by Grace McGowan Cooke and the conclusion of Florence Wilkinson's fairy story, "The Princess Who Came Into Fashion Again."

Lide A. Churchill in her Department of Real Life discourses on "Playing to the Upper Audiences." George William Jordan gives good advice for "When We are Face to Face with Trouble," and the fourth paper of "Little Problems of Married Life" treats of "Making Marriage a Success."

Rev. Major's "Young Men" Sermons.

Rev W. Major, rector of All Saints' church, has stirred up much deep seated interest by his series of "Sermons for Young Men." His remarks whilst naturally tinctured with a marked religious savoring, contained in Sunday's sermon, many practical and world-wise pieces of advice well worthy of digestion and assimilation by the young men of this city. Whilst nothing in any way offensive was said, the sermons hit right to the spot and are well worth hearing. His Sunday text was taken from Titus II. 6, and the series will cover several succeeding Sundays.

When the tip of a dog's nose is cold and moist, that dog is not sick. A feverish dry nose means sickness with a dog. And so with the human lips. Dry, cracked and colorless lips mean feverishness and are as well ill appearing. To have beautiful, pink, velvet-like lips, apply at bedtime a covering of Dr. Shoop's Green Salve. It will moisten and heal any skin ailment. Get a free, trial box, at our store, and be convinced. Large tucks' capped glass jars, 25 cents. J. D. Tully.

Mrs. McAmmond's Valedictory

Mrs McAmmond, wife of Staff-Capt. McAmmond of the local Salvation Army, in her valedictory remarks, previous to their removal to Montreal this week to take charge of Corps No. 1 of Canada's metropolis was heard by a large and enthusiastic audience.

Mrs McAmmond based her farewell remarks on a quotation from the Book of Jude. She referred to the work that has been done by the Salvation Army in Peterborough and urged her comrades to keep on fighting against sin and advancing Christ's kingdom. She exhorted all present to remain strong in the faith. An appeal was made to everyone to come to Christ at once.

Short addresses expressing regret at Mrs McAmmond's departure and wishing her success in her new field of labor were given by Sergt-Major Mrs. Lang and by Captain Leader. "Some Day We'll Understand" was sung with much sweetness by Mr. Robert Braund. The meeting was brought to a close by the band rendering the old hymn "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

During her residence in Peterborough Mrs. McAmmond made many friends who regret her early departure. She has been a faithful worker in the Army.

Staff Captain McAmmond who has been in Toronto lately, will likely leave for Montreal tomorrow. Adjutant and Mrs. Wiggins, the new officers for Peterborough, are expected on that day from the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. Patterson's Patrons Make Money

Mr Thos. Patterson, the local agent Simcoe street, yesterday showed a Times representative some statements of Cobalt stocks in which local men have invested, that have greatly increased in value within a few weeks. Mr. Patterson is most enthusiastic concerning the future of Cobalt and the mines of that District.

Mr. Barry to Fit Up New Bank.

Mr Barry who has for some weeks been engaged in fitting up the Palace Pool Room, was yesterday awarded the contract of fitting up the Dominion Bank premises. Mr. Barry for a young man is one of the most efficient carpenters and furnishers in this part of the country as exemplified by his efficient work on his present job and the prompt offer given by the new job.

Mr. A. Dunn Leaves for B. C.

Mr A. Dunn, recently proprietor of the Southern Hotel, leaves tomorrow morning for Arrow Head, B.C., with a gang of 50 men who will work for the Big Bend Lumber Co. Mr. Dunn has accepted a prominent position with the above company, being a practical man in the lumber business, owing to a long experience with the Rathbun Co.

No Board of Health Quorum.

Yesterday morning a meeting of the Board of Health was to have done business, to further consider the isolation hospital plans, the appointment of a milk inspector, a water way inspector and other matters, but the chairman of the Board did not show up, and the members who were present went away.

Work on New School Sewer Begun.

Mr White, superintendent of the city's day labor gang of workmen, has begun work on the new public school. Work was started at the corner of Romaine and Lock streets. From here it will be carried on to the end of Aylmer street, and thence to the school. Much difficulty is being experienced on this work owing to sand, which necessitates much care and expense to prevent the banks caving in and burying the workers.

Banks Guarantee the Depositors.

Already the following banks have signed a guarantee protecting Ontario Bank depositors, viz., the Bank of Montreal, Commerce, Imperial, Toronto, Dominion, Traders and Royal, and communications are now being carried on with other leading banks, which are expected to join, including the Banks of Nova Scotia, Merchants, Molsons and British North America.

Sympathy for Local Bankers.

Much sympathy was yesterday expressed everywhere for Mr. Crane and other leading officials of the local Ontario Bank. It was generally conceded that, if every department of the bank was "run" on the same principle as was the local branch there would have been no trouble.

SIMPLE CATARRH REMEDY

Take a Hyomei Treatment Four Times a Day and be Cured.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous cures and is today recognized by leading members of the medical profession as the only advertised remedy for this disease that can be relied upon to do just what it claims.

Until recently your physician would have said the only way to cure catarrh would be to have a change of climate, but now with Hyomei you can carry a health-giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day, cure yourself.

The Hyomei treatment is simple and easy to use. It destroys all catarrh germs in the air passages and enriches and purifies the blood with ozone. When using Hyomei the air you breathe will seem like that on the mountains, high above the sea level.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c. You run no risk whatever in taking this reliable treatment.

For sale by all dealers. The R. T. Booth Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Are You Tired, Nervous and Sleepless?

Nervousness and sleeplessness are usually due to the fact that the nerves are not fed on properly nourishing blood; they are starved nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood, and thereby the nerves are properly nourished and all the organs of the body are run as smoothly as machinery which runs in oil. In this way you feel clean, strong and strenuous—you are toned up and invigorated, and you are good for a whole lot of physical or mental work. Best of all, the strength and increase in vitality and health are lasting.

The trouble with most tonics and medicines which have a large, booming sale for a short time, is that they are largely composed of alcohol holding the drugs in solution. This alcohol shrinks up the red blood corpuscles, and in the long run greatly injures the system. One may feel exhilarated and better for the time being, yet in the end weakened and with vitality decreased. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol. Every bottle of it bears upon its wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in a full list of all its several ingredients. For the druggist to offer you something he claims is "just as good" is to insult your intelligence.

Every ingredient entering into the world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" has the unanimous approval and endorsement of the leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice. No other medicine sold through druggists for like purposes has any such endorsement.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only produces all the good effects to be obtained from the use of Golden Seal root, in all stomach, liver and bowel troubles, as in dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments, but the Golden Seal root used in its compounding is greatly enhanced in its curative action by other ingredients such as Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure triple-refined glycerine.

"The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. For 50 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, biliousness and headache.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

COUPLE WAS FOUND DEAD IN A BOAT

Bodies of Detroit Man and His Sister-in-Law Found on Canadian Side—Object to a Post-Mortem.

Windsor, Oct. 17.—While the mystery surrounding the tragic deaths of Stephen Stuart and Mrs. Mary Cadwell of Detroit, whose lifeless bodies were found in a duck boat in the marsh off Fighting Island, has not been wholly explained, Prosecutor Hunt of Detroit, has decided not to have a post-mortem examination. He had determined upon an investigation, but called it off after making requirings. The effort to hold the post-mortem was largely frustrated by relatives of the two victims, who objected strenuously to the mutilation of the bodies at an autopsy.

Johnston Stuart declares his brother was troubled with heart trouble, that after he went out for the trip in the boat with Mrs. Cadwell his heart action ceased, that Mrs. Cadwell took the oars to battle for her own life, but was overcome in the [illegible]

"The bodies will not be cut up to satisfy a lot of gossip," declared the brother.

Miss Belle Starr, principal of one of the schools, insisted there was no suicide fact, and objected to a post-mortem.

The victims perished during the storm the latter part of last week. They had been missing since Wednesday night, and their bodies were found in the boat on Sunday.

One theory advanced is that the couple headed around the lower part of the island to avoid a rushing sea, but were driven into the marsh on the Canadian side and became ca[illegible]

Geo. Gauthier Issues Challenge

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I see the Examiner says I am shut out of the road racing cause I am a professional, and that I have been refused admission to amateur sports in the past. I wish to say that I have never been ruled out of any event for being a professional and I say that the Examiner nor any man living can prove this charge of the examiner.

In the list of entries that have been taken, I see that of McBurney of Havelock. I would like to ask if this man is not a professional. I think it is not because of me being a professional, but on account of speed that I am shut out. I will run the winner of this race for anything from love of sport to good long green over the same course, he to name the date. I claim that Mr. Payne, another of the entries accepted, has run against Burns as a professional, in the race from Nassau to the Driving Park.

Yours truly,
G. GAUTHIER.

An English syndicate, who own a vast acreage in that vicinity, are supplying the capital.

Lastar Thinks Arson Was Done

George Street Drygoods Dealer Suspects Pyromaniac Was Done.

Our readers will remember that in yesterday's issue we gave a report of the fire which occurred the same morning at Mr. B. Lastar's drygoods store on the corner of George and King streets.

Yesterday morning Mr. Lastar called at the police station, and said, in effect, "Say, Mr. Chief, I wish you would send an officer down to investigate the cause of that fire at my place last night. You know, Mr. Chief, I have had two fires within a year and people may begin to suspect that something is wrong."

Mr Laster then went on to describe how he and his family were awakened by the watchman and that his wife and family had practically to put their clothes on, on the street.

He evidently was in great distress over the fire and explained to a Times representative that, whilst the fire may have been caused by an electric light wire, he did not attribute its source to this cause. He went on to explain that there had been, previous to the fire, a board nailed over the cellar window, when a pane of glass had been broken out. When he was awakened and rushed into the cellar to investigate the fire, he noticed that this board had been removed, and the several long sticks of wood, that he knew had not been in the cellar previous to the fire. Mr. Lastar seemed of the opinion that his fire was the work of an incendiary, and that some one or persons had deliberately, by means of the sticks aforesaid, set fire to the goods in his cellar. He does not yet know what his exact loss will be, owing to the great smoke, but thinks it will not be more than $100, covered by insurance.

Mr. Al. Jones Was Nearly Killed

Well Known Local Plumber Overcome by Illuminating Gas.

Yesterday morning, Mr. Al. Jones, the well-known plumber and ex-fire member of the fire brigade had a close call from death.

It seems that Mr. Jones, who from past experience in the local gas works might almost have been considered an immune as far as gas poisoning is concerned, whilst yesterday connecting gas pipes at the corner of Simcoe and George streets, had to be pulled up the surface of the ground with a rope. Mr. Jones was attempting to plug a hole between two pipes where gas was escaping, when he became unconscious by inhaling the deadly gas.

His fellow workers noticed him lying across the pipe unable to get to his feet. A rope was tied around his body and the almost asphyxiated man dragged out of the drain. Restoratives were quickly applied, but it was some time before he regained consciousness.

EIGHT MILLIONS LEFT THE EMPIRE

In Forty Years an Immense Number Renounced the British Allegiance—Canadians are Impatient.

London, Oct. 17.—Ernest Terry, in the Yorkshire Post, declares the government refused him an opportunity to visit Western Canada in order to personally test the stories told him. He denies antagonism to Canada, and alleges the circulation of glowing accounts by government agents, which, he says, Germany recently prohibited, and challenges Commissioner Smith to deny there is a house famine in every industrial city in Canada.

Referring to the Barr colony, he says he understands the greatest ambition of the settlers was to see Dr. Barr hanged, drawn and quartered. He reiterates that Englishmen are unpopular which is not a god sign. Canadians are impatient of criticism of the West.

Parkinson, a Fredericton, N. B., immigrant, writes to the Yorkshire Observer that it is evident Mr. Terry did not take much trouble with his report.

Howard Vincent, referring to the statement of agents from the southern States coming to Britain to attempt to divert emigration, says English people are not saved for enjoyment here, and adds: "Moreover, we ought to do all we can to turn the stream of emigration to the colonies. In the last 40 years eight millions of emigrants were allowed to discard British allegiance."

At a meeting of the Colonial Continental Church Society at Leeds the Vicar of Leeds said the great flood of emigration, especially to Canada, called for most help. Rev. James Boyle, district secretary, gave an interesting experience as chaplain on an emigrant steamer, and stated many emigrants would have no church at all in their new homes.

Government to Buy the Irish Railroads

Reported That Ireland is to Be Given Another Advantage Not Given to People of England.

New York, Oct. 16.—The report current in America that Premier Campbell-Bannerman and his associates are considering a scheme of Government ownership of British railroads is true to some extent, says a London cable despatch to the Times.

The government has no idea whatever of bringing in a bill for the nationalization of any other railways than those of Ireland. The Irish roads, the government is inclined to think, should be taken over by the nation in order to advance the welfare of Ireland, and especially in order to furnish the facilities required for the highest development of her agricultural interests. Ireland needs better railroad facilities than private enterprise is likely to give her.

It has not been decided that the government shall ask parliament for authority to take over the Irish lines, with a view to improving and extending, but supposedly well-informed persons expect that the government will presently determine on that course.

Spain's War Budget Increased.

Public Ownership of Irish Railways

British Government Proposes Taking Them Over and Developing Them Greatly.

New York, October 17.—The report current in America that Premier Campbell-Bannerman and his associates are considering a scheme of government ownership of British railways is true to some extent, says a London cable despatch to The Times.

The government has no idea whatever of bringing in a bill for the nationalization of any other railways than those of Ireland. The Irish roads, the government is inclined to think, should be taken over by the nation in order to advance the welfare of Ireland, and this especially in order to furnish the facilities required for the highest development of her agricultural interests. Ireland needs better railway facilities than private enterprise is likely to give her, or could afford to give her.

It has not been decided that the government shall ask parliament for authority to take over the Irish lines, with a view to improving and extending them, but supposedly well informed persons expect that the government will presently determine on that course.

A Concise Description of the Local Normal School Soon to be Erected

It will interest our readers to get an epitome of the style of building the Ontario Government is to build here as a Normal school.

The building will be four storeys in height, including the basement, in the Italian Renaissance style of architecture, with a central tower in the front facade, surmounted by a cupola, being 108 feet in height.

Dr Hatton is dean of the English government medical staff in Grenada and is granted six months' leave of absence every three years. It is not likely that he will again visit Peterborough for several years.

GERMANS NEED MORE WARSHIPS

The Construction is to be Undertaken

GERMANS HEAR EXPERT

They Smile at British Disarment Declarations.

Berlin, October 15.—Count von Reventlow, the German naval authority, speaking at the annual meeting of the Pan-German League, held at Dresden, said Germans must smile at English disarmament speeches.

"As we are building our fleet solely to bring ourselves out of a position of defencelessness," said the count, "we could at the most only propose to Great Britain that she would reduce her rate of building in order that our fleet might attain to the strength of hers. As soon as this is the case, we will bind ourselves not to increase our fleet further.

"The disarmament question will certainly be brought forward at the next Hague conference, and Germany will probably be described there as the universal disturber of peace. We can, however, look forward to everything not only with calmness, but with equanimity."

In the discussion which followed, Lieut.-General Liebert, formerly governor of German East Africa, said: "In the whole of German history Bismarck is the only great German diplomatist. A lack of diplomatists must be replaced by brutal power, by force; and this power is the army and navy. "When any one asks me whether we should disarm, I say, 'For heaven's sake keep up your army and build ships, ships, ships!'" This speech was received by the audience with tumultuous applause.

Miss F. G. Hunter an October Bride

Yesterday an important and long-talked of function in the social circles of Peterborough, was consummated, when Miss Frances Genevieve Hunter, became the bride of Mr. Harold Deeks Robertson, B.A., eldest son of Mr. H. Robertson, of Morrisburg. The fair young bride is an only daughter of the late Dr. J. B. Hunter, Detroit, Mich.

The ceremony was performed in the handsomely decorated and floorally beautified drawing room of Mrs. Jas. Stratton's residence, Mrs. Stratton being grandmother of the bride by Rev. F. J. Scott, B.A., pastor of the Murray street Baptist church.

Just preparatory to the ceremony, the groom and his "best man", Mr. Ernest Robertson, his brother, took their places, and to the glorious melody of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Mabel Harrison, the bridal party entered the room, in which about sixty guests had assembled. First came, attired as bridesmaidens, Miss Mary Robertson, the sister of the groom, and Miss Agnes Gooding, cousin of the bride, who were attired in white voile dresses —masses of insertion and lace. Their heads were adorned with wreaths of white flowers and they carried crooks, twined with white ribbons and white flowers and smilax. Next came the petite flower girl, Jessie Matthews, daughter of Mr. T. F. Matthews, and cousin of the bride, who was dressed in white organdie, trimmed with valenciennes lace over taffeta, and carried a basket of white carnations. She was followed by three of the four bridesmaids, Miss Alison Hamilton, Miss Helen Davidson and Miss Marie Hall. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Muriel Hoodless of Hamilton, followed by the bride, escorted by her uncle, Hon. J. R. Stratton, who gave her away.

The wedding was what might be termed a rainbow ceremony, each of the bridesmaids being respectively dressed in all the prismatic colors of the rainbow, and a very pretty and impressive spectacle was enjoyed by all present.

The bride was charmingly attired in white crepe de chine over white taffeta, daintily trimmed with duty Irish lace. She wore a veil and orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The only jewels she wore was a sunburst of pearls about a solitaire diamond.

Many guests from a distance were present at what was admittedly one of the most charming weddings that Peterborough society has seen for many a day.

Mr and Mrs. Robertson left on the 5.10 C.P.R. train for Toronto and other points, a large number being at the station to wish them God speed. They will return to the city in a few days and the bride will be "at home" to her friends at "Ardyn" Gilmour street, on Tuesday, November 6th.

Mr and Mrs. Robertson will sail from Vancouver on November 28th, on the steamer Empress of Japan, for Chentu, China, where they will reside.

Every Day She Said

Early in the morning before dressing, "Now I must quit drinking coffee, I know it causes my weak heart and the ever increasing nervousness. These troubles get steadily worse and what will the end be?" But when the coffee comes on at breakfast she says, 'Well, just this one cup," and so it goes from day to day the same old round and the bodily ailments growing worse as time goes on.

The coffee habit acts like a personal demon, ever ready to offer excuses and to steadily push his victim one step down each day and laugh at the good resolutions.

But there's a way and a sure way to kill off that demon. Order the Coffee kept off the table and Postum Food Coffee served in its place. Then one can have the hot breakfast beverage with the deep seal brown of Coffee, changing to a rich golden brown when cream is added, and with a flavor all its own, the Postum comes as a strong friend in need.

The change in feeling will begin within a day or two, generally the first day. The drug of coffee (caffeine) has been cut off and the body and nerves relieved, then comes the sturdy feeling of new life and new healthy cells being built in from the rebuilding food in Postum. Gradually the old aches and ails disappear and the joy and swing of health comes again. You can prove it in your own case.

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used-up Condition.

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more flesh and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At times I was prostrated with nervous and sick headache. All day I was tired. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and suffered from heart palpitation. You could scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well."

Remember this: No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

THE TROLLEY FOR THE FARMER

The trolley has been so widely extended through the Michigan fruit belt that in some places a picker can step from the ladder used in picking the fruit to the electric cars on which it is loaded. Not only is the service thus brought to the door of the grower, but it is a cheap service. From points on one line which overlooks St. Joseph's River a fifth bushel of peaches is carried to Benton Harbor and shipped across the lake to Chicago by the Graham and Morton steamer line for 2½ cents. Of this the electric line takes 40 per cent., while the steamer people get 60. Regular fruit express trains are run, the train consisting of one or more cars, the entire crew of which is the conductor and motorman, and these men load the stuff into the cars. Fruit picked and packed up to 6 o'clock in the evening is in Chicago before daylight the next morning. These electric fruit trains, the New York Tribune-Farmer says, are destined to gridiron the entire fruit and vegetable district of the state.

ENLIGHBENED SELFISHNESS

We are told by the moralists that the love of money is the curse of the present age. Why of the present age more than any other age? Was there ever any age—among civilized or semi-civilized people—when money, or what money can buy, was not the controlling factor, and the pursuit of money therefore eager?

Abraham was the great man of his day and region because he was wealthy enough to count 400 shekels of silver, "currency money of the merchant," for the cave of Macnela, and do other things on an equally liberal scale. The virtuous Brutus, whom Shakespeare eulogizes in the words of Marc Antony as "the noblest Roman of them all" is known to have loaned money at 48 per cent. interest per annum. The man who would do that today would not be hailed as a noble Roman, but as a money shark.

Nor is the possession for the acquisition of money without its compensating features. It is doubtful if there is any one possession, aside from the love of knowledge, that has done so much for the progress of the world. The desire for money has given birth to commerce, has developed agriculture and manufactures, has stimulated explorations and discovery; has delved into the earth and brought forth its hidden treasure—in short has insured to man the possession of every comfort and luxury which they enjoy.

Commerce, business and finance has supplied an outlet for energies that otherwise would have been pent up and wasted; have accustomed people to habits of industry and frugality, forethought and calculation. The love of money in individuals can be and often is carried to an excess that is degrading; but unless all progress is to stop the general desire for gain cannot be abolished without substituting for it some equally powerful motive.

Socialists tell us that in a state of absolute equality, where the material wants of all were liberally provided for and the consuming fear of poverty and want obliterated, the ambition to serve the community would be sufficiently powerful motive to compel every man to do his utmost for the common good. Perhaps it would, but it is an experiment which comparatively few of us would care to see tried at the present time.

Every well-wisher of his race hopes and prays that the time will come when altruism will constitute a stronger motive than selfishness. But if ever it does come it will be a gradual evolution. In the meantime society must stand by the bridge that has carried it from savagery to civilization, from poverty to affluence and continue to recognize the right of individual and corporate property within safe limits.

KING PETER OF SERVIA

Will Act in Accordance With Wishes of His People.

Belgrade, October 15.—Interviewed by a reporter King Peter of Servia declared that, as he had been invited to the throne by the Servian people, his rule must be in accordance with their will, as expressed by a freely elected parliament.

"Our geographical position and the historic past of our people, who have wrought out their own independence single-handed without the aid of Europe, imposes upon us an historic mission in the Balkans," said his Majesty.

"The people understand that sacrifices are necessary in order to free the country from economical bondage due to our peculiar geographical position. My government is endeavoring to secure the opening of new trade routes and markets."

CHANDOS

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at St. Stephen's church, Wednesday, September 26, when Miss Ena Hawkes, youngest daughter of Mr. Robert Hawkes, Chandos, became the bride of Mr. Albert Smith, Apsley. Rev. C. Lord performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. C. R. D. Booth, was attired in a becoming gown of Persian lawn with trimmings of lace and insertion and wore a veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white asters.

The bridesmaid was Miss Kate Tucker, niece of the bride, who was becomingly attired in a gown of Swiss muslin over pink. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Harry Smith, of Apsley. After the ceremony they proceeded to the residence of the bride's father, where about forty guests partook of a sumptuous repast. The evening was spent in dancing. The bride was the recipient of a large number of presents. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Chandos.

Tired of Life at Early Age.

Vienna, October 15.—A girl only eight years old committed suicide here by throwing herself from the window of her mother's house into the street. The child had an intense dislike of schoolwork and spent her days wandering about the streets. The police this morning took her home to her mother, who threatened to punish her, and locked her in a bedroom. A few minutes later the child was found dead upon the pavement.

BIG MONEY TO BE MADE
In the Lead Mines of Ontario, Only
100 Miles Northeast of Toronto

Get some of the Stanley Smelting Works stock, a company whose officers have spent their private funds in the past four years to develope their mines, and at the present time have over $2,000,000 in Lead and Zinc Silver Ore blocked out.

In order to handle this great mass of ore it is necessary to install additional equipment, which we estimate will cost about $100,000. We therefore offer you 100,000 shares of our stock at par, $1 00 per share. The present Company controls 100,000 shares, and when this additional stock is all subscribed there will only be $200,000 to draw dividends. This will be a Ten per cene Dividend Paying Stock. Take advantage of the free excursion to visit the mines every Friday night, returning Monday morning.

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish." W. The Bridal Eve

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"Guilty! Death! Oh, Heaven! to suspect what I suspect, nay, to know what I know, and to let him die! To let him die—so young, so good, so guiltless! To let him die, when a word from me would save him! It would be murder! I should have his death and hers, too, for she would not survive him, on my soul! I, too, should be a murderer—should become a murderer by merely living with a murderer! Should catch blood-guiltiness as one catches the plague, from contagion! It must not be! I cannot rest as the confidante of crime! The innocent life shall not be sacrificed through me!

"But, then, the unnatural horror of having to give information against—oh, my God!—against the husband of my youth—the father of my children! But there is a law of righteousness above all the laws of nature, and that I must obey!

"This evening I will tell him all I know, and give him the opportunity of acting right! Then, if he does not, I must deliver him up to justice! I must do it! It will kill me, but I must do it!"

Those who saw her reeling along the street, and muttering to herself, thought her drunk or mad.

At length, half conscious of the suspicious glances turned toward her, the distracted woman stopped an empty hackney coach that was passing by, and entered it, telling the driver to take her to Berwick street. It was at some distance from the Old Bailey, in the densest, poorest and most crowded portion of London.

She alighted, paid the fare, dismissed the carriage and proceeded on foot up the narrow and over-crowded street, until she paused before a tall, three-storied, red brick house, in rather better preservation than those in its immediate neighborhood. She entered this house with a pass-key, carefully locked the door, and turned to another door on the right of the front passage, that admitted her into a suite of three rooms; the front room being the bed-chamber, the middle room the parlor and the back room the kitchen.

She laid off her bonnet and shawl in the front chamber, went into the parlor, and set the table for dinner, and then proceeded to the kitchen to prepare the meal, for there seemed to be neither servant nor child on those premises. This small, solitary woman appeared to be the only denizen of this great, lonely house. Yet this was really not so, for when an hour had passed there was the sound of a key turning in the lock of the street door, followed by the entrance of a man, who fastened the door after himself, and advanced along the passage into the parlor, where the little woman stood cutting bread at the table.

"Well, Ruth, is dinner ready?" inquired the man, throwing his hat upon a side table and sinking into an arm-chair.

"No, Robert, the soup will need to simmer half an hour longer."

"You've been out."

"Yes, Robert; I've been at the Old Bailey."

"And what the demon had you to do at the Old Bailey?" asked the man, losing somewhat of his habitual good temper and courtesy.

"I have been seeing a guiltless man tried for willful murder; I have been hearing an innocent man condemned to die the death of a murderer!" said Ruth, solemnly.

"The deuce! The jury were quick about their work! Is he sentenced?"

"He is sentenced to die for a crime of which he is perfectly innocent."

"Innocent! Innocent! what the foul fiend do you mean by harping upon that word? How the demon do you know that he is innocent?" inquired Thugsen, angrily.

"By knowing who is guilty," replied Ruth.

"How! What the d——! Oh, the woman has lost her wits!" exclaimed Thugsen, with a light laugh.

"No, Robert Thugsen, I have not lost my wits! Would to Heaven that I had! I know what I am saying! I know that Cassinove is innocent of the crime for which he is condemned to die, by knowing too well who is guilty," said Ruth, solemnly.

"Who the demon, then, is guilty? Speak, woman—speak at once!" exclaimed Thugsen, desperately, starting up and confronting her.

She arose from her seat, and stood before him as pale as death, firm as fate; and, placing her hand upon his chest, and looking him full in the face, she said:

"Robert Thugsen, 'thou art the man!'"

He started back, appalled, as though the angel of destruction had suddenly risen before him.

He gazed upon the accusing spirit, faltering forth the words:

"How? What! how the demon could you know that?" Then, suddenly recovering his self-possession, and with it his consummate hypocrisy, he burst into a loud laugh. He threw himself into a chair, exclaiming:

"Oh, you are mad! mad as a March hare! You shall have a strait-jacket and a shower bath."

"Do not mock my words, or your own position," she said, sinking again into her seat. But as he continued laughing and rubbing his hands as in the highest enjoyment of an excellent jest, she resumed, gravely:

"Yes, I feel that you have a right to laugh me to scorn, a reason to despise me thoroughly, for you know that wherever you have been concerned I have been culpably weak, so weak, indeed, as to suffer myself to be drawn into a labyrinth of deepest guilt, not indeed, as an active agent, for that never could have been, but as an accessory."

"What can the fool mean?" interrupted Thugsen.

"I mean this. After the unnatural and nameless crime that shocked the whole civilized world from its propriety; that made you the outlaw of nature as well as of society; from the charge of which you fled the world for years, giving yourself out as dead; after all this I had the folly to receive you back again; yes, though at first I fled from you, as you had fled from your kind, though I hid my children from you, as I would have hid them from a lion or leper; though fear, and horror, and loathing struggled desperately with the old affection, yet when you sought me I received you back again, and in doing so plunged my soul in the deepest guilt, by loading it with all your subsequent crimes."

"Crimes, woman!" exclaimed Thugsen, sternly.

"Yes, crimes! You need not glare at me with that ferocious glance. I am not frightened; I am too far gone in wretchedness for that. The stings of conscience that goad me to speak as I do, and to act as I must, hurt me more than all you could say or do," said Ruth, with the firmness of despair.

"What crimes are there that you dare to impute to me?" demanded Thugsen, in the low, deep, stern tones of concentrated and suppressed passion.

"The assassination of Sir Vincent Lester, the cruel deception of the young Duchess of Bereseleigh, the deadly peril of the guiltless Ferdinand Cassinove, about to die for your deed, and the awful sorrow of his innocent young wife. Heavily, heavily press this guilt upon my soul; and, Robert Thugsen, I must cast it off. Justice must be done! The innocent shall be cleared!" said Ruth, solemnly.

While she spoke, his aspect gradually changed. With much effort he restrained his emotions, and assumed a calmness he was far from feeling. When she had ceased to speak, he said:

"You have charged me with these crimes. What reason or authority have you for doing so?"

"Your own words."

"My own words?"

"Your own words."

"What the fiend do you mean by that?"

"Robert Thugsen, the conscience that sleeps throughout the day, awakes at night. When all your other senses are

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 600 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 200 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

HOW CHILDREN ARE QUICKLY STRENGTHENED

Develop Them with Ferrozone, which Makes Rich Blood, Hardy Muscle, Steady Nerves.

Mothers find it an indispensable tonic and body builder, and in thousands of homes no other remedy used.

Mrs. E. Montgomery, of Pittsburg, writes: "A little niece came to visit me, and noticing her pale and haggard looks, I started her on a course of Ferrozone. The change that girl underwent in a few weeks was marvellous. Her appetite chirped up, she had more spirit and strength, and a rosy colour came into her cheeks that I never saw there before. I weighed my niece about the time she started to pick up, and in seven weeks she gained almost eight pounds, and just looked the picture of health. I think this should be an example to many mothers, and I hope that others will try Ferrozone for their little boys and girls. I am thoroughly convinced that it's the most strengthening tonic, it has my strongest endorsement."

The reason Ferrozone works so beneficially with Ferrozone is that it acts directly on the blood, freeing it of all unhealthy matter, at the same time giving it an additional supply of iron.

This at once results in more strength, new spirit and renewed vitality. Just one tablet at meal time works wonders.

Refuse to accept any article the druggist may say is just as good. Get Ferrozone, and the result we guarantee will be satisfactory. Price 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

Watch for the road race cup, and you will hear a noise like that cup coming to The Times office. Mr. Ernest Jarman, The Times pressman, is entered for this race. There are now 21 entries for Thursday's race from Lakefield to Peterborough.

Gas Mains on Simcoe Street.

There has not been either a cyclone nor an earthquake at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, with sulphuretted hydrogen attachments. The hillocks of earth and grave interrupting traffic at that point simply mean that the Peterborough Light & Power Company are laying mains to the local gas works, and laying them as quickly as Mr. McDonald's gang, by money or the latter gentleman's skill and experience, can above the work along.

St. John's Young People's Assoc.

The announcement was made at the Promenade Social on Monday evening that the singers in the above society would produce Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" during the present winter, with full staging, costumes and orchestra, under the direction of Mr. R. J. Devey. As Mr. Devey includes in his repertoire of personally conducted works "Utopia Limited," "A Greek Slave," "The Geisha," "The Gondoliers," "San Toy," and others, a good presentation of "The Mikado" is assured.

Arrangements for Rebekah Degree

The joint committee of Peterborough and Otonabee lodges, I.O.O.F. met last evening in their hall to complete arrangements for the institution of a Rebekah Lodge in Peterborough, on Friday, October 26.

The lady degree team, numbering some 22 members of Kawartha Lodge Lindsay, will come down by the noon train on that date. Arrangements will be completed for a special train for the return trip, for themselves, and for other Rebekah degree members who will come here, to be present at the opening of the new lodge. In addition to the large number expected from Lindsay, there will be a large attendance of candidates for the degree from Peterborough and vicinity. It is probable that Grand Master Johnston, some of the chief officers of the Rebekah Assembly, P. G. R. Bro. A. H. Blackeby, of the Relief Association, and other leading members of the Order will be present. Refreshments will be served in the dining room at the close of the ceremonies.

Antediluvian Relics Found

A few days ago Messrs. R. Londerville and E. Greer, whilst fishing log in the Indian River near Keene, discovered the teeth of an extinct animal of huge size. The teeth, or at least two of them, were about four inches long, and about an inch in diameter. Two others found were "grinders," and were much wider.

It seems that as Mr. Londerville was lying on the bank of the river, he found one large tooth. By digging in the earth he discovered three more. Thinking that the skeleton might be found, Mr. Londerville and his companion secured a shovel and excavated for some distance, but found nothing further of interest.

The teeth must have been those of a mastodon mammoth, dinotherium or some such antediluvian creature whose name and species could only be definitely settled by some zoologist acquainted with subjects buried in the misty ages of the past.

City Accounts With the Ontario Bank

A joint committee of the City Council, Board of Education and other city financial bodies was held on Monday, particulars of which meeting was unfortunately crowded out of yesterday's issue. This meeting was mainly called to consider the city's deposits, assets and liabilities with the Ontario Bank. A committee was appointed to investigate this matter. The object of the committee will be to receive offers from the various banks desiring the city's accounts.

The committee appointed consisted of Mayor Best, and Ald. McWilliams, of the City Council; W. G. Ferguson, chairman of the Board of Education, T. F. Matthews, chairman of the Water Commissioners, and W. H. Moore, chairman of the Town Trust Commission.

Another meeting of the council with the other bodies interested will be held early this week to receive the report of the committee.

There will undoubtedly be a keen competition for the city's business.

Baptist Convention Opens Today

Today the great Baptist church convention opens in the Murray street church, and will in all probability be the most successful of its kind ever held.

Over three hundred delegates will be present and the visitors will be billeted at different residences in the city.

The convention will open onight in the church as above noted.

The general committee met again yesterday evening to complete all details as to billeting, etc. A few billets are yet required. The majority of the delegates will arrive in the city during the day, and will be met at the station by members of the reception committee.

Dominion Bank Opened Yesterday

Yesterday morning Mr. John Crane, assisted by Mr. Gordon of Toronto, was kept busily engaged in both opening up new accounts in the Dominion Bank's temporary premises, and taking over many former accounts of the Ontario Bank.

The Dominion Bank's opening yesterday was, as regards fixtures and fittings necessarily somewhat accomplished under disadvantageous circumstances, owing to the celerity of the bank's work. This however did not debar customers from getting their banking business transacted as quickly and satisfactorily as though the temporary premises were fitted with marble, quartered oak or ouzy counters and furnished.

The bank yesterday looked like a combination of a grocery shop and a lumber camp's general store. However this unavoidable malapropos appearance mitigated neither against the Dominion Bank's new agency nor against the assured success of this latest addition to Peterborough's financial institutions. Many complimentary remarks were overheard yesterday concerning the push and pluck of the new bank in opening up the new agency so quickly, and under existing conditions, so satisfactorily. It was generally conceded that the stability, security and usefulness of a bank does not rest on its furniture and fittings, but on the work of the bank itself coupled with its general and local management.

As noted in yesterday's issue, the Dominion Bank has already got a safe to protect customers' cash. Almost like the plant in "Jack and the Beanstalk," since Saturday night, partitions have separated that part occupied by the bank from the rest of their large premises, counters have been placed for temporary use, and a private office has been built in for Mr. Crane, the manager's sanctum. A sufficiently large staff was on hand to wait on and accommodate the customers.

During the day, several cases containing the books, ledgers and other appurtenances for the new bank arrived by express.

Mr. Soden's New Business Place

Yesterday the pavement in front of Messrs. F. W. Sutcliffe & Sons, George street dry goods establishment, was more of the time covered with cases. During the day Mr. F. W. Sutcliffe, of the Lindsay branch of this firm, superintended the packing of the stock of the local branch, which is being moved away. The doors were closed to the public during Monday. The stock was nearly all packed yesterday, ready for shipment to the stores in Lindsay and Oshawa.

J. Sutcliffe & Son have done a large business here for the past eight years, and have worked up a good trade.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Mr. Soden, the Hunter street Bookstore man, who, during the last year in business here, has made a phenominal success, as soon as Messrs. Sutcliffe's stock is all removed, and important changes and improvements and necessary alterations are completed, will occupy the premises, and install a new and up-to-date stock of everything sold by the booksellers and stationers trade.

Mr Soden is an old Peterborough boy, who is popular with all who know him, and being an expert and experienced man in his line of business, will undoubtedly get a large share of local business.

Kirkfield Farmer Was Drowned

Duncan McCallum, a farmer, who lived near Kirkfield, was drowned on Monday afternoon, a mile and a half east of that village in the drowned lands, near the Trent Valley canal. It seems that the deceased was returning from Lindsay with a box of dynamite and is supposed to have fallen asleep when the horses turned off the road and walked down the embankment.

Mr McCallum fell over the front of the buggy and is supposed to have struck his head. He was found dead shortly after by Mr. Finney. The Lindsay coroner was notified.

Mrs. W. A. Sanderson at Kingston.

Mrs. W. A. Sanderson and Miss Marguerite, her daughter, have gone to Renfrew, Ont., to attend the wedding of Miss Barnett, who is a sister of Mrs. O. B. McAllister of this city. Mrs. and Miss Sanderson will spend a few days as guests at Queen's University before returning home.

Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yea criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanly organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from being very much, or for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

VOL XXXIV. NO. 246 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18 1906 PRICE TWO CENTS

MANAGER ARRESTED; PRESIDENT SUMMONSED

Mr. McGill is Charged With Making False Returns to the Government and Mr. Cockburn With Signing Them.

Toronto, Oct. 18.—While the air was full of talk of action against General Manager McGill and some of the officers of the Ontario Bank, the rapid work of yesterday came like a bolt from a clear sky, when a warrant was issued for the arrest of the manager, Mr. Charles McGill, and a summons for the president, Mr G. R. R. Cockburn.

Mr McGill was arrested a little after two o'clock, and the summons for Mr. Cockburn was placed in the hands of Detective Mackie.

The information were issued on behalf of Mr. James Bicknell, of Bicknell & Bain, acting on behalf of the Canadian Bankers' Association.

"I had the information issued, as representing the Canadian Bankers Association," said Mr. Bicknell, "and as a result of a conference held with the Attorney-General's Department."

The informations were issued yesterday as a result of a conference between Attorney-General Foy, County Crown Attorney Drayton, and Mr. Bicknell, which lasted until after midnight last night. Before the meeting broke up this action was definitely decided upon, and was consummated yesterday morning, when Mr. Bicknell came to police headquarters, placed the necessary information in the hands of Detective Mackie, who swore out the informations before Ambrose Kent, J.P.

THE SUMMONS.

That "being president of the Ontario Bank, he wilfully made false monthly returns to the Minister of Finance and Receiver-General, under the Banking Act," is the charge preferred against Mr. Cockburn.

Crown Attorneys Drayton and Corley in the morning held consultation with Mr. Smeert, who is in charge of the Ontario Bank for the Bank of Montreal, and with Secretary Knight of the Canadian Bankers' Association on the subject.

IF SIGNED IN IGNORANCE.

"Suppose that Mr. Cockburn signed the returns not knowing that they were false?" was a question put to Mr. Corley yesterday afternoon.

"The very fact that false returns were signed is, under the Act, taken as proof that they were wilfully signed," he replied. "A bank president is supposed to know that what he is signing is correct. He must take the necessary steps to verify it."

"Yes but it's hard to get a conviction," remarked some one.

"No, it's not," replied Mr. Corley. "Look at the president of the Yarmouth Bank a while ago. He was convicted."

"Yes but he was never sentenced," added Mr Knight. "He appealed and sentence has not yet been passed."

THE ARREST.

Mr Chas. McGill, ex-manager of the Ontario Bank, was placed under arrest at his room at the King Edward Hotel a little after two o'clock yesterday afternoon by Detective Mackie, of the local force, on a charge of fraud connected with the affairs of the Ontario Bank. He was driven over to No. 1 police station, accompanied by his son.

THE INFORMATION.

The following is the information in full, as sworn to by Detective Mackie before Ambrose Kent, J.P.:

"That Charles McGill did unlawfully, being general manager of the Ontario Bank, a body corporate, make statements and returns to the Minister of Finance and Receiver-General known by him to be false in material particulars, to wit, in the information shown under the heading, 'Current Loans in Canada,' the amount shown being in excess of the true amount to the extent of about one million dollars, with intent to deceive the shareholders and creditors of the said bank."

The information on which the warrant was issued, was sworn to by Detective Mackie, who is acting for the Ontario Government. The charge is that of making false returns to the assets and business of the bank within the last two years. Mr. McGill took the arrest very calmly and, as he has before stated, said he was willing to take the consequences.

Mr. Seymour Corley, Crown Attorney, refused to accept bail, and Mr. McGill must remain in custody. He will be arraigned on Friday morning in the police court.

Under the charge Mr. McGill may, if convicted, be sentenced to seven years under the Criminal Code, and five, under the Banking Act.

There is much sympathy for Mr. McGill in Peterborough. His many friends here believe that what he did was done with a view to help the Bank.

A Holy War.

Paris, October 18.—The imminence of a formidable native rising in Morocco and Algeria is growing. The French military authorities in Algeria are in a state of apprehension. The commander of the troops in the district of Ain-Haseefra has cabled to the minister of war saying that the preparations among the Moors for a holy war are proceeding energetically. Mouly Abou, a cousin of the Sultan of Morocco, has visited all the tribes and has induced them to cease their internal uprisings and prepare to take the field in the middle of November.

Reduction in Life Insurance.

New York, October 17.—The disclosures made in the management of the big American life insurance companies have already affected the insurance business to a very serious degree. The State insurance department in New York has just made reports which show that in 1905, when the agitation was at its height, more than $462,000,000 of insurance was allowed to lapse. This, too, was in addition to $167,000,000 in one company, which "expired," but which the department says was largely lapsed insurance. The total lapses in 1905 exceeded half a billion of insurance and, in addition to this, more than $191,000,000 was surrendered for its cash value, which, of course, reduces the business of the companies.

FOUND OF PIES

But Had to Give Them Up.

Anyone who has eaten New England pies know how good they are.

But some things that taste good, don't always agree. A Mass. lady had to leave off pie, but found something far better for her stomach. She writes:

"Six or eight years ago chronic liver trouble was greatly exaggerated by eating too much fat meat, pastry and particularly pies, of which I was very fond.

"Severe headaches, dizziness, nausea followed, and food, even fruit, lay like lead in my stomach accompanied by a dull heavy pain almost unbearable. I had peculiar 'spells'—flashes of light before my sight. I could read half a word and the rest would be invisible.

"A feeling of lassitude and confusion of ideas made me even more miserable. I finally decided to change food altogether and began on Grape-Nuts food which brought me prompt relief—removed the dizziness, headache, confused feeling, and put me on the road to health and happiness. It clears my head, strengthens both brain and nerves.

"Whenever I enter our grocer's store, he usually calls out 'all packages of Grape-Nuts?'—and he's nearly always right." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek Mich. "There's a reason." Read the famous booklet, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

TO ACCUSE ROME OF A CONSPIRACY

Papal Organ Says French Cabinet is Preparing to Accuse Vatican

TO OVERTHROW RBPUBLIC

Proofs of Plot With Monarchists to be Offered—These Not Regarded as Serious.

Rome Oct. 17.—The Observatore Romano yesterday published a semi official article, saying that the French Cabinet is preparing to attack the Vatican at the reopening of the Chambers, by accusing it of engaging in a conspiracy with the monarchists to overthrow the republic, and giving the following statements as proof of its charges;

That the Royalist press which opposed the late Pope Leo, approves of Pope Pius X.

That the Royalist leaders urge the Pope to support the religious movement in France.

That the Pope granted an interview to the Royalist organ, the Gaulois.

The Observatore Romano answers these allegations by stating that Pope Pius, like Pope Leo, loyally accepts the republic, as the former has repeatedly affirmed, conforming his statement in his recent encyclical on the Church and state separation law, and challenges anybody to quote a word uttered by the Pope or to adduce a fact showing the Pontiff as an enemy of the republic.

The proofs to be referred to by the French Government, the Observatore Romano adds, are no serious. The Royalists support the Pope either as good Catholics or for political aims. In the latter case it is not the Vatican's fault, "the responsibility resting on the republic and resulting from the anti-religious measures adopted in oppressing the Church under the guise of carrying on republican ideals."

Local Lady is Complimented

Kindly Words of Toronto Globe for Mrs. W. J. Morrow.

The Toronto Globe, in its column, "A Woman of Today," says: Mrs. W. J. Morrow, of Peterborough, Ontario, Canada, who has been in London for the last three months attending the National College of Music, has been successful in passing the fellowship examination with distinction, gets M.A.!' In addition, she is a professor in the National College—a position her great abilities will enable her to well fulfill. It is rarely that a lady succeeds in passing the Fellowship examination, for the tests are very severe, but Mrs. Morrow displayed knowledge and ability seldom met with. Her many friends and admirers in Peterborough and elsewhere have received the news of her success with much pleasure.

Mr. Burn Visits the Lift Lock

Yesterday some excitement was caused in social, banking and mercantile circles when it became known that Mr. Geo. Burn, of Ottawa, the popular general manager of the Bank of Ottawa, was in the city, registered at the Oriental Hotel.

In conversation with a Times' representative, Mr. Burn expressed himself as greatly pleased with the excellent business the local manager, Mr A. A. Hollingshead, has worked up, and which continues to increase. Mr Burn, in company with Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal, took a trip over the lift lock on the steamer Sovereign.

Mr. Burn had no hesitation in expressing the most optimistic opinions as to Peterborough's success and assured future.

OPENING SESSION OF BAPTIST CONVENTION

Retiring President Gives Fine Address on "The Church and the Second Tables of the Law"---New Officers Elected.

Last night shortly after eight o'clock saw the opening of the 51st annual Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec, in the Murray street Baptist church, with about 200 people present. Visiting clergymen and laymen from numerous congregations from all parts of the two provinces were present at the opening of the great convention as well as many Peterborough people from different churches in the city. The first session was principally taken up with the usual preliminaries to such a gathering in appointment of nominating committees, the retiring president's address and reports.

Seated in the pulpit were three visiting clergymen, viz., Rev. Douglas Laing, president, Kingston; Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, M.A., secretary, Simcoe, and Rev A. N. Frith, of Smiths Falls.

The address by Rev. Mr. Laing, the retiring president, was of course the chief feature of the opening session. Mr. Laing's address was full of vigour and instructiveness dealing minutely with the duties of the christian, and speaking on the subject of 'The Church and the Second Table of the Law.'

The election of officers for the coming year was another important part of the opening session.

The convention opened with devotions exercises under the direction of Rev. A. N. Frith, who read from the Scripture from the 10th chapters of Romans.

After the devotional exercises the President, Rev. Douglas Laing spoke a few words of introduction. He expressed his pleasure at having the convention at Peterborough this year, in the church in which was a pastor whom he had once aught in Sunday school. He also referred to Rev. F. J. Scott's early departure for South America, where he will preach the Gospel to the Peruvians.

The appointment of the nominating committee followed the above remarks, the following brethren being appointed to represent the various associations.

Canada Central—Rev. J. Barrow, M.A.

Eastern—Rev. J. R. Webb.

Elgin—Rev. A. P. McDonald, M.A.

Guelph—Rev. H. H. Priest, B.A.

Scrutineers were next appointed as follows;—Rev. G. B. Davis, B.A., chairman, Rev. Jas. Bracken, Rev Jas. Chapman, Rev. W. Tindall-Lorimer, Rev McKenzie, Rev. W. E. Bowyer, B.A., Rev. D Brown, Rev. C. H. Emmerson, sr., and Rev. George Rock.

The committee on obituaries reported through Rev. G. R. Welch, B A., of Lindsay. The report showed that the following members of the Church had passed away during the past year; Deacon Andrew McLaren, of Bellontaine, Bro. Jas Lester, of Olivet church, Montreal; Sister Esther A. Anderson, wife of Rev. W. K. Anderson, D.D., of Yankleek Hill, Mrs. Hannah Barrington Webb, mother of Rev. G. T. Webb, of Toronto, Rev. Archibald McNeith, of Baltimore, Ont.; Mrs. Job. Roch, Perth; Deacon Harry Edwards, London; Deacon Levi Shark, Hamilton; Deacon Alex. McLean, Huron; Mr. Wm. Pavey, Woodstock, and many others.

The report of the Nominating Committee was then read by Rev. J. R. Webb, which was adopted. The nominations resulted as follows;

President—Bro. R. D. Warren, of Georgetown.

1st Vice-Pres.—Rev. W. M. Walker, B.A., London.

2nd Vice-Pres.—Rev. A. L. Therrin, Montreal.

Sec.-Treas.—Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, M. A., Simcoe.

The new president, Mr. Warren was then introduced, and was greeted with applause as he took his position in the pulpit. In a brief address he thanked the people sincerely for the honor conferred upon him, in electing him president of the convention.

Mr Warren is a layman of the Georgetown Baptist church, and a gentleman who has taken a deep interest for many years in the Christian cause. He will undoubtedly make an excellent president, and will perform his duties with proficiency.

The first session of the great convention was then brought to a close by the singing of a hymn and the benediction.

The Advisory Council of Education

A Candidate Worth a Platform—J. W. Rogers, Dewson Street, Toronto.

Joseph Whyte Rogers, M.A., Dewson Street School, Toronto, has taught in all grades of Public School from the graded rural school to the largest city school in Canada. He believes in using every legitimate means of promoting the interests of Public Schools and of Public School teachers. He was a member of the Committee of Principals who secured from the Government last session four representatives for the Public School teachers instead of one, as formerly. His platform is as follows.

The cultivation of an esprit de corps among Public School teachers, to foster the best instincts of the profession and the unity of its members.

The retaining of Public School teachers of experience in the profession by offering better facilities for proceeding to the higher grades of certificates, by opening up to them the more advanced positions in school work and by adopting means which shall cause the discontinuance of the "state salary" evil and the auctioning off of positions.

The hearty support of the Government in its legislation of last session in the interests of the Public Schools.

The maintenance of continuation classes and the encouragement of their teachers.

The recognition in a definite way of the principals of Model Schools who will have lost their positions through no fault of theirs.

The establishment of an equitable and financially sound scheme of superannuation the majority of the teachers favoring it.

That a year's notice be given to the public when changes in text-books are proposed and the authorization of the best production submitted thereafter.

Old Lady Hurt on Dickson Street

Yesterday morning as Mrs. Condon, an old lady who lives on Union street, was walking along Dickson street, near Mr. R Fair's residence, she stepped on the end of a loose plank which giving way threw her heavily so that she broke an arm and struck her head against a tree. The old lady was carried into Mr. Fair's residence and Dr. McNulty, was summoned.

It might be noted that Mr. Fair had previous to this accident notified the Board of Works concerning this dangerous spot, which is a menace to limbs, if not life itself.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR.

RUGBY.

It seems that today's game at Hamilton, between the Tigers and the local team will be somewhat more advantageous to the white and blues as three of their good players will not take part in the game. Hugh Murray has a very sore face, and it is feared a bone is broken. He had a tooth knocked out and both eyes discolored. Dalhousie also has a bad leg and will not likely be in the game. Husky Craig has a very bad knee, and the doctor is afraid of the water on the knee. He will not be able to take his place either.

The Peterboroughs will have a very much improved team over what they played here a week ago on Saturday, and with the disorganized condition of the Tigers should give the Hamilton bunch a harder run for their money than, perhaps the Ambitious town expects.

Instantly you are aware that some powerful force is building up your depleted energies. At once you feel braced, toned, strengthened. Search the world over and you won't find anything to tone up a weak system like Ferrozone. Physicians claim it is the most strengthening, uplifting medicine ever discovered.

No more spells of tiredness, but bounding, joyful health when you take Ferrozone, of which Mrs. H. S. Gold, of Bowsman, Man., speaks in the following words of praise:

"I state my case because I think it may assist other women to health. A year ago I was almost a wreck. I was pale and emaciated, suffering from nervousness and hysteria. Little things going wrong in the house bothered me. The doctor advised different treatments but they didn't help. He said my low condition was due to weakness that might never be cured. Ferrozone had a peculiar grateful effect and built me up quickly. The ills I suffered from are cured. I am now strong and vigorous and was made so by Ferrozone."

Why not cast aside the chains of sickness and enter the bright, happy life of robust health. Let Ferrozone help you—let it cure you once and forever. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Poison & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

PROSPERITY IN BRITAIN

It is rather cheering to read the following in an article from the London Daily Mail:

A great wave of industrial prosperity, unparalleled in some trades in the past twenty or thirty years, is at present passing over England.

In particular, the "hard" trades, such as the manufacture of steel and iron, the making of boilers and the building of ships, are experiencing a considerable "boom." Sheffield is busier now than at any time since the Franco-German war. One firm alone is fulfilling a contract for £100,000 worth of shells ordered by the Italian government. Another is building for South America two hundred railway waggons, to cost £60,000. From the Argentine a third firm has received an order for a thousand similar waggons. Work in Sheffield is so abundant that, in order to accommodate the influx of artisans and laborers, nearly two thousand houses have been erected during the past few months.

Equally thriving are the boiler-making and ship-building trades.

It is officially calculated that within the past few weeks 77,000 workers in various trades have received an increase of wages, including 35,000 coal miners. The most extraordinary advance, however, has occurred among the lace-makers in the Nottingham district. At Long Eaton, where about 1,500 girls are employed in lace-making, wages have gone up by 25 per cent.

In some districts of Lancashire the cotton "boom" is bringing inconvenient results. At Colne, Burnley and Nelson there exists a "house famine."

Similar conditions prevail at Coventry, which has lately experienced a rush of trade quite unprecedented. It is estimated that there are over 5,000 more male workers in Coventry than at this period last year. One firm alone, the Daimler Company, have 2,000 men at work building motor cars, or three times the number that were engaged at the corresponding period of last year.

Coal mining is likewise in a thriving condition. One contract received at Cardiff from the Campagnie Generale Transatlantique, is for 350,000 tons of coal at a price which shows a considerable profit.

Fatal Street Car Accident.

Los Angeles, October 17.—W. Barratt was killed outright and twelve other persons were seriously injured, four of whom will probably die, when a crowded street car today plunged down a steep hill at Macy and Pleasant streets at terrific speed, and dashed into a telegraph pole.

Piles quickly and positively cured with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. It's made for Piles alone—and it does the work surely, and with satisfaction. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large, Nickel Capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold and recommended by J. D. Tully.

MR. CULVERWELL RETORTS

His Reply to Brighton Knockers of Healy Falls Power.

The Arizona-Birmingham Gold Mining Company of Birmingham, Alabama, secured a lease a little over a year ago on a group of claims belonging to the Chloride Gold Mining Company at Chloride, Arizona, and since that time have been diligently engaged in driving cross-cut tunnel into Schrums Mountain with the expectation of opening up the Lucky Boy vein at considerable depth. The Lucky Boy vein is an extension from an adjoining property and is known to be very rich. Their tunnel is now 1,656 feet in length, 700 feet of which has been driven by the leasing company, who have about 60 feet further to go before reaching the Lucky Boy vein. Several veins have been cut by this tunnel, all of which contained pay ore. About ten days ago a ledge of soft porphyry was cut which showed considerable mineralization. No attention was paid to this as they knew the vein they were desirous of cutting was still further ahead, until a few days later some of the soft material, having been exposed to the air, crumbled off exposing a material that resembled ore, samples of which assayed $180 per ton, or $18,000 per car of 30 tons. No drifting has been done on the new discovery, but it has every appearance of opening up into a large body of rich ore that will make the stockholders of the leasing company wealthy. This ore was cut at a perpendicular depth of 550 feet. The tunnel will be continued until it reaches the objective point. The leasing company has a long lease and are well equipped for development of the group of claims held under lease by them. The Chloride Gold Mining Company shipped 150 tons of ore from their workings last month.

Belleville Ontario: As an outcome of the meeting of the Board of Trade held on Tuesday night, Mr. Culverwell has sent the following letter to Brighton, the home of Messrs. Stinson and Nesbitt:

Dear sir—the "mud throwing power obstruction company" of Brighton, with Sam Nesbitt and Councillor Stinson as leading men, performed before the Belleville Board of Trade on Tuesday night their comedy entitled, "A slanderous attempt to obstruct the development of power from the lake front towns and to divert it to their Lakefield, Peterborough partners." They were greeted with derisive and continual peals of laughter and a number of times were interrupted and condemned by half a dozen of Belleville's leading citizens on account of their mud bespattering remarks towards the Northumberland Durham Power Co. and Managing Director Culverwell, and also towards the Ontario Government for granting the lease of Healey Falls to the company, which was granted at request of twelve municipal councils.

By invitation a month ago of the shareholders meeting of the power company, the obstruction company was requested to appear before the Hydro-Electric Power Commission but as yet they have not done so, notwithstanding the further special request of Managing Director Culverwell.

Belleville citizens state the "circus" has benefitted the power company.

Sam Nesbitt, the unanimously dismissed director of the power company, has written a letter to a Belleville citizen against the company which is characterized by a Cobourg lawyer as "dastardly libellous," and a Belleville lawyer states that Nesbitt stated that Nesbitt stated that he will "starve out the company" by obstruction. This announcement, per press despatch to the Brighton Ensign, is made for publication on behalf of the company's shareholders' financial interests and on behalf of the ratepayers of Brighton village and the lake point community.

Managing Director.

A Simple Wedding

Essen, Prussia, Oct. 17.—In the presence of Emperor William and 140 guests, Fraulein Bertha Krupp and Lieut. The Emperor met with the family during the simple Lutheran marriage service, and then stepped forward and congratulated the bride and bridegroom.

At the wedding breakfast the Emperor drank the health of the bride.

BIG MONEY TO BE MADE

In the Lead Mines of Ontario, Only 100 Miles Northeast of Toronto

Get some of the Stanley Smelting Works stock, a company whose officers have spent their private funds in the past four years to develope their mines, and at the present time have over $2,000,000 in Lead and Zinc Silver Ore blocked out.

In order to handle this great mass of ore it is necessary to install additional equipment, which we estimate will cost about $100,000. We therefore offer you 100,000 shares of our stock at par, $1.00 per share. The present Company controls 100,000 shares, and when this additional stock is all subscribed there will only be $200,000 to draw dividends. This will be a Ten per cene Dividend Paying Stock. Take advantage of the free excursion to visit the mines every Friday night, returning Monday morning.

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

BLOOD DISEASES CURED

Before Treatment. After Treatment.

☞ NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish.

"In other words, after a heavy supper, I have had dreams, and mutter incoherent words in my sleep."

"Yes, you talk in your sleep."

"And upon the ramblings of an uneasy dream you would found a charge of guilt. Have you never dreamed of doing things that you really never could do—living, for instance?" he inquired, disdainfully.

"Robert, your midnight ravings are not like the innocent fantasies of other dreamers. Nor is it only a vague 'shadow of guilt' and scent of blood' that shrouds your nightly slumbers. No, each night you rehearse, again and again, all the horrors of that midnight murder!" cried Ruth, shuddering.

Thugsen could control the tones of his voice—but not the currents of his blood; but the deepening twilight of that sombre room concealed the unearthly pallor of his face, or the demonic glare of his eyes, as he inquired, in a tone of assumed calmness:

"So I dream every night that it was I who murdered Sir Vincent Lester? And my dreams seem to be quite dramatic, worthy even of your accurate remembrance. Now I always forget my dreams, so that I should like to hear you relate this very remarkable one."

"It is too horrible!"

"What, the dream?"

"To hear you trifle so with such tremendous guilt!"

"It was but a dream, you know!"

"Ah!" she exclaimed, shuddering.

"You don't believe me?"

"No!"

"Tut! Come, draw up the curtain! let us see what this very dramatic dream is," he said, disdainfully.

"Oh! do not thus play with your crimes and their consequences. You pretend not to credit me, and you treat my words lightly! but you shall soon know better. You shall hear from my lips the dream in which each night you re-enact the tragedy at Lester House, revealing not only your acts, but your passions and emotions—your hatreds, fears, hopes, and purposes—speaking out what then you only thought and felt!"

"Come, this is the prologue! let us have the play," said Thugsen, ironically.

"Listen, then, Robert Thugsen," continued Ruth, in the tone and manner of one speaking under a powerful inward impulse. "Each night, in dreams, again you lurk around Lester House, hiding in the deepest shadows, and from your lair, like some wild beast crouching to spring upon its prey, you watch the watch until it has passed; then swiftly and silently you dart down the basement stairs; you examine all the doors and windows, and find one window carelessly left unfastened; you raise it and creep into the kitchen, closing it after you; you pause, watching and listening for the slightest sound or movement in that dark, still house; but hearing nothing, and believing all the household to be buried in repose, you draw from your pocket a bunch of well filed skeleton Keys, and creep up the stairs and along the passages; a single bolt or bar shot into its place would have arrested your progress, and saved you from crime and him from death, and you wonder as you steal along on your fatal errand that neither bolt nor bar obstructs your way; you do not know that the butler, whose last duty it is to secure the house, has not yet retired to bed, but is shut up in his office, casting up his accounts, oh, fatal carelessness! And so silently and breathlessly you glide like a serpent from landing to landing, until you reach the fatal chamber door.

"You pause again, and, standing breathless, there you watch and listen; all is dark and still without and within. You insert the key, silently turn the lock, and enter.

"How still the room—the only sound the ticking of the ormolu clock upon the mantelpiece. By the dim light of the taper burning on the hearth, you see the close drawn curtains of your victim's bed. You creep toward it, and standing beside it, bend your head and listen, by the regular breathing of the sleeper you know that he is sound asleep, you push aside the curtain and look upon his face: it is a face full of care and sorrow even in its repose; he is lying on his right side, fronting you; his left arm is thrown up over his head, his position has slightly disordered the bedclothes, so that his left side is entirely exposed; their is nothing to shield his heart from your dagger's point; if the fiend had prepared his victim for the sacrifice, he could not have been readier for your hand.

"One blow and all will be over! But one or all will be lost! You clutch your dagger with a firmer grasp, and bend until you can hear the monotonous beating of that heart you mean to stop for ever! You direct your dagger's point—one firm plunge, and the deed of death is done!

"But the blow that kills first awakens! The wounded man bounds up! glares upon you with his dying and affrighted eyes—shrieks forth that alarm of 'murder,' that arouses the household! You fly! With the swiftness and silentness of the serpent you slip through the halls, glide down the stairs, and so effect your escape. Satan favors you, for as you emerge again from the kitchen window, the watch has just passed; they have not heard that smothered cry of murder; nor through the thick walls and closed shutters can they hear the hurrying footsteps of the roused household as it pours on toward the chamber of murder!

"You escape; you think your deed of darkness hid forever from the world; but, Robert Thugsen, I repeat, each night, when sleep has closed your eyes and sealed your senses, conscience awakes and re-enacts every minute scene of that tragedy, speaking out, what then you only thought and felt, as well as what you saw and did!" concluded Ruth, shuddering.

Could she have seen his face as she finished her narrative she had not trusted her own life in his hands for another hour; but the gathering shadows of night concealed it from her, but his tones were light and bantering, as he said:

"A singular psychological phenomenon! What else? That cannot be all upon which you found your opinion of my guilt?"

"It is enough; yet it is not all."

"What more?"

"The dagger!"

"The dagger?"

"Yes, Robert Thugsen, the dagger that was found in Mr. Cassinove's hand, but with which you had done the murder!"

"What the fiend are you driving at now? What about the dagger? Come, what about it?"

"It was produced to-day in court. I recognized it, it was yours!"

"Upon my word, you are trying to get up quite a case against me. Anything more?"

"Alas, yes!"

"Out with it, then! Let us have the whole at once. 'Never make two bites at a cherry.' You, I think, have made ten at this, and have not finished it yet. Come, what more?"

"The sheath."

"Oh, ha, ha, ha! this woman will certainly be the death of me! ha, ha, ha! First it was the dagger; now it is the sheath! Ha, ha, ha! Well, what about the sheath?"

"The night upon which you came to me at the cottage at Chelsea, you threw off your coat upon the bedroom floor, I took it up to hang it——"

"As you would like to hang its owner," interposed Thugsen.

"As I raised it up, something fell from the pocket; I stooped to see what it was, and picked up the empty sheath of your antique Toledo poniard; it was crusted thickly with dried blood——"

"Why the demon did you not speak of it at the time, then?" interrupted Thugsen.

"Horror transfixed me. When I recovered the use of my faculties, fear for you sealed my lips."

"Fear for me?"

"Yes, fear for you! Laura Elmer, as

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 200,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The Joplin district, Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 250 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

Mr W. Leahy, the Lakefield hotel proprietor, whose appeal case to quash the local option bylaw, was to have been argued on his behalf by Mr. Cameron, the well known barrister, in Toronto yesterday, during the day received a telegram that the case has been postponed for one week.

Store Window Smashed by Stone.

Yesterday morning some one on George street threw a stone at a dog and the stone, missing its mark, went through one of Messrs. W. Lech & Son's plate glass windows. As the dog was on the pavement and ground floor window was fractured, it is needless to say the missile was not hurled by a woman or the third floor glass would have suffered.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Today being Thanksgiving, and our printers having to digest their Thanksgiving turkey in peace, there will be no issue of The Times tomorrow.

—Turkeys about the avoirdupois of a honeumptive canary bird sold yesterday at $1.75, and still the raisers of such jilliputian birds profess to believe in a hereafter!

—The Sisters of St. Joseph will hold a Yuletide Kermiss in the Market Hall from Dec. 17 to 21st, inclusive. The proceeds will be given to various local charities.

—Keene sportsmen complain that ducks are scarce this year. To get ducks one has to go through a concomitant spell of cold weather, and enjoy frozen fingers and toes.

—It was estimated yesterday morning by a well-known local statistician that turkeys in the market cost exactly 7 3-8 cents per mouthful, and the statistician has not a large mouth, either.

—The chances for forming a men's club in connection with George street church are very bright. The meeting held for organization, with Rev. Dr. Crothers presiding was well attended and enthusiastic.

—"Married at Last," was the sign hung behind the carriage containing Mr. Fox, a former Times employe and his bride yesterday. There was also a sonorous cowbell attached to the carriage.

—Yesterday a representative of one of our esteemed contempories went to investigate the scene of an accident of that morning. He himself whilst looking into the matter is said to have had a close escape from accident himself. Which was it high balls or love?

—Game Warden P. Fitzgerald has been out in the Kinmount district looking after illegal deer merchers. As a result of his tip five informations have been laid. In the Bancroft district Mr. Fitzgerald found that many infractions of the game laws had been committed.

—There has been a lot of talk round town during the past few days as to how the poor man who steals a loaf of bread gets six months, while a bank wrecker, who ruins hundreds of homes goes free. A glance at a Toronto despatch in this issue clearly shows that Canada will not allow the big defaulter to go free as is too often seen among our cousins to the south.

Rev. Mr. Bastow to Speak Tonight

Rev. Mr. Bastow, formerly pastor of the Murray street church in this city, is attending the Baptist convention in session here this week.

Mr. Bastow, as many of our readers are aware is now located in Renfrew where he has successfully promoted the interests of his church. Mr. Bastow has been kept busy, since his arrival in the city, shaking hands with his old friends who are glad to see him looking so well. Mr. Bastow yesterday paid his respects to The Times and held quite an acceptable conversation in the sanctum. He will probably speak this afternoon on "Missions" and his address will no doubt be a very interesting one that will attract a large number of our citizens.

Preventics, as the name implies, prevent all Colds and Grippe when "taken at the sneeze stage." Preventics are toothsome candy tablets. Preventics disappear till colds quickly, and taken early, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Preventics are thoroughly safe for children, and as effectual for adults. Sold and recommended in 5-cent and 25-cent boxes by J. D Tully.

Palace Pool Room Opened.

Last night Mr. Pappas, the enterprising George street merchant opened his new pool room, the "Palace," in the premises recently vacated by the hotel of the same name. While the front part of the establishment, which will be used as a barber shop and cigar store, will not be ready for use for a few days, the rear portion of this splendidly furnished place of amusement, was crowded last night by scores of patrons of the game of kings and he fame of games as Beau Brummel used to describe billards. There were five brand new tables of the most modern type, new balls of the best manufacture, and a well lighted, fifty ceilinged spacious room, made a combination that well deserves the name of the Palace.

SENSIBLE REVIVAL

Doctrine That is Being Preached by Best People of Peterborough.

There are all kinds of revivals, religious moral, and temperance, but today the chief interest seems to be in a revival for good health, and it seems to be the Mi-o-na doctrine that has the most adherents in Peterborough. Wipe out indigestion and stomach troubles by using Mi-o-na tablets and most of the misery and ill health would be blotted out of existence.

Indigestion and stomach weakness cause headache, back ache, nervousness, debility, sleeplessness, pains in the side and limbs, poor appetite and a general unhealthy state. Take one little Mi-o-na tablet before each meal for a few days and you will soon find that life is filled with joy and health, that eating is a pleasure and food does not cause distress, and that your digestive organs have become so strengthened that you can almost be credited with the digestion of an ostrich.

A large box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold for 50c, and is successful and reliable in curing indigestion and all stomach troubles, with the exception of cancer of the stomach.

For Sale by all dealers. The R. T. Booth Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

Capt. McAmmond Left Yesterday

Yesterday morning a busy scene was in evidence at the local Salvation Army barracks, as cart after cart left loaded with everything from a cradle to a bicycle, the household goods of Staff Capt. Mr. McPherson has built one of the finest homes of the drama in Canada. The Bennett theater is larger and more elaborate than the well known Russell Theater, 712,000 bricks being required in its construction.

Rapid Tool Co. Rushing Business.

Work is progressing rapidly on the Rapid Tool Company's new factory in the east ward. Foundations are being dug six feet deep for the big power hammers. One of these hammers weighs 17,000 pounds, and consequently requires a solid foundation. The company will soon be turning out thousands of auger bits, already described in a previous issue of The Times.

Norwood Farmer Loses by Fire.

Mr. W. Cuthbertson, a well-to-do farmer living near Norwood, had a heavy loss by fire on Tuesday. His barns containing the whole year's crops were burned with all their contents. The origin of the fire is attributed to children playing with matches. Mr. Cuthbertson's loss approximates $1500 with only some $600 insurance.

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution, much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

Warrant Out for Mr. McGill's Arrest

A Toronto despatch says:

As the result of a conference held yesterday morning between Attorney General Foy, Crown Attorney Drayton and James Bicknell, K.C., representing the Bankers' Association, a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Charles McGill, former manager of the wrecked Ontario Bank, on the charge of falsifying the Government returns regarding current loans in 1905 and 1906. A summons has also been issued for Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn, president of the Bank, on the charge of having as president of the Bank wilfully signed false returns to the Minister of Finance and the Receiver General. It is now stated that the notes under discount at the Bank are really over $200,000 less than stated in the returns, while the assets of the Bank were padded. The total shortage is believed to be $1,000,000.

INTERESTING CONTEST

Heavy Cost of Unpaid Postage

One of the most curious contests ever before the public was conducted by many thousand persons under the offer of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., of Battle Creek, Mich., for prizes of $1 boxes of gold and 300 greenbacks to those making the most words out of the letters Y-I-O-Grape Nuts.

The contest was started in February, 1906, and it was arranged to have the prizes awarded on April 30, 1906.

When the public announcement appeared many persons began to form the words from these letters, sometimes the whole family being occupied evenings, a combination of amusement and education.

After a while the lists began to come in to the Postum Office and before long the volume grew until it required wagons to carry the mail. Many of the contestants were thoughtless enough to send their lists with insufficient postage and for a period it cost the Company from twenty-five to fifty-eight and sixty dollars a day to pay the unpaid postage.

Young ladies, generally those who had graduated from the high school, were employed to examine these lists and count the correct words. Webster's Dictionary was the standard and each list was very carefully corrected except those which fell below 5,000 for it soon became clear that nothing beg low that could win. Some of the lists required the work of a young lady for a solid week on each individual list. The work was done very carefully and accurately but the Company had no idea, at the time the offer was made, that the people would respond so generally and they were compelled to fill every available space in the offices with these young lady examiners, and notwithstanding they worked steadily, it was impossible to complete the examination until September 29, over six months after the prizes should have been awarded.

This delay has caused a great many inquiries and naturally created some dissatisfaction. It has been thought best to make this report in practically all of the newspapers in the United States and Canada and in many of the magazines in order to make clear to the people the conditions of the contest.

Many lists contained enormous numbers of words which, under the rules, had to be eliminated. "Pegger" would count, "Peggers" would not. Some lists contained over 50,000 words, the great majority of which were cut out. The largest lists were checked over two, and in some case, three times to insure accuracy.

The $100.00 gold prize was won by L. D. Reese, 1227-16th street, Denver, Colo., with 9,941 correct words. The highest $10.00 gold prize went to H. K. Fraser, Lincoln, Pa., with 9,457 correct words.

A complete list of the 331 winners with their home addresses will be sent to any contestant enquiring on a postal card.

Be sure and give name and address clearly.

This contest has cost the Co. many thousand dollars, and probably has not been a profitable advertisement, nevertheless perhaps some who had never before tried Grape-Nuts food have been interested in the contest, and from trial of the food have been shown its wonderful rebuilding powers.

It teaches in a practical manner that scientifically gathered food elements can be gathered from the field grains, which nature will use for rebuilding the nerve centres and brain in a way that is unmistakable to users of Grape-Nuts.

FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE

F. McPherson Receives the Contract for Electric Wiring the New Fire Hall—D. Belleghem Will Take Care of the Ambulance.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council met last night when there were present: Chairman Ald Adams, Aldermen Graham, Duncan, Elliott and Mayor Best.

ELECTRIC WIRING.

Tenders for the electric wiring of the new fire hall and fixtures, were received as follows:

Alexander & Miller	$198 50
McGregor & Reid	185.00
Frank McPherson	107.00

Ald. Elliott moved, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That the tender of Frank McPherson be accepted.—Carried.

CARE OF AMBULANCE.

The following tenders were received for the care and service of the Dan Spence ambulance;

A. Comstock	$100
Dan Belleghem	100

Mr Belleghem received $200 last year for this service.

Mr. Comstock has both telephone connections, and Mr. Belleghem has the Bell system.

Ald Elliott moved, seconded by Mayor Best,—That the tender of Dan Belleghem be accepted.

Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald Graham,—In amendment, that A Comstock's tender be accepted.

This left the issue in the hands of the chairman, Ald. Adams, who cast his vote for Mr. Belleghem. The Dan Spence ambulance will consequently be in the care of Dan Belleghem another year.

MORE LIGHT.

A petition for an electric light on King street, 1500 feet west of King street, was received. Four 32 c.p. incandescent lights will be furnished in this neighborhood.

The chairman was authorized to illuminate the streets in east Peterborough now seeking light with 32 c.p. incandescent lamps in place of arc lamps.

FIRE APPARATUS.

Hugh Cameron & Co., of Toronto, wrote that they would be pleased to tender on fire fighting apparatus at an early date as the prices of supplies for this purpose are liable to advance after January, 1907. — Received

FIRE ALARM TELEGRAPH SYSTEM.

Tenders for the new fire alarm system were received as follows;

Alexander Anderson, of the National Alarm System, Toronto, (material and erecting, the city to furnish the poles)	$4,470 00
Northern Electric Company, (material only)	2,197.00
Bell Telephone Co.	2,979.60
Maintenance of system (per annum)	500 00
Aberdeen & Soper, Ltd., Ottawa, the Gamewell system, (materials only, and not including wiring)	2,720 05
Geo E. Beatty, Toronto (materials and construction)	4,778.00

He will keep the system in order five years for $290, and ten years for $610.

The committee would not decide on any definite action regarding these tenders until such time as the Committee of the Whole Council have met the Manufacturers' Committee who are anxious that the alarm boxes should be installed in the best possible interest of the city manufactories.

Mr Seymour Rathbone, secretary of Ahern & Soper, Limited, of Ottawa, appeared for his company, who submitted a tender for the electric fire alarm system. He explained that his company's tender is for material only but they would be willing to furnish an expert to superintend the construction work at $5 a day.

Nearly Poisoned by Gas Fumes

After 8 a.m. on Thanksgiving Day, what for some time looked like an unsecured tragedy occurred in one of the trenches at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, where the Peterborough Light and Power Co., are laying new mains.

Out of the workmen employed at this corner was engaged in connecting up the large pipes in the trenches crossing George street. His fellow workmen noticed that the man had dropped to the bottom of the trench as he leep Quickly several of the Light & Power Company's employes engaged on this job, jumped into the six feet deep excavation and passed the body of the insensible man through the tunnell over which is the walk way between China Hall and Messrs. Ormond & Walsh's drug store. When they lifted the unconscious man out, by way of the broadened part of this trench, when a boy was nearly buried a few days ago, it took Foreman McDonald and several of the workmen, fully half an hour to bring the man back to consciousness. It looked for some time as though he was dead.

City Funds in Montreal Bank

Leading Citizens Think Ontario Banks Successor Should Have the Account

There seems to be a marked diversity of opinion concerning the banking of the city's account. It is generally known that the City of Peterborough carried their account with the Ontario Bank, and that now this bank has gone under, it will be necessary for the city to determine in which of our local banks, our accounts shall be deposited, and where the city shall do business.

We are informed that the former Ontario Bank obtained the city's account, not through any strenuous competition, but simply because those in charge of the city's finances, took the account there.

Yesterday several leading citizens in conversation regarding the proposed bill for the city's account, between the various local banks, were unanimous in thinking that the Bank of Montreal should retain this account. The main reason for this convention was that the Ontario Bank has always acted fairly with the city, and that the Bank of Montreal, its successor, should take over the account particularly so, because the Bank of Montreal came to the aid, not only of the Ontario Bank directly, but really to the help of many merchants and others in this city, by avoiding a panic. Had the Bank of Montreal not come to the assistance of the Ontario Bank the certain panic resulting, would have crippled, if not ruined many of our leading industries and mercantile institutions. Hence it was thought that in common fairness, courtesy and business etiquette, the city's account should remain with the Ontario Bank's successor, the Bank of Montreal.

A Further Complaint re Escaping Gas

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I saw in your paper a few days ago a letter calling attention to the intolerable stench of gas that pervades Simcoe street, from George to Aylmer street, and possibly further west. I cannot understand why the health authorities of the city do not take some action in this matter.

The stench, or to use plain English "stink" of the gas along this street is not only unbearable but positively sickening. On Wednesday night the smell of gas pervaded the whole of the house on Simcoe street belonging to a friend of mine. To my certain knowledge, 3 out of two of those living in this house, were so sick on Thanksgiving Day they could not come to breakfast. It is about time this public nuisance were abated and the pipes either buried or plugged up so that the whole neighborhood is not made unhealthy and a plague spot.

Yours truly,
SIMCOE STREET.

Mr. McGill Was Non-Committal

Former General Manager Before Toronto Police Court.

A Toronto despatch of yesterday says that; Charles McGill, former manager of the Ontario Bank, charged with making false returns to the Government and G. R. R. Cockburn, president, charged with signing these false statements appeared before the police magistrate yesterday morning. The proceedings were very brief. Mr. McGill, through his counsel E. F. B. Johnston, did no either plead or elect, and was remanded for a week, his bail being renewed. Mr. Cockburn was represented by Frank Arnold, who pleaded not guilty for his client. A remand was granted in Mr. Cockburn's case also for a week.

Grand March Was Prettily Arranged

On Thanksgiving Day, the "grand march" was put on, with good effect at the Charlotte street roller skating rink. This grand march is a very pretty combination put on by those experienced in skating on wheels.

It is begun by perhaps 250 skaters forming by twos, and skating up each side of the rink to the farend from where they start. The two by two skaters, circulate several times, when fours are formed in similar evolutions. Then the skaters make rows of eights, and after a time, all to the music of the band, a kind of serpentine figure is performed. The grand march is a pretty series of evolutions, well worth seeing or participating in.

Rich Discoveries in Lower Quebec

Prospectors Reach Quebec With Rich Specimens From the Northern Countries.

Quebec, October 20.—There is renewed excitement here over the reports and extraordinary rich specimens of ore recently brought here by prospectors from Chibugamoo.

Mr. Charles Ralph, who was prospecting in the interests of the Montreal and Lake St. John Syndicate, has brought down some silver ore that was assayed $2,400 to the ton, while his copper and gold samples are also very promising but not of such value.

Mr. Armand Tessier has also returned with a quantity of excellent samples of copper silver and cobalt bloom which were found so rich by Monsignour Laflamme, of Laval University, that he has sent them to be assayed, and is now awaiting the report.

Mr. Blake, who was in charge of a party of prospectors in the interest of a Quebec syndicate, has returned with probably the richest lot of copper quartz, asbestos samples and magnetic iron yet.

This latter promises to startle the world with its richness when it is known. At present his samples are being assayed and in the meantime the Quebec syndicate have been approached by a wealthy New York syndicate for an interest in their lots, but at a meeting of the company held in the Chateau, it was decided to retain all their properties until further development work has been accomplished, when the question of taking in outside capital will be considered.

Yesterday several returning prospectors were at the Department of Mines and Colonization securing further properties upon which they have been working.

GOLF.

Eleven enthusiastic members of the local golf club went to Toronto on the holiday, and played a similar number at the Rosedale links. The Peterborough team was defeated by 9 3-4 points. They were most hospitably entertained by the Rosedale club and had an enjoyable outing. The following players represented Peterborough;—Messrs Burritt, Neill, Mulholland, Ritchie, Stratton, Parker, Medd, Hall, Blanchett and Dr. McFall

RUNNING.

Ray P. Best, the winner of the Stratton Cup, has lived in Peterborough only a year and a half. He is a son of Mr. E. E. Best, of Winnipeg, public school inspector for the Northeastern District of Manitoba. He was born in Gladstone, Man., and is 21 years of age. In that city he ran his only foot-race before his triumph of the holiday, a quarter of a mile race, which he won against 13 competitors.

Bullet Proof Pad Latest Invention

Protection Now Afforded for Soldiers Against Bullets.

London, October 17.—Army experts abroad are much interested in the remarkable bullet-proof shield which has been invented by a young Italian restaurant waiter, Ernesto Bendetti. It is said to be the only bullet-proof material which has been able really to withstand bullets and sword thrusts. So great is the inventor's faith in his shield that at a recent demonstration he offered to wear one shaped like a liver pad and let any body who chose fire at him all day long at close range. Find the challenge unaccepted, Bendetti fastened the shield to the side of a horse and did the shooting himself. The horse was not hurt at all. The bullets were found flattened against the surface of the shield, which had proved itself impenetrable. In order to prove further that the shield not only stops the bullet but robs it of all impact force as well, a knapsack was suspended in the air, with a glass of water upon it, so full that the slightest shock would have caused some of the water to be spilled, and fire was opened at short range without a drop being spilled. Glass plates were then placed inside the knapsack, and an empty flask stripped of its straw covering, almost touching the shield; but neither the plates nor the flask were fractured.

FRENCH MINISTRY RESIGNED IN A BODY

Premier Sarrien's Resignation Precipitated Crisis That is Viewed With Apprehension in Rome.

Paris, Oct. 20.—At the Cabinet meeting held yesterday morning Premier Sarrien officially informed his colleagues that he had transmitted his resignation to President Falliéres, whereupon the Ministers resigned in a body.

The session lasted only twenty minutes.

After that Sarrien had submitted the text of his letter to Mr Falliéres, in which he expressed deep regret at the fact that the state of his health compelled him to retire, and thereby raise new difficulties at a moment "when the Republican party should be united and a rong to meet the attacks being organized against it."

Foreign Minister Bourgeous wrote a collective letter which all present signed, joining their resignations to that of their chief.

CONFLICT MORE BITTER.

Rome, Oct. 20.—The resignation of Premier Sarrien and the re-organization of the French Cabinet have caused a feeling of apprehension at the Vatican, where it is feared that the conflict between the Church and State in France will become more bitter if M. Clemenceau assumes the Premiership.

In Cyclone at Havana One Hundred are Dead

New York, Oct. 20.—A special cablegram from Havana to the Evening Telegram says.—Over one hundred are dead today from the worst cyclone which has ever visited this city. The whole American fleet was menaced, and the cruiser Brooklyn torn from her moorings and thrown upon the shore.

Ninety-four of the fatalities are confined to natives, while sixteen foreign residents are reported killed.

More than 1,000 tents in camp Columbia have been blown to atoms, houses unroofed and one trooper probably fatally hurt.

Fortunately the storm gave everybody about half an hour's warning, and when the blow arrived the marines on shore had sought shelter in the warships. All but the Brooklyn rode out the storm. These ships included the Minneapolis, Texas, Denver and Prairie.

When the tempest reached its height buildings were shaken as with an earthquake, street cars were washed from their tracks, windows were blown in like paper, and roofs and doors swept away.

Several of the smaller frame houses were blown from their foundations and were wrecked. These were situated in the poorer district, and were the cause of so many deaths among the natives.

It is feared that great loss of life occurred in the interior, especially in Pinar del Rio and on an island at Artemesia.

The wind is estimated to have blown at the rate of 80 miles an hour. The greatest money loss will come from the damage done to shipping. Great waves engulfed about thirty-five lighters and scows in the harbor, and they were smashed against the wharves.

It is estimated that the loss of life and damage would have been greater had it not been for the timely warning, given by Father Love at Guines. He is a noted weather observer of Berlin College. He telephoned to Columbia Camp at 7.30 o'clock, one hour before the storm descended, the cyclone was coming, and his warning was immediately heeded.

REST

While You Work!

That sounds paradoxical, but the reasoning is correct.

Rest signifies "comfort" and there's comfort in working with a clear brain, steady nerves, possessed of the conscious power to "do things" and still have a lot of thought and energy stored up for more work.

To be in fashion nowadays, one must be able to do something well that requires strenuous activity and correctly thought out plans.

The "gentlemen of leisure" belong to a former era—not in demand in this country at the present time.—The modern gentleman is a "doer"—not a mere "looker-on."

Individuals differ in their ability to plan and execute, but human energy is largely derived from food. And that food is best which supplies all the requirements with the least expenditure of bodily (digestive) effort to convert it into action.

Grape-Nuts, the product of a food expert's experiments and practical application during many years, contains the nitrogenous elements of field grains (wheat and barley) that repair tissue-waste. This waste is greater or less in accordance with the activity of the individual.

It contains also the carbohydrates, or starch element (changed in making Grape-Nuts, into soluble sugar for absorption into the blood stream) which the vital forces convert into energy.

It contains, also, the highly important phosphate of potash which the system elaborates, by combining with albumen, into the delicate gray matter of brain and nerve centres. Where Grape-Nuts forms the basis of food, the digestive organs do their work easily and naturally, converting food into stored up energy and keeping the tissues in perfect repair—then they rest, while this energy is at the command of the individual to work with in comfort—the rest of wholesome activity. Then does the work count. Read the little book in pkgs. of Grape-Nuts, "The Road to Wellville."

"There's a reason."

English Dock Owner Visits the City

Thanksgiving Day in this city, was noticeable for the presence in our midst of Mr. F. B. Girdlestone, secretary and general manager of the Bristol Avonmouth and Portishead Docks at the Port of Bristol, who was accompanied by Mr. Arthur White, of the Grand Trunk Railway, and who came here to see the hydraulic lift-lock and the Trent Canal.

These gentlemen arrived in the city, early in the morning and registered at the Oriental Hotel. They afterwards went to the lift lock, boarded a steamer and went up over. Like others who have seen the lift lock for the first time, Mr. Girdlestone said it far surpassed anything he had ever seen.

Mr Girdlestone thinks that Peterborough is one of the most bustling towns in Canada, and is bound to become a vast manufacturing center. The people of the city, he said, are to be highly congratulated upon their success in inducing the Coates Co., Limited, to locate a branch here.

Labor Question in British Columbia

Interesting Speech by General Manager of Bank of Commerce.

Vancouver, B. C., October 20.—Mr. Byron E. Walker, of Toronto, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, studiously avoided any reference to the Ontario Bank when he addressed the Canadian Club. His theme was British Columbia, and its relation to Canada's destiny.

Perhaps the most interesting portion of his speech was devoted to the labor question. "In the matters that require the initial efforts of man, said Mr. Walker British Columbia stands paramount. Cheap labor was an absolute necessity. British Columbia was today the most expensive country to live in, and the cost of labor was the basic fact on which the conclusion rested.

He thought the use of cheap labor for mining, roadmaking and fruit-growing, was only making British Columbia a better home for the high-priced labor of the future.

He understood that thousands of dollars' worth of fruit had gone to absolute loss this year because the labor could not be obtained to handle it. Then again this section looked for trade in the far east. Would the Orientals forever go on accepting the insults that were being offered them? Some time they would revolt, and then to say "stay out," would be the same as for England to say today that Frenchmen should not cross the Straits of Dover.

Mr. Walker called special attention to the fact that British Columbia's labor troubles were being discussed outside of the province much more than people here worted of. Capitalists were paying attention to the effect he said.

C. P. R. AT ORILLIA

Orillia, Oct. 20.—The C.P.R. through its solicitor, Mr. R. S. Gunn, K.C., has submitted plans of the route of the Georgian Bay and seaboard line through the town to the Council for approval. The line runs through the west side of the town park, and along the water front, to the old Northern Railway right-of-way, owned by the Grand Trunk. Here it runs straight to Atherley, crossing the Narrows to the north of the Grand Trunk bridge.

The town council hopes to make arrangements with the C.P.R. for the improvement of the water front. A scheme for a drive-way and walk with a few seats here and there on the grass is suggested.

Parliament to be Summoned Nov. 22

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 20.—It is almost certain that Parliament will be summoned on November 22.

If the Government can manage it, the date will be the 15th, but this is extremely improbable.

The thirty days notice, while customary is not necessary, so that there is no legal obstacle to the earlier date.

It is a matter of preparing for the session.

JOHN GRANE
MANAGER

MAGNIFICENT OFFER TO PETERBOROUGH

Mr. M. A. McNamara Will Present One Hundred Acres of Land to the City, Gratis, for the Coates Company's Factory.

Mr. Martin A McNamara, 718 Water street, who is largely interested in real estate in Peterborough, is now out with a most generous offer and one that should undoubtedly be eagerly taken advantage of by his fellow-citizens.

The very munificent gift that Mr. McNamara now offers this city is no less than one hundred acres of good land, absolutely free of all costs, to the City of Peterborough, for transfer by them to Messrs. Coates and Company, who are seriously considering the erection of a huge plant here.

The land Mr. McNamara offers to present to Peterborough is situated to the south of the city, and is admirably adapted for the proposed factory, being one mile from the southern boundary of the city proper. We are of the opinion that the site so generously offered by Mr. McNamara is an ideal one for the proposed industry. The exigencies of the Coates plant demand a large amount of land, and the 100 acres offered by Mr. McNamara comply with such requirement. Another feature of this land is that it is level, which is a further reason for its suiting the Coates Company. In every detail this location is perfect for such an industry as that in question it is easily accessible by both rail, water and street car service.

With the opening up and commercial patronage of the Trent Valley Canal, all our local factories will ship a large percentage of their output by water. The land offered by Mr. McNamara is on the direct course of the canal, and there is one-eighth of a mile where splendid docks could be built, and goods shipped direct from the factory doors.

In view of this offer of Mr. McNamara, the location of the Coates' plant in Peterborough would be assured beyond all doubt and the city saved whatever grant the company might ask to secure it, should any such stipulation be suggested by them.

It is now up to the city to avail itself of this offer and thus at no cost to Peterborough secure one of the largest plants now seeking location in Canada.

WHY SO WEARY?

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But It's Dangerous.

You have to work hard. This uses up lost of nerve force and tears down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't shake off. The water in your blood must be turned into nutriment and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which renews the blood and nerves, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, debility, or sickness of any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill, of Orr Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from over-powering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight hacking cough also added to my burden.

"My doctor said to try Ferrozone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous sensations disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 56, I consider Ferrozone is a marvel." (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS: Ferrozone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty chocolate-coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE BANK DIRECTORS UNDER FIRE

The directors of the unfortunate Ontario Bank are being raked by a cross-fire. The shareholders, on the one hand, are charging them with neglect and mismanagement; while the manager, Mr. Chas. McGill, says that they left the task of pulling the bank out of a hole entirely to him. According to his story the condition of the bank was "desperate" when he took hold of it eleven years ago; and yet the responsibility of keeping the bank going and building it up was left upon his shoulders alone.

There is no doubt whatever that there must be a thorough enquiry into the whole matter. If investors are alarmed as to the security of Canadian bank stocks, real and wide-spread harm will be done the country; and, as the Montreal Star puts it, certainly such alarm will be created if the impression grows that bank directors can neglect their duties with impunity for a term of years without anyone being any the wiser. A bank shareholder cannot possibly keep closely in touch with the affairs of his bank if the directors do not serve him with fidelity and zeal. Under our system, the directors hold the key to the situation; and we ought to learn from this case how best to keep directors up to the mark.

Of course, the defence of the directors is yet to come. It is easy for other people to talk at large; but the directors are restrained by a proper sense of responsibility until the facts are better known and their policy for the immediate future is decided upon. But the public, after heaving a sigh of relief that they have got off so easily from what might readily have been a bad smash, will now want the whole matter probed to the bottom, with a view to guarding against similar disaster in other cases. It ought not to be possible for a bank to go on eleven years on the verge of "disaster," inviting the deposits of innocent people and selling its stock to uninformed investors. Possibly our banking system still depends too entirely upon the integrity and activity of the bank directors.

KEENE

As usual the Sons of Real congregated on the park on Saturday night last. There was visiting brethren from Williers, Westwood, Lang, Warsaw, Peterborough and Hiawatha. At the opening hour Minney Wale, the president, mounted the platform, took the chair and opened the meeting with a much longer prayer than usual, asking a special blessing on the visiting brethren. After concluding his prayer, he sounded the gavel and declared the meeting open for general business. He then rose to his feet and informed the brethren that he was now cock of the roost for another term of six months. Fighting Archy shouted out: you got there only by the skin of your teeth. Minney Wale, in a very snappish tone, told Archy that he got there all the same, independent of his support. Archy grunted out: I'll show you who is the most popular man next election. Oh, says Minney Wale, popularity does not cut any ice with me, I am the choice of the people and I will head the pole every time, independent of your lies and backbiting. The president now took his seat, amidst great applause. Poney Moore now stood up and asked how this society stood financially. The treasurer reported five thousand dollars and fifteen cents at present in the treasury and two thousand more to be collected in fines. Poney next asked if the society had any shares in the Ontario bank. The president responded: No, no. All right, says Poney, and took his seat. Tough Cowie now rose and said that it afforded him great pleasure to gaze on such an intelligent looking class of people as are assembled here tonight. He said that this was his first visit at a Keene meeting, but he trusted it would not be his last. He said that it grieved him to lay a charge against a brother and neighbor, but under the present circumstance he could not refrain from laying a charge against Slicky Weaver for pawning his sweater for a glass of flagwater. Minney Wale bounded to his feet with fire in his eyes, and said that he was both surprised and disgusted at any young man who would belittle himself to pawn off his clothes for strong drink, and in order to make a public example of him he would impose a fine of one hundred dollars to be paid in one week or six months in prison, with a warning to abstain from strong drink in the future for it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder and so will the cold winds bite and sting you this winter without a sweater. Skunk-hunter Rennie laid a charge against Hucksaw Carter for sawing wood after six o'clock at night. The president fined Hucksaw five dollars. He paid the fine, shouldered his saw and took a beeline for home. Bobtail Pue rose and said that, as the night was rather chilly, he would move that the meeting be closed and that we meet in the hall of wisdom next Saturday nigh. Wolf Howson seconded the motion and it was unanimously carried. The president asked Tom Decackey and Shorty Loucks to sing the closing ode. They sang it well. The meeting was then closed until next Saturday night in the hall of wisdom.

A Golden Message for Investors

Good Chance for Capital to Earn Quick and Large Dividends

Colorado, the land of wonderful scenery, canyons, gold, silver and other metals, contains no richer mine than that of the Golden Message Mining Company, of Boulder, Colo. The Boulder County Miner, an independent and reliable paper, in its issue of October 4th inst., devotes nearly a whole column concerning the recent rich strike made in the Golden Message mine, at Sunshine, Colo. The paper says, in part:

Reports from Sunshine, the scene of operations of the Golden Message Company indicate that the rich strike made on the Addison claim of this company is developing into one of the greatest strikes ever made in the county. The extraordinary values found in the ore together with its extent and the fact that the high grade streak is accompanied with such quantities of lower grade of mill ore mark the discovery as one of the richest made in years, and one which at the present time stands out from all others in the extent and value of its rich ore deposits.

The passage way around the winze having been completed last week, work in the bottom of the shaft was resumed. A strip of high grade ore about 12 inches wide, on the side of the shaft was broken to make way for timbers and a two inch strip of this ore next to the wall was absolutely full of crystalized gold, sylvanite and tellurium.

Last week a party of Illinois gentlemen with Mr. Eubanks, president of the Golden Mining Company, were in Boulder in regard to the plans of development. These plans embrace a modern and up-to-date operating plant in every respect.

As noted in the half page adv. in this issue, the company are for a limited time only selling stock in this prosperous mine at 25 cents per share, which will doubtless be raised within a month to 50 cents per share.

For full particulars address The Golden Message Mining Company's Rooms 1 and 2, Rogers Block, Boulder Colo.

FOUND RELIEF BY TAKING PE-RU-NA

MRS. ANNA MUNDEN

Suffered Thirteen Years With Pelvic Troubles. Unable to Find Relief.

AN OPERATION ADVOCATED.

Pe-ru-na, Taken as a Last Resort, Brings Health and Strength.

There can be no doubt about it that the tendency to resort to surgical operations has been too great in the past and that this harmful tendency is growing less every day.

Experience has demonstrated that many ailments which seemed to require surgical operations in the past are now being cured by the use of harmless remedies. Peruna has done as much as any other remedy to establish this very important fact.

SURGICAL OPERATIONS AVOIDED.

Thousands of people have been condemned to undergo surgical operations. Their physicians have told them that they must either submit to such operations or lose their lives.

After this they have resorted to Peruna and found relief.

Other good remedies have accomplished the same result, but it is safe to assume that no other remedy has equaled Peruna in its beneficent work.

Many of the alleged incurable derangements of the pelvis are dependent upon catarrh.

There is no cure for these except the removal of the catarrh.

Peruna seemingly works miracles in some of these cases. The explanation, however, is very simple. Peruna removes the catarrh and Nature does the rest.

ANNA MUNDEN, Brinkley, Ark., writes:

"I suffered with female troubles for thirteen years, and tried the best doctors in Louisville, Ky., without relief.

"I spent thousands of dollars at the Springs.

"The doctors desired that I have an operation performed to remove my ovaries, which I would not consent to.

"I saw an advertisement of your Peruna and bought one bottle and before I had taken it all I could get out of bed and walk about.

"After taking three bottles I was as well and hearty as ever.

"I gained in flesh. From 118 I increased to 186 pounds.

"If it had not been for your great and wonderful medicine, I would now be in my grave.

"I would advise all women sufferers to try it.

"I would not be without it for the world."

A WOMAN'S LETTER TO WOMEN.

Mrs. Caroline Kramer, Fort Collins, Col., writes:

"The majority of women who are suffering from disordered periods and other troubles, have such strong faith in doctors that they allow them to experiment on them for kidney, liver, or stomach troubles, until they become discouraged and their money is gone.

"This was my unfortunate experience for nearly two years, when my attention was called to Peruna.

"I hardly dared believe that at last I had found the right medicine, but as I kept on using it and was finally cured I could only thank God and take courage.

"I have had most satisfying results from the use of your medicine and have advised dozens of women who were suffering with woman's ills to use Peruna and let the doctors alone, and those who have followed my advice are better to-day and many are fully restored to health."

SATISFACTORY RESULTS FROM PE-RU-NA.

A RICH STRIKE

Bonanza Ore Discovered by Leasing Company at Chloride, Arizona, on the Property of the Chloride Gold Mining Company.

The Arizona-Birmingham Gold Mining Company of Birmingham, Alabama, secured a lease a little over a year ago on a group of claims belonging to the Chloride Gold Mining Company at Chloride, Arizona, and since that time have been diligently engaged in driving cross-cut tunnel into Schruine Mountain with the expectation of opening up the Lucky Boy vein at considerable depth. The Lucky Boy vein is an extension from an adjoining property and is known to be very rich. Their tunnel is now 1,650 feet in length, 700 feet of which has been driven by the leasing company, who have about 60 feet further to go before reaching the Lucky Boy vein. Several veins have been cut by this tunnel, all of which contained pay ore. About ten days ago a ledge of soft porphyry was cut which showed considerable mineralization. No attention was paid to this as they knew the vein they were desirous of cutting was still further ahead, until a few days later some of the soft material, having been exposed to the air, crumbled off exposing a material that resembled ore, samples of which assayed $466 per ton, or $13,980 per car of 30 tons. No drifting has been done on the new discovery, but it has every appearance of opening up into a large body of rich ore that will make the stockholders of the leasing company wealthy. This ore was cut at a perpendicular depth of 550 feet. The tunnel will be continued until it reaches the objective point. The leasing company has a long lease and are well equipped for development of the group of claims held under lease by them. The Chloride Gold Mining Company shipped 150 tons of ore from their workings last month.

Particular attention is given to physical training by two graduates of the Boston Normal School of Physical Culture who reside in the College, and give individual care to the pupils. Instruction in swimming will be given in the new swimming bath.

Large grounds adjoin the College, and afford ample space for tennis, basket ball, cricket, etc., in Summer, and for hockey upon a full-sized rink in Winter.

A new Junior School is now being erected. The Curriculum includes, among other subjects, elementary courses in Cookery, Wood Carving and Basket Weaving.

A Domestic Science School, with six Departments, is now being fitted up.

Copies of the Calendar, containing full information as to entrance, fees, etc., may be obtained on application to the Bursar.

THE GOLDEN MESSAGE

Created another stir in Boulder County last week when ore was brought out literally sprinkled with free gold from the bottom of the Addison shaft at a depth of 30 feet. Black tellurium and sylvanite are also showing in greater abundance The prophecy of our experts have not only been proven, but have been surpassed beyond expectancy.

THE PEOPLE OF BOULDER

are viewing the great chunk of rich ore that was brought down to the office last Saturday. Col. Teters, whose knowledge of mining it is not necessary to mention, scrutinizing the big piece of ore said: "That ore is a credit to any mine, and will be the life of the Sunshine District." M. B. Tomblin, another recognized authority of Boulder County said: "Eighty per cent. of the high grade streak on that piece of ore is gold"

CAPITALISTS FROM ILLINOIS

made a trip to Boulder last week to look over the property of the Golden Message Mining Co., and expressed their approval of the mines and management by purchasing a large block of the stock.

THE BIG PROPOSITION

is fast rounding into shape, and will soon be ready to turn out the bullion. Additional men are being put to work at the mines as fast as room can be made for them. A few feet further and the Addison drift will strike the rich dyke that crosses four of these claims, and on this dyke cross-cuts will be made to the St. Louis, Noondale, and Ravine, thus connecting the four large ore bodies which will be operated through one main tunnel and shaft. The shaft in the Addison will soon reach the 50 foot mark and then a new level will be run parallel to the one above till it reaches the dyke, on which cross-cuts will again be made to the other mines. This plan will be followed throughout, so at all times the working of the mines will be on good ore, and will never necessitate cutting through dead rock.

THE LARGE GROUND FLOOR OPTION

is almost gone, but as long as there is a share of it left it will sell at 25c. No further notice will be given until the 50c. option is put on. The success of this company is assured, and we give you this chance to get in on the ground floor as long as the ground floor option lasts. You may use the wires at our expense in notifying us the number of shares you want, and we will hold them for you at 25c until your remittance comes, provided you act at once.

OUR PROPOSITION

We are offering you a chance to invest in one of the leading mining propositions in the West, or a free trip to Boulder and return. If you desire to invest in a proposition that you have seen and know is all right, we invite you to come to Boulder and we will take pleasure in showing you our property, and in case you find that we have misrepresented it in any way, we will pay your fare to Boulder and return. That is fair, isn't it? If you want to make a good investment, take us up on this proposition.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell President Power Co.

Belleville to be Supplied With Power From Healy's Falls.

Several conferences have taken place lately in Belleville regarding the Healy Falls power, which resulted in a deputation visiting that city on Monday, says The Ontario. It was composed of representative men of the lake front towns, directors of the Northumberland-Durham Power Company, Limited—the company which is expected to do great things for Belleville and district, and in which the best of Belleville citizens have become directors recently.

The deputation waited upon Sir MacKenzie Bowell, K.C.M.G., to secure his acceptance of the presidency of the company, and after a long meeting Sir MacKenzie gave his acceptance in response to this urgent appeal, because of the necessity of Belleville being placed in the position of having cheap and large quantities of electric power to offer industries, along with the grand water transportation facilities with which it is blessed.

The deputation was composed of J. A. Culverwell, Managing Director and pro tem President, E. C. S. Huycke, K.C., and Councillor Chas. Mallon, of the town; Aldermen D. V. Sinclair and H. C. Hunt, Secretary-treasurer of the Belleville Hardware Co. Letters were also received from Col. H. A. Ward, M.P., and Robert A. Mulholland of Port Hope.

Belleville will also be pleased to learn that today Mr. J. M. Hurley, ex-M.P., became a subscriber of stock, and also at the earnest request of Messrs. Huycke and Culverwell, on behalf of the board of directors, accepted a directorship in the company.

Mr. Hurley stated that he did so because it was his duty as a public citizen to advocate in unmistakable terms the necessity for electric power in great quantities for this city.

The company hold a lease from the Ontario Government for the Healy Falls and lower rapids and own by deed two portions of the adjoining upper rapids.

They propose running their main transmission line down to Campbellford, four miles south, and on to Brighton, diverging west to Colborne, Cobourg and Port Hope and east to Trenton and Belleville. They intend uniting other Trent River powers and at the present time Mr. Culverwell has secured by deed several portions of the different water powers near Campbellford.

Belleville can expect in the near future to be connected with a transmission line with thirty thousand horse power connected at the inland end.

As the motto read on the menu card of the Board of Trade banquet last week, "Here's to Belleville—More Power to Her."

The Hydro-Electric Power Commission have written the company requesting them to develop power for the needs of Belleville.

WEDDING STATIONERY

WEDDING ANNUNCEMENTS are always in order. The reason for the final result of being a disciple of Cupid finds expression in the Hymeneal ceremony at the altar—that occasion when "two hearts that beat as one" are joined together—pronounced one.

For this auspicious occasion the printing must be chastely dignified—must be appropriate in appearance to this one time of life when everything "best" is donned—when happiness reigns supremely.

Marriage Announcements
Marriage Invitations
Marriage Reception Cards
Post Nuptial Reception Cards

All of these we are able to supply in a proper form and printed artistically. Our work is conducted under the supervision of skilled typographical mechanics and may be unhesitatingly presented to the most fastidious critic.

Our charges for such work are moderate—yet good printing is ever valuable. However, we give quality for our figures, and an order entrusted to our care will be speedily, carefully and satisfactorily executed.

No work can be well done which has to be done hurriedly. Time is necessary for the accomplishment of faultless printing. We will fulfil all expectations if given ample time for completion.

Negro Artist Won Prize for Painting

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Henry Tanner, a negro artist, was yesterday awarded the N. W. Harris prize of $500 for the best painting at the 19th annual exhibition of American paintings, which will open at the Art Institute today. Yesterday at the private exhibition the art commission of the institution carefully went over the large number of paintings hung, and the decision on Mr. Tanner's "Two Disciples at the Tomb" was unanimous.

The picture shows the faces of Peter and John before the Saviour, with a fine light playing across their features, which are strained with expectancy while awaiting the fulfilment of the promise that had been been made them.

FIRED ON A PATROL

Member of Secret Police Sought to Provoke Retributive Excesses Against the Jews.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 16.—The authorities threaten to close the Universities of St. Petersburg and Kiev, as well as the University of Moscow, because of the holding of revolutionary meetings within the buildings, and the participation of non-students in the meetings.

According to a despatch from Yalta, Crimea, a member of the secret police has been arrested there for firing on a dragoon patrol with the intention of provoking retributive excesses on the part of the soldiery against the Jews.

Vaccination as a preventive of smallpox is said to have been practiced in China 1000 B. C. It was introduced into England by Lady Wortley Montagu in 1721.

The Elephant's Sagacity.

Elephants, both in a wild state and in captivity, show a wonderful amount of sagacity. Those in India, it is said, smear themselves with mud as a protection against insects, and they will break branches from the trees and use them to brush away the flies.

Tamerlane.

Tamerlane enjoys the unenviable distinction of being the bloodiest conqueror in history. It is computed that during his wars nearly 4,000,000 human beings were destroyed.

The Rhine Fortifications.

The early Romans found the swift current of the Rhine sufficient defense against the gigantic Germans, but to protect the peaceful settlers against all possible danger every ford on the upper Rhine and every convenient crossing place on the lower stream was fortified, and thus a chain of posts was extended from the sea to Strassburg.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 3 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. The Bridal Eve

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

I told you, was my guest that night. Her suspicions were already aroused against you; she might have overheard any words that passed between us. So I hid away the tell-tale sheath, and should never have spoken of it again, had not young Casalnove been convicted. Oh, Robert! the guiltless must not die for the guilty."

"Hush!" exclaimed Thugsen, with difficulty controlling his emotions. "From the accident of an empty dagger's sheath and a disturbed dream, you think that you have made out a very strong case against me; it is nonsense; but let that pass for the present. You have also charged me with the deception of the young Duchess of Bereseleigh; now, what have I to do with the Duchess of Bereseleigh, or the Duchess of Bereseleigh with me?"

"You should have nothing to do with her, more than a spirit of darkness has to do with an angel of light; and yet you have twice cruelly deceived her."

"Explain yourself, Ruth; by my soul, I do not understand you."

"Thugsen, you have buried me here, in the obscurest part of London. I am so completely isolated in this crowded quarter of the town as though I were in the midst of the deserts of Asia, or the forests of America. I speak to no person—I see no paper—and you think that I am, therefore, ignorant of what goes on in the great world; and so I am, to a great extent. But this morning a piece of an old newspaper fell into my hands. It came around a parcel that I had brought from the draper's. Your name attracted me to a paragraph, and there I read a short account of the charge brought against the young Duchess of Bereseleigh."

She paused, and held her hand to her side, as though in pain.

"Go on," said Thugsen.

"I discovered by that account that you had cruelly deceived her twice. First, when she was a young girl, and you were hiding in her foster-mother's house, you passed yourself off for a single man, and attempted to consummate a marriage with her, a crime, the completion of which was prevented by the timely arrival of the constable in search of you. And now, when years have passed, and she is the lawful wife of one of England's proudest peers, you, knowing that you have not the smallest shadow of a claim upon her notice, dare to demand her as your wife, and threaten her with a criminal prosecution if she repulses you. Of course you are aware that that high-born lady can know nothing of the poor, obscure woman, who owns the position into which you would force her, nor could you suppose that any accident would reveal the wrongs of the Duchess of Bereseleigh to me."

Thugsen started, and walked once or twice up and down the floor; then pausing before her, and speaking with as much calmness as he could assume, he said:

"To whom have you gossiped of these matters?"

"To no one on earth."

"So help you Heaven?"

"So help me Heaven, in my dying hour."

"It is well; I believe you," said Thugsen, taking his seat near her, and continuing: "You seem to have taken the demon into your council, else I do not see how you ever contrived to amass such an amount of evidence against an innocent man, and that man your own husband. And now, what do you mean to do with it?"

"Nothing, Robert, until you have fled the country."

"And if I do not choose to fly from a false charge?"

"It will not be a false charge."

"But if I do not choose to fly?"

"Then your blood be upon your own head, for whether you fly or not, Robert Thugsen, I must do my duty. It will break my heart, but I must do it."

"What duty? How will you do it?" inquired the man, in a low, stifled voice.

"Listen. This is Thursday. Casalnove is ordered for execution on Monday. On Monday, also, the trial of the Duchess of Bereseleigh comes on. I will give you until to-morrow evening to make your escape. You will have plenty of time to reach Dover, and take the boat for Calais. To-morrow evening I will place all the facts with which I am acquainted in the hands of the police."

"Ha! ha! ha! Why, even if the evidence were worth anything, it could not be taken from you. You are my wife."

"I know, and my evidence against you could not be received in court, but I could give what information I possess to the police, and let them follow it up as they please. I must do this, it will kill or craze me, but I must."

"And this is your final resolution?"

"It is, oh, Robert, fly and save yourself! I have still a little money left; you can take it all."

"Come, I have had no dinner to-day, light the lamps and see to the soup."

With a deep sigh at his apparent insensibility, Ruth lighted a lamp and set it upon the table, and then went out to attend to the dinner.

Thugsen made a turn or two around the room, muttering to himself:

"She knows too much; she knows too much, her own lips have spoken her own doom; it can be delayed no longer. Yet, poor Ruth! 'tis a pity she is so very wretched, that it would be a mercy to put her out of her misery, by some quick and easy process, especially as it must be done if I am to have Rose restored to me; yet I would have spared her as long as possible; spared her forever, if I could have smuggled her off somewhere. Allons, a willful woman must have her way, it is her fault, and not mine."

Here he drew from his pocket a very small vial filled with a grayish-white powder, and muttering:

"I have had this quietus about me for the last ten days, without having the courage to administer it to the only one on earth that loves me. But now that very one, besides being the greatest obstacle to my worldly advancement, is, also, the most dangerous enemy to my safety. Her life or mine must fall. Well, self-preservation is the first law of nature. It will soon be over; she will not suffer much, and then—why, then I shall be at peace—" He suddenly ceased muttering, and closed his hand upon the little vial as he heard the approaching footsteps of his doomed wife.

Ruth came in, bearing in each hand a basin of soup. She set one down beside her own plate at the head of the table, and the other beside his, at the foot. Then she returned to the kitchen for something else.

As soon as she had left the room Thugsen went to the table and poured the contents of the little vial into her basin of soup, saw the powder dissolve, and then immediately went into the adjoining bedroom to destroy the vial. He looked around, and seeing a hole in the plastering, dropped it through, where it fell into some inaccessible depth in the wall.

Meanwhile, he heard Ruth moving about the dining-room, and arranging the dishes upon the table. He paused a moment to compose himself, and then returned.

"Your dinner is quite ready, Robert," said Ruth, sitting down at the table.

He took his seat and commenced eating his soup. Presently he looked up at Ruth.

Ruth was looking down upon hers, and delicately skimming it, and dropping the scum into a waste plate.

"What is that?" he inquired, uneasily.

"Only a little soot fallen upon my soup," she replied, beginning to eat.

He was reassured. Soot was black; the powder he had poured into the soup was white, and, besides, he had seen it dissolve. He watched her eating. Poor creature! notwithstanding her troubles, she ate rather eagerly, for she was faint and hungry from long fasting.

"She enjoys her last meal without a thought that she partakes of it in her last hour. Well, after all, how much easier her death will be than if she should live to die what is called a natural death—a long, painful illness, slowly wearing out her life. It will soon be over; I hope, even in that little time, she will not suffer much," thought Thugsen, as he [illegible]

"Book of Advertisement."

The "Book of Advertisement" would at the present day mislead most readers by its title. It was prepared at the command of Queen Elizabeth and printed in 1585. The purpose of the book was to define the doctrines, discipline and ritual of the English church, so that uniformity should be secured in Great Britain. This book was the direct origin of a denominational title in England, for, after its publication, Sampson, dean of Christchurch, in Oxford, and Humphrey, professor of divinity at Oxford university, with others, dissented from some of the doctrines it contained; hence they were called nonconformists.

A Finless People.

A member of the Chinese legation, clad in splendid pale hued silks, was talking. "Pins," he said, "cause unholy habits. We have no pins in China. The right way to fasten things is with buttons and buttonholes or with loops and frogs. To fasten things with pins is to make use of an untidy makeshift. To employ pins is to become lazy and slovenly. We have no pins in China. Certain foreign manufacturers shipped millions of them to us in the past, but we sent them back. We had no use for them. We were too neat."

Youthful Impressionism.

"One of the lads in my Sunday school class," writes a correspondent, "had been to a musical service and had heard there a violin solo in which a number of the notes were played with finger instead of the bow—pizzicato, I think, is the musical term. The boy described it as 'a piece with a hiccough in it.'"

Rural Excitement.

"Was there much life in the country town from which you came?"

"Well, I guess! You ought to have seen the gatherings in our cemetery of a Sunday."

DIAGNOSIS

Let us prescribe for you if you have financial indigestion caused by unwise buying of mining stocks. Ours is the only firm in the world that puts mining investment on a RANKING basis and guarantees the return of YOUR MONEY ON DEMAND. Let us serve you. Give us list of stocks you own and we will tell you if you have money-makers.

Debenture Surety Company

(Incorporated)

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 250 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

COAL

A Second Crow's Nest

Coal is actually today the greatest commodity of the world. With coal we run our mills and factories and our great railroads; with coal we propel our ships; provide our navies, and warm our homes; with coal we generate and produce electricity, with a few exceptions, where water power is available, but there are not very many Niagara Falls, however; with coal we produce iron, copper, lead, silver, gold, and all other metals that we need, and must have, because all of those metals are to be found mixed in with the rock and in the ore.

Without coal we could not make coke, and coke made from a certain kind of high-class bituminous coal is the only fuel yet known to man that produces a heat intense enough to melt ore and hard rock into a liquid, by which process we are enabled to extract the metals we need.

England would not be the great world-power she is today if it was not for her inexhaustible supply of coal.

Coal is the basis of all industrial and commercial wealth.

Coal mining in British Columbia has always been a great success. It is a great deal like diamond mining in South Africa—a bonanza of the first magnitude.

The great mountain barrier of the Rockies shuts out the eastern coal, leaving the great Pacific coast to be supplied by the British Columbia fields, excepting a small tonnage from the State of Washington of a very inferior quality; in fact, so poor that the United States navy of the Pacific division get all of their supply from the Dunsmuir Coal Mines on Vancouver Island, and pay the duty on it, but neither the Washington nor the Vancouver Island coal is of any use for furnace and smelters coke, because the coal from both of these places contains a great deal of sulphur, and does not make good smelters coke.

Nevertheless, Dunsmuir made millions after millions every year from mining coal, and died a few years ago the richest man in Canada. He made it all from coal, and his mines will be productive for generations to come, and are worth more today than thirty-five years ago, when first opened up.

OPPORTUNITY.

To see it, and grasp it in time, makes a man the master of his destiny. DO YOU WANT TO MAKE MONEY HONESTLY, AND LOTS OF IT? Would you like to become interested in a coal proposition in British Columbia, and make $10,000 in three to four years from now on an investment of $250.00? We offer you the opportunity to do this.

You have $200.00, $500.00 or $1,000.00 or whatever the case may be, in bank, drawing 3 per cent. interest yearly. Does this satisfy you, when you can many times double your money in one year in an investment like this we offer you?

PUT YOUR SAVINGS IN COAL. It is safe, and as good as Government bonds. There are no "ifs" about coal mining. There never was known a failure in coal in British Columbia, if quantity and quality and shipping facilities were assured, and the business was managed right and honestly.

The price of coal and its commercial value is always advancing from year to year, whereas the demand is increasing enormously every year.

Millions and millions of dollars have been made in coal mining year after year by all those engaged in the business, and to prove this we refer to the statistics on hand for the year 1902, where it is shown that nine of the leading bituminous coal mines in the United States and Canada made the enormous profits of $57,460,867 (one year's earnings).

There is no field of investment more absolutely safe and profitable than coal mining.

We now offer to the public 100,000 shares of the British Columbia Amalgamated Coal Company's treasury stock at the low rate of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER SHARE.

The par value of this stock is one dollar, and is fully paid and non-assessable, and shareholders are exempt from personal liability. Once paid and secured it is settled for ever.

This Amalgamated Coal Company controls 17,500 ACRES OF COAL LAND in Nicola Valley, B. C., and, according to coal experts' reports, this great area is underlaid with inexhaustible quantities of high-class bituminous coal, the best for steam, blacksmithing and cooking purposes, estimated to contain approximately 1,400,000,000 TONS OF COAL.

TWO RAILROADS

are now building into the Nicola Valley, the Canadian Pacific and the V., V. and E. (Great Northern), and the C. P. R. has already constructed and completed a line from Spence's Bridge, on Thompson River, to Nicola Lake, a distance of about fifty miles, whereas the V., V. and E. are rushing the work as fast as money and labor can do it, and it is expected to reach Nicola by Christmas.

This is certainly a rare opportunity for the small investors. For $250.00 you can now buy 1,000 shares of Amalgamated Coal Stock, which in a few years may pay you a yearly revenue or income of $10,000 figuring the dividend at $10.00 a share (the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. paid a dividend last year of $10.00 a share). This is an illustration to show what a few hundred dollars invested in coal stock means to investors. The Crow's Nest stock was offered to the people in the year 1898 at ten cents a share, and is today worth over $300.00, or $300,000 for 1,000 shares. You can get 1,000 shares of our stock today for $250.00, which may be worth as much as the Crow's Nest is today if you hold it long enough. Do you realize what this means for you? That the British Columbia Amalgamated Coal Company's stock will reach the $100.00 mark in from six to seven years from now is the belief of those who have seen and examined the properties and are familiar with the local condition in that country. Get in on the ground floor. Act quickly, and do it now. Do not ask your neighbor for his advice. Use and act on your own judgment. It will soon be taken. Call early or write, and we will give you any further information that you may desire.

BETTER THAN LIFE INSURANCE.

A source of income that will last as long as you live. An asset that you can leave behind you for your friends and relatives. Have you a wife? A dear child, a sister, brother, or friend, whose welfare you have at heart? If so, why not invest $50, $100 or $200, or any sum you can afford, in this coal stock, and get a certificate issued in their names, that will give them an income for life.

TWO YEARS FROM NOW

the stock should begin to pay handsome dividends, and in another year or two may have a cash valuation on the market from the dividends it then will pay of at least $10.00 per share. This calculation is based on sound and conservative business judgment, and on well-tried laws of natural growth. It is quite safe to say that when the Amalgamated Coal Company shall have fully equipped its four properties on Cold Water River, in Nicola Valley, B. C., and has built up a market for its product, and can produce coal and coke on a large scale, which may require six to seven years to accomplish (taking the Crow's Nest Coal Company, as an example), this stock should then be worth on its own merit, from the dividend it then will pay, $100.00 per share.

Opportunity knocks once at every man's door. To see it and grasp it in time is the keynote to success and wealth. This is meant for you. This is your greatest opportunity.

Fathers, mothers and guardians, who have the welfare of your children at heart, and want to provide for their future needs, write us for information, and investigate our proposition carefully. You will thank us later for the advice given. Ask or write for printed prospectus and reports, etc. We will show you samples of the coal and of the coke, and the assays of the coal from Government officials and other authorities.

RECOMMENDED BY BANKERS AND MERCHANTS.

as the safest and best investment on the market today which is being offered to the public at large. We want men and women of moderate means to get interested in this great enterprise, and get in now, on its first inception.

Remember, for $250.00 you will get one thousand shares of Amalgamated Coal, which will secure for you and your family a source of income, and may make you independently rich. Remember, 1,000 shares of Crow's Nest Pass Coal is today worth $285,000, and brings a yearly revenue of over $10,000.00.

We cordially invite you to call at our office, No. 61-62 Confederation Life Building, Toronto. If you cannot call, please write us, and we will mail you prospectus, reports, maps, etc., that will state facts and will give you all the information you may desire.

The Next Pope is to be Allen

Vatican Cry is For Statesman Instead of Saint Only.

Rome, October 17.—In spite of the fact that the pope is enjoying perfect health, the matter of the possible result of the next conclave, whenever it does occur, is being discussed even among the cardinals themselves, and this with no desire to anticipate the end or to be disrespectful to the pontiff.

The feeling among the cardinals has changed greatly since August, 1903, and today there exists a tendency quite opposite to that which triumphed three years ago. In view of the vatican's experiences with France, the cry this time will not be for a merely religious pope but a political pope, not for a saint, but for a statesman.

Even the strongest opponents of three years ago of Cardinal Rampolla now favor his election. Rampolla failed in 1903 chiefly because he was vetoed by Cardinal Puzyna in the name of Austria, speaking for the triple triple alliance.

Although Pope Pius has suppressed the right of veto arrogated by certain powers, the reasons which induced the triple alliance to oppose Cardinal Rampolla still exist, and the church is today less able to afford displeasing the central empire. Consequently there are rumors of an experiment with a foreign pope. In spite of the disfavor of the Italians. For the last four centuries all the popes have been Italian.

In this connection the recent election of Father Wernz to be General of the Jesuits is considered symptomatic. Every one prophesied that the new general would be an Italian, but finally a German was chosen.

LEHNEMANN RELEASED

American Officials Could Not Take Him to U.S Owing to Conflicting Laws.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 17.—James R. Lehnemann, who was arrested here last week, charged with being connected with the recent smuggling of Chinese from Newfoundland into the United States, on the schooner yacht Frolic, has been released.

Lehnemann, after his arrest, engaged counsel, and while he is said to have admitted his connection with the smugglers, he refused to go to the United States.

Inspector Farrel, of the United States Immigration Department, who was sent here from Boston, was unable to find grounds on which to whisk Lehnemann to Boston, owing to the conflicting national laws.

KING SEES A GHOST.

But Still Continues to Occupy the Same Chamber Once a Year and to Enjoy It.

King Edward, it is claimed, vouches for the existence of at least one of the four ghosts which haunt Rufford Abbey, where he has been staying throughout the last week, during the Doncaster races, as the guest of Lord and Lady Savile, writes the Marquise de Fontenoy. Lady Savile formerly lived in this country, her first husband, Horace Helyar of Cocker Court, Somersetshire, having been for a time attached to the English embassy at Washington. Moreover, the name Savile is one familiar to students of American history. For it was Sir George Savile, one of the former owners of Rufford Abbey, who took so prominent a part in the House of Commons in championing the rights of the American colonies prior to the outbreak of the war of independence, which, if he had had his way, he would have averted by means of wise concessions. He also championed the cause of Catholic emancipation, for which his town house was wrecked by the Gordon rioters.

The particular ghost at Rufford Abbey which is said to have presented itself to King Edward takes, according to him, the form of a most impressive looking old monk. The three other ghosts likewise are garbed as Cistercian monks, and in the churchyard of Edwinston, near by, may be seen the grave of a man who, according to the inscription on his tombstone and to the entry in the parish register, "died of fright after seeing the Rufford ghost."

King Edward, however, is apparently insensible to any fear of spooks, for he visits Rufford Abbey nearly every autumn for the Doncaster races, thoroughly enjoys his stay there, and invariably occupies precisely those state apartments which are supposed to be the haunted parts of the abbey—apartments which, reserved for the use of royalty, have been inhabited in turn by King James I., Charles I., and Charles II.

That these ghosts should take the form of Cistercian monks is not surprising when it is borne in mind that Rufford was a Cistercian abbey in pre-reformation times. The park around it once formed part of that Sherwood forest where Robin Hood and his merry men plundered the rich for the benefit of the poor. The more modern portion of the abbey dates from the reign of Queen Elizabeth, but the greater part of it is hundreds of years older, especially the magnificent crypt, now used as a servants' hall, and unaltered since the times of the monks, with its six foot thick walls.

At the time of the reformation, Rufford Abbey was bestowed by King Henry VIII. upon his favorite, George, Earl of Shrewsbury, who at his death bequeathed it to his son-in-law, Sir George Savile. Rufford Abbey remained in the possession of the Savile family until the death of Sir George Savile without issue at the close of the eighteenth century, when it passed to his sister, married to the Earl of Scarborough.

It was her grandson, the eighth Earl of Scarborough, who, having a family of natural children for whom he wished to provide, left to them the succession to the Rufford Abbey estates, the Earldom of Scarborough, the other Scarborough estates, including Lumley Castle, going to his cousin. He stipulated that each of his illegitimate descendants on succeeding to Rufford Abbey should take the name of Savile, and the arms.

The present Lord Savile is his grandson, who succeeded an uncle, his father's elder brother, a famous diplomatist, who was created a peer on retiring from the service. The present Lord Savile is childless, and at his death, as there are no other descendants of the eighth Earl of Scarborough, his grandfather, the Rufford Abbey estates will revert to the Earldom of Scarborough.

Husband and Wife Agreed to Suicide

Aged Norwegian, Out of Work, Dies With His Wife—Thank Neighbors For Kindness.

Hamilton, Oct. 17.—Despondent because he was unable to obtain work and his money was all gone, Andrew Edwardsen, an aged Norwegian, entered into a suicide compact with his wife last night, and when the police broke into their home on Keith street this morning the old couple were found lying dead side by side, with a carbolic acid bottle on the floor. The old man gave a little girl last night to take to Dr. Parry. It was not delivered until today.

"When you are reading this," it said, "we will both be dead."

In another note found in the house were directions to pay some small bills, a paper sticks "for gold watch" to be used for that purpose. It thanked the neighbors for their kindness when the old couple were facing starvation.

Pure, quickly and positively cured by Dr. Sage's Magic Ointment. It's made for Piles alone, and it does the work surely and with satisfaction. Itching painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large, Nickel Capped glass jars, 50 cents. Sold and recommended by J. D. Tully.

Armed Officer to Stop the Wayfarer

New York, Oct. 17.—No one can enter the village of Nyack now after dark without being held up by an armed officer and compelled to explain his business. Every outlet of the town is being guarded in an effort to capture the burglars who have been spreading terror through that and other villages of Rockland County. In Spring Valley the streets are patrolled nightly by a self-appointed vigilance committee. The same condition of affairs prevails in Tallmans, Suffern, Pearl River, and Piermont. Over seventy-five houses have been robbed since last August, and in every instance the burglars have escaped.

It is the opinion that the robberies in Rockland County are the work of Yeggmen. There have been many evidences of professional work. In some cases an automobile was undoubtedly used by the burglars.

In Good Health

A woman makes her toilet with care and content. But in bad health it often happens that the gratification of being well attired is lost. There is hardly strength to brush and dress the hair, and there is small courage to make the effort to keep up appearances.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong, by making them well. The common cause of feminine weakness is found in a diseased condition of the womanly organism. "Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. The tonic effects of this medicine are remarkable; it soothes the nerves, encourages the appetite, and induces refreshing sleep. It gives comfort and courage to prospective mothers, and practically does away with the pains commonly experienced at maternity.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

Women suffering from disease in aggravated form are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All letters are read in private and womanly confidences held in absolute secrecy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

It Surprised Her.

"I enjoy good health; thanks to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. J. J. Schpetyer, of Pontiac, Livingston Co., Ill. "Have taken six bottles of each kind. I was taken sick last February and the doctors here called it 'Grip.' I lay for four weeks in bed, and then when I got up I found I had 'displacement.' Had such aches and pains in my back and limbs could not stand any length of time. I knew that our home doctor would insist the first thing on an examination, and that I would not submit to, unless I was dangerously sick, and then it would be too late to do any good. My son had your book, Common Sense Medical Adviser, and I thought from reading it that Dr. Pierce's medicines would do me more good than all the home doctors—and so it has. If any one had told me it would do me so much good I would have said 'Oh no, not that much good.' I can say truly I was surprised at the benefit I received. I can do all my washing and also tend my flower garden. In fact I am on my feet most all the time. An old friend of mine said to me, 'Why, what is the matter with you? You are getting young again.' I told her I had taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine, and that if she would do likewise she would feel ten years younger, too."

Five Physicians Helpless.

"I feel it my duty to write to you and let you know how much your medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. Wm. Beckett, of Bressport, Chemung Co., N. Y. "It is one of the best that I ever used in my life. Before I began to use your medicine it seemed as though I would never be well again. Could not stand on my feet five minutes without fainting. Could not walk to my neighbors. Would have a vomiting spell that would last three hours at a time. My limbs would tremble so I could not even walk on myself. Then I had a severe time of chronic inflammation of the liver, then uterine trouble, then heart disease. I had five of the best physicians that could be found. They said to my friends 'there is no help for her.' One said I could not live the winter out, one told me that if I got temporary relief that was all that could be done. My mother said to me one day when she was there, 'Do you know you cannot get well?' I told her I did. She said 'What are you going to do about the baby? Do you want me to care for her—or some one else?' It seemed as though she had pierced me with a sword, to think of leaving my little girl without a mother, it seemed as though I could not stand it, and when my friends were telegraphed to that I was dying, and seeing them weep by my bed, that seemed as though I could never stand to hear them repeat that they would 'take care of the baby and give her a good home.' I think if ever any one has been through with such a terrible thing they can sympathize with me.

"There are a great many ladies that I have begged to use Dr. Pierce's medicine and told what it has done for me. With the first two bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' it seemed as though I was getting worse. With the next two I was feeling so well that I could do my work and be real jolly. With the next two I felt like a new being."

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

Healy Falls' Power Company Busy

A deputation waited upon Sir Mackenzie Bowell, K.C., M.G., former prime minister of Canada, at Belleville, to ask his acceptance of the presidency of the Northumberland-Durham Power Co. The deputation comprised such well known Canadians as Messrs. Alex. J. Culverwell, managing director, and pro-tem president, E. C. S. Huycke, K.C., and Councillor Chas. Munson, of Cobourg; Alderman D. V. Sinclair, and H. C. Hunt, secretary, of the Belleville Hardware Company. Letters were received from Col. H. A. Ward, M.P., and Robert A. Mulholland, of Port Hope.

They propose running their main transmission line down to Campbellford, four miles south, and on to Brighton, diverging west to Colborne, Cobourg and Port Hope and east to Trenton and Belleville. Nassau has had a fire. The fire occurred on Thanksgiving Day at the Orange Hall while workmen were engaged putting a new roof on the building. The fire was discovered by one of the train crew going out from Peterborough to Lakefield. The building, a frame one, was quickly destroyed. Some of the furniture was saved and quite an amount of the interior fittings, including the charter of the lodge, Wellington, L. O.L., No 457.

The loss is placed at about $800. It is understood that a new hall will be erected as soon as possible.

Rev. Mr. Scott Welcomes the Guests

At the Baptist Church convention, held in Murray street church on Thursday evening, Rev. F. J. Scott, B.A., pastor of Murray street Baptist church, expressed the appreciation of himself and congregation of the honor they were receiving in entertaining the convention. He referred to the information and inspiration given by the convention. It was a unique honor because the convention would make history. Rev. Mr. Scott spoke of the difficulty which the Baptists of Peterborough were having in entertaining the delegates on account of homes being crowded. He concluded by extending a hearty welcome to Peterborough.

Rev D. Bentley, of Montreal, on behalf of the convention, replied to Rev. Mr. Scott's welcome, referring in kindly terms to the hospitality of the reception given by the Baptists of Peterborough. The ground, he said, was historic ground from a Baptist viewpoint, referring to the Gilmours and Edwards, whom he said were old stock here. In conclusion, he expressed a hope that the convention would prove a blessing and that they would go forward with more hope to do the work of the Master.

Rev. Jas. Grant, of Dundas, gave an address, his subject being "The Church Edifice." He referred to the most encouraging report presented from the Church Edifice Board.

Preventics, as the name implies, prevent all Colds and Grippe when "taken at the sneeze stage." Preventics are good home candy tablets. Preventics dissipate all colds quickly, and taken early, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Preventics are thoroughly safe for children, and as effectual for adults. Sold and recommended in 5-cent and 25-cent boxes by J. D Tully.

The officers of the Ladies' Aid Society are;—

Pres.—Mrs. T. O. Elliot.
Vice-Pres.—Mrs. R. McWilliams.
Secretary—Mrs. D. McMillan.
Treasurer—Mrs. John Anderson.

It is learned that the proceeds amounted to about $110, which is a very gratifying one.

Toronto to Peterborough.

To alleviate the heavy traffic on its lines between Toronto and Peterborough, the Bell Telephone Company has constructed two additional lines between these points and opened up offices at Burketon and Pontypool connected on one of these lines. A line has also been built to Enniskmore. Points farther north calling Peterborough may look for a decidedly prompt handling of business.

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and stimulant. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

Best Wins the Great Road Race

One of the most exciting events that Peterborough has ever seen, was the finish of The Examiner Cup road race on Thursday morning. There must have been at least twenty-five hundred lovers of sport parked along the pavement of George street, between the Examiner office and Brock street. It was found necessary, some time previous to conclusion of the race, to stretch a stout rope along the west side of George street to keep the crowds out of the way. Chief Ronzel did good work in keeping the crowd in place.

THE STARTERS.

Those who actually started in this well-contested race from Tremont House Lakefield, along the hills and dale of the highway, to a line drawn in front of the Examiner office, were as follows;

A. Williams, Peterborough.
W. J. McBurney, Havelock.
A. Latimer, Peterborough.
Ernest Jarman, Peterborough.
A. W. Spencely, Peterborough.
William J. Todd, Peterborough.
E. V. Morphett, Peterborough.
Gordon Fitzgerald, Peterborough.
E. A. Wilson, Peterborough.
Ray P. Best, Peterborough.
H. M. Yelland, Peterborough.
J. Ranger, Peterborough.
D. W. Elliott, Peterborough.
Stephen Rose, Omemee.
Herbert Peers, Omemee.
Charles Benson, Peterborough.
Fred Simpson, Hiawatha.

THE OFFICIALS.

Those in charge of the race for the handsome cup, presented for one year, were as follows;

Starter—J. D. Craig.
Ass't Starter—E. S. Clarry.
Judge—R. M. Roy.
Timekeeper—W. E. Wasson.

All of whom gave excellent satisfaction.

Between Lakefield and the city, the progress of the runners was witnessed by hundreds of people.

Seventeen started and only five finished,—Best, Wilson, Simpson, McBurney and Spencely. The start was made in front of the Tremont House, Lakefield, at 10.42 o'clock. A large crowd saw the runners start. They remained bunched for a considerable distance after leaving Lakefield, but after a few miles one by one they dropped out and were picked up by the bus which followed in the rear. When Nassau was reached there were practically only five left in the contest. Best headed the field at Nassau but later dropped back, and Simpson, the Indian from Hiawatha, set the pace. He remained in the lead until Smith's corners was reached, when Best and Wilson came to the front and ran together until the finish in front of the Examiner office. Best finished in 59 minutes, 55 seconds, and Wilson came in about five yards behind him. Simpson was several yards in the rear and McBurney and Spencely came in a minute or so later, the former a few feet in the lead.

Whilst the title to the Examiner Cup is only good for one year, the winner, Ray Best, was presented with a gold ring, the second man E. A. Wilson, gets a tie pin, and the other three, who pluckily made good get a bronze medal each, in recognition by the Examiner of their good work done.

SAYS SIR WILFRID MADE A MISTAKE

Remarks on Home Rule Considered to Be Subservience or Cheek.

London, Oct. 21.—The Saturday Review, commenting on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech at the T. P. O'Connor meeting at Ottawa, says:

"We are surprised that so clever a man as Sir Wilfrid Laurier should not see the absurdity and impropriety of his position. The domestic politics of Great Britain are no business of the Government of the Dominion. Industrial Canadians may think and say what they like about home rule. Their opinions may not be valuable, because they cannot be cognizant of the facts, but they would be harmless utterances if they were of a private person.

"The Premier of the Dominion, however, speaking at a public meeting, is held to represent the sentiments of the Dominion.

"The first effect of such a speech must be to excite irritation among the Scotch and Protestant Irish of the Dominion, and that the Scotch are a powerful factor in Canada the Minto-Dundonald episode ought to have impressed Sir Wilfrid.

WILL BREED BAD BLOOD.

"Other consequences will surely ne to breed bad blood quite gratuitously between Canada and half the British nation, of which it is admitted by Winston Churchill that the Unionist party is composed. It is possible that Laurier thinks the Radicals will be in office twenty years, and that the Unionists don't matter.

"Talking of our own parties, reminds us that Laurier has an urgent scheme of his own to go through which will require the consent of the Imperial Government. The day after O'Connor's gathering Sir Wilfrid convened a conference of provincial premiers of Canada. A scheme for financial readjustment is on foot by which the provinces are to get larger contributions from the Dominion towards the expenses of administration.

A RADICAL DEPARTURE.

"This is so radical a departure from the financial basis on which confederation was settled that the sanction of Whitehall will be necessary. Sir Wilfrid is anxious to carry his readjustment, particularly as the Premier of British Columbia asks for more and de jure, he will go to Downing Street to get it. It is therefore conceivable that Sir Wilfrid Laurier's outburst about home rule is intended to pave the way, not to imperil unity, but to the carriage of the bill amending the Confederation Act through the Imperial Parliament.

"If this is Sir Wilfrid's object we tell him plainly that it is a piece of six shamservience to the Radicals and Irish Nationalists, of which we had not deemed him capable. It is either this or mere ebullition of impertinence, which can only be compared with Campbell-Bannerman's senile ejaculation about the Russian duma."

At the meeting addressed by T. P. O'Connor, Nationalist M.P., in Ottawa on Friday evening, Dec. 12, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in moving a vote of thanks to the orator, proclaimed himself a home ruler, and said he did not know a true Canadian who was not. He endorsed the sentiments enunciated by Mr. O'Connor, that the granting of home rule was the best method of paving the way for imperial unity. He also subscribed $50 to "the cause."

STUCK TO IT

For Years But Finally Had to Give Up Coffee.

Our habits of eating and drinking stick to us like a hungry pup to a bone. We can't always break loose even when we know we ought to.

Coffee does certainly hurt many persons, and they know it. But it is one thing to know it and another to devise some way to change the habit and still have a warm beverage at meal time. Thousands of persons all over the world have found it easy to quit coffee because they use Postum Food Coffee.

"For years I've felt the harm of drinking coffee," writes an Iowa woman, "but I liked it so well I stuck to it until about two years ago I quit coffee, and tea, too, and began to drink Postum.

"I made it, not like coffee, but boiled it according to directions on the package, and the first time we had it we all liked it. We have it now, morning, noon and night, and all feel healthier and happier for the change.

"I never have heartburn nor indigestion any more, though my husband and I used to suffer that way and with nervous headache a great deal of the time when we drank tea and coffee. We can't say enough in praise for Postum, and for the good it has done us." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

LONDON FINANCIERS REBELLIOUS

Shouldn't Expect London to Furnish the Gold for Financing Whole World.

London, Oct. 21.—After the surprise caused in financial circles yesterday by the exceptional increase in the Bank of England's rate of discount, a feeling of great relief and confidence was manifested, and it was believed that the six per cent. rate would prevent the export of further gold.

Nevertheless, the stock market yesterday morning continued to show nervousness, but there was no absence of the feverish excitement which followed the first announcement of the increased rate.

American securities continued their downward movement, the opening prices being in marked contrast to those of the preceding day. Union Pacific opened at 189 1-2, against 193 1-8 on Friday, while U.S. Steel was offered at 48 3-4 against 50 5-8 on Friday. Banking circles showed notable satisfaction at the fact that ha, the Bank of England had been able to stop the heavy exports of gold to the United States.

CAN'T FINANCE WORLD.

A British financier, in discussing the situation, said;

"The United States can hardly expect London to finance the whole world, and we are now confident that our six per cent. rate is a safe and permanent protection against further inroads on our stock of gold. There is no thought at present of a seven per cent. rate, but seven and eight cent. will be adopted if necessary to protect us against an abnormal depletion of gold reserve.

"Therefore, if the United States continues to require gold for the movement of crops or other needs, we see that relief should come from the other side. Secretary Shaw once before relieved the situation by releasing funds and we in London cannot see why he should not do his good deeds while the United States draws. Its needed supply of gold from London's depleted stock."

A BIG FAILURE RESULTS.

London, Oct. 21.—P. MacFadyan & Co., the London house of Arbuthnot & Co., bankers of Madras, announced yesterday afternoon that they had been compelled to suspend payment. The firm did considerable Indian banking business. The cause of its suspension was not divulged and the amount involved is not known.

IN NEW YORK.

New York, Oct. 21.—London was again a heavy seller in the market next week's settlements there doubtless accounting in part for the liquidation from that center. Much of yesterday's and today's selling represented the closing of traders' accounts. This claim, if it be a dominant factor in the market for a day or night or more, its aggregate holdings probably amounting to several million dollars.

There were rumors of further relief from Washing on, but these were not substantiated in responsible quarters.

Nugget of Two Tons at 300 Foot Level

Cobalt, October 22.—Cobalt has no bottom. The Laltone people have encountered the best class of ore on one of the 300 feet levels, and have taken out an immense nugget five feet long, two and one-half feet wide, and fourteen inches thick, of the highest class. The ore is seamed with native silver, and weighs about thirty-five hundred pounds. The news causes great rejoicing in camp.

The Handsome Mine, sometimes known as the McLeod and Glendenning property, adjoining the Watts property, has been sold for $750,000.

The Silver Queen ledge is widening, and is now three times as wide as 100 feet east of the shaft, on the 7s-foot level. The showing is of the highest class ore.

Mass Meetings Were Well Attended

Yesterday the men's meeting in the opera house were very largely attended. There were two mass meetings, one at 3.30 p.m., and another at 7 p.m. An interesting feature of the meetings was that sheets containing hymns were distributed through the audience, so that all could join in the singing; the result was most effective. Among those spoke at the meetings were Messrs. Geo. Nuna of Hamilton, Richard Irving of Belleville, W. Sinkot of Kingston, and John Gilchrist, Fleming Macey, E. Morton, D. Morrison, T. Clapp, of Kilmarnock, Scotland.

War Junk Crossed the Pacific.

Los Angeles, Cal., October 20.—The Chinese war junk, Wang Ho, purchased from the Chinese Government a year ago by Los Angeles people for exhibition purposes, entered San Pedro harbor today after a tempestuous voyage, in which, soon after leaving Kagoshima, Japan, the fore and aft masts were carried away. About the same time the captain of the vessel, Hans Berg, died, and was buried at sea. The Wang Ho is the first Chinese war vessel to be brought to an American port.

Work on Armouries Will Begin Soon

It now seems that work on the new local armouries will shortly be commenced. Messrs. R. R. Hall, M. P., and John Burns, M.P., have just returned from Ottawa, where they took the armory matter up with Hon. C. S. Hyman, Minister of Public Works. Mr. Hall stated on Saturday that the revised plans and specifications were now practically completed, and that they showed the building to be one of the finest and best equipped in the Dominion. The minister assured them that work on the plans was being rushed, and that it was not anticipated that they would be delayed beyond two weeks.

Tenders will be asked for at once, and everything possible done to ensure the speedy completion of the building.

Minister Applies For a Divorce

Says He Could Not Go to Heaven If He Continued Living With the Woman He Married.

Kansas City, Mo., October 22.—"It's to save my soul from perdition that I want to be divorced from this woman. I could not go to heaven if I were compelled to live with her," declared Straunther Quick, clergyman, on the witness stand Saturday. Rev. Quick had been married to Mary A. Quick one year when the divorce suit was filed. She had been divorced from Edward Young a few months before she married Quick. The clergyman testified that his wife, who is also a preacher, called him names almost every day after the first week of their marriage. Quick also said that his wife threatened his life, saying: "I'll get you yet if I swing on the gallows the next day, and go to hell for it." Quick then said he swore at his wife.

Very Youthful Train Wreckers

Youngsters Indulge in This Dangerous Attempt,

Albany, October 20.—Dime novel reading has been responsible for eleven attempts at train wrecking on the lines of the New York Central Railroad during the last two weeks.

In every case the would-be wreckers have been boys within the ages of 10 and 15. Wrecking attempts have been made at West Nyack, Stuyvesant, Walden, Geneva, and other places in the State.

The detectives of the New York Central say the company has more trouble with the youngsters along the line than with all the professional crooks put together.

San Francisco, Oct. 21.—The strong wind blowing in the city yesterday caused the collapse of many of the walls of the ruined buildings that had been left standing since the fire.

New Party in British Columbia

Hon. Joe Martin Breaks Loose From His Old Political Affiliations.

Vancouver, B. C., October 22.—New political parties and new newspapers herald the coming of election time. Hon. Joseph Martin, still a stormy petrel in politics, is the head of a party that has broken loose from the old liberal and Conservative ranks, and formed a new order with "purity" for its watchword. It already has a weekly newspaper which it will turn into a temporary daily as soon as the crowd warms up. Mayor Buscombe's name is freely mentioned with Mr. Martin's and people are apt to smile when they read of the one-time staunch Liberal joining the formerly equally savage Conservative.

Falls Through Ties; Decapitated

Horrible Death of Man Whose Headless Body is Found.

New York, Oct. 21.—Death in one of its most horrible forms came last night near Elizabeth, N.J., to a man whom the police believe was a printer named Fonda of Providence, R.I.

Although Fonda probably met his death late last night, it was not until today that the body was found. It was suspended by the shoulders between two ties on the elevated trolley track between Roselle and Cranford, and the head, which had been cut off by a passing car, was found in the ravine more than a hundred feet away.

It was learned that Fonda boarded a trolley car at Newark Friday evening to go to Cranford, but got off by mistake at Roselle. In walking down the trolley tracks from Roselle to Cranford it is supposed that he slipped between the ties and was unable to extricate himself.

The first car which came along probably brought death to the unfortunate man.

TO STOP WHALERS FROM FISHING

No More Whaling in Hudson Bay by United States Skippers

SCHOONER ERA THE LAST

Canada Asserts Her Sovereignty Over Hudson's Bay—Protects the Indians.

St. John's Nfld., October 20.—This season, for the first time in a century, there will not be a solitary American whaler in Hudson Bay. A few days ago the whaling schooner Era, of New Bedford, the last of the famous Yankee fleet which fished in those waters, went ashore on the Miquelon Islands, south of Newfoundland, while bound to that remote region, and speedily became a total wreck, her crew having to abandon her and return home.

The discovery of the Pennsylvania oil fields was the first agency in the downfall of the whaling enterprise, and it was very materially assisted by the pernicious activities of the southern privateers during the Civil War, which destroyed every whaleman they came across. Gas and electricity, in their turn, also tended to destroy the market for oil, and by degrees a fleet of 702 vessels in 1850 dwindled down till in 1905 they numbered only thirty-eight, and a score of New England towns saw the basis of their prosperity crumble away until now their fame is merely a historic one and rotting wharves and empty houses afford sad proof of their vanished glory in the annals of the seas.

Until recent years, however, a small group of whaling vessels continued the quest in Davis Strait and Hudson Bay, for the Arctic whale, or "bow head," found in these waters is the most valuable member of the cetacean species, the scarcity of the creature having advanced the price of whalebone of prime quality to $7 a pound, so that it may almost be said to be worth its weight in gold. Therefore, because of the difficulty of making remunerative voyages, the ships have not been replaced when the inevitable accidents of the seas have destroyed them, and gradually they have dwindled down till the Era, which has just met her fate, was the sole survivor. And it was doubtful if she would much longer continue in the service even had she escaped this disaster, since the Canadians have, during the last four years, been enforcing their claims of sovereignty over Hudson Bay and the adjacent lands and waters, and putting into operation ordinances said to be in the interest of the preservation of the natives, which materially curtailed the profitable trade for the American voyagers.

Thus the export of musk-oxen skins was forbidden and Americans were not permitted to take any aboard their vessels under penalty of confiscation. This measure was justified on the ground that owing to the virtual extermination of the whale and walrus the only remaining creatures to supply the natives with food were the seal and the musk ox, and that if the Eskimos, who never gave a thought to the future, were to be allowed to decimate these now, the day would speedily come when they would be reduced to the direst destitution and Canada compelled to provide for their wholesale maintenance, since by claiming the territory she constituted them her wards. In like manner, the number of sealskins that could be taken was limited, certain rates of wages were fixed to be paid the Eskimos by the Americans for their services in whaling or hunting and a license fee was imposed upon all foreign vessels resorting there in quest of whales, or to trade in skins or other products of the region.

Bald-Headed Dick Thinks He An Eagle

Jermyn, Pa., Oct. 21.—When Dick Bemick was arrested on Friday for stealing a lamb he astonished Judge Joly by gravely announcing that he was a bald eagle and the lamb was his lawful prey. Dick is bald-headed.

Bemick seems to be insane, and his brother told the court that he had been acting strangely ever since a desperate battle with a bald eagle about the Mississippi bluffs.

Finding an eagles' nest Bemick tried to capture the young ones, but was attacked by the parent birds. Before he had succeeded in driving them away he was covered with deep wounds inflicted by talons and beaks.

Evidently a poisonous virus entered his system, for his whole nature is seemingly changed. He makes unprovoked attacks on nearly every person he meets; he sits for hours in tree tops screaming like an eagle, descending only to make a swoop on a chicken or rabbit.

His arrest came when he caught the lamb in a field, and after slaying it tried in vain to soar into the sky by waving his arms as if they were wings.

Judge Joly appointed a commission to enquire into Bemick's sanity.

Etruria and Minnehaha Clash in Fog—Both Able to Proceed.

New York, Oct. 21.—The Etruria, while bound out of New York harbor, yesterday, collided with the Minnehaha, also outward bound. The Etruria is now anchored off Tompkinsville S.I. The Minnehaha suffered no injury, evidently, as she continued on her way and later passed up over Sandyhook bar.

The Etruria was anchored near Staten Island in a dense fog, when the Minnehaha, which had been following about ten minutes behind, struck her on the quarter.

The Minnehaha was quickly stopped and some of her boats lowered, but there was no danger of any loss of life.

The Minnehaha's stem was slightly twisted, but not sufficiently to delay her voyage.

The Etruria anchored near Staten Island to make repairs. She has on board 130 passengers.

The Etruria was struck on the starboard quarter, just above the water line and a hole four feet in diameter was smashed. The Minnehaha was not damaged.

The captain of the Etruria has notified the Cunard officers here that he will be able to make his own repairs and hopes to be able to proceed tonight.

PALE AND ANXIOUS

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health.

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated. Muscle and fat are added, healthy color is restored, and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 424 King St. East, Toronto, who says:

"After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would waken with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At ten in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism, which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound, and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c boxes or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

HORSELESS AGE FAR AWAY

That the horseless age is far away is the opinion of experts in those centres of population where automobile vehicles are the most popular. In the city of Chicago where the licenses for automobiles have increased in one year from 1,000 to 4,200, there are, at the present time no less than 160,000 horses, and the number is steadily growing. It is in a large city where the horse-drawn vehicle comes into competition with the auto truck and dray and if in a place like Chicago the horse can maintain its position there isn't much danger of its permanent retirement from the service of those who use the animal for purely business purposes. On the boulevards not much change is seen since the introduction of the stylish and elegantly equipped automobiles. The man of leisure and wealth still keeps his stable, still dotes on his team of either carriage or roadsters, or both. He is in sympathy with the living creatures that respond so readily to the demands which he puts upon them, and so are his children if they have been given ponies. The teamster swears by his heavydraughts regarding their six thousand pounds of bone and muscle as of much more importance to his interests, than the high-steppers and fast-gaited ones are to the gentlemen to whose pleasure they ministers.

The fact of the matter is that horses, good animals of class, raised by men who pay some attention to breed, were never so popular, were never so high in price. The breeder is in a frame of mind to be independent, and he is practically that in his dealing with buyers. A better time for the campaign instituted by the provincial minister of agriculture for the purpose of stimulating throughout the province horse-breeding along scientific lines could not have been selected. The horse market at home and abroad is ready to absorb all the well-bred animals we can produce, at prices profitable to the raiser, and to the end that Ontario may advance in the breeding of the classes called for, the Hon. Nelson Monteith is covering the province with his lecturers and inspectors. In this horse age this is a most sensible move and we feel certain it will be approved by every enterprising farmer in Ontario.

MURPHY IN TROUBLE

Chief of Tammany Subpoenaed for Saying Independence League Held Candidates up for Cash.

New York, Oct. 20.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall in an interview yesterday, charged that "the managers of the Independence League at the Gilsey House are holding up candidates for cash."

Mr. Murphy says that he desired to see that Mr. Hearst had absolutely no connection of what was going on in this connection.

Murphy later in the day was served with a subpoena to appear before the grand jury in a John Doe proceeding to testify as to a statement made by him during the day in reference to unpaid demands by managers of the Independence League to withdraw candidates from the field.

Miss F. Hunsen, who has charge of the Independence League headquarters, gave out a formal statement denying Mr. Murphy's charges.

An investigation of the charges was begun before the grand jury yesterday.

Mr Murphy and Francis E. Shoney, Independence League and Democratic candidate for Congress in the 17th district, went to the Criminal Court's building, yesterday, and were admitted to the grand jury room.

LEAD GLASS.

The Processes by Which It Is Cut and Polished.

Designs to be followed by the cutter are first drawn on the blank or plain glass with whiting and water and then traced with red lead and turpentine. The first cutting is classed as "roughing" in the glass factory, when the glass is cut or ground out wherever there is a red line. The first cutting or roughing is with a soft steel disk on which there flows a small stream of water and very fine sand. The disk is in a lathe, and the glass is held by the hands of the cutter, and on his ability to firmly hold the glass and true eyesight to see that lines are followed depends the quality of the article.

Cut glass in blank or plain form is known as lead glass or best metal glass, crushing or collapsing like sand instead of shattering or breaking like window or lime glass.

From the roughing or first cutting the article being cut goes to the smoothing process, the same lines or cutting being followed on two stone disks, one of Craigleigh or gas stone imported from England and the other of blue stone, the finest cutting being done with the latter. The polishing is done with wooden disks, from which the glass goes to an acid bath and thence back to the polisher, who uses a chemical compound like putty, and finally to a felt disk or wheel, then the brush wheel and finally the wash with water.

Torn by Horses.

During the middle ages great criminals, such as parricides and persons who conspired against the king, were torn to pieces by horses, one or two powerful steeds being fastened to each limb and driven in different directions. Ravaillac, the assassin of Henry IV., and Damiens, who conspired against Louis XV., were put to death in this manner.

The tenants of the building will not be disturbed until their leases expire, but as soon as possible the C.P.R. will erect a handsome office building. Jas. Scott bought the property for $50,000 ten years ago.

WEDDING STATIONERY

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS are always in order. The season for the final result of being a disciple of Cupid finds expression in the Hymeneal ceremony at the altar—that occasion when "two hearts that beat as one" are joined together—pronounced one.

For this auspicious occasion the printing must be chastely dignified—must be appropriate in appearance to this one time of life when everything "best" is donned—when happiness reigns supreme.

Marriage Announcements
Marriage Invitations
Marriage Reception Cards
Post Nuptial Reception Cards

All of these we are able to supply in a proper form and printed artistically. Our work is conducted under the supervision of skilled typographical mechanics and may be unhesitatingly presented to the most fastidious critic.

Our charges for such work are moderate—yet good printing is ever valuable. However, we give quality for our figures, and an order entrusted to our care will be speedily, carefully and satisfactorily executed.

No work can be well done which has to be done hurriedly. Time is necessary for the accomplishment of faultless printing. We will fulfil all expectations if given ample time for completion.

BIG MONEY TO BE MADE

Get some of the Stanley Smelting Works stock, a company whose officers have spent their private funds in the past four years to develope their mines, and at the present time have over $2,000,000 in Lead and Zinc Silver Ore blocked out.

In order to handle this great mass of ore it is necessary to install additional equipment, which we estimate will cost about $100,000. We therefore offer you 100,000 shares of our stock at par, $1.00 per share. The present Company controls 100,000 shares, and when this additional stock is all subscribed there will only be $200,000 to draw dividends. This will be a Ten per cene Dividend Paying Stock. Take advantage of the free excursion to visit the mines every Friday night, returning Monday morning.

The Bridal Eve

"You do not eat your soup; there is no soot fallen into yours?" inquired Ruth.

"No, there is none in mine," replied Thugsen, with a hidden significance, as he fell to and rapidly finished his soup.

Ruth removed the empty basins, and began to carve the roasted fowl that formed the next course. Thugsen watched her for some sign of approaching illness.

There was none as yet. Ruth finished carving, and set his favorite pieces before him.

"Are you not going to take any?" inquired Thugsen.

"No; the soup was quite enough for me; I felt faint and hungry when I sat down, but my appetite has gone off with the soup."

"You are not well," said Thugsen.

"I am as well as I can be, with the anxiety that oppresses my mind, Robert."

"Ah! you are still resolved to inform the police of what you suspect tomorrow?"

"Alas! yes, Robert! but not until you escape."

"I think you will not," said Thugsen, laughing defiantly; but in the midst of that laugh, his face turned pale, and a shiver passed over his frame.

"What is the matter?" said Ruth.

"A sudden qualm; you upset me with your diabolical nonsense; it is over now—bring in the pudding."

Ruth cleared the table, and went out into the kitchen to fetch the pudding. When she returned she found Thugsen white and convulsed in his chair. She sat down the dish, and ran to him, exclaiming:

"Robert! Robert! what is the matter?"

"Ill. Ill, ill to death!" gasped the sufferer, while a cold sweat bathed his pallid forehead.

Ruth poured out a glass of brandy, and held it to his lips.

"No! water! water! my throat is burning up!" whispered Thugsen, hoarsely.

Ruth hastily poured out a glass of water, and held it to him.

He drank it eagerly, swallowing with difficulty. It seemed to revive him for an instant; he sat up, wiped his brow, stared at Ruth with that confusion of mind that extreme pain and exhaustion produces, and exclaimed:

"Woman! what is the meaning of this? You are not ill!"

"No, Robert, only anxious."

"But I am! How is that?"

"I do not know, Robert. You talk, and act, and look so strangely. Come into your room and lie down, and perhaps you will be better," said Ruth, gently taking his arm to assist him.

But a third, and more violent fit of pain and shivering seized the man; his features were blackened and distorted; his limbs drawn up and convulsed.

Ruth was dreadfully frightened; she supported his head, and wiped away the icy sweat from his brow. As soon as the fit passed, and he regained the power of utterance, he glared at Ruth, and shrieked:

"You have poisoned me! you have poisoned me! Murderess, you shall swing for it!"

"I—I—Robert? I poison you? But you don't know what you are saying—you are so ill. Come, let me help you to bed, and I will run for the apothecary over the way," exclaimed the terrified wife.

"Traitress! murderess! you have poisoned me, and you know it!"

"Oh, Robert!"

"Answer me, woman! what did you do to the soup while I was in the bedroom?"

"Nothing, on my soul and honor."

"Nothing? Think—answer on your life, as you would answer on the last day! what did you do to the soup?"

"Nothing, as I hope for salvation! I changed the basins, but I never did anything to the soup."

"You changed the basins!" cried Thugsen, in horror.

"Yes; when I came in I noticed, for the first time, that a little soot had fallen into yours, and knowing you to be very dainty with your eating, I changed the basins—giving you mine, and taking yours. You saw me afterward, at dinner, taking the soot off."

While she spoke, he sat listening, with a face blanched by bodily pain, horror, and despair.

Ruth gazed at him in consternation, exclaiming:

"There was no ill in what I did, Robert, was there? I did it for your sake. Oh, Robert, what is the meaning of all this?"

"You have poisoned me! that is it—pot——"

His words, arrested by a spasm, were followed by convulsions so violent that he fell from the chair, and writhed upon the floor.

Ruth dared delay no longer. She rushed from the house, and ran across the way, into the apothecary's shop, exclaiming:

"Oh, Mr. Jones, for Heaven's sake, come immediately! I do fear my husband is dying in a fit!"

"Your husband? Who is he? Has he been drinking?" inquired the druggist.

"No, no; he fears it is poison! but it cannot be that, and I do not know what it is! Oh, do, pray sir, be quick! It is just over the way," cried Ruth, distractedly.

Mr. Jones took his hat, and immediately attended Ruth.

They found Thugsen extended on the floor, bathed in a cold sweat, and nearly speechless through exhaustion.

Mr. Jones knelt down by his side, and began to examine his condition, while Ruth, in an agitated manner, recounted the first symptoms of his attack.

"It seems a case of poisoning by strychnine, madam," said the chemist, rising.

"Yes, yes, it was in the soup; she prepared it," gasped Thugsen.

"I will return again immediately," said the chemist, leaving the room and hurrying over to his shop, whence he dispatched his shop boy to fetch a policeman. Then, calling his assistant to attend him, he returned to the house, bringing with him the most powerful known antidotes to strychnine.

With the help of his young man, he undressed Thugsen and put him to bed, when the convulsions returned with accelerated violence. As soon as these had left, and he was able to swallow, the druggist administered the antidotes, which procured the patient a short respite from acute suffering.

Meanwhile, the shop boy arrived with the policeman.

"Take that woman in charge, and see that she does not make her escape. I suspect her of having poisoned her husband!" said Mr. Jones to the officer.

"Me! me!" cried Ruth, in dismay.

"He charges you, with much apparent reason, madam! You alone prepared the dinner; he was taken ill after eating it, and before leaving the table. His illness is the effect of strychnine. You will, therefore, see the propriety of your being kept in restraint until the affair can be investigated," said Jones.

"But I am innocent; indeed, I am, sir. If he has taken strychnine, I cannot imagine how it could have got into the soup, unless—oh! my Lord!" exclaimed Ruth, sinking into her chair, and covering her face with her hands, as a suspicion of the truth, for the first time, glanced into her mind.

"Officer, do your duty," said the chemist, coldly.

The policeman advanced toward Ruth.

She held up her hands deprecatingly, saying:

"Oh, do not remove me from this room! I am innocent. He is my husband; let me stay to watch him. I will not run away; indeed I will not."

"If you please, sir, I can take the woman into custody, and keep her in this room all the same," urged the policeman.

"Very well; see that she does not elude you and make her escape," said Jones.

And the policeman told Ruth that she was his prisoner, and must not leave the room, and then he took up his position at the door.

"He seems easier. Don't you think he may get over it, sir?" said Ruth, wringing her hands.

A Famous Dwarf.

Count Browlaski, the famous Polish dwarf, was born in 1739 and visited every court in Europe in the century. When six years old he was only seventeen inches in height, though at thirty years of age he grew to be three feet three inches. He had a sister, also a dwarf and so much smaller than himself that she could stand erect under his arm.

The first submarine telegraph wire was laid in 1850 from England to France. Two years later Scotland and Iceland were connected.

Tops are cut from pieces of box, ebony or other hard wood by a turning machine. The machine is automatic and turns the top complete from the handle at the upper end to the tip. The metal point is afterward put in by hand.

Butter in London.

The London Times asserts that genuine dairy butter is a thing past praying for. Four-fifths of the population of London, the Times asserts, have never seen it in their lives. Those who know what it is have great difficulty in procuring it and cannot obtain it in many cases at any price. What is called genuine butter in London, the Times says, is blended and reworked butter.

Bayonets.

Bayonets are now altogether machine made, a very simple as well as clever contrivance stamping the steel into proper shape.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 240 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

Jewett Gets $700 Damages Allowed

Local Grocer Wins Out in Suit Against Cordage Company.

Some interest was created on Saturday when it was learned that a young man in the grocery business at the south-east corner of Water and Brock streets, under business title of Jewett & Son, had won out in his suit for damages against the Canadian Cordage Co. The judgment given at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, which sufficiently explains the case, was as follows:

"Jewitt vs. Canadian Cordage Co, R. E. Wood, Peterborough, for the plaintiff, an infant, suing by next friend F. W. Harcourt for the infant J. R. Meredith for defendants. The plaintiff was an older in the defendant's employment, and while engaged in the performance of his duties as such, was, on the 22nd of March, 1906, struck on the head by a large bobbin filled with binder wire that broke loose from its fastenings while revolving at a high rate of speed, by reason of which the plaintiff has since been incapacited from continuing in his former or any laborious employment. Judgment, pursuant to terms of settlement, for plaintiff, for $700, which includes $175 for doctor's fees, $85 for nurse, and $15.50 for hospital fees, and permitting plaintiff who is in his 20th year, to waive the balance, after payment of above mentioned fees, by the grocery business now carried on by him."

Baptist Divines Preached Yesterday.

Yesterday Rev. S. S. Bates, D.D., and Rev W. B. Merrill, B.A., having been appointed by the Baptist convention preached Sunday school anniversary sermons in the Charlotte street church, the former in the morning, and the later in the evening. Both of these men have been closely identified with the Sunday school work of the church. They also addressed the open meeting of the school in the afternoon.

Local Restaurant Praised.

Saturday noon a gentleman from New York, took dinner at Demetre's restaurant, and as he was leaving, went to George Demetre, the manager, and asking, "Are you the proprietor?" said, "Well, I must say that I never went into a neater, cleaner place in New York, nor did I ever get a better meal for the price than I have had here." This is a good recommend for a local firm.

DO NOT BE A BURDEN

Some Good Advice to Readers of The Times.

A weak stomach and its resulting ills are not natural. With proper care and the use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets, the very worst cases of indigestion or stomach trouble can be completely cured.

It is a sin to deprive oneself of enjoyment in life and become a burden to others through indigestion.

The backaches, headaches, distress after eating, loss of appetite, gulping up of undigested food and gases are not natural. Mi-o-na stomach tablets used for a few days before meals will so strengthen the digestive organs that you can eat anything you want without fear of distress or resulting sickness.

The directions for taking Mi-o-na emphasize the difference between this remedy and the ordinary medicine that is given for indigestion. Mi-o-na is to be used before meals, strengthening the digestive system for the food which is to be eaten, while the ordinary remedy is taken after meals, and simply digests the food without strengthening the stomach.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50-cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents.

Write today for a free sample package, and also give us your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give your case his careful and personal attention without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Two prisoners, Patrick Gorman, an old man whose proboscis and complexion must have required many a gallon of tangle leg to impart their Turner's sunset carmine, and Albert Miller, graced the dock.

Patrick was, at his own request, charged with being a vagrant, and having no visible means of support. Patrick asked for two months in the jail to enable him to sober up. The magistrate remarked, "I think you would do better in the Central Prison, where they would keep you for six months." However, his Worship consented to grant Pat's request, and handed him a pass good for sixty days inside the secluded cloisters of Castle Nesbitt.

Miller was charged with being drunk and disorderly. Albert admitted having been out with a few friends and got "A little bit off. The result was that Albert, who is a recently imported son of Albion, was fined $2 with $3.75 costs. The young man's "disorderly conduct," consisted in carrying away the Indian figure from in front of Mr. Sam Boy's cigar store in George street, whilst under the influence of red eye, and during the trip asking every passer-by, "will you have a cigar."

Albert after the court had adjourned was heard to say, "What do you blokes think. I was soaked 23 bob for only carrying a blooming image a few feet. In the old country I could have been drunker than I was then and punished up a bloody cop, and only had to pay half a crown. His fine was paid. It might be noted that Mr. Miller was seen the night following and he was perfectly sober. This little episode was only a little fun of a young man.

Several defendants were charged with letting their cows run at large. Only one of them, by name, Conroy, however, was present and pleaded no guilty.

P. C. Adams said that on Wednesday morning he was called to Rogers Sq., by a party who said a cow had been in his garden. Mr. Taylor got up at two a.m., and found that six cows had been in his garden and had eaten all his beets and carrots. Mr. Smith said he got up at 12 at night and drove five cows out of his garden. Did not know whose cows they were. The defendant then said he rented a pasture, and his cow had broken out. He pays $12 a year for pasturage so his cow does not "run at large."

The magistrate said he could not make a conviction as the fault was with the owner of the pasture. The law only covers cases of wilful neglect.

Local Banker is Transferred.

Mr. Dave Gilmour, who has been connected with the Bank of Montreal staff here for the past two years, has received notice that he has been transferred to the branch in Brandon, Man., and he will leave for his new post shortly. Mr. Gilmour will be missed a large circle of friends in the city.

Mr. R. A. Morrow Sends $20 Cheque

Mr. R. A. Morrow has generously sent a cheque for $20 to Secretary J. Gibbs, of the local fire brigade, in recognition of the splendid work done recently in the Hunter street building where what threatened to be a most disastrous conflagration broke out in the City Photographing establishment over Minnecolas' fruit store.

Bank Officials Did Not Speak.

Messrs. G. R. R. Cockburn and Chas. McGill, formerly respectively, president and general manager of the defunct Ontario Bank, when meeting in the Toronto court room, did not speak as they passed by. Their greetings were as chilly as the spinal marrow of most of the shareholders of the bank.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. Overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dress-makers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Further Reports at the Convention.

The report of the Board of Ministerial Superannuation was presented at Saturday morning's session of the Baptist convention. Rev. Dr. Clowes, of Toronto, of the Temperance and Moral Reform Department of the Methodist Church, was present and delivered an eloquent address upon moral reform, his remarks being loudly and frequently applauded. The Committee on Resolutions also reported the same morning.

Rev John Craig, B.A., a returned missionary, led the devotional. Prayers were offered by Rev. H. C. Priest, B.A., of Georgetown, and Rev. J. E. Trotter, of Port Hope.

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

STREETS WILL NOT BE BLOCKED IN FUTURE

Inspector of Electric Wiring to Be Appointed—These Were the Decisons of the Committee of the Whole Council Last Night.

The Council met in committee of the whole last night, when there were present, Mayor Henry Best and Aldermen Graham, Elliot, Duncan, Hall, McIntyre, Johnston, Wilson, Adams and Hicks.

The mayor explained that the object in calling the meeting was to try and arrive at who has the right of way of the streets. The Peterborough Light and Power Co. seem to think that they have exclusive rights of the streets under an old bylaw, dating back many years. His worship argued that streets have now been blocked with gas pipes must be before said pipes were brought into service.

The city engineer replied that the Peterborough Light and Power Co., or Gas Co., had certainly blocked up streets a considerable time to the inconvenience of the general public.

His worship wanted to know the relative positions of the city and the Peterborough Light and Power Co. regarding the right of way of our streets. It appears that under a bylaw passed some 30 years ago, the Peterborough Gas Co., now absorbed by the Peterborough Light and Power Co. have been allowed the streets on lines suggested by their interpretation of this bylaw, which gives very wide powers, but providing for a free and uninterrupted passage for vehicles of any kind through the streets, in laying gas mains, etc. Mr. Larmouth contended that the terms of this bylaw had been strictly lived up to by his company.

The mayor explained that on Wednesday last the company's construction foreman started to open up Simcoe street without first clearing the obstruction on George street. His worship entered into an agreement with said foreman not to obstruct Water and Simcoe streets, until George street had been cleared of all obstructions, but notwithstanding this the company's men undertook to block up Simcoe and Water streets that evening, and on the foreman being expostulated with by his worship, the man replied that the mayor had better interview Mr. Larmouth, the company's manager.

Mr. Larmouth explained that the delay in laying the pipes in question was caused by the manufacturers not sending along clamps and valves for the pipes that had been shipped early in the season. The company had to keep the old five-inch gas main going until such time as the new main was laid; this was necessitated in order to keep all customers supplied with gas pending the laying of the new main. Mr. Larmouth contended that the work on Simcoe st should be finished by Wednesday night.

Ald Johnston complained that the trench on Simcoe street was excavated some time before the pipes were laid. Mr. Larmouth answered that there was considerable delay at the bridge.

Ald. Johnston complained that citizens on Simcoe street had been inconvenienced by the blocking up of the entrances to their premises.

Mr. Larmouth explained that the work had been delayed beyond the company's control. It is to their interests to have the work completed as speedily as possible.

Ald Wilson suggested the mayor is the action he had taken, but still though the city should allow the company three days in which to finish their work on Simcoe street.

His worship here said that the citizens wanted to know why the street Railway Company had raised the levels of their track, and left the cobblestone roadway and crossings in a disgraceful condition of ruts and holes.

Mr. Larmouth replied that it was understood that the Board of Works should round the crossings in question by the railway, and he was charged to the Railway Company. He applied to the city this year for crushed stone and could not get it. The railway company have not enough road work to warrant them in purchasing a stone crusher of their own.

Mr. Larmouth said that providing he could get crushed stone from the city he would be willing to raise the road level with the street railway tracks, according with the terms of their contract with the city.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That the Light and Power Company be given five days to complete their work on the George and Simcoe street cross where gas mains are being laid.—Carried.

Ald. Elliot considered that the proposition of fitting up between the street railway tracks, especially on Water street north, more serious than that of laying their gas mains expeditiously.

Mr. Larmouth replied that as to Water street north, the street commissioner had given him permission to raise the rails six inches as the city was about to raise the grade of this street six inches. It was not the company's fault that this program had not been carried out.

The council here meandered into the question of electrical street wiring, and Mr. Larmouth urged that the city appoint a man to inspect such work. His company would abide the result of such inspection with perfect composure. They were sure of their position in the matter of wiring. House wiring is of as much importance as street wiring, and should be thoroughly inspected by a competent man.

Ald Hicks moved, seconded by Ald. Duncan,—That his committee consider the advisability of appointing an inspector of electric wiring and that this matter be referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.—Carried.

His worship contended that any person desiring to do house wiring should first secure a permit to do such work, which ought to be executed under the direction of an inspector.

Mr. Larmouth agreed to put the portions of he streets for which the Street Railway Company are liable, in good repair as per their agreement with the city.

His worship offered that the city should acquire all public franchises. With this end in view he had enquired of Mr. Stuart if he would be willing to surrender to the city his company's franchises for street railway services light and power and gas if what they had cost the company, to which Mr. Stuart had replied with the smile that won't come off.

Dr. Coughlin Is Given High Office

Local Physician Made Supt. of Deaf & Dumb Asylum at Belleville.

Some excitement was caused in the city yesterday, especially in the more active political circles, when it became known that Dr. C. B Coughlin, of Peterborough had been appointed superintendent of the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville, to succeed to Dr. Mayhinon, who resigned to take the position of Supreme Secretary of the I.O.F. Dr. Coughlin will take up he duties of his new position at the close of his predecessor's term, probably about November 15, and will, of course, remove from Peterborough.

A few weeks ago the doctor was made a member of the Provincial Board of Health. Whether he will continue to act in this capacity or not is not known.

Long years ago Dr. Coughlin came to Peterborough from Arthur, Wellington County. He was a native of Peterborough County, having been born in the township of Asphodel, and was a son of the late Richard Coughlin.

Dr. Coughlin lived for a number of years in Western Ontario, where he practised his profession. He was mayor of the village of Arthur, and took an active part in Conservative political circles, having contested twice—unsuccessfully—he riding of East Wellington for the local House.

Since coming here Dr. Coughlin has been an ardent and active supporter of the Conservative platform. He is a prominent member of the A.O.H., and holds the title of the Knights of Columbus in the province of the local council of this order.

He will remove from the city in a short time.

The Globe, speaking about Dr. Coughlin's new honors, says:

Interest concerning the appointment was general among medical men of the Province, and a number of physicians had intimated to the department that they were available as Mr. R. Mathison's successor. The salary that goes with the office is $2,400 a year and a free residence. The retiring superintendent owing to his long term of service, was receiving much more than his amount.

Father McGuire Does Good Work

Referring to the good work done by a priest who has many a warm-hearted friends and admirers in his city and county, Lindsay Post says:

"We were informed this morning by a resident of Downeyville that St. Luke's parish gave a record collection yesterday. This year the annual picnic for the raising of funds for parish purposes was dispensed with, and the Rev. Father McGuire, assisted by the ladies connected therewith, felt it their duty to call upon the ladies of the church, he thought he would endeavor to raise the necessary funds some other way. Church, presbytery, schools, etc. have been placed in a model condition, and a couple of weeks ago Father McGuire discussed the deficit and his ideas in relation to the people with his parishioners and asked them to do their duty. He matter of a collection to be taken yesterday. The grand sum of $1,327 was the response of the generous Irishmen to the appeal of their beloved priest—a sum sufficient to wipe off every cent of debt remaining on the parish."

The church and presbytery and grounds of St. Luke's have been greatly improved since Rev. Father McGuire went to Downeyville, and he is to be congratulated upon the progress made by this parish since he was placed in charge of it.

THE IMPERIAL HOUSE TO BE OPENED TODAY

EATS ONE OF HIS WIVES

Thanh-Thai of Annam Outdoes Storied Ancestors in Original Cruelty

Marseilles, October 23.—Mail advices from Indo-China today brought another and more revolting story of the doings of King Thanh-Thai, of Annam. After killing one of his wives he caused the body to be cooked and served for dinner, forcing his entourage to eat it under pain of death.

Some of the king's wives were bound and burned with burning oil and subjected to other cruelty. Naked women were thrown into the cages of wild beasts, where they were devoured before the eyes of the king.

Finally the French authorities made a prisoner of Thanh-Thai, who has been adjudged insane by Dr. Dumas, of the French colonial staff.

Paris, October 23.—The minister of colonies admitted this afternoon that Thanh-Thai had been imprisoned in the palace.

Prof. A. C. Waltz at the Roller Rink

An Exhibition of Fancy Roller Skating, Which Included High Class Novelty Acts—Skating Par Excellence.

Prof Albert C. Waltz, the champion roller skater of the world, gave one of his inimitable exhibitions of fancy roller skating at the Charlotte street rink last night in the presence of a large and enthusiastic audience.

This skilful manipulator of the rockets fascinated all of skating on wheels hold the spectators spellbound by his numerous world-famed numbers, which include feats nigh approaching the miraculous. His cyclo-polo acts and his unicycle acts are deserving of special commendation. Miss Summers, her phenomenal specialties stamped the professor as an unexcelled master of his art. Professor Waltz will give other exhibitions of roller skating this evening and tomorrow night, and free exercise runs in fancy skating during the afternoons of Tuesday and Wednesday. No doubt these performances which are far more sensational than ever before, will be largely attended, as Prof. Waltz is without a peer in the roller skating world.

No Quorum at Board of Health Meeting

As is only too common of late, there was no quorum at the meeting called for 9.30 yesterday morning of the local Board of Health.

Chairman Ellis, Dr. Burnham and Mr. R. Neill were on hand, they did not make a legitimate meeting. Those present talked over the Isolation Hospital question, the point at issue being whether the Board should call for tenders before going to the Council for the money, or vice versa. Another desperate attempt will be made to get a quorum for this morning.

HARMFUL STOMACH DOSING

No Need of it When Hyomei is Used to Cure Catarrh.

Physicians and scientists agree that the less medicine one swallows, the better. It is in keeping with this idea that Hyomei is recommended by leading physicians throughout this and other catarrhal sections.

When this treatment is used in catarrhal troubles, there is no stomach dosing, for the medicine is taken in with the air you breathe, and goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, healing the inflamed and irritated mucous membrane, killing the disease germs and entering the blood with the oxygen, driving all catarrhal germs from the system.

Do not try to cure catarrh of the head by putting medicine into your stomach—this is neither a scientific nor common-sense treatment. Breathe the healing balsams of Hyomei and in a few days you will notice relief, and its continued use will result in a complete and lasting cure.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents. We do not want anyone's money unless Hyomei gives relief and cure, and we absolutely agree that money will be refunded unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physician will give your case the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

New South Wales Prohibits Gambling

Sydney, Oct. 22.—New South Wales' gambling suppression law has been passed and is now in operation. The Victorian House of Assembly on Saturday ratified the severest clauses of the anti-gambling bill, even rejecting the exemption with regard to racecourses, thereby rendering betting under any circumstance a crime. The newspapers, as in New South Wales, are forbidden to publish betting news. The labor members alone fought the bill at every stage. The Chronicle's correspondent says that if the legislation is endorsed by the Legislative Council the police in Melbourne, as in Sydney, will be powerless to enforce obedience to the law, which far outruns public opinion.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman Will Direct the Government Forces, While Chamberlain May be Shortly in Harness.

London, Oct. 23.—The session of the Imperial House which begins today will be marked by two conflicts, one between the House of Lords and the House of Commons over the Education Bill, and the other between the Government and the Labor Party over the Workman's Compensation Bill.

During the recess now coming to a close the Socialist wing of the Labor party has opposed the Government's candidatures, and its present measure is considered something of a test of the Government's ability to hold the support of the Labor members of the House of Commons.

The controversy between the House of Lords and House of Commons over the Education Bill may lead to serious consequences, and possibly cause an appeal to the country, as the two Houses are apparently irreconcilable over the measure.

Lord Ampthill, Liberal-Unionist, and Lord Heneage, Liberal, have given notice of amendments completely altering the character of the bill, in the matter of religious instruction, as passed by the House of Commons.

The House of Lords shows little disposition to give to the Lower House, and the main purpose of the bill, that of giving the country a better education system, is for the time being forgotten in the intensity of the strife between the two Houses.

The Irish question is a slumbering volcano which may break out at any moment, but there is believed to be a tacit understanding that it will pass over to the next session for full discussion.

The Merchants' Shipping Bill will come up before Christmas, and the matter of the Transvaal constitution also will receive further attention.

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the premier, has returned here after a long rest following the death of his wife last summer. He intends to resume the active direction of Parliamentary affairs.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's recent illness promises to remove him temporarily from the galaxy of Parliamentary orators, but he sends word that his indisposition will be of brief duration and that he expects to return before long and continue his useful career.

Lindsay Cheese Board Deadlock

Mr. Gillespie of This City Makes Best Offer Which Was Not Accepted.

Yesterday the Lindsay Cheese Board proved a fizzle as far as business went. There were 1200 boxes boarded, but the factories would not accept the offers made. I was up to a Peterborough man, Mr. G. A. Gillespie, the well known local cheese buyer to boom prices to the limit.

Mr Gillespie, after several sparring bids had been made boosted prices to 12 1-2 cents per pound, but this was not accepted, and as the bidder would not, in common sense raise his own offer a dead lock ensued. It is now up to the Victoria factories to ship their cheese to a live city, ump out the Sugarville water and do real live business in Peterborough, where highest prices are paid.

Mayor Best Stops Work on Gas Mains

Yesterday his Worship Mayor Best issued a stern injunction prohibiting the Peterborough Light and Power Company from beginning the excavation for their gas pipes on Water street, at the corner of Simcoe without first finishing the work at George street.

The Mayor ordered the work to stop at once, and notified the Chief of police, that if the men were to persist, they were to be arrested immediately. The digging stopped, although when the Chief of Police was at dinner the men took advantage of his absence to do some work in the Water street trench.

The matter was considered at last night's session of the City Council in committee of the whole.

Miss Power's Body Found Yesterday

Cook at Fenelon Falls Hotel Found Floating in the River.

Our readers will remember that some two weeks ago, the cook at Twomey's hotel, Fenelon Falls, a Miss Powers, mysteriously disappeared.

A despatch from that village received yesterday stated that her body was discovered floating in the river by a young man named Shinn, who was out fishing. He returned to the village to report. Mr. G. L. Main's consent was secured and quickly went to the spot where the body was seen. It was found to be that of the late Miss Powers. It is supposed that in a fit of temporary despondency she threw herself in to the river. The body was easily identified.

The deceased lady was 41 years of age and a daughter of Mr. J. J. Powers, of that village. Deep sympathy is felt for the bereaved family, the deceased being highly respected by all who knew her. For some little time before her disappearance, Miss Powers was in a despondent mood. It is not expected that an inquest will be held.

Palace Restaurant Is Now Opened

Yesterday Mr. Fred Darcy's elegantly furnished and superbly equipped Palace Restaurant on George street, occupying the whole two floors over the former Palace bar was opened for business. Mr. Fred Darcy will be associated with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Darcy, whose successful and satisfactory management of the Burleigh Falls Hotel, is known to nearly every citizen in Peterborough, and whose management of the Hunter street restaurant in former years brings many a sigh to epicures of the older generation.

The "Palace Restaurant and Temperance Bureau" is entered by a stairway one door south of The Times Bookstore. The stairs leading from George street have been covered with a heavy linoleum, and the walls and ceiling with an elegantly border green and gold wall paper. Electric lights make the approach, and the stairway brilliant and attractive to all guests. From the landing at the head of the first flight of stairs, also out of a glass door, is an elegantly carpeted stairway, leading to the third or rooming floor.

As one enters the glass door, at the first landing, leading to the restaurant, one meets a handsomely furnished hallway leading to the public dining rooms in which eight tables, specially set for the noon day lunch, with immaculate table clothing, napkins, sparkling silverware, which will provide customers, at short notice, with easily attained, well served and dainty meals. Here one can come alone or with half a hundred friends, and enjoy well cooked chops, steaks, oysters in any style or whatever the palate calls for. The main dining room, lighted by day with two large windows overlooking George street, or by night by handsome electric lights, is finely painted and papered, with a lofty ceiling, and a floor covered by a brand new linoleum. Just beyond the entrance to this room is a cosy office, neatly fitted up.

To the rear of his part of the first floor is a large and splendidly equipped kitchen. Here a well trained and expert staff, under control of an able chef from Toronto, will cook and promptly serve what ever may be called for.

The third floor is most comfortably furnished. There are rooms enough to supply comfortable accommodation to perhaps fifty roomers, with special arrangements for cots in case of an unexpected rush.

Each room is handsomely equipped with new Brussels carpet, new iron bed steads, etc., and the floor, supplied with bath rooms, is beyond doubt one of the newest, brightest, cleanest and most attractive rooming places in this city.

Taken altogether the Palace Restaurant is one of the coolest, neatest and most attractive eating or boarding places in Peterborough.

Whilst Mr. Thomas Darcy is temporarily assisting his son in the Palace Restaurant, he has still retained proprietorship and will next season run the Burleigh Falls Hotel.

Mr. F. M. Taylor, the local painter, who had the contract of painting, papering and decorating the Palace Restaurant, has completed a job that reflects great credit upon the artisans of Peterborough. Mr. Taylor when he took hold of this contract, was badly handicapped, as in many places a former defective roof had let water in, destroying several of the walls and ceilings. However within the past few weeks the roof has been renewed by the Chamberlain estate owners of the building, so all this former difficulty has now been relegated to ancient history, and Mr. Taylor has made every wall and ceiling look new and neat.

A BIG COAL FIND

Battleford, Sask., October 21.—A large seam of good coal has been discovered by George King on his homestead in the Tramping Lake district, and Homestead Inspector Clouston pronounces it to be of the best variety of anthracite. Mr. King will at once make arrangements to develop the vein as it is believed the find is an important one.

SEVEN GREAT RELIGIONS

OVER 1,500,000 HUMAN BEINGS ON EARTH

Less Than 1 Per Cent. Do Not Believe in a Creator.

The population of the earth at the death of the Emperor Augustus was estimated at 50,000,000. Today it is calculated that this globe has a population of 1,567,150,000. Out of this vast number of human beings it is asserted that all but an infinitesimal fraction of 1 per cent. believe in and worship in some degree a supreme ruler of the universe.

There are seven great religions in the world. The Christian religion has the greatest number of adherents, 563,000,000. Of this number 260,000,000 are Catholics and 213,000,000 Protestants. These two great divisions are subdivided into innumerable sects, differing from one another on some point of dogma or church government.

Next in importance comes the worship of ancestors and Confucianism, whose followers are 254,000,000 in number. This belief is confined almost exclusively to the Chinese and Japanese.

In India there are 223,000,000 Brahmins. This form of religion has decreased somewhat during the last decade, owing, perhaps, to the continual ravages of plague and famine in that country, but it still holds the third place among the seven great religions.

Brahminism is hard pressed, however, by the faith of Islam; there are 222,000,000 of these followers of the doctrines of Mahomet.

The fifth on the list are the Polytheists—the believers in many gods—who number 130,000,000. The devotees of Buddha come next, 167,000,000 strong. These, too, have their stronghold in India. The strongest of the seven great religions of the world is Taoism, with 46,000,000 adherents in the Chinese empire and in Thibet.

The next greatest religion, in point of numbers, to Taoism is the belief of Japan, Shintoism. This has but 18,000,000 believers. The Jewish faith now counts but half that number of adherents. But, unlike the other great religions, the followers of the teachings of Moses are not centered in any particular country, but are scattered all about the world.

Compared with the foregoing the religions of the Parsees, while one of the most beautiful theoretically, has about the smallest following of any distinct belief in the world, 150,000. This sect has its home in India, and is best known to the outside world by its curious burial customs, the famed "Towers of Silence."

Mr. Polson Wants to Wind Up Bank

Shareholder in Defunct Ontario Bank Makes a Proposition.

A Toronto despatch of yesterday says that Franklin Bates Polson, owner of 150 shares of Ontario Bank stock, applied through his attorney, James Bicknell, of Bicknell and Bain, for a winding-up order for the bank on Saturday before Justice Magee at Osgoode Hall.

J. H. Moss opposed the motion on the grounds of an affidavit made by W. S. Staver, curator of the bank, to the effect that a winding-up order would result in the most serious loss to the shareholders of the bank, both by reason of depreciation of the assets through forced liquidation, and by reason of the great additional cost which would be thereby thrown upon the estate.

Justice Magee concurred in this view and adjourned the motion sine die, giving either party the privilege of retiving it on 24 hours' notice.

Mrs. Cyril Hill Wins at Golf

In the finals in the ladies golf tournament, Mrs. Cyril Hill, nee Miss (Hon.) Hamilton, won out. The result was: between Mrs. Dennistoun and Mrs. Cyril Hill, Mrs. Hill winning by five up and four to play. The match was an exciting exhibition of golf, some really good play being made. Some good players are developing, and Miss Pearl Lundy and Miss Bertha Moore will give a close run for the championship next year. There was a large gathering of spectators during the finals, and deep interest was evidenced in the playing.

Successful Concert at Y. M. C. A.

Last night a most successful concert in aid of the Y.M.C.A. Ladies Auxiliary was held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall. The artists, members of the staff of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, were: Miss Adamson, violinist, Miss Brodigan, tania; Mr. Collen, vocalist, and Miss Eugenie Quehen, accompanist.

A splendid program was rendered, which greatly redounded to the credit of the talented galaxy of artists who took part.

HOW CONUMPTION STARTS

Tired When You Waken—Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out—Snap All Gone.

Your limbs feel "draggy" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfying rest. Continuous headaches, exhaustion and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start today. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Ferrozone cures because it can furnish the body with sufficient nutriment and building material.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops, and bounding, joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferrozone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos Dowd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this.

"Household worries and cares had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In 50c. boxes only, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE TRANSVAAL NATIONALISTS

The constitution of the new Transvaal "National" Association has been published. It advocates the principles of federation, the abolition of racialism, cheaper means of living, co-operation with the Boers, fair treatment of natives, complete self-government, no further importation of Chinese, and repatriation of those now in South Africa on the expiration of their contracts. The constitution is issued with a manifesto which points out that South Africans have to make a white nation fit to take its place beside the Canadian and Australian nations. It urges the elimination of racial prejudice from practical politics, and expresses the conviction that an overwhelming body of public opinion of both races favors a truly national policy. The general principles of the association include self-government in all internal and domestic affairs, with effective control of railroad policy, native affairs and questions affecting Asiatics in the Transvaal. Legislation is suggested embodying a reform of the mining and company laws in order to secure to the people a larger share in the mineral wealth of the country and to afford more adequate protection to investors. With regard to the Chinese, the manifesto refuses to consent to their remaining in the country as free laborers, and advocates legislation to prevent the renewal of Chinese contracts, the association being convinced that sufficient natives can be obtained, but that effective steps to secure them will only be taken when made absolutely necessary by legislation.

EUGENE DEBS AND SOCIALISM

In Chicago the other day a remarkable demonstration was held. It was under the patronage of Eugene V. Debs, who is well known in Canada, and purported to be a gathering of socialists, although not a word of socialistic doctrine was uttered by the leader, who talked anarchy and treason for two hours. Every vilifying climax and every bloodthirsty suggestion was greeted with cheers. Each man at the meeting carried a cane upon which was tied a piece of red ribbon. Violence was the keynote of the meeting and Debs was the master spirit to whom all bowed.

Socialism has never been successfully defined, for the very good reason that the socialists themselves do not know just what they believe. But one thing is certain—the real socialists of the world are not the anarchists and assassins represented by the Chicago leaders. It has always been a fundamental doctrine of real socialism that the human race should become a brotherhood and follow in the footsteps of that Christ who preached gentleness, charity and love. There are in this country today thousands of socialists who are such types of men. They are sincere and honest. They do not countenance the bomb or the dagger. These men are good citizens and the only criticism that can be made of them is that they are impracticable theorists and well-meaning dreamers.

In Chicago, as well as other cities in the Republic and Canada, the name socialism is a disgrace and a reproach to all the honest men who believe in true socialism. Debs is not a socialist. He is a cheap mountebank who is coining the passions and the degeneracy of small-souled men into money. Discredited by every other party and unfit for association with patriotic men, he has dragged the name of socialism into the mire and with his band of anarchists is creating prejudice against socialism among good people. Socialism is not the issue in the big cities of the United States. It is anarchy that is lifting its hideous head, and Debs is an enemy of every decent socialist in that country. There was about as much "brotherly love" in that Chicago meeting as there is in a band of pirates. The honest socialists may not be right in their ideas of social relations, but they are human beings with human hearts and human sympathies. Perhaps the socialists number among themselves more devout Christian men and women in proportion to numbers, than any other party in this country. To every one of these men and women the ranting of Debs and his associate madmen is an insult.

An Elastic Conscience.

"Here, my dear," said the husband, producing a roll of bills—"here is $40 I won playing poker over at Brown's last night. You may have it to buy that dress you wanted." Reluctantly the conscientious wife took the money, then said, with an expression of rigid rectitude: "I simply shudder at the thought of using money gained in such a way. Henry, promise me that after you have won enough for me to buy the hat to go with the dress you will never again touch those awful cards. I don't want my husband to become a gambler."—Judge.

Lunar Athletics.

The "man in the moon" must surely regard with amused contempt our much vaunted athletic records. A good terrestrial athlete could cover about 120 feet on the moon in a running broad jump, while leaping over the barn would be a very commonplace feat. He would find no difficulty in carrying six times as much and running six times as fast as he could on earth, all because the moon attracts bodies with but one-sixth of the force of the earth.

Both Alike.

The wife in the middle of the night was awakened by the loud snores of her husband. She endured the horrible racket as long as she could. Then, pinching the man sharply, she said:

"Herbert, you'd make less noise if you kept your mouth shut."

Herbert, sleepy and surly, muttered: "So would you."

Russian Government Disfranchises Voters

St. Petersburg, Oct. 22.—The government has hurled a bomb into the Radica camp in the form of an announcement in expectation by the senate of double fur points in the election laws, declaring that only actual resident house owners are eligible to be peasant electors at the coming elections.

Persons of peasant origin who are no longer residents of the villages, are ineligible even to vote.

This will exclude the educated leaders of the peasant group, like Alladin Annikin and Zhitkie, who under the old system, abolished by yesterday's ukase, were considered to be peasants, no matter how long they were absent from the paternal village.

It is reported from Tchita, Trans Baikalia, that all the members of a sapper battalion, officers and men, have been disarmed and isolated under guard, on account of a mutiny, and that three of the ringleaders among the men have been condemned to death and others to hard labor. The officers will be tried later.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"Impossible to tell, ma'am. It will be a severe struggle between the powers of life and death. The very antidotes I am obliged to administer are terribly exhausting," said the cautious chemist.

As if to prove his words true, Thugsen was again seized with frightful convulsions. His face was black, and his frame horribly distorted.

"Oh, Heaven, how dreadful! Had you not better send for more advice?" pleaded Ruth, weeping, and wringing her hands.

"I shall, if this continues, to save myself from the burden of a sole responsibility; but it is just as well to tell you that no one can do more for him than I am doing now," said Mr. Jones, preparing another dose. It was administered, and the patient again sunk into the quietude of exhaustion.

The night was now far advanced. By the orders of Mr. Jones, who took upon himself the direction of affairs, the house was closed up. The chemist's assistant and the shop boy sat nodding in the adjoining parlor, to be ready in case they were wanted. The policeman leaned against the frame of the communicating door, and dozed upon his watch. Mr. Jones and poor Ruth sat, the one on the right and the other on the left of the bed.

The quiet of the house was presently interrupted by the wild tossing and groaning of the patient, who presently fell into the most frightful convulsions, turning black in the face, foaming at the mouth, throwing his body into the most horrible contortions, sometimes in his fierce agony throwing himself from the bed, and ever, as the momentary relaxation of the nervous tension permitted him to speak, breaking into the fiercest accusations against Ruth, or the most abject entreaties for mercy or for life.

"Oh, Jones, for the love of Heaven, do what you can to save me. I am not fit to die. Ah, murderess, you shall pay for this! Oh, Heaven, what tortures! Ah, wretch, this is your doings, and you shall not escape!"

Thus he revealed the agony of his body, and the anguish and terror of his soul, until the returning stricture of his throat for a time strangled out both speech and breath.

The poor wife and the apothecary both did all they could to relieve and soothe the suffering man. But these last convulsions were so much more violent and long continued than any which had preceded them, and were followed by a fit of such deep prostration, that Mr. Jones could no longer hesitate to call in additional advice. He went into the adjoining parlor, and woke up his assistant, saying:

"You must go immediately and bring a physician—Dr. Clark, if possible. And you must also bring a magistrate. I fear very much that we shall have to get the dying deposition of this unfortunate man."

Day was dawning as he left the house.

Poor Ruth, forgetting that she was a prisoner, got up to open the window and kindle the kitchen fire to prepare the breakfast, but the policeman stopped her at the door. And when she explained the nature of her errand, the chemist told her that he would send his shop boy to the next pastry cook's and have breakfast brought for the watchers.

And Ruth returned to her seat on the right of the bed, where she quietly remained for perhaps an hour, at the end of which time the whole party were disturbed by a loud knocking at the street door.

Mr. Jones answered the knock, and admitted a magistrate, who said that he had come in answer to a message left for him an hour ago.

Mr. Jones conducted Mr. Humphreys, the magistrate, into the parlor, and having seen him seated, related the facts of this poisoning as far as they had come to his knowledge.

"The suffering man is now reposing and I think he had better not be disturbed just now. The suspected woman is also in his room, but in charge of a policeman."

"Send the woman in here. I would like to question her," said the magistrate.

Ruth came in at the summons, and gave exactly the same account of her husband's attack of illness that she had given to the apothecary.

"How long has she been in your custody?" inquired the magistrate of the policeman.

"Since last night, sir."

"Then, if there is a secure room in this house, she had better be confined in it."

Mr. Jones undertook the survey of the upper stories of the house, and reported a comfortable and secure bedroom on the second floor front.

And to this room poor Ruth was conducted and there confined.

Meanwhile the physician, Dr. Scott, arrived, and was shown into the chamber of death.

The patient was lying extended, in a state of deep prostration, with the cold sweat beaded upon his brow.

Dr. Scott looked into his face, felt his pulse, sighed, and, in answer to the eager, low toned questions of the bystanders, said:

"He seems to be sinking fast."

Then the doctor wrote a prescription, and dispatched the young chemist's assistant over to the shop to make it up. When this was brought and administered, the sufferer seemed to be temporarily revived.

"How are you, sir?" said the magistrate, approaching the bedside.

"I do not know! Oh, doctor! doctor! am I dying?" exclaimed Thugsen, turning his eyes, wild with excitement, upon the physician.

"Oh, no! certainly not; far from it," replied Dr. Scott, telling the professional white lie.

"Do you feel equal to giving an account of this attack of illness?" inquired the magistrate.

"Doctor, am I in any danger of death?" said Thugsen, turning again to the physician.

"By no means, my good friend," said the doctor.

"Can you give us any account of your illness?" repeated the magistrate.

"Yes; my wife and I had a quarrel. She prepared the soup; I ate of it, and immediately sickened. She, poor, erring creature, where is she now?"

"Confined in a room upstairs."

"Keep her there, lest she do more mischief," said Thugsen, who, hoping for his own life, felt anxious that Ruth should be kept in confinement, lest she should put in execution her resolve to inform against him herself.

"Are you willing to make oath to all you have said?" inquired the magistrate.

"Yes, for it is the truth," answered Thugsen, who soon after fell into horrible convulsions that lasted fifteen minutes, and left him lying extended without sense or motion.

"I warn you, Dr. Scott, that if you think this man in extremis, you should inform him of his condition, that he may know it when called upon to make his deposition," said the magistrate.

"Sir, when the patient is in extremis, I will tell him so; until then, and while there is the slightest possibility of saving life, it is my duty to encourage him to the utmost," replied the physician, who was now taxing all his medical skill for the help of the sufferer.

Breakfast for the watchers now arrived from the pastry cook's, and interrupted further conversation. A cup of coffee, a muffin and an egg were sent up to Ruth. The policeman took them in.

"How is Captain Thugsen now?" inquired Ruth, as he entered the room.

"I am forbidden to hold any conversation with you, mum," replied the policeman, setting down the tray and leaving the room.

And Ruth was abandoned to solitude and intolerable suspense. Trouble seemed gathering thicker and thicker over her head. Her sorrows seemed more than any human creature could bear. She fully understood now how it was that her husband had taken the poison, which he must have prepared for herself; and awful gratitude to God for her almost miraculous deliverance from the snare struggled in her heart, with grief for the man that she still loved, despite his crimes, and cold blooded villainy, and fear for the consequence to herself and children, should Thugsen die, persisting in his charge against her. And these sorrows and anxieties for herself and her loved ones mingled with others, no less acute, for Ferdinand Casanove and Blanche, the unhappy wife. The hours that were to lead them to the scaffold were swiftly passing away; and she who possessed a guilty secret, fought save him, must not breathe it because it would send her dying husband from his death bed to a jail, and indeed, could not divulge it because she was confined under lock and key, and prevented from holding conversation with any one.

The Fern.

The fern has a most peculiar and original arrangement of its seeds, these being disposed in regular order on the backs of the leaves.

Dutch Fortifications.

The principal defense of the Dutch in the war with Alva was found in the character of their country. Small bastions, long curtain walls and very wide ditches filled with water were the characteristics of a Dutch fortification.

London's Big Clock.

The hour and the quarter weights of Big Ben have to be wound twice a week, the operation taking about five hours in each case. The weight for the quarters is just about a ton and a half, and the hour weight is over a ton. The pendulum, 13½ feet long, vibrates once in two seconds and weighs nearly 700 pounds.

The Red Carnation.

The red carnation is regarded in Spain as an emblem of despair. There is a tradition in Andalusia that the flower sprang from the blood of the Virgin Mary.

Southern Italy.

The poverty of southern Italy does not reveal itself in rags or leanness, but in the multitude of little things, the people do—gathering twigs, scraping fertilizers from the roads, cutting handfuls of grass—in short, the intense economy of utilization, which seems odd and painful to the traveler from wasteful America.

When this block of stock is disposed of no other will be offered at such an extravagantly low price.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 200,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 2½ per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Ennismore Man's Horse Dead.

As an Ennismore man was driving out to that prolific (both in crops and undoubted arguments against race suicide) township, his horse which had taken sick on Saturday, suddenly dropped. Although local veterinary skill was called in, the animal "croaked the great divide" at the corner of McDonel and Reid streets.

Church Day at Baptist Convention

Some important matters were discussed yesterday in the great Baptist convention. Yesterday was "Church Day." Convention which was "Church" caused at great length were the settlement of pastors, and "Shall we have two Degrees or Orders of Ordained Ministers?" A committee was appointed to consider the problems discussed, the committee to report later on to the convention.

After the devotional exercises, led by Rev. E. P. H. King, of Quebec city, the Committee on Resolutions presented a supplementary report. The first resolution expressed deepest regret at the Congo atrocities, and recorded the emphatic protest of this convention at the system of forced labor, which obtains in the Congo Free State, and asking the influence of the Government to put down this injustice.

The Moral Reform Committee reported what it had done during the year and suggested a program for the year; The observance of the Temperance Sunday; the duty of Christian citizenship to be urged from the pulpit; books for Sunday school libraries to be selected; and the names of such books to be published in the Canadian Baptist, and the matter of denominational cooperation to be left with the Executive.

The nominating Committee suggested the following as a committee on church union; Dr. Farmer, superintendent, Norton, Dr. T. S. Johnson, Dr. S. S. Bates, Prof. J. LL Gilmour, Dr. J. A. Gordon, Rev. J. G. Brown, B.D., D. Perry, Rev. W. J. McKay, B.D., Dr A. H. Cameron, Brothers J. G. Scott, K.C., R. D. Warren, D. A. Thompson, [illegible] and Rev. Mr. Walker, B.A. They were all appointed.

Yesterday being Church Day the settlement of pastors was the first subject upon the program for discussion. Rev. E. E. Stobo, Jr. B.D., of Mount Forest, showed the present methods of settling pastors, showing first how unsatisfactory [illegible] were brought to the notice of pulpit committees and then how the churches proceeded in the choice of a pastor. Four plans were discussed, the no-plan at all, the competitive and the deliberative. He especially condemned competition between pastors seeking a charge and held that a man should be called largely upon his record. He believed that the time had come when a change was needed in the methods of settling pastors.

The remainder of this report will appear in tomorrow's issue.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Condon had her arm broken by falling on a sidewalk on Dickson street, due it is alleged to the defective condition of the walk.

Funeral of Late Mrs. John Britton

Today at three p.m., the last mortal remains of the late Mrs. John Britton, who passed away on Sunday night at her residence 13 Harvey St., will be laid to rest in the Little Lake Cemetery.

The deceased was an old and highly esteemed resident of this city, and had been ill for some weeks, finally succumbing to paralysis. She was born in Enniskillen, Ireland, where she spent her youth, coming to Canada in 1876. Her maiden name was Mudgery Brownlee. Her husband, the late John Britton, whom she married in the old country, predeceased her about 14 months ago. A family of six children are left to mourn her loss. They are, Thomas, of Bowmanville, Charles, of Detroit, John, of this city, and Mrs. R. Farrell and Mrs. E. C. Sutherland, of Toronto, and Miss Martha Britton at home.

Bob. Ind. on Local Water Power.

Bret Smith's breezy paper, the Bobcaygeon Independent says; Mr. Robert Stuart, head of the Cereal Works in Peterborough, has in contemplation the development of the fullest capacity of the dam at Peterborough, and as the production of power is limited by the quantity of water at its lowest point, Mr. Stuart took a trip over the Kawartha Lakes last week with a view to estimating the probabilities of water supply. The storing and regulating of the water throughout the district is becoming of greater importance each year, and it is now imperative that all the dams be maintained in the best condition. It is understood that Mr. Stuart was favorably impressed.

Mr. G. Y. Clementi is Very Ill.

We regret to say that word was yesterday received from Chicago, that an old Peterborough boy, Mr. George Vincent Clementi, who has recently filled a responsible position in that city, is very ill. Our readers will remember that about a year ago Mr. Clementi had had a severe hemmorhage, and was then in a precarious condition. His many friends in this city were afterwards pleased to learn that had recovered, and was once more able to assume his duties. It will be sad intelligence for his friends to learn that Mr. Clementi has had a relapse, and as a result of a recent hemmorhage, his condition is now regarded as critical.

A Local Business Improvement.

Yesterday workmen were busily engaged tearing down part of the wall, and building an arch way between bone stores at 410-412 George street. Mr. M. W. Porter, the butcher owing to a rapidly increasing business at his store 410 George St. recently acquired the store immediately south of his establishment, that formerly occupied by W. Morgan as a cigar store. Yesterday the cigars, pipes and tobacco of the latter store were sold out to Messrs W. O'Brien, and J. Cottingham. The newly improved butcher shop will be ready for business by the first Saturday in November.

Mr. McPherson Gets Two Furnaces.

Yesterday Mr. F. J. R. McPherson, the George street plumber, etc., received two new furnaces which he will place for Mr. M. Pappas, in the latter's two establishments, at 337-339 George street, and in the new barber shop, billiard room and pool room, recently opened by him, as the Palace Pool Room, next door south of The Times office. Mr. McPherson, in his splendidly equipped store, recently that of M. L. Henry & Co. has recently secured some large and important heating and lighting contracts.

Preventics, as the name implies, prevent all Colds and Grippe when taken at "the sneeze stage." Preventics are tasteless candy tablets. Preventics dissipate all colds quickly, and taken early, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Preventics are thoroughly safe for children, and as effectual for adults. Sold and recommended in 5-cent and 25-cent boxes by J. D. Tully.

All Saints' Ladies' Bale

On Thursday afternoon the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints' church will pack a bale for Montreal Lake Mission, and any persons who have articles they feel like contributing to this cause are requested to send them to the church not later than 2 o'clock.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia goes a nervous mess and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle solid, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowles and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate, stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

COLONIZATION ON A BIG SCALE

Syndicate to Bring Out 25,000 English Settlers.

Kaiso, B. C., October 23.—Victor W Odlum, formerly of the Vancouver World, is interested in a syndicate which has just been formed to bring out some 20,000 English settlers to cultivate fruit lands around this town. The syndicate has already acquired some 25,000 acres of the best fruit-growing land obtainable. Arrangements have already been made for an exhibit at the Colonial Exposition to be held in London.

Scotch Couple Come to Canada to Wed

Montreal, Oct. 22.—A striking instance of the length that lovers will go in order to evade the British deceased wife's sister Act is seen here in the marriage of Robert Munro and Wilhelmina Mackenzie of Inverness, Scotland. Miss Mackenzie was Mr. Munro's deceased wife's sister, so she was ineligible for marriage to him. Accordingly the twain came to Canada on the last trip of the Pretorian and were married Thursday night at St. Henri by Rev. B. B. Brown. They have booked a return passage by the Pretorian, which sails next week. Many years ago a strong agitation in favor of the repeal of the deceased wife's sister Act began, as the result of the marriage in St. James' Methodist Church, Montreal, of Rev. Morley Punshon, who brought his deceased wife's sister across the Atlantic so that he might lawfully marry her.

Girl Runs Away to Go on Stage

North Bay, Oct. 21.—Stage-struck, Aurora Aubrey, aged 17, daughter of a C.P.R. conductor, evaded the vigilance of her stepmother, and, dressed in boy's clothes, left here Wednesday night for New York City.

The disappearance of Miss Aubrey, who is a very pretty girl, caused a sensation in the family circle, although the outside public knew nothing of the affair. It was known that she had no money when she left town, but she is supposed to have been aided in her escape to join the sister of the footlights by a commercial traveller.

Stealing out of the house with a small bundle early Wednesday evening, she said she would return in an hour. Making a lightning change of apparel, she jumped the on going southbound Grand Trunk train attired from head to foot as a man.

She purchased her ticket on the train and made her way via Toronto for the Falls. Here she was detained, having no funds except 20 cents.

Thursday night her father received a telegram to this effect, and left last night to bring back the fair runaway. She will be placed in a convent at Montreal, from where she graduated in music and art a few months ago.

Prepared to Meet Any Onslaught in the House of Commons—Not Talking Elsewhere.

Toronto, Oct. 21.—"At the proper time" Hon George E. Foster will discuss publicly his connection with recent matters of so-called "high-finance" which have occupied so large a share of public attention.

Addressing the first of the season's meetings of the North Toronto Liberal-Conservative Association at Simpson's Hall last night, he was greeted by a large and interested audience and some enthusiasm. Both the chairman, Dr. G. Sterling Ryerson, and Mr J. W. McWhinney, who proposed the customary vote of thanks, threw out the suggestion that the people would be interested in hearing the Hon. Mr. Foster on the matters recently before the Insurance Commission.

"When the Commission has finished its work," declared Mr. Foster, "it will report to Parliament. It will then be fully discussed by those interested without the danger of being considered other than respectable.

"I have already said I do not intend to go before a North Toronto audience, or any other audience on earth," Mr. Foster continued dramatically and eloquently. "I have lived for 59 years. The greater part of which I have spent in the white light of publicity which comes to few men. If I have to go before my fellows now to defend myself my life must count for little. If I have given my testimony on oath—and I have done so—and a man will not believe me, then he would not believe, as the Scripture puts it, 'though one arose from the dead.'

READY FOR ATTACKS.

"Let any man attack me on the report when it comes to Parliament and he will find me there.

"I will meet my colleagues when the proper time comes and deal fully with any questions they desire to see threshed out.

"I am not going to run now into any defence of myself, which I do not think is called for.

"My statement was made upon oath to the commission at the close of my examination."

Hon Mr. Foster did not otherwise allude to the incident. His address, which was delivered with all his old-time eloquence, dealt with Parliament and Parliamentary matters. He also alluded to the revelations of the London bye-election. He deplored conditions as evidence of which he feared [illegible] going on for many years.

"I trust there will not be a scrutage of rotten furniture left in London," he said, "and I hope when they get through they will go on to other constituencies.

"Parliament should disfranchise every man who takes or gives a bribe."

Cholera Among Hogs.

Chatham, October 21.—On Wednesday over sixty hogs were destroyed by Dr. Perdue on the farm of William Thompson, about three miles south of Blenheim, on account of the animals being infected with hog cholera. An autopsy held on a number of the hogs revealed lesions of the disease, both in the acute and chronic form. A few days ago the announcement was made that the regulations governing the shipments of hogs from this country, among others in this section, has been withdrawn, and the situation is a serious one. Miss Annie Irwin Yesterday's Bride Pretty Wedding at Highland Hall the Residence of Mr. W. Irwin.

Yesterday afternoon an important and prettily carried out social and matrimonial function was celebrated at Highland Hall, the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Irwin, when their elder daughter, Miss Annie became the bride of Mr. James Hamilton, son of Mr. Peter Hamilton, of Peterborough.

The marriage was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives.

The ceremony took place in the drawing room, which was artistically decorated with smilax, ferns and pink and white chrysanthemums, the bridal party taking their position beneath a beautiful arch of greenery relieved by pretty settings of Japan's national flower.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's church, was the officiating clergyman. Miss Marian Bilton, of Toronto, assisted on the violin by Miss Eva Irwin, played the wedding march from Lohengrin. The bridesmaids were Miss Marjie Hall and Miss Alice Hamilton. Miss Irwin, who was given away by her father was attired in a pretty Empire gown of white silk crepe de chene embroidered in velvet, over chiffon and taffeta, the gown being adorned with rare old lace and pearls. She wore a tulle veil and the conventional wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a handsome bouquet of bridal roses. The maid of honor, and bridesmaids were all robed in white point d'esprit, over white taffeta, trimmed with baby Irish lace, and baby ribbon. Each carried a bouquet of pink carnations, and wore a wreath of pink rosebuds.

The bridegroom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Wm. Hamilton, of this city. An orchestra provided appropriate music.

After the ceremony was over, the guests and bridal party repaired to the dining room. The decorations for the wedding supplied by Jordan Bros. included a large basket of pink and white chrysanthemums for the bridal table, and small baskets filled with ferns for the guests' tables.

The newly wedded couple left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train, on an extended trip to points west, and on their return will take up residence at the corner of Brock and Sheridan street.

The bride's going-away costume was a tailor-made suit of navy blue, with hat to match. The weddings gifts were numerous and costly.

Among the invited out-of-town guests were Hon. Frank Cochrane, Mrs. and Miss Cochrane, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hamilton, and Mrs. Thomas Bilton, Miss M. Richardson, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sheppard, Coldwater; Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sheppard, Orillia; Mr. and Mrs. Conkling, Chicago; Mrs. King, Miss Chambers, Newburg, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. N. Pither, Kenora; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. MOST STUPIDLY MANAGED DEPARTMENT

AT WESTMINSTER

Imperial Parliament Reassembles—Premier and Ex-Premier Present.

London, Oct. 24.—The reassembling of Parliament yesterday drew large crowds to Westminster, despite the fact that the opening of the session was devoid of sumptuous ceremony or the appearance of royalty, as this was merely a resumption of the business of the spring session.

The members showed their usual eagerness to gain advantageous positions in the House, ten members putting in an appearance as the clock struck midnight in order to secure first choice of seats.

The formal opening of the House of Commons occurred yesterday afternoon and before the House of Lords, thus giving the throngs of spectators an opportunity to witness the assembling of both bodies.

Ambassador Reid occupied a seat in the diplomatic gallery of the House of Commons, with the French, Russian, Spanish and other Ambassadors and Ministers.

The public galleries were overflowing with visitors.

Mr. Balfour, the ex-Premier, who it was thought would not be present, unexpectedly appeared and received a hearty greeting from the Opposition ranks.

Joseph Chamberlain was absent. He is still nursing his attack of gout and chafing under his inability to participate in public affairs.

Premier Campbell-Bannerman was warmly welcomed.

Later the House of Lords was the chief centre of interest, the diplomatic leaving the House of Commons to witness the entry of the peers and the Lord Chancellor taking his seat on the traditional woolsack.

Prof A. C. Waltz Wins Applause

Last night Peterborough's leading attraction, the Charlotte street roller rink was crowded to its utmost capacity fully eight hundred patrons of this most admirably run place of amusement being present, either on skates or as spectators.

One noticeable feature of the roller rink is the class that attends, and the orderly conduct of the immense crowd present. Although so many hundred people, mainly young ladies and gentlemen were present, not one symptom of disorder, not an oath, not an ungentlemanly word was in evidence from the opening to the close of the night's enjoyment. Any man's daughter, wife, sister or girl can as safe from insult or undesirable familiarity as though in a private house.

During the evening Professor A. C. Waltz, of New York, gave an exhibition of fancy roller skating that was unique in such shape. The professor, dressed in tights, with a silk jacket, gave a performance that was worth many a mile's travel to witness. His evolutions on the skates were simply marvellous, every portion of his performance being strictly in sympathy with the music of the band. His waltzing and trick skates, whether on the ordinary skates, i.e. strapped to his feet, or on skates on which he simply stood and which were only held in place by his weight, were a master-piece of his art. His evolutions on unicycles were beyond compare and the like never witnessed here.

The professor, tonight will take the "Slide for Life" from the top of the rink to its floor on skates, and on reaching the floor will jump over six chairs. Here is an exhibition at nominal price that is well worth seeing, and far ahead of sitting between stuffy walls or spending a large amount for far inferior value in the way of amusement.

To the Summit of Mont Blanc

Railway Scheme to Reach the Roof of Europe by Rail Being Prepared.

Geneva, October 21.—A serious scheme to build a railway almost to the summit of the Mont Blanc range has been prepared by a Swiss syndicate, and has received the approval of the French government. The projected railway will provide "the greatest thrill on earth," taking passengers to the roof of Europe.

The syndicate which has obtained the concession is at present completing an aerial line to the summit of the Wetterhorn. It now proposes to build a similar line from the valley of Chamonix to the summit of the Aiguille du Midi, a peak nearly 13,000 feet high, in the centre of the Mont Blanc range.

According to the contract, an ordinary funicular railway will join the existing systems at Chamonix. The double aerial cables will begin at the first Alpine station near the Glacier des Bossons at a height of over 3,000 feet.

The cost is estimated at about $1,000,000, and it is believed that the project will take four years to carry out.

Mayor Mowat, of Kingston, Himself a Liberal, so Characterizes the Militia Department at Ottawa.

Kingston, Oct. 24.—The City council last evening accepted the resignation of L. W. Shannon as City Clerk, Mr Shannon having been appointed district staff officer at London, Ont.

Dr. W. W. Sinda, an Alderman, was appointed to fill the vacancy. He was the gentleman nominated by the Liberal executive for the position of paymaster of Eastern Ontario, and over which such a political hubbub occurred when Mr. Shannon got the appointment.

In extending congratulations to Mr. Shannon on his elevation, Mayor Mowat, who resigned his position as President of the Kingston Reform Association on account of the appointment of Mr. Shannon, a Tory, took occasion to remark that the Militia Department of Canada at headquarters was the most stupidly managed department of the public service.

"Its business is conducted," he said, "on one long, continuous bungle. The Civil Service Department is not ideally conducted, but the Militia Department surpasses the stupidity of all the other public departments combined."

The wonder to him was that the permanent force was able to attain such a remarkable state of efficiency in view all the bungling of those superior to them on the headquarters staff at Ottawa.

Mayor Mowat is a captain in the 14th Princess of Wales Own Regiment, and spoke with sincerity.

The M. H. O. Has a Passage-at-Arms

Board of Health Meets and Dr. Bingham Defends His Position.

Yesterday the Board of Health met at 9.30 a.m., with Chairman Eyres presiding and Messrs Dr. Burnham, Dr. McNulty and Robt. Neil present.

There was a H.O.T. between the local medical health officer and Dr. McNulty, at the meeting of the Board of Health. The conflict resulted in a drawn battle, somewhat well fought by the M.H.O.

The trouble started over the inspection of milk. Dr. Bingham it seems was instructed at the last meeting to make an inspection of the milk. This he was insinuated he had failed to do. Dr McNulty pointed out the necessity that this work should be done very thoroughly, and that he did not think Dr. Bingham was qualified to do it, nor yet had the doctor the necessary utensils. The medical health officer, got mad, and made an attack on Dr McNulty's arguments.

As a result Dr. Bingham will make a thorough test of the city milk, and present a detailed statement to the Board of Health, probably on Friday night.

Dr Bingham was asked if he had any report to present.

"No sir," he replied, "I have been taking a few holidays and have not yet completed the work. I started to take samples the day after the last meeting, and what milk I suspected was found to be all right.

Dr. Burnham—I suppose, Mr. Chairman, that the M.H.O. will now continue his inspection and bring in a full report at the next meeting.

Dr. Bingham—Yes I will.

Dr. McNulty—The inspection of milk is a very difficult proposition, and I do not think Dr. Bingham possesses the necessary apparatus. The speaker then went on to discuss what qualifications, etc., were necessary for so important a position, showing how the children especially were in danger if proper inspection were no made.

Dr Bingham—Dr. McNulty seems to think that the medical health officer is not efficient. I would like to inform that young gentleman that I was studying all those things while he was amusing himself around the bank, of the count of the Cathedrals. I have studied this thing for years, and I know all about the inspection of milk. I have the best text books in the land, and I read and study them. I ask Dr. McNulty if he can answer me one question about inspecting milk. How can you tell whether a cow is diseased or not by the milk? Why, he cannot answer one question. This young gentleman is a comparatively new comer here, but he thinks he owns the city, and rents Ashburnham.

Dr Burnham—The Medical Health Officer evidently considers himself quite qualified to make the test. I would suggest that he make a tabulated report and present it at the next meeting of the Board.

Dr Bingham agreed to do this.

RUGBY.

The game here on Saturday between the Argos and Peterborough will be a hot one as the two teams are the most evenly matched in the O.R.F.U. and will put up a great game. As noted in The Times the president of the Hamilton Club, when interviewed by a representative of this paper, after our first defeat at Riverdale Park by the Tigers, prophesied that the whole and three would be too strong for the argonauts.

Another New Local Amusement

Charlotte Street Roller Rink Co. to Build Handsome New Premises.

Yesterday afternoon the proprietors and management of the Charlotte Street Roller Skating Rink Co., held an important meeting.

It was unanimously and ardently decided to at once secure the necessary real estate, in a central location, and build a rolling skating rink. This rink to be immediately constructed will be 200 feet long by 100 feet broad. The management have received already several good offers from local men owning property in the heart of the city, and will in a few days decide where to locate.

It was decided that the new rink will be built of fireproof material, mainly sheet steel. There will be commodious ladies' and gentlemen's waiting rooms, a smoking room, a large room at each side for storing skates for each sex, and also refreshment rooms where patrons of the rink may secure hot coffee and other refreshments. The plans include a heating system, so that skaters in cold weather, may enjoy his splendid exercise without fear of having to say next day, "I wed have wid a cold id by head." The roller skating exercise and popular amusement is no mere temporary "craze" but a healthy, well managed and parentally approved, means of allowing the young people of the city to spend their days or evenings apart from the pernicious influences of bar rooms, deleterious cheap plays at a theater or other ways of placing their time or money where naught but evil would otherwise result.

Important Change in Local Stores

Messrs Porter Bros. Absorb the Store to the North of Their Present Premises.

Yesterday a gang of mechanics were busy at 410 412 George street, tearing down part of the wall dividing the stores occupied by Mr. M. W. Porter's butcher shop and the shop recently run by Mr W. Morgan as a barber shop and cigar store.

It might be noted that, a few weeks ago, Mr. Porter, to expedite matters purchased the stock and fixtures of Mr. Morgan, and temporarily ran the cigar and barber shop until the stock was sold down to a certain limit. On Monday Mr. Porter sold out the remaining stock of cigars, pipes, tobaccos, etc., to Mr. O'Brien and Mr. J. Cottingham; both of whom are well known George street cigar dealers.

Mr Porter expects to have the two combined stores open, as he enlarged and up to date butcher shop, on the first Saturday in November. Messrs. Porter, while young men are among the more progressive and ambitious business men in Peterborough. Their display adv. showing cheap prices for meats of all kinds, most admirably served, will appear in these columns in a day or two.

CURLING.

By a typographical error, in our issue of Monday's date we noted that, "Mr. Charles Smith's rink of Apsley, had challenged the well known rink skipped by Mr. F. Matthews." This should have read, "Mr. Charles Smith's rink of Campbellford etc."

Mr Smith is one of Canada's most expert and enthusiastic curlers and has been the direct means of having curling take a deep hold on Campbellford's interests, as well as being the main factor in promoting the building of a splendid rink in that town. It is rumored that Mr. Smith is to be made an honorary member of the Peterborough Curling Club.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Nothing doing at the police court yesterday except that a local property owner, in a private interview, pleaded guilty to allowing cows belonging to men who had paid him for pasturage, to stray at large.

It will be remembered that the day before yesterday The Times reported that several citizens were haled before the court charged with a similar offence. These defendants were discharged as the magistrate considered the fault of their cows getting loose and devouring various gardens full of cabbages, beets, etc., was due to negligence of the owner of the pasture where said novices were supposedly shut in by night. The penalty, if any, will be imposed at this morning's session of the police court.

THE SCOURGE OF CONSUMPTION

Thousands Are Dying—If Tired, Languid or Run Down Get Protection Before Too Late.

No child, man or woman is safe from consumption unless their blood is pure, rich and nourishing.

Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever-present tubercular bacilli develops.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferrozone, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Manotick, Ont., tells as follows of her enormous gain in health from Ferrozone: "For two years I was not well. I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tiredness hung over me like a load of lead. Housework of any kind I simply couldn't do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly for I though it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my condition was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—it sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

MR. BRYAN'S PROSPECTS

Only a few weeks have elapsed since Mr. Bryan returned to the United States, but the interval, short as it is, seems to have been long enough to have greatly changed for the worse his prospects as a Presidential candidate. Before he arrived from his trip around the globe, it was said seriously that only Mr. Roosevelt could secure a victory for the Republicans if the man from Nebraska was the candidate of the Democrats. Now in more than one reliable quarter, by people not antagonistic to Mr. Bryan, it is declared that he will not get the party nomination. This may be an exaggeration of the situation, but at the same time there seems to be no doubt that on more mature consideration, and more careful analysis of Mr. Bryan's nostrums for the ills from which the commonwealth suffers, his proposals have lost the bloom of promise and effectiveness that they seemed to have when he first laid his programme before the country.

When discussing the speech Mr. Bryan made in New York, on his arrival from Europe, we venture to express the opinion that his proposals were crude, while the explanation of them which he gave appeared to show that he had not sufficiently mastered the manner in which the remedies that he suggested should be applied to existing conditions. Particularly, it seemed to us, was this the case in regard to the proposal to nationalize the railways—some being taken over by the Federal and others by the State governments. The difficulties that present themselves are entirely apart from the momentous problem of financing such a gigantic proposition. Mr. Bryan certainly gave the impression that while anxious to put a programme before the people that from its novel and distinctive features would attract attention and secure recruits to the party standard, he had not taken the trouble to work out the details and consequently was not able to demonstrate the feasibility of his scheme. And this opinion seems to be growing among the people and already to have seriously lessened the enthusiasm which Mr. Bryan's proposals aroused at first.

PRICE ON CZAR'S HEAD

Money is Being Offered for Life of Ruler of Russia.

Geneva, October 27.—Thousands of pamphlets have been secretly printed in Zurich and Geneva, offering $25,000 for the life of the Czar, and half that sum for that of his son. The pamphlets have been smuggled across the frontiers into Russia.

The notice, which does not state how or by whom the money will be paid, ends as follows: "Rest assured that the sum mentioned above will be paid to you, or, if you die in doing the glorious and heroic work, to your relations within three days of the accomplished fact. Free us from Czardom and slavery and Russia will bless you."

Irish Seamen and British Flag

Dublin Alderman Cut Down the Union Jack From Steamer in Harbor.

Dublin, October 23.—A curious scene was witnessed at Custom House quay, Dyblin, recently, when an alderman of the corporation cut down a steamer's flag on which the Union Jack was quartered and let it fall into the water. At the invitation of Alderman Cotton a number of guests were invited to the opening of the main drainage works at Pigeon House Fort. The works, which has been carried on for several years, have just been completed at a cost of $3,000,000. The guests assembled on the steamship Shamrock shortly after noon, to be conveyed to the Pigeon House. One of the last to arrive was Alderman Thomas Kelly, who, on observing the Union Jack flying at the stern, walked immediately toward it, and, taking a clasp-knife from his pocket, deliberately cut the ropes and the flag fell into the Liffey.

While no one objected to his action, the incident created much excitement among those on board. When spoken to afterward the alderman said he had cut down the flag because it had no business there. It was an insult to his nationality, and he added that when Alderman Coffey saw it he would not go on board. "I understand," he said, "that all passenger vessels must fly an ensign, but this is not a passenger vessel; it is a corporation mud-barge."

The objecting aldermen also refused to drink the King's health.

ROBBED BEN FRANKLIN.

His Description of the Stolen Garments and the Thief.

The following advertisement is taken from the Pennsylvania Gazette, No. 532, wherein the reader of Feb. 22, 1739, was informed that the Gazette contained the "freshest advices, foreign and domestick, printed by B. Franklin, Post Master, at the news printing offices, near the Market. Price, 10 shillings a year. Where advertisements are taken in and Book Binding is done reasonably in the best manner:"

STOLEN on the 15th Instant, by one William Lloyd, out of the house of Benj. Franklin, an half worn Sagathee coat lin'd with silk, four fine homespun shirts, a fine Holland shirt ruffled at the Hands and Bosoms, a pair of black broadcloth Breeches, new seated and lined with leather, two pair of good worsted stockings, one of a dark color, cambrick Handkerchief, marked with an F in red silk, a new pair of Calf skin shoes, a Boy's new Castor Hat, and sundry other things.

N. B.—The said Lloyd pretends to understand Latin and Greek and has been a schoolmaster; He is an Irishman, about 20 years of age, tall and slim; Had on a lightish colour'd Great Coat, red jacket, a pair of black silk breeches, an old felt Hat too little for him and sewed on the side of the crown with white Thread, and an old dark colour'd wig; but may perhaps wear some of the stolen cloathes above mentioned. Whoever secures the said Thief so that he may be brought to Justice, shall have Thirty Shillings reward and reasonable charges paid by Triplets In China.

In some of the southern provinces of China there is a superstition that if triplets are born one of the three children will eventually become a noted rebel. In order to avoid that direst of Chinese curses, bad cess, a "wise man" is sent for in order to decide which of the three children is the destined black sheep. The three infants having been conveyed into a perfectly dark room, the "wise man" takes three pieces of twine, each of a different color, as white, red and black, and, entering the room, ties one of these pieces of string around a wrist of each baby. The one which when brought out into the light is found to have the red string on its wrist is drowned like a puppy.

Billiard Balls.

Billiard balls are first roughly turned by a lathe from the tusk, then left from six months to a year in a room about the temperature of an ordinary billiard hall. This length of time is necessary because the ivory shrinks more in one direction than another, and the seasoning must be complete before the balls are finished and polished.

Starch and Sugar.

Chew for a few moments a cracker containing no sugar and notice how sweet it becomes. This is the sugar into which your saliva has converted the starch of the cracker.

Salt Well Discovered.

Chatham, October 23.—What appears to be an immense salt well was discovered while drilling for oil on the Longmore farm, lot 14, concession 7, Tilbury East township, yesterday, and if the salt covers an area to any extent, the find will be many times more valuable by far than had oil been discovered, which fluid was conspicuous by its absence. If it is figured out that salt is worth, in round numbers, $1 a barrel, and several millions of barrels lie under the Longmore farm, some estimate of the worth of the find can be obtained.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

Surely no sorrows were ever equal to my sorrows," cried Ruth, dropping upon her knees beside the bed, burying her face in the coverlet, and praying and sobbing by turns.

Meanwhile, as the day waned, the shadows of death gathered thickly around the wretched Thugsen. Medical aid had been unavailing except to ameliorate his acute suffering. Every succeeding fit of convulsion had been more violent, and followed by deeper prostration. The powerful organization that had held out so long against the action of the poison was beginning to show signs of speedy dissolution. The gray hue of death overspread his countenance, the damps of death condensed thickly upon his icy brow; yet his brain, like that of one dying under the effects of strychnine, was singularly clear.

From time to time he spoke as follows:

"Where is my guilty wife? Keep her closely confined. Let her talk with none."

He was always reassured and soothed.

At sunset all hope of his life was abandoned even by the physician, who had "hoped against hope." He could no longer, in conscience, withhold from the wretched patient, the knowledge of his true condition. He bent over him, and whispered gently:

"Captain Thugsen——"

The sufferer flared open his eyes, and glared wildly at the speaker.

"Try to compose yourself, and if you have any worldly affairs to settle——"

"You think I am dying!" shrieked the unhappy man, starting up, and falling back exhausted.

"Life and death are in the hands of God," said the doctor, gently.

"You said I would not die."

"Nor would you, if the utmost human skill could avail to save you."

"Oh, it must—it must save me! I am not fit to die. Save me, doctor, save me!"

And here followed pleadings of the most abject terror and anguish of a guilty and cowardly soul on the brink of eternity.

The doctor administered a composing draught, and then said, gravely and sweetly:

"Captain Thugsen, the world has reported you, with what justice I know not, a great sinner, but this I would say to you, there is mercy for the greatest. Use the short space that is left you in making restitution, so far as you can, for any wrong you may have committed, and then turn for mercy to Him with whom time and space is as nothing, and sincere repentance the one condition of pardon."

"I cannot! Oh, I cannot!" exclaimed the wretched man, falling into the most frightful ravings of remorse and despair.

It was long before the united efforts of the physician and the magistrate could soothe his anguish.

"How many hours have I to live?" was then the question of the fast sinking man.

"You may survive until morning; yet I would advise you to attend at once to any worldly business that you may have at heart, so that your last moments may be entirely given to the care of your soul," said the physician, solemnly.

"Then let every one leave the room except the magistrate, who will hear my statement, and the doctor, who will reduce it to writing," said Thugsen, in a feeble voice.

The chamber was cleared as he desired. A small table was drawn up beside the bed; a lighted lamp, a copy of the Holy Scriptures and writing materials were placed upon it; and the physician and the magistrate seated themselves beside it.

The magistrate duly administered the oath; the doctor prepared his paper and pens; and Robert Thugsen, in a feeble voice, often sinking into utter faintness, commenced his statement.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

We must now return to Cassinove and his devoted wife, whom we left on their way to the prison.

On entering again its gloomy portals, the governor, instead of conducting his prisoner to the clean, light and airy cell he had occupied before his condemnation, led him through the intricate passages of the prison until they reached the ward of the condemned cells that flank the press-yard—dark, dreary, desolate region, where so much guilt and remorse, terror and despair, ay, and even innocence and resignation, had entered to suffer and left to die.

Before one of these the governor paused, inserted a key which grated harshly in turning the lock, and conducted the prisoner into the gloomy cell whence he was doomed never to issue forth except to mount the scaffold.

This was the thought that seemed to press the life from out their hearts.

The judge, in pronouncing sentence, had forbidden them to hope. But the kindly governor, seeing the shrinking of their natures at this crisis, and thinking, perhaps, that a single grain of hope might prop instead of poisoning them, said:

"Keep up your heart, sir; take comfort, ma'am. I know when a man enters one of these places he thinks it is all up with him in the world; but, Lord bless you, it isn't so. No one inexperienced in the ways of courts and prisons would think it, but really about one-half the prisoners who are condemned to death have their sentences commuted, and some get pardoned outright; so hope on to the last, sir. While there's life there's hope, you know, ma'am."

And so saying, Mr. Browning sat his iron lamp upon the stand, and looked around upon the cell.

It was smaller, closer, and darker than the one Cassinove had formerly occupied, and the narrow bedstead, stand and chair were constructed of the rudest materials.

From utter exhaustion, Laura sank into the chair, and looking at the governor, with beseeching eyes, said:

"How long may I be permitted to remain with my husband this evening, sir?"

"Until the usual hour of locking up, ma'am," replied Mr. Browning, in some surprise at the question.

Laura sighed deeply. She had hoped upon this trying occasion that she might be permitted to stay longer.

But the prison rules were very rigid.

"I will leave you with Mr. Cassinove now, madam, and when the hour comes I will send an officer to let you out," said the governor, leaving the cell, and locking the door behind him.

When they were left alone they looked into each other's eyes, and then poor, suffering nature overcame, for an instant, all her heroic resolution, and Laura threw herself upon the neck of Cassinove, and wept bitterly, crying:

"Oh! is there no hope in this world! Oh, that I could die for you, my beloved! my beloved!"

He pressed her in silence to his bosom. He knew that all words would be vain while her storm of grief was raging. But when it had exhausted itself, and she was more composed, he seated her beside himself on the cot, and sought in every way to soothe and comfort her.

"Dearest, it is only death at worst a doom that all must meet in some form or another. And, after all, what matters the form? Mine will be a quick and painless exit. Trusting in the advocacy of the Saviour, and the mercy of the Creator, I do not fear the death or the judgment that is to follow it. I fear only to leave my Laura alone in the world; and if any circumstance could disturb my last hours on earth or follow me to the 'better land,' it would be the thought of my beloved wife, sorrowing without hope in the world. Oh, Laura, take courage for my sake."

"I will, oh, I will, dearest! I was poor and cowardly in me to weep. I will weep no more. A few more hours and all our earthly troubles will be over forever; a few more hours and we shall have crossed this dark and rushing river of death, and landed on the other peaceful shore where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest.'"

Preston Denies Pritchett's Statement

London, Oct. 21.—Late evening the staff of the emigration office presented Mr. Preston with a handsome dressing case, accompanied by an illuminated address, expressing regret at his departure and the affection and appreciation felt for him by each member of the staff, and wishing him all possible happiness and success. Mr. Preston felt deeply the appreciation and regard for those associated with him in the work of the office.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 240 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is "worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLAR'S WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Gas Was Shut Off Yesterday.

If our news is somewhat curtailed in this issue do not blame either the reporters or the general staff. The gas supply by which our linotype machines are operated, was shut off. Instead of the regular rush of "Printers' Devils" shouting for "copy"! there was a consistent and persistent cry of "Why in ——— is not that gas lit on!" To get out a modern paper gas is necessary to melt the lead used in making type for next day's issue. This shortage of gas was accounted for by improvements and new gas mains being laid by the company. If our readers do not get out their scalping knives and seek revenge, we must forgive be seemingly unavoidable trouble.

—The managers of St. Andrew's church request the Boys' Guild not to collect money from the members of the congregation for church purposes.

—It is the intention of the Board of Health to invite the City Council and Water Commissioners to meet Friday evening for the purpose of considering matters of mutual interest.

—We note that an evening contemporary has adopted President Roosevelt's phonetic spelling system. In noting the recession to a share in certain monies, our E.C. refers to the local man as being one of the "faire." This was not a "hot air" story either.

—Last night several converts to temperance were made by a local merchant's contrivance. This latter was made in the shape of a book, as the man to whom he handed this apparent book, touched a button a snake flew out in his face. Several topers decided to quit the flowing bowl.

Local Man Gets a Large Fortune

Mr. James McKenzie who has been employed during the summer by the Little Lake Cemetery Company, was apprised a few days ago that his father had died in Scotland, and that there was a considerable fortune to be divided among eleven heirs. As the late Mr. McKenzie was a rich man, the local cemetery employe will now be on "easy street."

Mr McKenzie will leave for Scotland early in December to look after his share of the fortune.

Mr. Jas. Head's Old Employers.

Yesterday the Essex Gazette, of England, arrived with a notice concerning the recent employer of one of Peterborough's popular ho elmen. This article says, "Sir Walter Ginbey has built eight cottages at Bishop's Stortford, which are to be let to the aged poor at six pence per week. A married tenant will have to pay nine pence per week."

It might be noted that Mr. James Head, proprietor of the Peterborough House, has still in his possession a long letter of strong recommendation from Sir Walter, with whom Mr. Head worked for eighteen years, in the city of London. The firm is W. and T. Gilbey, wholesale wine and spirit merchants, and Mr. Head yesterday told a Times representative that they were the most philanthropic concern in England or even in the world. This is proven by the above noted prices charged for cottages built by the firm.

Mr. DeVine Goes to Toronto.

The well-known features of one of Peterborough's most popular railroad men, will soon be missed, viz., those of Mr. D. J. DeVine, who, for the past two years has been identified with the G.T.R. city ticket office, and who leaves for Toronto in a few days where he has accepted a good position and will have charge of one of the G.T.R. ticket wickets at the Union Station. Many friends will congratulate him on his promotion and wish him every success in his new responsible position.

A UNIQUE ENTERTAINMENT

To Be Given by the Young Ladies Mission Band of St. Andrew's Church.

At a special meeting of the Young Ladies' Mission Band of St. Andrew's church held Monday night, final arrangements for their old-fashioned Hallow'een party on Tuesday evening next were made. This affair will be somewhat of a novelty in church entertainments, introducing many unique features, including the presence with the young ladies of a couple of Ye old Time Witches, specially trained to tell the past, present and future of all who draw from their prophetic wisdom, on this nappy occasion.

Refreshments will be served by the young ladies of the Mission Band, and games and other entertaining specialties have been arranged for all of which will be a departure from the ordinary.

A silver collection will be taken at the door, and the event promises to be very largely patronized. The funds raised on this occasion will go toward assisting one of the many commendable projects in connection with St. Andrew's church.

Local Mine Magnate Hurt.

Mr. Smith, ex-president of the Star of the East Mining Co., whose fine mill in Frontenac County, is now paying about $6 per ton of ore, is disabled by a badly sprained wrist. As Mr. Smith was about to alight from a local street car, a few days ago, the car started suddenly, and Mr. Smith was thrown down, as noted above badly straining his wrist. Notwithstanding his injury, Mr. Smith was yesterday able to attend to business.

They will come by the regular noon train, and a special train will come at 7.30, bringing a large number of other members of the Rebekah Degree from Lindsay. All will return by this special train after the work is over. The dispensation has arrived from Grand Master Johnson, who will probably be present as installing officer. Word has also been received from the Assembly Secretary, Mrs. Pearce, of Toronto, and every thing points to a very successful opening and future of the new lodge. will be held in the CITY COUNCIL CHAMBER, in the City of Peterborough,

On Wednesday, the 7th day of Novem.

Dated at Peterborough this 23rd day October, 1906.

MADE FROM NATIVE ROOTS.

SAFE AND RELIABLE.

That the roots of many native plants, growing wild in our American forests, possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the untutored Indian had learned the curative value of some of these and taught the early settlers their uses. The Indian never liked work so he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible that she might do the work and let him hunt. Therefore, he dug "papoose root" for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful derangements peculiar to women.

Many afflicted women have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the timely use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Tenderness over the lower pelvic region, with backache, spells of dizziness, faintness, bearing down pains or distress should not go unheeded. A course of "Favorite Prescription" will work marvelous benefit in all such cases, and generally effect a permanent cure if persisted in for a reasonable length of time. The "Favorite Prescription" is a harmless agent, being wholly prepared from native medicinal roots, without a drop of alcohol in its make up, whereas all other medicines put up for sale through druggists for women's peculiar ailments, contain large quantities of spirituous liquors, which are very harmful, especially to delicate women. "Favorite Prescription" contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on each bottle wrapper. It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For weak and sickly women, who are "worn-out," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office, or school-room, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

CONSPIRACY TO RUIN COMPANY

Head of Canadian Mutual Live Stock Insurance Co. Criticizes Former Directors.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—Is there a conspiracy against the Canadian Mutual Live Stock Insurance Company?

Speaking of the Division Court case against the company, brought by Mr. H. McCarthy, the president, Mr. Frank Britton, in an interview with the press, denounced in scathing terms the action of some of the former directors.

"It was solely an action of spite; a conspiracy among former directors to ruin our company," was his energetic comment.

When the company was organized in May, 1905, the following were the directors: Frank Britton, president; J. B. Buck, vice-president; George Barron secretary, E. W. Price, manager, who was the promoter of the company. Lou Shuder and E. G. Law.

Today the directors are: Frank Britton, president; Dr. J. A. Mills, George Barron, Dr. J. D. O'Neil, G. H. Cooper and Dr. A. B. Campbell.

A struggling existence has characterized the short life of the concern conducted, as Mr. Britton says, "on a thoroughly honest basis."

According to the story as told in Division Court and largely repeated by the president, Mr. Law, when he put in his money in the initial steps towards organizing the company, because, like the others, a director.

"When at first he wanted to drop out," continued Mr. Britton, telling some history, "he was offered his money, but wouldn't take it unless he was given directors' fee. This the company could not pay.

"We don't dispute we owe Mr. Law the $89, but we were not in a position to pay him unless we released the policy holders, which he had a lawful right to do, being a mutual company. This we did not wish to do. The other directors had suffered losses and we felt he could bear his share. The present directors have not taken a cent out of the company since it started.

Wishing to set his company in a better light than it stood in yesterday's court, Mr. Britton added; "We have paid every claim and only last week had a $500 policy to meet.

"We have nothing to hide; our books are open for public inspection."

One Way to Stop Cruelty to Animals

Peterboro' Banker Travels to Toronto to Punish a Lad Accused of Beating a Horse.

The Toronto Star of yesterday's issue, has the following to say of one of Peterborough's most popular bank managers:

David Hughes-Charles, banker and lover of horses, came all the way from Peterborough to tell Magistrate Kingsford yesterday afternoon, how John Sullivan, who drives a coal wagon for Mrs. Judge, abused his horse.

"I was coming up from the Union Station, your worship, about eleven o'clock last Thursday," said Mr. Charles. "At the McKinnon building I saw this boy flogging his horse. There was no apparent reason for the cruelty, as the horse was willing to do what the boy wanted him to do. I went on a little way, and came back. The boy was still beating the horse about the head, legs and shoulders. 'You mustn't flog the horse like that,' I said. 'You mind your business, or I'll put you in a hole!' was the reply I got.

"The lad was very abusive, your Worship, so I went up to King street for a policeman."

The policeman bore out the testimony of Mr. Charles.

In reply to a question from the magistrate, Mr. Charles said that when in Peterborough, he related the occurrence, and was told it was very common in Toronto.

"It is not common in Peterborough your worship."

"And it'll not be common in Toronto," returned his worship.

Sullivan said that the horse was sulky and that he did not abuse it.

Magistrate Kingsford thanked Mr. Charles for his evidence.

"Be here tomorrow at two o'clock Sullivan, and you will hear my final word on the matter," his worship said.

It is expected that by December 1st the whole plant will be completed and in operation.

Miss Alice Roger Now Mrs. Collins

Popular Local Pianiste Became a Matron Yesterday.

Yesterday a marriage of much local and social interest was consummated at "Cordaeh" the residence of Mr. G. M. Roger, ex-mayor of Peterborough, when his niece, Miss Alice Helen Roger, only daughter of the late Rev. Walter M. Roger, became the wife of Mr. Alexander James Collins, third son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins of this city. The bride is one of Peterborough's most talented musicians and most popular young ladies, having been on the teaching staff of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music since its inception. Miss Roger is a pianiste of almost international repute, and is well and favorably known throughout the whole Dominion.

The fortunate bridegroom is a popular young man, and is accountant on the Bank of Montreal staff, at Mount Forest, Ontario.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's church, in the drawing room, which was artistically decorated with palms, ferns and chrysanthemums.

The bride was attired in a most coming white silk gown, with berthe of Honiton lace, and wore the usual bridal veil and wreath of orgone blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Flora Collins, sister of the bridegroom, was gowned in cream colienne, over blue silk taffeta, and wore a black velvet hat with black plumes.

The "best man" was Mr. Robin Collins, of the Molsons Bank staff, Toronto, brother of the bridegroom. Miss Bertha Moore played Nevin's Love Song and after the ceremony was concluded played Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

A dainty wedding breakfast was served from tables prettily decorated. Mr. and Mrs. Collins left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train for points west and will take up their residence in Mount Forest. The going away gown of the bride was a grey tailor-made suit, trimmed with white broadcloth. She wore a black hat, with wings.

CARRIED $52,000 IN BLACK DIAMONDS

Mr. Charles Kennedy Had Them in Two Small Parcels—Was in Cobalt.

Toronto, Oct. 25.—A well-built man, with a heavy white moustache, and silvered hair leaned over the counter at the Palmer House yesterday morning, shook two little paper parcels about the size of envelopes together, snapped a rubber band around them, and dropped them back to his pocket.

When those two little parcels plunked into his inside pocket $52,000 worth of value disappeared from view.

"Anything new?" a reporter asked Mr. Charles Palmer, who stood talking to the man who leaned over the counter.

"Nothing, unless this man can tell you something new about Cobalt," was the reply.

The man unwrapped the two oiled paper parcels and revealed, lying upon cotton wadding, what looked like bits of hard coal. He picked one up and handed it over to the newspaper man.

"You are holding $300 worth of black diamonds," he said. The newspaper man looked a bit incredulous. "Yes, you are, and there is $52,000 worth of black diamonds before your eyes."

"Yes this is Mr. C. W. Kennedy of New York, who sells black diamonds for diamond drills," volunteered Mr. Palmer.

Mr Kennedy has just returned from a business trip to Cobalt. He is the man who supplies the Government with diamonds for its diamond drills. He has been in the business for thirty years and has been all over the continent.

"I never saw anything like what I saw in Cobalt," he remarked, "that is the richest silver country I ever saw. They haven't much use for my goods up there just now, because everything is too near the surface, but next spring I will get lots of trade. Then they will be going deeper. They must have the very best black diamonds up there, too, for the rock is unusually hard."

"How are the diamonds used in drilling?"

"Four or six set them are set around the outside and the inside of a hollow tube, and this is utilized to bore down through the rocks. The drill sends up a core and from this core the experts judge the value of the location. It costs from $1600 to $3,000 for each set of diamonds for a drill."

Passengers Injured in Trolley Car Accident

Schenectady, N.Y. Oct. 25.—A trolley car of the Schenectady Railway Company bound for this city from Troy, failed to take the curve at Union at McClellan streets yesterday morning, and dashed into a huge pole, turned over on its side and injured a score or more passengers.

The accident was due to the slippery condition of the tracks, which is caused by the falling leaves. The motorman applied the brakes as he approached McClellan street, but the car slid.

Several passengers had their arms or elbows out of the open windows, and these members were actually torn off. A human hand lay in the street with a cuff on a portion of the wrist.

When addresses on subjects of much importance were given by Messrs. J. G. Clark, of Ottawa, and J. Irving, of Winchester, two of the commissioners appointed by the government to investigate the horse industry in the province.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday morning whilst no official session of the police court was held, one defendant was quietly, but in all legal manner soaked in the sum of $8.35 for allowing cattle to run at large.

It will be remembered that The Times, exclusively, had a report of a local citizen pleading guilty, on Tuesday, of having neglected to keep the gates of a pasture he let out to owners of cows, in such repair that the said bovines had gotten out by night and had wandered through several gardens in the east ward, devouring every thing in sight except fence rails, posts or rocks.

It will further be remembered that the owners of the cows were haled before the "beak" and by him discharged as the responsibility by the magistrate contended with the owner of the pasture.

Out of the men owning a garden despoiled by the cows, being of a poetical turn of mind, handed in the following to The Times.

In the days of golden autumn
Came the mild-eyed surrel cow,
She is poor and skinny I avow,
Through my garden she did stray,
And the ducats Ox did pay."

Lady Injured on Hunter St. Bridge

What might have resulted in a fatal accident occurred yesterday morning on the Hunter street bridge. It seems that as Mrs. John Londerville, 56 Sophia street, was driving across the bridge she was thrown out of her conveyance and had her shoulder dislocated, besides receiving a severe shaking up.

The cause of this accident was, that a boy driving a delivery rig attempted to pass between Mrs. Londerville's rig and a team crossing in the opposite direction. This crowded her conveyance against the iron work of the bridge, and Mrs. Londerville was upset. She was thrown out and as noted, had her shoulder fractured. She was removed to her home and is getting along as well as could be expected.

Work Delayed on New Fire Hall

Work on the new fire hall on Aylmer street, between Simcoe and Charlotte streets, is being rapidly pushed ahead. Still it will be some time before the brigade can get into their new premises. Mr. Carveth, the contractor for the new fire hall, said yesterday that if the city had had plumbers and electricians when wanted, the building would have been finished in two weeks time.

The new hall will be 80 feet long, 58 feet wide and 64 feet from the ground to the top of the turret. Including the turret and basement it will have five storeys. The fire engine quarters will be 26x40 feet.

Mr. Warren on Graham's Remarks

Thought Mr. Graham's Political Utterance Not Binding on Convention.

As an aftermath of the Baptist convention, Mr. Warren is now out with an apology for certain remarks passed by Deacon W. Graham, of Smith township, in which the latter handled Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with the hand of iron, not covered by the velvet of partyism.

The remarks made by Deacon Graham, Mr. Warren hastened to explain, were only the opinion of a private individual and did not approve the sentiment of the convention as a body. He regretted that this impression had been imbibed by the public, and considered it regrettable that a member should have used the convention to make an utterance of a political nature.

Sewers System Severely Criticized

Last night a Times representative happening to join in a conversation between two prominent local contractors and a gentleman holding an important civic position in Peterborough, was somewhat startled to hear the remarks passed concerning the apparent result on "day labor" work on the city's sewers.

It was contended and seemingly proved abundantly, that the day labor system is not only unsatisfactory, unfair to tendering contractors, but will result in the city being assessed for more than they would have been under the contract system, before the pending sewers of the city are completed.

It was contended last night that the Romaine street sewer is not only absolutely blocked at the railway crossing but that, for scores of yards, not a joint of the pipes has been cemented, and that in all probability the whole sewer will sooner or later, have to be dug up, indredbuilt. It was also said that the banks of the entrenchment of this sewer are falling nearly as fast as the excavation is made.

It was considered that the whole matter of the city's sewers will be brought to the attention of Mayor Best, and that the latter gentleman will cause an immediate and thorough investigation to be held.

In connection with this matter, it was contended that when the sewer mentioned, if it ever does, reaches the King Edward school it will be absolutely useless for the purposes intended, because, it was said, it is not built on practical lines of usefulness, and by parties having no practical experience in such work.

It was further said that when the contractors tendered for this work it was guaranteed by the Board of Education that proper drainage would be supplied to the contractor; it seems, judging by last night's interview, that the contractor has reached a point when, any day a storm may happen whereby the whole new school may be destroyed on account of the sewer not being completed as promised. The contractor on this building states that the specifications and plans call for the school to be built on George street. To please the Board, it was claimed last night, the contractor, at his own expense and at considerable trouble, generously consented to erect the building some 200 feet away from the original location, and that, now, neither the Board nor the City Council have complied with certain promises made to the contractor.

Whilst this conversation came from well known local citizens, we are open to hear and reprint the other side of the case, if there should be such.

TORONTO MAN SHOT AND KILLED

W. S. Steward of 26 Wilcocks St. Found Dead in Chicago Hotel.

MURDER OR SUICIDE?

Some Circumstances Point to Murder, and Police Get Busy—Had Been Drinking With the Clouds of Rochester.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 25.—The "race that kills" is held responsible for the suicide of William S. Steward of Toronto, Ontario, at the Saratoga Hotel, last night, after a prolonged drinking bout, which had its beginning in Buffalo, N.Y., and its close in Chicago.

Steward came to Chicago on Tuesday morning, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Cloud, of Rochester, N.Y. The Clouds, who were detained by the police pending inquiry by them and the coroner, were allowed to go their way yesterday, after an interview with Chief of Detectives O'Brien and Captain Gibbons of the Central Detail. First circumstances indicated a mystery, but it was shown that Steward was suffering from alcoholic hysteria.

Steward was left the income of a small fortune, his father having been a Toronto druggist. With his competence he is said to have wandered around the country spending his money recklessly.

The suicide occurred in a bathroom at the hotel shortly after the Clouds and Steward left the Majestic theater, where Steward had shown considerable unrest.

"Let's get out of here and end it all," is the remark Steward is said to have made at the theater, addressing the Clouds. It was known to them that he carried a revolver, and Mrs. Cloud said yesterday he had it in his coat pocket while up the theater.

From the playhouse they went to their suite at the hotel, Cloud advised Steward to take something for his nerves, and white Steward and Mrs. Cloud remained at the hotel, Cloud visited a drug store and bought a powder. Meantime he had ordered a bottle of wine, but it is said by the Clouds that he alone partook of it. Soon after he went into the bathroom, and according to the best evidence obtainable, shot himself in the temple.

He was in a dying condition when assistance reached him. Steward, who was about 30 years old, was an old acquaintance of the Clouds. It is said he was disappointed in a love affair in Buffalo.

JOHN CRANE
MANAGER

A LARGE INDUSTRY FOR PETERBOROUGH

Senator Geo. A. Cox Negociating for Location of a Firm Here That Will Employe Several Thousand Hands.

The Times has it on good authority that still another vast industry may soon be added to the rapidly growing number of our local factories.

Senator Geo. A. Cox, having seen in these columns a report of the generous offer made by Mr. M. A. McNamara, whereby the latter proposed to present to the city, free of all cost, one hundred acres of land for the Coates Company, has asked Mr. McNamara whether his offer would hold good for another industry, in case the Coates Company does not decide to locate on this property.

The senator, whilst, for obvious reasons, not wanting the name of this other industry known as yet, assured Mr. McNamara that the industry he is trying to get located to Peterborough, is a most important one, and will employ several thousand hands.

It might be noted that Mr. McNamara has already had papers drawn up, simply wanting the signatures of the contracting parties to transfer the admirably situated property at the south of the city to the Coates Company gratis. In case the company decides to locate elsewhere, he will probably close with Senator Cox so as to secure the factory this ardent worker for Peterborough's prosperity is attempting to locate here. With Senator Cox negotiating for this industry, and the offer of one hundred acres of land well adapted to the purpose, with unrivalled transportation facilities and with good dockage site on the Trent Valley Canal, it is safe to consider that the industry will come to Peterborough.

Did You Ever Know

How it feels to be PERFECTLY WELL?

PERFECTLY WELL means not an ache, pain or pre-cent of any kind from body or mind.

The Heaven of perfect poise when the life forces drive rich, strong red blood through the veins and fill one with an indefinable joy, when nature and all the world seems to be sending caresses to you.

Then the sky is beautiful whether it be gray or a deep restful eternity-reaching blue or covered with softly moulded, round bosomed clouds lazily floating about and the breeze is kind and sweet when her it smooth your cheek with the soft touch of the woman who loves you, or energetically fills your lungs with the strong tonic of life.

Trees and the fallen leaves frisk about in fairy grace, flowers smile and send their fragrance and every friend you meet seems a warm hearted brother reaching out for companionship. Perhaps an open fire or Love, beside which baby purrs out her soft song of peace. Harmony from every side greets the harmony within and there steals over one from head to foo the subtle sensuous tingle of warm new blood, the perfect poise of a well-fed nervous system.

All this is absolute evidence that the possessor has been FED RIGHT and should stick to that kind of food and habits which have produced the result. The facts stand forth and the conclusions are certain. If trouble, distress and inharmony fill the days and blot out the rich ful peace every human being has a right to, CHANGE THE FOOD.

If your present method of feeding makes imperfect, cells and fails to build the soft gray matter in brain and nerve centre scattered over the body, look alive, quit the old diet, and take on a new and better one. That's plain common sense. Right then is the exact time to quit coffee absolutely and select meals wisely. Suppose you try for breakfast,

A little fruit,
A dish of Grape-Nuts and cream,
Two soft-boiled eggs,
A cup of Postum Food Coffee.

Stop at that, it will carry you easily until the midday meal, which can be either a lunch of the same things (if a dinner is expected at night) or the heavy meal can be taken at midday. Take only one one heavy meal in a day in addition to the two light ones.

At the heavy meal have one good meat course, with one or two vegetables, and a rich, sweet Grape-Nuts pudding. After a few days on these meals a change for the better will come over the body in practically every case where the disease has not become too firmly fixed and chronic.

Remember health is a matter of wisely selected food and a harmonious mind. It will be a tremendous help to read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," found in pkgs. of Postum and Grape-Nuts.

"THERE'S A REASON" and a profound one.

A case where there was lassitude and lack of strength is told by Mr. David Brown, of post-office box No. 99, Beeton, Ont.. 'About a year ago my health commenced to fail. My hands and feet seemed always cold. I felt worn-out and exhausted, weak as a little child. My face twitched My limbs and arms commenced to lose their sense of feeling and finally my left side was perfectly numb. All my color left. My appetite ran down. Ferrozone was the first to give me any help I improved with it very quickly It toned up the blood and started circulation, so that the numbness gradually disappeared. My condition was perfectly cured by Ferrozone, and I have been well ever since. (Signed) "David Brown."

TROUBLES OF PROSPERITY

Most of the problems which assail Canada today are problems of prosperity, says the Monetary Times. For the past two or three years the ever present question for the great transportation companies to settle was how to provide carriage for the immense crops of wheat. As part settlement of that question they have built thousands of miles of new track, have bought hundreds of new locomotives, thousands of cars. Elevators have been built by the dozen, facilities increased of every kind. Yet the cry still is "not enough." Two years ago there was a serious congestion of wheat at Winnipeg and the lake ports; the railroads went to work and improved matters. Last year again there was congestion, and the cry again went up for more cars. In the meantime the transportation companies made terrific efforts to get into shape to meet all demands this season. Yet even now they have under-rated the exigencies of a country growing at a pace absolutely beyond all precedent. We are paying the price of unparalleled prosperity.

But a much darker side of the picture of prosperity is presented by the wild race for success at any price to which it seems to have given rise, or which at least is coincident. Where wealth is so common history shows the average man is not so apt to measure ways and means for attaining the same for himself. The main purpose is to achieve success at any cost. If one could take a transverse view of the thoughts and ideas underlying the peculiar methods of finance, it is probable that something like the above would be divulged. And the results of such comparisons are largely cumulative. The example of one could exploit in financial buccaneering leads to others still more inexcusable. The rank and file become imbued with the same spirit of reckless tampering with the spirit of old-time business honesty. And so the work of disintegration goes merrily on, gaining impetus with every fresh fortune gained by its means. It is one of the problems of prosperity to find how to keep the present ordinary incentives to success within the bounds necessitated by due regard to the rights of society as a whole.

Another of the problems of prosperity is how to get men enough to take care of it. The cry is for labor; for men to gather the crops, men to run the trains, men to work in the factories overfilled with the orders issuing from a prosperous people. New hands to turn the wheels of industry are arriving every day from England and elsewhere, the insistent cry is still for more. And meantime wheels that ought to be in motion are still; for the simple, yet complex reason that there is too much prosperity. The labor market never offered better prizes, nor as good, than it does now. Unemployment in Canada today is nil. Wages are higher than ever before. Yet the men to take those wages come not; and the very prosperity which is the cause of these conditions may be the thing that eventually will lead to disaster.

The high cost of commodities is another prosperity problem which takes a lot of solving by those in receipt of fixed incomes. While wages have gone up say 30 per cent., prices for the necessities of life have gone up just about as much, which leaves things largely as before. Latest statistics show there has been a slight reversion in the cost of necessaries during the last few months, but for all practical purposes the comparison holds good. Labor, while better off inasmuch as it has found full employment at good wages, has had to pay out a large proportion of its increased value in the shape of living expenses. For those with fixed incomes the problem of prosperity has been much more acute; they have had to pay one-third higher prices for everything they bought, and no more money to do it with.

But who would not make some sacrifice to live in these spacious times of Canada's adolescence?

"THE GOSPEL OF WEALTH"

By request of Andrew Carnegie, the North American Review has recently republished his essay, The Gospel of Wealth," first published in 1889.

This is the article in which Carnegie uttered his famous dictum: "That man who dies rich, dies disgraced." He urged rich men to be their own administrators and to distribute their estates in useful public benefactions while still alive, instead of leaving them to be disposed of by will, and possibly dissipated by worthless heirs.

By this republication Mr. Carnegie, who is now approaching three score and ten, probably intends to reassure the public of his determination to give away his vast fortune, with the reservation of only a comfortable competence for his heirs. He has been giving liberally for a good many years, but it is generally believed he has as yet made no impression upon his principal, in fact he has not succeeded in disposing of his entire annual income.

The great iron master can see little virtue in giving to benevolent purposes at death the fortune that one cannot take with him. He thinks the accumulation of large private fortunes is on the whole beneficial to society, as it creates a fund for the promotion of enterprises for the public good.

If the individual possessors of these fortunes neglect to apply their surplus for such useful purposes he would have the state step in and divert a portion of the accumulations to public uses by the imposition of graduated death or succession taxes. He would have such taxes begin at nothing upon moderate bequests to dependents, and increase rapidly as amounts soar, until at last one-half is taken.

Coming from a man of Mr. Carnegie's wealth and business standing, this suggestion cannot be called the envious demand of the thriftless for a division of the property of the thrifty. It is the suggestion of a very practical plan to prevent the perpetuation of great estates. Mr. Carnegie is likely to have few imitators in his avowed purpose to die poor. Appeals to the altruism of the wealthy are not certain of effect.

But death and taxes are sure. It may be said that a rich person about to die, could evade the succession tax by scattering his property out among his relatives or friends. Very true. But this would equally pervert the perpetuation of vast estates. The gift of the major portion to a single heir could be taxed the same as the inheritance.

The disposition among most European governments just now is to increase the succession taxes. Those governments are more hardly pressed for sources of revenue than our own; but our provincial governments are continually looking around for ways to avoid direct property taxation. They are likely, sooner or later, to make the most of the succession tax idea.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"Dearest, do not talk of your dying. This is a bitter trial for you, I know; the bitterest, perhaps, that a woman could be called to bear; but you will have strength given you to bear up and live."

"To live! ah, to live for what? I have but you! When you are gone there is no creature on earth whom my life could make better or happier! No, I cannot live; I feel it in every sinking pulse of my heart and brain. That is Heaven's great mercy to me that I cannot live! Oh, I will not fail too soon! I will see you over the dark river, beloved, and then—follow you."

They were interrupted.

The hour of closing the prison had not yet arrived, but the door was unlocked, and the governor, accompanied by the sheriff and under-sheriff, entered the cell. Upon seeing the prisoner's wife present, the sheriff seemed somewhat embarrassed, and said:

"Had not the lady better retire?"

The governor turned to Laura, and said:

"Will you oblige me by taking leave of your husband now, and withdrawing?"

"No, no! I claim your fulfillment of your promise, Mr. Browning, to let me stay with him up to the last moment before closing. Ah, sir, in mercy do not press me; we have so little time to pass together on this earth that every minute is priceless!" pleaded Laura.

"But it will be very painful to you," said the sheriff.

"No more so than what I have already sustained and can yet endure," answered Laura, sadly but firmly.

"Speak to her, Mr. Cassinove," whispered the governor.

"My dearest Laura, be advised, and bid me good-night," urged Cassinove.

"Ah, do not you tell me to go, else I must, you know. Let me stay as long as I may, Ferdinand; and let the sheriff proceed with his duty—the nature of which I can well surmise. What you have to endure, I also can bear," said Laura, recasting herself by his side.

They urged her no more; but the sheriff, taking a document from his pocket, said:

"I have a very painful duty to perform, from witnessing which I would gladly have saved this lady. I hold in my hand the warrant for the execution of Ferdinand Cassinove, at seven o'clock a. m., on Monday next."

And unfolding the warrant, amid the dead silence of the assembled group, he read it aloud to the prisoner.

Cassinove heard it with composure, and at its close bowed, still in silence.

The sheriff said that any privilege or indulgence, within the rules of the prison, would be promptly extended to the prisoner, upon his application, and, with a deferential bow to Laura, he called his satellites, and retreated from the cell.

When last alone again, the unhappy pair remained seated side by side, their hands clasped together in utter silence. No word had passed their lips since the reading of the death warrant. Although by what had gone before, they were prepared for what was to come, yet the reading of the doom seemed to have stunned them into stillness. Cassinove was the first to shake off the spell and speak.

"My own brave wife! you bore the ordeal well!" he said.

"I will bear all the rest well, until all is over, and then follow you!" said Laura.

They remained mutually comforting each other for some fifteen minutes longer, and then the turnkey came his rounds, and informed Mrs. Cassinove that she must withdraw for the night. And Laura took leave of her husband, leaving him alone in his cell, and returned to her own desolate lodgings.

Leaving Newgate, Laura threaded the narrow, dark and filthy courts and alleys of that miserable quarter, crowded, as they were with abandoned wretches of both sexes, and reached, at last, her own gloomy lodging house, at the top of Skinner street, within sight of St. Sepulchre's Church. On the opposite side of the street she saw a close carriage, with a coachman, whom she thought she recognized. But, too much absorbed by her own anguish, she gave no thought to the circumstance, but entered at once her dreary lodgings, where no kind friend welcomed her, where she was always alone in her grief, as was the Divine Master in Gethsemane.

She crept slowly and feebly up the dark staircase to the landing upon which her room was situated. She saw a tender, subdued light, shining from the partly open door, and her heart, broken down by sorrow, sunk with a strange foreboding of more misery, if more could come to one whose cup was already overflowing.

She timidly pushed open the door and entered.

And the next moment she was clasped in the arms of Rose. Poor Rose was no philosopher, and all she could do now was to clasp her friend to her loving bosom, and sob forth:

"Oh, my dear, dear Laura! my dear, dear Laura! my heart bleeds for you. Oh, may the Lord comfort you, Laura, for no human being can, I know!"

"This is very kind, Rose, to leave your pleasant palace home, and come to such an abode of misery as this," said Laura, in an exhausted voice.

"Oh, did you think I could stay at home, knowing that you were alone, and suffering here? Oh, no; as soon as the news of the verdict reached us, I got ready, and ordered the carriage, and drove here. I have been here an hour. I know you were at the prison, and I should have gone thither, but I thought you would prefer being alone with him this evening; so I waited for you here."

"Bless you, Rose! but the duke, did he approve of your coming?"

"My dear husband? Ah, I see you do not know him yet. Yes, he approved of my coming; he thinks you should not remain alone in this dread trial. He made me promise to bring you back to Beresleigh House to-night, if I could persuade you to come. Do, dearest Laura! You shall live as privately as you like, not even a strange servant shall intrude on you; for I have sent for your own old maid, and your old footman, who both love you, and they shall serve you in your own apartments. You can have a close carriage appropriated to your sole use, and so visit the prison as early in the morning as you like. It will be just as convenient for you to ride from Beresleigh House as to walk from Skinner street, and will take no more time. And Mr. Cassinove himself will feel more tranquil when he knows you are among friends, for, Laura, you shall never leave us more with our consent; you shall be our adopted sister, dearer than all other sisters. You do not answer me. Oh, Laura, consent, dearest," pleaded Rose, pressing her friend to her bosom with nervous eagerness. They were, by this time, seated on the threadbare sofa, side by side, Rose having her arms clasped around Laura, who answered:

"I thank and bless you, sweet Rose, but I cannot avail myself of your loving kindness."

"Oh, Laura, don't say so! Dearest Laura, take pity on me; my heart is bleeding for your woes and his, and bleeding all the more, because—oh, Heaven!—I feel myself so weak, so utterly powerless to give you any saving help. Oh! let me do what I can, or my heart will break outright," cried Rose, bursting into a passion of tears, and clasping closely the friend she longed to succor.

"Sweet, loving Rose, ask your own woman-heart if I could bear to enter a home of luxury while my husband suffers in the condemned cell? No, Rose, no; the very desolation and wretchedness of my abode gives me a sort of comfort," said Laura, mournfully.

"But if not for yourself, and not for me, for Mr. Cassinove's own sake, come with me! He would be happier if he knew you were with us. It would remove the only earthly anxiety he can have, to know that you were safe with dear friends, who would love you as a sister all their lives," urged Rose.

"Dearest child, your affection in-

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 200,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 250 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

"Ferrozone braced me up at once. It gave me strength and spirits, brought back my nerve and cheerfulness. From my experience with Ferrozone I recommend it to all expectant mothers."

Trick Book Makes a Convert.

A George street merchant had bushels of fun one night through a "fake" book. The merchant whilst calling at several dispensaries of wet goods, on meeting acquaintances of his, produced the book. His victims would try to open up the pages, seemingly enclosed between the ornamental covers, but in vain. The book would not open. In due time Mr. B. would show the button necessary to be touched to open up the literature. On this spring being touched, part of the cearra (sic) would fly back, and a bright green snake would protrude its head and part of its body.

One constitutional toper swore off for good when the snake leaped towards his face.

DANGERS FROM DYSPEPSIA

Imperfect Digestion Most Prolific Cause of Serious Disease.

Few people seem to realize the real dangers in disturbed, deficient or defective digestion.

While health reports do not give indigestion as a cause of death, yet it is in reality often fatal, as it so weakens the stomach that one becomes readily susceptible to an attack of typhoid fever, kidney disease, nervous prostration or other serious or fatal disease.

At the first symptoms of indigestion, Mi-o-na stomach tablets should be used. If there is a feeling of heaviness in the stomach, distress after eating, nervousness, dizziness, nausea, headaches, sleeplessness, pains in the side and limbs, specks before the eyes, or a peevish, irritable condition, with debility and weakness, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once.

It will build up the stomach and digestive organs so that you can eat anything at any time without fear of distress or indigestion.

Good Health at Roller Rink.

Last night the roller rink was once more crowded with an enthusiastic and well pleased audience. The young men and women of this city have seemingly come to a conclusion that it is more enjoyable and more conducive to health, to pay a few cents for an evening's pleasure and health-giving enjoyment than to hand out high prices for some other kinds of amusement. At the roller rink those present are safe and go home with appetites that can only be appeased by a liberal internal application of cheese and crackers, cold chicken or other substantials.

STEUERNAGLE—MACKENZIE — At No 15 Van Nest Place, New York city, on Wednesday, Oct. 24, 1906, by Rev. Dr. W. W. White, president of the Pastors' Training College, Rev. A. E. Steruagle, pastor of Bethany Tabernacle, Peterborough, to Miss Agnes MacKenzie of New York City.

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Pare, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health began to fail me, head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and stop taking the doctor's medicine. She bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicines, recommended to be "just as good."

New Roller Rink to be Built.

It might be noted, dispite the seemingly contradictory report given in an evening contemporary of last night, that Mr. Sheridan, of the Peterborough Roller Skating Rink Co., last night assured The Times that it is the intention of his company to proceed with the erection of a new rink 200x100 feet in size.

Mr. Fraser Leaves the Hospital.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Mr. John Fraser was recently seriously injured by the bursting of a steam pipe. We are pleased to say that he was yesterday taken from St. Joseph's Hospital to his home. He has made rapid recovery since being taken to the hospital, but it will be some time before he will be able to work again.

Dry, cracked and colorless lips mean feverishness, and are as well ill appearing. To have beautiful, pink, velvet-like lips apply at bedtime a coating of Dr. Shoop's Green Salve. Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

Lead Mine Expert Calls on The Times

Mr. R. E. Cushman Brings Samples of Unparalled Richness to the City.

Mr Robt. E. Cushman, treasurer of the Stanley Smelting Works of Bannockburn, Ont., was in the city yesterday, and gave The Times a call. Mr Cushman brought a sample, taken at random from their mine in Hastings County; One large block of the ore now in T. Patterson and Company's possession, is almost entirely composed of pure lead, zinc and silver. Their mine is very rich in zinc which contains from $10 to $15 per ton in silver.

Mr Cushman is very enthusiastic over the prospects of the mine, there being hundreds of thousands of tons of ore already blocked out. The head of the firm, which has operated the mine for some four years and which has already spent $150,000 in improvements with $108,000 in profits, is Mr E. J. Stanley, head of the great historical publishing company of Philadelphia, a leading capitalist of that city.

The company has already sunk a 200-foot shaft, which shows the ore getting richer as the mine deepens. The properties of the company comprise 2500 acres of rich mineral lands containing lead veins from three to five feet wide, with zinc in large quantities.

The New York Mercantile and Financial Times, editorially speaking, says, regarding this mine,

"One of the important factors in this field of industrial activity is the Stanley Smelting Works, whose valuable lead property is located at Bannockburn, which has produced since February 15th, 1906, over a thousand tons of pig lead, which has been sold in Toronto and Montreal markets at current prices. This successful lead producing enterprise is for a short time offering for public subscription at a limited amount of stock at its par, $1, at which time your correspondent, from an investigation into the affairs of the company and a personal knowledge of its chief officials, does not hesitate to recommend to the readers of the Financial Times as an investment of the most secure and remunerative character.

"The company has been paying its stockholders ten per cent. dividends during the past two years on an issue of 100,000 shares. At the present time, however, realizing the necessity of a sinking fund, and for the purpose of adding additional equipment and to continue development work along more systematic and comprehensive lines, the company has decided to issue an additional '00,000 shares at par. The company is moderately capitalized at $500,000 and as 300,000 shares will remain in the treasury, the company will undoubtedly soon be in a position to declare substantial dividends on the $200,000 issued capital. This allotment has been already largely subscribed for.

In tomorrow's issue of this paper will appear a half page adv. of their stock which is well worth careful perusal and subsequent action as this mine is one of the most promising on the continent. They have spent money and have a proven success, the ore is plentiful beyond imagination. All the company wants most for now is to enlarge their output, and, with the present high price of lead, the work will beyond the shadow of a doubt, before next July be worth From $3 to $5 per share Canadian Improvement Co. Will Probably Lift the Entire Indebtedness on November 1st.

Toronto, Oct. 26—The remaining million dollars which the Ontario Government guaranteed in connection with the Canadian Improvement Company's operation of the Sault Ste. Marie industries will probably be lifted at its maturity on November first.

Six months ago Hon. Col. Matheson secured the payment of half of the original $2,000 000 guarantee and an extension till Nov. 1 was given for the balance.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. F. H. Clergue and Mr. R. Wilson Smith, of Montreal, had an extended conference with the Cabinet at a special session.

Hon. Mr. Foy, acting premier, presided, and there were also present Hon. Col. Matheson, the Provincial Treasurer, with whom the visitors had previously held conference, Hon. Dr. Reaume and Hon. Mr. Cochrane.

At the conclusion of the session no information was given out, but Mr. Clergue intimated that it was the intention to wipe off the guarantee on its maturity.

It will be remembered that the former Government extended this Provincial guarantee on the assuming of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company's operations by the Canadian Improvement Company, guarantee fell due on May 1 last, when Hon. Col. Matheson, after a hurried trip to New York, secured the time of $1,000,000 and the extension which is now terminating.

This may be accepted as unmistakable evidence of the continuing prosperity of the Sault industries, and it is generally believed is the forerunner of further industrial development

Sad End of an Hospital Patient

Mrs. A. Johnston Ends Her Life in the Otonabee River.

Yesterday some excitement was caused throughout the city when it became known that, whilst in a semi-delerious state, due to despondence, Mrs. Andrew Johnston had solved life's mystery in the cold embrace of the Otonabee river. Mrs. Johnston until yesterday morning was a patient at the Nicholls Hospita, from which she stealthily made her escape and rushed to the river but half a mile distant and ended her life.

About two weeks ago as noted in a former issue of The Times she had attempted suicide by taking carbolic acid at her home in Smith, but was discovered before she had taken sufficient to cause death. On the 11th of the month she was brought to Nicholls Hospital and appeared to be recovering rapidly.

Yesterday morning, however, while the attending nurse had left the room for a few minutes securing an armful of clothing she left the ward which is a private one on the second floor, stepped out on the fire escape and descended to the ground.

The nurse returned and was startled to find Mrs. Johnson's bed vacant and her clothes gone. A few minutes' search revealed the fact that she had opened the window by the fire escape where she had made her escape Two nurses traced her to the Grand Trunk Railway track, and then to Argyle street where she turned towards the river. Her footsteps could be easily seen and were followed to the water's edge at the rear of Inverlea Park where they discovered the corpse close to the shore in shallow water.

In the meantime Mr. Roseborough an employe of the hospital, was despatched to Mr. Johnson's residence about two miles out on the Lakefield road in Smith, only to find that the lost woman had not returned home

Miss Delamater, the superintendent of the hospital, stated yesterday, that Mrs. Johnson had apparently been improving very rapidly during the last few days. Her appetite had returned, in view of these circumstances the superintendent was very much surprised to hear of her suicide yesterday. She had been closely watched ever since her entrance to the hospital and her rash act was most unexpected.

The doctor in attendance noted yesterday that the deceased was a victim of melancholia.

Mrs. Johnson was forty years of age and besides her husband leaves children.

The body when found was taken to D. Bellegham's undertaking establishment from where it was conveyed to the family residence in Smith. The remains will be buried in the Lakefield cemetery.

Coroner Gray thought it unnecessary to hold an inquest as it was evidently a case of suicide.

HUSBAND DECEIVED

But Thanked His Wife Afterwards.

A man ought not to complain if his wife puts up a little job on him, when he finds out later that it was all on account of her love for him Mighty few men would.

Sometimes a fellow gets so set in his habits that some sort of a ruse must be employed to get him to change, and if the habit, like excessive coffee drinking is harmful, the end justifies the means—if not too severe. An Ills. woman says:

"My husband used coffee for 25 years, and almost every day.

"He had a sour stomach (dyspepsia) and a terrible pain across his kidneys a good deal of the time. This would often be so severe he straighten up. His complexion was a yellowish-brown color; the doctors said he had liver trouble.

"An awful headache would follow if he did not have his coffee at every meal, because he missed the drug.

"I tried to coax him to quit coffee, but he thought he could not do without it. Our little girl 8 years old got by him at table and used to touch mine and drink coffee out of papa's cup. She got like her father—her kidneys began to trouble her.

"On account of the baby, I coaxed my husband to get a package of Postum. After the first time he drank it he had a headache and wanted his coffee. We had some coffee in the house, but I hid it and made Postum as strong as I could and he thought he was having his coffee and had no headaches.

"In one week after using Postum his color began to improve, his stomach got right, and the little girl's kidney trouble was all gone. My husband works hard, eats heartily and has no stomach or kidney trouble any more. After he had used Postum a month, without knowing it, I brought out the coffee. He told me to throw it away." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

The Conservatory of Music Defended

Writer Thinks the Institution is Doing Splendid Work.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—Enclosed in a copy of letter addressed by me to "The Examiner," Kindly publish same and oblige.

yours, etc.

PI.

(To the Editor of The Examiner.)

Sir,—I beg to take exception to a somewhat censorious letter which appeared in your last evening's issue signed "A Tempo," from the facile pen of one of your most able contributors, whose identity is quite obvious. The writer says he had hoped for a great deal from the Conservatory of Music, suggesting that it had not fulfilled its high calling. It is scarcely fair to expect very much from an institution which has been in existence little more than a year, but is it not true that the Conservatory has already done a great deal in the cause of higher music? There is undoubtedly a finer appreciation of and more ardent desire for attainment in the works of the great composers than ever previously existed in our midst, and I venture to assert that this is largely due to all that Mr Gliddon has done as well as handicapped as by the establishment of the Conservatory which required all the enterprise and courage of an enthusiast. Pray let the Conservatory be treated with sympathy and encouragement and let the spirit of carping be suppressed.

The chief burden of complaint of "A Tempo" is that a recital by three of the Conservatory teachers was given on the same night as Miss Bateman's concert. It was certainly regrettable that these two events should have clashed, for I am sure most of those present at the Y.M.C.A. Hall would have been delighted to be at the opera house, but the programs for the recital had been printed, and invitations issued long before Miss Bateman's concert had been heard of, and although the effort was made it was found impossible to change the date of the recital, which, as is well known, was being given wholly for the benefit of the Y.M.C.A. Women's Auxiliary.

I trust this explanation will satisfy the public as well as my friend "A Tempo," that the Conservatory is not and cannot be actuated by any narrow motive but will at all times be foremost in the advance of musical culture. Yours, etc.,

A Wedding of Local Interest

Miss Addie L. Large Became the Bride of Mr. E. H. Skinner of New York.

On Wednesday, Oct. 17th, a marriage of some local interest was celebrated at Walkerville, Ont., when Miss Addie M. Large, a sister-in-law of Mr. F. W. Dean, the popular local Bell Telephone agent, became the bride of Mr. E. H. Skinner, of New York City. The ceremony, which was carried out amidst most pretty and appropriate surroundings, was performed by Rev. Geo. Jackson, of Windsor, in the residence of Dr. J. A. C. Hoggan, a brother of the bride.

The happy couple went on their honeymoon to New York, where Mr. Skinner holds a responsible position with Messrs. F. K. Swezey & Company, wholesale druggists. The ceremony was witnessed by some 30 invited guests.

Local Waterpower to be Leased

That the Government recognizes the great value of the water power in this city is proven by the fact that the superintendent of Railways and Canals is advertising for tenders for the lease of water power privileges at No. 4 dam on the Trent Canal between Peterborough and Lakefield. Tenders will be received at the office of the Department at Ottawa, until Nov. 29th, 1906.

In this connection the discharge below must not interfere with navigation and the Department reserves the right to raise dam No. 5 two feet

The term of the lease shall be for two years, renewable for three on such terms but the rent to be paid shall be adjustable at each renewal term

The lessee will be required to expend in developing the power not less than $25,000 within six months, and not less than $50,000 within twelve months from the acceptance of the tender

Police Found The Wedding License

Younger Brother of Groom Suspected to Have Hidden It in Order to Prevent the Marriage.

Kingston, Oct. 25. — Yesterday morning the police had a peculiar call. A foreigner on Princess street was scheduled to be married to a fair girl, and the latter had arrived with her parents. The younger brother of the groom-to-be did not want his brother to have a wife, and he concocted a scheme to put off the wedding. Stuck behind the clock was the marriage license, and this the young man secured and hid. Consternation reigned when the time of the ceremony arrived, and the young man was accused of going away with the license. He refused to give information. Without the license the wedding could not proceed, and it was decided best to call the police, who succeeded in securing the document. The young brother became frightened when told he would be sent to prison, and finally, when another look came to be taken behind the clock, the license was found, having been slipped back. Then the wedding proceeded.

Wanted to Pose as Martyrs Will Likely Now Have Their Wish Granted

London, Oct. 25.—Ten women suffragists, who were arrested yesterday for rioting within the precincts of the House of Commons were arraigned in a police court, and were bound over to keep the peace for six months.

Such a common-place outcome of the affair did not meet the views of the suffragists, who apparently decided to assume the roles of martyrs by being committed to jail, and when the magistrate announced his decision a great uproar broke out in the court room, and ultimately the women had to be removed by force.

Some of them were literally thrown out among the crowds waiting outside the building.

The shrieking women continued to make a demonstration outside the police court until Miss Pankhurst, who took a most prominent part in the disturbances in the ladies' gallery of the House of Commons in April, was again arrested. When the detectives arrested her she refused to go to the police station, and when the police reassembled the defendants, who were then informed by the magistrate that they must immediately find sureties for their good behavior or be imprisoned for two months. The whole ten women refused to enter into recognizances and were committed in custody.

A CORRECTION

By an Undesigned Error Miss Powers' Father Was Misnamed.

A few days ago The Times had an article chronicalling the recent death of a Miss Powers of Fenelon Falls. Our report noted that the deceased lady was a daughter of Mr. J. J. Powers, of Fenelon Falls, Ont.

We regret to say that this report given us, by a responsible citizen, and as such taken in good faith, noted that the deceased lady was a daughter of "Mr. J. J. Powers" of Fenelon Falls. The truth is that the lady was a daughter of Mr. Patrick Powers, and a half sister of Mr. J. J. Powers. Mr. J. J. Power has two daughters Annie and Lilian.

A FOOD CONVERT

Good Food the True Road to Health.

The pernicious habit some persons still have of relying on numerous drugs to relieve dyspepsia, keeps up the patent medicine business and helps keep up the army of dyspeptics.

Indigestion—dyspepsia—is caused by what is put into the stomach in the way of improper food, the kind that so taxes the strength of the digestive organs they are actually crippled.

When this state is reached, to resort to stimulants is like whipping a tired horse with a big load. Every additional effort he makes under teh lash increases his loss of power to move the load.

Try helping the stomach by leaving off heavy, greasy, indigestible food and take on Grape-Nuts—light, easily digested, full of strength for nerves and brain, in every grain of it. There's no waste of time or energy when Grape-Nuts is the food.

"I am an enthusiastic user of Grape-Nuts and consider it an ideal food," writes a Maine man;

"I had nervous dyspepsia and was all run down, and my food seemed to do me but little good. From reading an adv. I tried Grape-Nuts food, and, after a few weeks' steady use of it, felt greatly improved.

"Am much stronger, not nervous now, and can do more work without feeling so tired, and am better every way.

"I relish Grape-Nuts best with ice cream and use four heaping teaspoonfuls at a meal. I am sure there are thousands of persons with stomach trouble who would be benefited by using Grape-Nuts." CONSERVATIVE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Enthusiastic Annual Meeting Held in the Young Conservative Club Rooms Hear Encouraging Reports.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Hon President—Jas. Kendry.
Hon Vice-President—T. E. Bradburn.
President—J. H. Burnham.
Vice-President—J. Wilson.
Secretary—M. Mowry.
Treasurer—W. Butler.

Last night the large parlor of the Young Conservative Club, appropriately decorated with strings of Union Jacks and other hunting, was crowded with enthusiastic supporters of the Conservative political platform. The large room was quickly filled with chairs brought from the reading room in addition to the large and comfortable arm chairs belonging there.

Shortly after eight o'clock, President J. H. Burnham in the chair, called the meeting to order and expressed his pleasure at seeing so many representative members of the club present. He said that the reports about to be read would show that the financial condition of the club was most satisfactory.

The secretary then read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which were confirmed.

A report was read from the secretary saying among other things that the club has lost four members during the year, by their leaving the city and from other unavoidable causes. The report was received and adopted, being moved by Mr Kendry and seconded by Mr. H. Phelan.

The treasurer's report was then read by Mr. Jos. Edgar. This showed a most satisfactory state of affairs. The assets of the club are $502.13 over and above liabilities. The debt of the club was, during the year reduced by $410.33. Also a piano was purchased and paid for. Ten per cent. was also written off the furniture account. The membership is now between 700 and 800. At the beginning of the year there was a good amount to the credit of the club. Mr. Layfield in moving the adoption of the report said that the report of this year is far more satisfactory than that presented the year before. He hoped members would pay up promptly, so that on expiration of the club's lease, the club might be in a position to erect a building of its own. Hon. Mr. Borden, when addressing the meeting which celebrated the formation of Young Conservative Clubs, Mr. Borden, when speaking recently at an independent club in Ottawa, specially mentioned Peterborough's Young Conservative Club

Mr Burnham congratulated the club on the splendid financial statement, which showed that the club is in a most healthy state.

Mr Kendry was proud of the standing of the club. He thought the small debt of the club could be paid off this winter. He congratulated the president, secretary and other officers for the good work they had done. He thought the secretary should be retained.

Auditors were then appointed on motion of Mr. John Green, consisting of the same gentlemen as acted last year, viz., Messrs. Perry and Wallace.

Mr. H. Phelan then read the report of the Rooms' Committee, which was very satisfactory. Mr. Phelan thought the prospects for the coming year are very bright. The report was adopted.

The next business was election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows.

Mr. Edgar moved, seconded by Mr. Wilson,—That Mr. Kendry be Hon. President for the ensuing year.—Carried amidst much applause.

Mr Layfield moved that Mr. Bradburn be Hon. Vice-president, carried amidst applause.

Mr. Kendry moved, seconded by Col. Miller, that Mr. J. H. Burnham be re-appointed as President. Both mover and seconder paid a high tribute to the good work done by the nominee.

Mr Burnham in a few well chosen words disclaimed having deserved the honors paid him. Among the things presented to the contemplation of Conservatives was the attitude of Hon. Mr Aylesworth in the recent election in Quebec. After both Mr. Laurier and Mr. Aylesworth are dead and gone the good old traditions of Canada will go on for ever. He then referred to the London bribery case.

Mr Frank Adams moved that Mr. J. Wilson be vice-president. Mr. J. Wilson moved in amendment that Mr. Gardiner be vice-president. Mr. Wilson was elected.

Mr M. Mowry, was unanimously, and with much hand clapping, re-elected secretary.

When the election for Treasurer came about several members simultaneously sprang to their feet to re-nominate Mr. Edgar.

Mr Edgar, however, whilst regretting his inability to act, owing to increased private business, said he would do all that lays in his power to help the club. However, he could not act.

Mr J. Wilson moved, seconded by Mr. Bradburn that Mr. W. Butler be treasurer Great applause.

Mr Burnham as president of the club testified to the splendid work done by Mr. Edgar.

Mr Wilson moved that a vote of the club be taken expressing regret at losing Mr. Edgar's services, and thanking him for his good services rendered

Moved by Mr. Kendry, seconded by Mr. Gibbs, that the Finance Committee be Messrs. Edgar, Layfield, Peck and F. Adams.

The Carnival Was a Great Successs

Large Crowd at the Roller Rink Last Night.

Last night the Charlotte street roller rink was crowded to its utmost capacity by a large and well pleased audience who came to see that novelty here, a carnival of roller skates.

Long before the advertised time, hundreds of skaters, as well as spectators thronged the admittance wicket. A detachment of the 57th Regimental Band was on hand, and discoursed sweet strains throughout the evening. The gay costumes of the skaters, with many a comical dress made a scene of mingled beauty and fun. At nine o'clock, by arrangement those in costume were placed upon by the judges, who were Messrs Hicks, Brighenan and Glover.

There were four valuable prizes offered and were as follows.

Best dressed gentleman, prize a handsome heavy silk watch fob with gold locket and chain. This was awarded to Mr. W. Mellis.

Best dressed lady, the prize being a handsome extension gold bracelet, with an amythest setting, given to Miss Logan.

The other prizes, consisting of two expensive gold mounted umbrellas, for the neatest skating couple, were given to Mr. Spencerly and Miss Guerin.

At 9.30 the grand march was put on and was led by the prize winners with the following ladies and gentlemen, and characters represented:

Miss Craig—Gypsy Queen.
M. Bennett—West Indian Boy.
Pear Sheridan—Good Luck.
Eva Conroy—Jockey Girl.
L. M. Brooks—Coachman.
C. D. Lovemore—Cavalier.
Miss Nina Edgar—Queen of Roses.
Miss C. D. Mowry—Tambourine Girl
Miss Vinnie Logan—Queen Mab.
Nonna Logan—Queen of Water Lilies
W. H. L. Mellis—Cavalier.
R. Winch—War Eagle.
Miss Rae Logan—La Gardenia.

Taken as a whole the carnival of last night was a great success.

HAVE YOU CATARRH?

Breathe Hyomel and Get Relief and Cure. Sold Under Guarantee.

If you have catarrh, with offensive breath, burning pains in the throat, coughing, raising of mucous, difficulty in breathing, sneezing, huskiness, discharge from the nose, tickling and dropping at the back of the throat, especially at night, coughing spasms, etc., begin the use of Hyomel at once.

Its healing medication will give relief in a few days and its continued use will completely drive all catarrhal germs from the system.

Hyomel contains Nature's healing oils and balsams, the germ-killing properties of the pine forests, and goes with the air you breathe to the most remote cells of the respiratory organs, searching out and killing all catarrhal germs and soothing and healing any irritation there may be in the mucous membrance. It is easy and pleasant to use Hyomel, pleasanter than most of the stomach dosing, as its healing air is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler, which can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, and carries medication to just the stop where relief is needed.

The complete Hyomel outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents. We do not want anyone's money unless Hyomel gives relief and cure, and we absolutely agree that money will be refunded unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle, of Moncton, N. B., Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most woman are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for woman's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desparate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, gave me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the place of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn, U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

A TRIP TO THE NORTH

Very Interesting Letter from the Back Country.

Now having seen any Apsley news lately in your g. f. j. was wondering what had become of "Sam Slocum" and "Dan O'Grady," whose letters of former years used to be criterion of interesting local events, thought I might give you some of my views gleaned from a trip through our back townships a few weeks ago. I found Apsley in the same place and greatly improved; some fine buildings having been put up lately and all the stores doing a good business. James is doing a rushing trade in his new and commodious Blacksmith shop. The cheese factory has been completely overhauled and is a credit to Andy, who is turning out No. 1 cheese; if any more patrons are added next season he will have to still further enlarge the factory. With the price of cheese so high and the excellent crops, farmers all through this section are quite content. No doubt the majority of those living at the front imagine it to be a pretty rough and backward country, but it would surprise them to see the well cultivated farms and good buildings, as well as the machinery in use; a great many have mowers, hay rakes, self binders, etc., and good cleared farms to use them on. I saw no poverty whatever among them, all were happy and contented. Travelling north and west from Apsley 15 miles you find a steam saw mill, which is running a good part of the year. The lumber cut there is drawn in winter to Gooderham and shipped per I. & B. R. R. It is regrettable that there is not a line from that country to Peterborough, as not only lumber but firewood could be brought down. At this mill I saw probably 100 cords of good slabs, mostly hardwood, piled up, which will have to be sometime carted off from the mill ground and destroyed. The owner of the mill intends putting in a shingle and lath mill this winter, which will be of great convenience to the settlers. Then there is the mining. The indications are good along that line, especially for nickel, and it is now beyond dispute that the "Saltzick Tucker" iron mine east of Apsley is No. 1. There are others too, and it only wants the right men to push things.

Now just a few words about deer and dogs. I had every opportunity to get a pretty correct idea about that much vexed question: whether the deer were becoming exterminated or not. Men who have lived back there for 30 or 40 years told me that where there used to be 50 deer there is not 5 now and doz hunting was the cause to a great extent. I was over ground where 20 years ago it was no trouble to get a deer, and today who told you might hunt a week and not likely see one. Neither are there any wolves in this section to speak of. Bears this year are more plentiful than usual, but so far have not done any damage to young cattle or sheep. You will hear some of those settlers talk about dog hunting. The following clipping from The Globe, by T. K. O'Rourke, Trenton, will give you their ideas of dog hunting exactly, only they were even more emphatic.

DEER AND THE DOGS.

Sporting Editor Globe: Sir—Replying to the letters of Mr. J. F. Pillsworth, of Belleville, dated November 25 and December 8, upholding the use of dogs in hunting deer. I am in fact more than pleased to see that this "dog-hunting deer" is being brought before the public, and hope that Mr. A. C. Pratt, M. P. P., will meet with success in his good intention. Why should hunting deer with dogs be prohibited? Because, and for the following reasons: (1) The dog does the hunting, the hunter does the butchering; (2) the hunter has the license and not in his name; that is a mistake, the license should be in the dog's name; the hunter goes into the woods with his hounds, puts them on the tracks of a deer, if he sees one; if not, then the dog finds it. In the meantime the hunter waits along the lake shore for the poor unfortunate deer, which, as a refuge from the dogs, makes for the lake.

The cowardly hunter, from his hiding spot, quickly, in a sneak-like manner, emerges and shoots down the deer in cold blood. Now, if Mr. Pillsworth or Mr. F. J. Hart, of Barrie, calls this challenging a deer on equal grounds, I fail to see it, and hope, for the good of future sport, that it will be unlawful to hunt deer with dogs.

I hope to again have another trip up north, and in the meantime would like to hear from Sam Slocum or others about our northern townships and how they are prospering. Yours.

A TRAVELLER.

SAN FRANCISCO'S HARBOR

Perhaps the Most Notable "Bottle" Harbor in the World.

Perhaps the most notable "bottle" harbor in the world is that at San Francisco. Here is a vast reach of water fifty-five miles long and in some parts twelve in width. Into this bay the tides of the Pacific flow through the famous Golden Gate. This is a strait about a mile in width in its narrowest part and very deep. The proud Californians look out over this serene expanse and tell you that here is anchorage for the combined navies of the world, which indeed seems a very mild statement of the case. Aside from the immensity of this harbor facility it is interesting to notice that California's two big rivers after traversing the great interior valley flow into this bay. Thus nature has furnished two serviceable water roads, leading from a most notable natural harbor into the very heart of a rich farming, mining and lumbering region. These rivers, the Sacramento and San Joaquin, are of the same commercial significance to California that the Hudson is to New York.

The harbor at San Francisco is the more noteworthy because it is the only one of first magnitude south of Puget sound. Between these points California presents to the orient an inhospitable cliff coast, only occasionally broken by a little beach or minor inlet. Little coasting steamers make landings, it is true, at several points along this grim front, but it is a matter of considerable hazard, to some places along this coast great cranes fixed upon the cliff hoist people and freight ashore in baskets. And the daring little skipper must even then keep one eye to windward lest a crashing storm drive in upon him and forever terminate his service on the sea. Thus it is that the two great harbors mentioned must for all time share a monopoly of the Pacific ocean commerce. One familiar with the Atlantic seaboard can parallel the situation by blotting out in his mind's eye all the ports between Savannah and Portland save only New York and between these in place of the numerous hospitable inlets substitute a scarcely broken sea cliff. He will then have the conditions before him which give to San Francisco its pre-eminence. —Walter J. Kenyon in St. Nicholas.

Lobster.

The London hospital is inclined to hold that lobster is not so indigestible as popular fancy thinks it. It is, however, less nutritious than the average fish.

The Serpent.

The Roman goddess of health always bore in her hand a serpent. The serpent was the emblem of Æsculapius, the deity of physicians, and in Roman folklore it is said that during a great pestilence in Rome he appeared in that city in the form of a serpent and stayed the plague.

"Left Handed" Lions.

It was the belief of Livingstone that nearly all lions were "left handed." He watched them closely, and when they desired to strike a fierce blow they always used the left paw.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

spires you with very specious arguments, but they will not do, Rose. I must remain here, for here I feel in every respect near to my husband."

"Then you will not be persuaded to go with me?" wept Rose.

"No, my pitying angel, because I cannot; but I bless you from my deep heart for your love."

"Very well, then, if you will not go with me, I will stay with you," said the young duchess.

"Rose!" exclaimed Laura, in mournful astonishment.

"Yes, I will, Laura; I will, dear sister of my heart. I will stay with you all through these bitter hours to the very last. When you go to the prison to see Cassinove, I will be here to receive you in my arms when you come back," said Rose, resolutely. "And when all is over, I will carry you off to Bereseleigh House, never to leave us more," she added, mentally.

"But, Rose, darling, I must not permit you to remain here."

"But I will, Laura, do you hear!" replied the young duchess, obstinately. Then, suddenly changing her tone, she once more threw her arms passionately around her friend, and pressed her, weeping, to her heart, saying: "Oh, you would not be so cruel as to rend me from you now, when you are in such bitter trouble; do not, Laura! To leave you so would almost be my death."

"But the duke, Rose?"

"Oh, my dear husband permits his poor Rose to do just as she pleases, so that she pleases to do right. I had provided for this contingency. I told him if I could not bring you with me, I should remain with you."

"And he consented?"

"Yes, for he knew it would make me ill to leave you alone in your sorrow."

"And can you think so much of me and my sorrows when you have so heavy a trouble of your own?"

A pallor like death suddenly overspread the face of the young duchess, as she murmured, in a frightened tone:

"Yes, oh yes, I have not forgotten that; but I must not think of it—it will do no good; I must think of you. Oh, Laura, how pale and thin you are! how faint your voice is! You have utterly neglected yourself; you have taken no refreshment since the morning, have you?"

"Nothing but a glass of wine; I could not, you know."

"Then I must make you take something at once—for his sake, Laura, that your frame may be strengthened for your duties to-morrow," said Rose, ingeniously, getting up to search the room, and inquiring:

"Is there a bell in this dreary place? and who waits on you, dear Laura?"

"The landlady," replied Laura, touching the bell that was at her elbow.

The prize woman promptly answered the summons. Her sharp eye had noticed the ducal coronet upon the carriage, and the liveried servants that attended to it, and she had guessed the rank of Laura's visitor, though she was unable to surmise the cause of the visit.

"My friend, your lodger here is not well. Will you be kind enough to prepare a basin of strong beef tea as quickly as you can?" said the young duchess.

"Certainly, madam, your ladyship—I mean your grace," answered Mrs. Brown, stopping a moment to swallow with her eyes the apparition of a lowing duchess in her dominions, and then courtesying and retiring.

"Beef tea will be the best thing for you to take, dear Laura; it will give you the strength you need, and you can take that when you cannot force nature to receive anything else."

"You shall do as you please with me here, sweet Rose."

In due time the much needed restorative was brought, and Rose gently obliged her exhausted friend to partake of it freely, after which she made Laura lie down upon the sofa, while she sat beside it.

"Now shut your dear eyes and try to take some rest," urged Rose.

But not for an instant did those "tired eyelids" close upon those "tired eyes." Rose saw how it was, and said:

"Oh, if you cannot compose yourself to rest, dear Laura, speak, utter all that is in your heart; it is better than suppressing your feelings; anything is better than lying there in silence, and gazing into vacancy with those awful eyes."

"Rose, Rose, he is to die at seven on Monday morning!" exclaimed Laura, wildly uttering the thought uppermost in her mind.

"Sans peur et sans reproche, he is not afraid to die or meet his Divine Judge," said Rose.

"But, oh, to think that the miscreant for whose crime he suffers walks abroad at large!"

"Do you suspect, then, who did the deed?"

"I more than suspect it. I know it in my heart of hearts. I caused the wretch to be arrested and examined before a magistrate, but there seemed to be no evidence to warrant the indictment of the guilty man, although there was sufficient to convict the innocent one."

"May you not be mistaken, then, dear Laura?"

Laura shook her head in bitterness of spirit.

"Who is it then, dear Laura, that you suspect of this crime?"

"One whose name is odious throughout Europe for an unnatural and monstrous deed, for which he is no longer in danger of justice, since Sir Vincent Lester, the only witness against him, is dead."

"You mean——" exclaimed Rose, catching her breath.

"Robert Thugsen. But what is the matter, dear Rose?"

"Oh, Laura, did you know—did you know this miscreant is my persecutor also?"

"No; you astonish me. I thought it was a Captain Rutherford, of the Tenth Hussars."

"No; that was only the feigned name under which he tried to marry me. Shall I tell you all about it, Laura? Perhaps my narrative may throw some light upon your suspicions."

"Yes, dearest," replied her friend, hoping to learn some new facts that might, even at this late hour, save the prisoner.

Rose commenced, and related the whole history of her broken marriage, as she had already narrated it to the duke.

While she spoke, Laura raised herself up from the sofa, and gazed earnestly at the speaker, and when Rose had finished her own narrative, Laura said:

"And is this the man who dares to claim your hand, and start a criminal prosecution on his claim?"

"Yes. Is it not infamous?"

"It is imbecile. Oh, that we had had an understanding before. It would have saved you from much anxiety. I could have told you a month ago, what I tell you now. The man has a wife and children now living."

Rose gasped for breath, as she sprang nearer her friend, and gazed wildly into her face, exclaiming:

"Is this so? Do you know it of your own knowledge? Where is the woman?"

Laura sank back upon the sofa. She had spoken too quickly and too much—more than she could prove. She did not know of her own knowledge that Thugsen had a wife; she had only the word of the self-styled wife, who did not even bear his name, and who had behaved very strangely in running

Extravagantly Low Price

Treasury Stock, Non-Assessable, for a limited time, only, at 2c. per share, in the LOON CREEK MINING AND INVESTMENT CO.

We have the ore, we have good roads, we have no salaried officials and all of the money received from the sale of this stock is to go into the actual development of the property. Our property is endorsed by the State mine inspector, and is in the same district as the rich "LOST PACKER" mine, who have recently installed a smelter.

When this block of stock is disposed of no other will be offered at such an extravagantly low price.

Secretary Loon Creek Mining and Investment Co.,

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 300,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 250 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with your dollars, for your part will quickly grow. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

ADISCOVERY OF GREAT VALUE

Because a Cure Was Found for Inflammatory Rheumatism.

There are many types of rheumatism but none worse than inflammatory.

It was this kind that almost killed Mrs. Edw. Warman, of Kent Jct. N. B.

Every known remedy she tried, different doctors gave their advice, but the disease increased.

Weak and despairing, she was at her wits' end when the remarkable cure of Thos. Cullen was published. This gentleman was cured of rheumatism by "Ferrozone." Consequently Mrs. Warman used the same remedy. Here is her statement:

"For years I have been rheumatic. I tried various forms of relief without success. The disease increased, settled in my joints and muscles; these swelled, caused excruciating pain and kept me from sleeping My limbs and arms stiffened, my shoulders were lame and prevented me from working. Week by week I was losing strength and despaired of finding a cure. It was a happy day I heard of Ferrozone. Every day I took Ferrozone I felt better; it eased the painful joints, gave me energy and a feeling of new life. Ferrozone cured my rheumatism, cured it so that not an ache has ever returned. Even damp weather no longer affects me."

Ferrozone has power to destroy Uric Acid, neutralize and enrich the blood, and therefore does cure the worst cases. Mrs. Warman's statement proves this.

By removing the cause of the disease and building up a reserve of energy Ferrozone is certain to cure. Sufferer, isn't it about time to stop experimenting? Ferrozone is a cure. We guarantee this. Sold by all dealers. 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50. Remember the name—"Ferrozone."

Sewer Connection to be Compulsory

The Board of Works has passed the following resolution which speaks sufficiently for itself, it being presented to that branch of the city government by the Board of Health.

Your Board of Health and Sanitary Inspector recommended that the following places be connected with the sewer, "All places on the east side of Water street between Hunter and King streets; also on the west side of George street between King and Dalhousie; also on both sides of McDonel, between Bethune and Stewart streets; also that Matheral's terrace at corner of George and Murray streets, also the terrace on the north side of London street, east of George; also the house occupied by George Carton, so as to do away with the cess pool.

It was the opinion of the chairman that some action along such lines should be taken, but whether the district recommended by the Board of Health should be adopted or not, is a question. The city could, however, set aside any district where sewers are constructed and compel all houses to use the sewer.

Moved by Ald. Elliott and Ald. Johnston that a bylaw be prepared adopting the Board of Health's recommendation.

Contractor Writes re Day Labor

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I read with much satisfaction the manly and straightforward article contained in your issue of yesterday relating to the unsatisfactory results obtained by the recent action of the city in building their sewers by day labor instead of letting contracts for such work.

Now, whilst your article clearly shows the unfairness and expensive results involved by this recent fad, you neglected, presumably by oversight, to include a strong argument against the day labor system. You clearly showed how the day labor system will, in all probability, result in unsatisfactory work at greater cost than by contract work, but you did not mention anything about the bonds involved by contract work and the value for which the city does the work.

Are you not aware that where a contractor tenders on a city sewer he has to get two bondsmen for double the amount involved in building such sewer? Are you aware that even after the contractor's work is completed, 15 per cent. of his tender is retained by the city for a whole year, whilst his bondsmen are, during the whole year following, under double liabilities.

Under such circumstances is it any wonder that the city can tender at a price that no contractor could make a living at, nor even break even, this is apart altogether from the admitted fact that the work done by day labor is such as would not be passed by the city engineer, if done by contractors.

Again thanking you for your straight forward and public spirited article

Yours truly,
CONTRACTOR.

Mr. Dennis Hurley's Death.

The many friends in this city and county will learn with deep regret that in the person of Mr. Dennis Hurley, another old resident of Asphodel is gone. Mr. Hurley was 71 years of age and was born on the farm where he died, and was buried in the burying grounds on the same farm, after having lived there all his life. He leaves to mourn his loss, a widow and ten children besides a brother, Mr. J. T. Hurley of Peterborough, and Mrs. Dr. Coughlin, of Hastings, is a niece.

Hockey Expert May Settle Here.

Mr Harry Brown, an old Belleville hockey player, who was on that team when the Bay City players put it over the locals, was in the city yesterday. Mr Brown is now travelling representative of the McDonald cigar company of Kingston. Mr. Brown, in conversation with a Times representative, said he is seriously considering settling in This city; if so the local hockey team will be augmented by a good player.

Upset by Squall Whilst Sailing.

Whilst Mr. J. E. Belcher, the popular local engineering expert was at Chemong, Indian Village this week, superintending the erection of a church there, he saw an Indian run a close shave from death by drowning. It seems that another Indian named Flam, in Mr. Belcher's employment for the day, seeing the man he rescued, sailing in a canoe, and upset by a squall had some difficulty in saving him.

Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M.D., of Bennet Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M.D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M.D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening drains, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidingly takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. THE BANK CASE AGAIN ADJOURNED

Will Proceed on Nov. 5—Shareholders to Have Preliminary Hearing.

Toronto, Oct. 27.—President Cockburn and General Manager McGill of the Ontario Bank were called in the police court this morning. Mr. McGill was present in person, and Mr. Cockburn was represented by Mr. Grierson. Mr. Frank Arnoldi's partner. Bell were remanded until Friday next, when another remand will be granted until the following Monday. Both the Crown and the defence will be ready to go on then, and the preliminary hearing is expected to last three consecutive days.

Mr. McGee's application renewed for bail, but Mr. Thomson K. McIntyre was afraid that he would not be in the city when the case again came up.

"If you are not," volunteered Mr. P. C. Larkin, "I'll take your place."

Mr. Larkin was already surety for $7,500. The two would be $12,500.

"That's satisfactory," acquiesced his worship. "By the way, I have several important cases on my hands just now, and I don't want them to clash."

Mr. Bain, acting prosecutor in the absence of Mr. Bicknell, thought he would be ready to proceed a week from Monday, and Mr. Grant, Mr. E. F. B. Johnston's partner, believed that his colleague would be ready also. So it was settled.

"Now gentlemen," Magistrate Denison said to the bondsmen, "all you have to do next Friday is to appear and renew your bonds. It can be done in five minutes. I'll not detain you."

Apart from a slight nervousness of manner, Mr. McGill seemed to be in fair health and spirits. He stood among the lawyers while in court.

WANTS A BROKER'S BOOKS.

Mr. A. D. Braithwaite, the new general manager of the Ontario Bank, applied yesterday to the Toronto office of a New York brokerage firm for a production of the local books, which are supposed to show Mr. McGill's speculations on the New York stock market.

While declining for the present to do as requested, the Toronto broker said he had no objection to giving up the books, provided he was assured that he was handing them over to the proper authorities. In all probability the Crown will be asked to demand the records in question.

Mr. C. Goode, a shareholder of the Ontario Bank, is anxious to have a meeting of the shareholders for the purpose of organizing some time before the general meeting. As it is impossible to secure a list of shareholders Mr. Goode would be glad if shareholders would communicate with him, so that as many as possible might be represented at a meeting to be held in the near future. His office is in the Goderham Building.

Gold Mine Stock a Money Maker

Tribune Gold Mining and Milling Make an Attractive Offer.

A study of the various gold mine stocks now on the market is most interesting reading, and demonstrates clearly the almost limitless possibilities for making rich profits on small outlay. Many a gold mine stock that was originally sold in the open market from 6 cents to 50 cents per share is today worth ten times as many dollars. It is easily to be understood that on the inception of a mining company, even though rich veins are in sight, the company, to develop and put this mine on a paying basis, has to raise capital by selling stock at a low figure. Of course when the mine begins to have an output that pays the working expenses, the sale is at once withdrawn, and each stock as has been sold rapidly soars in value.

Ever, when getting in on the ground floor of a mining stock two things should be considered, first whether the property owned by such company has the ore and of what value per ton, and secondly what class of men constitute the directorate.

The Tribune Gold Mining Co. with offices in the Tacoma Building, Chicago, Ill., has a property containing over one thousand feet of ore vein opened, one vein over thirty feet wide on the surface. In the lower tunnel is a vein twelve feet wide, which will average over $500 to the ton. The average ore of their mines runs in value from $10 to $20 per ton and will cost $3 per ton to operate; with such ore it is needless to say that the future of this property means rich returns to original ground floor stockholders.

The officers and directors of the Tribune Company are men of high standing in Chicago, and skilled experts in mining.

For a limited time only the company are offering stock for sale with a par value of $1 per share, at five cents per share, and monthly instalment payments accepted. For full particulars write The Tribune Gold Mining and Milling Co., Suite 1108, Tacoma Building, Chicago, Ill.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

At yesterday's session of the police court a young man was charged with having been found drunk in a public place. He pleaded guilty. The chief noted that some boys accused the defendant with pointing a revolver at them. The gun was not on the prisoner when arrested.

Mr. McWilliams appeared for the defendant.

Owing to the youth of the defendant the magistrate fined him $2 and costs, $4.85, to be paid forthwith.

Mr. McWilliams appealed to the magistrate not to make the fine payable at once. However the magistrate was obdurate. His fine was paid shortly afterwards.

Mr. W. Murray is Buried at Haliburton

Mr. Jas. Murray, a former resident of this city, but now a resident of New Liskeard, N.O., passed through Peterborough yesterday on his way to Haliburton. His present trip is a sad one being to take part in the obsequies of his brother, Mr. Wm. Murray one of the pioneer settlers of New Liskeard. The late Mr. Murray passed away in New Liskeard on the 19th inst after a brief illness. Mr. Murray was buried at Haliburton the scene of his childhood's days, and which settlement he left when only a boy. The deceased whilst well known and popular among his many acquaintances leaves neither a widow nor family.

Milkman Drives Over a Child

With Callous Indifference the Man Drives on Without Assisting the Baby.

Yesterday morning about 11 o'clock what might have proved and unfortunately may still possibly result as a fatal accident occurred at the corner of George and Sherbrook Sts.

It seems that a little toddler of only one and one-half years old was crossing George street at the point above designated, when a milkman driving his cart south along George street, turning west at Sherbrooke street, not, apparently seeing the infant in time, drove his vehicle over the baby. The child was picked up by a passerby and carried into its mother's residence over Gow Jim's butcher shop on the corner noted.

The baby was most severely injured one of its little legs being badly bruised, bleeding and the skin scraped off the limb. Dr. McNulty was at once summoned by telephone.

One of the hardest features of this sad accident was that the milkman, who, whether by accident, as it is charitably presumed, or through careless, which is as to be hoped was not the case, although fully cognizant of this toddling infant being injured by his rig, did not even stop to enquire as to the damage done or make any effort to assist in having the baby picked up. At a late hour last night it was ascertained that whilst the baby was doing fairly well, it is still questionable as to who the final result will be.

An Adventurous Correspondent

Few newspapers in the United States are able to command the services of as brilliant a corps of correspondents as The Chicago Record-Herald. Its coup of Walter Wellman to represent it at Washington is a good illustration of its wise policy of getting the best there is to be had. Mr. Wellman has won a national reputation as a magnetic and resourceful newspaper writer. And now he is preparing to clinch his reputation for originality and daring by trying to reach the north pole in an airship.

Whatever may be the result of Mr. Wellman's daring attempt to reach the pole this summer in an airship and send the news of the voyage at once to The Record-Herald by wireless telegraphy, the Wellman-Record-Herald expedition is sure to be conducted by Mr. Wellman with the same good courage and whole-souled enthusiasm that [illegible] correspondent.

Mr. Wellman was born in Mentor, Ohio, in 1858. At 14 he began his newspaper experience, starting at that age a weekly paper in the little town of Sutton, Neb. In 1881 he made his first dash for the pole, reaching the latitude of 81 degrees northeast of Spitzbergen. In 1898 he tried the same fascinating quest again, penetrating as far as Franz Josef Land. On both trips he had wonderful success in discovering new islands and securing new scientific data which have been of great value to the American Geographical Society. His contributions writings for scientific periodicals and popular magazines have shown the same incisive thought and keen insight that have marked his journalistic work.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

APPOINTMENT OF A SANITARY INSPECTOR

Discussed by City Council and Board of Health Last Night—Ald. Ball Defends Dr. Bingham.

The Committee of the Whole City Council met the Board of Health last night to discuss the enforcement of the amended act re purity of water supply to consumers.

There were present: Mayor Beal and Aldermen McIntyre, Ball, Johnston, McWilliams, Wilson, Moore, Graham and Elliott; Messrs. Wm. Eyres, R. Neill, Dr. McNulty and Dr. Bingham, of the Board of Health; Water Commissioners, T. F. Matthews, W. H. Hall, and Superintendent Henderson.

Mr. Eyres, chairman Board of Health, was voted into the chair.

Mr. Eyres pointed out that Dr. Hodgetts of the Provincial Board of Health, under instructions from the Legislature, had inspected the waters leading into Peterborough, from which we draw our water for domestic service, and found such waters to be badly polluted and in a deplorably unsanitary condition. Under the new act Dr. Hodgetts had posted notices from Stony Lake down to Peterborough, warning persons against polluting the waters under a penalty of $100 for each offence, and it was up to the City Council, Mr. Eyres said, to appoint a man to enforce that law.

Mr. Matthews thought the city should appoint a man to enforce the law in this respect; but he did not know what power the Water Commissioners had in this matter.

Mr. R. Neill pointed out that the Board of Health had practically no machinery with which to intelligently arrive at the sanitary condition of the town. In Brantford a sanitary inspector is employed at a salary of $800 a year, and a doctor at a salary of $1200 per annum; they have the proper machinery with which to make tests, and consequently the sanitary condition of Brantford is highly satisfactory and such a system is badly needed in Peterborough. Whatever man is appointed in Peterborough for sanitary or milk inspection, he should be a thoroughly capable and responsible official, a also must be the medical health officer.

Ald. McWilliams asked the Water Commissioners if they recognize that the pollution of the water above the [illegible] during the appointment of a man to prevent such pollution.

Mr. T. F. Matthews answered in the affirmative and thought the city should appoint an inspector.

Dr. McNulty acquiesced in this view, and contended that if the pollution of the waters above the water works intake pipe is continued the city will soon come to be subjected to a serious epidemic of typhoid [illegible].

Messrs. Hall, D. and Dingham, said that as there is no filter at the intake pipe there may be some danger of pollution to the water served for drinking purposes. He considered the doctor, there has been and as very few cases of infectious diseases this year.

Mr. Henderson pointed out that to move the intake pipe further out into the stream, as had been advised would endanger the system from anchor ice. He did not agree with Dr. Hodgett's opinion from an engineering standpoint. Mr. Fuller, of New York, who had been called into consultation re Peterborough's water supply had offered his opinion that our water works system was one of the best on the continent.

Mr. T. F. Matthews said it was very important that the city should appoint a thoroughly competent inspector to control the sanitary affairs of the town, with adequate machinery, under the supervision of an able medical health officer.

Ald. Johnston here asked if the city appointed a sanitary inspector, the Water Commissioners would pay such portion of his time given to the prevention of water pollution.

To Ald. Johnston, Mr. Matthews replied that the Water Commissioners should not be taxed for that portion of an inspector's salary incurred in preventing the pollution of water. As taxpayers, the water consumers would have to pay their share of the expenses connected with all sanitary measures, and it would not be fair to tax them double because they use the city water instead of well water.

Ald. Wilson did not think the expenses connected with this measure sufficient yearly to make a point of dividing the responsibility, and control of an inspector. The city should assume all responsibility in this respect, monetary and otherwise.

Mr. T. F. Matthews replied that the Water Commissioners could very well pay the whole salary of a sanitary inspector without affecting the individual water consumer to any very visible extent; still, as a matter of principle, the Water Commissioners would oppose the suggestion of Ald. Johnston that the Water Commissioners pay a specific share of the expenses connected with sanitary measures.

Considerable cross-firing here arose as to under whose supervision the appointment and maintenance of a sanitary inspector should come—the City Council's or the Board of Health.

Dr. McNulty suggested that the Board of Health should control the appointment of both health officer and sanitary inspector, but the council should finance these offices.

Ald. McWilliams thought he City Council should assume all responsibility in these matters. he did not believe in dividing the responsibility between two bodies.

Ald. Elliott offered that as the council appointed the Board of Health and the medical health officer, so should they name the sanitary inspector and control the office.

Messrs. Neill and Matthews took exception to this, and urged that the Board of Health, who have no other duties than safeguarding the sanitary conditions of the city, should be better qualified to control the office of sanitary inspector than the council who have the city's general business under their care. The city should however, pay all expenses connected with this office.

Dr. McNulty offered that two men should be employed to look after the city's sanitary condition. One efficient health officer to enforce sanitary measures, and a scientific man to make intelligent tests of water, milk, etc. As medical specialists could be contended, make the necessary sanitary tests in two hours each day, while the inspector would have to devote his whole time to his duties.

Ald. McWilliams moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston.—That the Board of Health be asked to define the duties, as far as possible, of the proposed sanitary inspector.—Carried.

The discussion on the part of the Board of Health indicated that they desired the appointment of another medical health officer to replace Dr. Bingham.

Mr. Neill here asked if the council were willing to make an appointment sufficient to look after the city's health in every respect.

Ald. McWilliams replied that the council wished to be convinced that there is sufficient sanitary work to warrant the appointment of a sanitary inspector in conjunction with Dr. Bingham, the medical health officer.

Mr. R. Neill replied that the Board of Health had all evening been endeavoring to convince the council of Dr. Bingham's inefficiency.

Ald. Ball resented that Dr. Bingham had the confidence of the City Council as evidenced by their act in increasing his salary this year.

Mr. Eyres contended that Dr. Bingham had proven a failure in looking after the health of the city, and asserted that he had had to do considerable work which should have been accomplished by the doctor.

Dr. Bingham replied that Mr. Eyres had made general statements against him, and when a man indulges in general statements he is guilty of slander. Mr. Eyre's charges, he said, are in retaliation for my preventing the Board of Health from destroying city wells and endangering the health of young children. I defy Mr. Eyres to show any neglect on my part of the [illegible] office I fill. What does he know about it any way coming here from among the Blazers."

Ald. Elliott—"If Dr. Bingham is not able to fill the bill it is because of his age and infirmity, and not from want of the necessary qualifications."

Ald. Wilson—"Dr. McNulty has said that two hours' labor each day is all that would be required by the medical health officer to make all necessary tests, and is not Dr. Bingham able to give that time intelligently?"

Dr. McNulty—"There is not one or two men in the city capable of undertaking this work, which requires a specialist, and a young man of acute eyesight, and with the detail of nerves, which Dr. Bingham's age necessarily denies him."

Ald. Ball did not agree with Dr. McNulty. He had not much faith with specialists, the parading of whom is much of a fad business with medical men. Most of these young specialists come out of the colleges not with knowledge, but with gall and cheek. He strongly eulogized Dr. Bingham's efficiency and reiterated that the council are perfectly satisfied with him as a competent medical health officer.

Mr. Eyres complained of lack of harmony between Dr. Bingham and the Board of Health.

Dr. Bingham replied that that arose because of his carrying out the city's instructions in the face of opposition from the Board. Mr. Hays built a terrace and was authorized to construct for the same an acceptable cesspool. In spite of this Mr. Eyres and Mr. Neill had desired him to withhold the permit for such cesspool, which he refused to comply with.

Mr. Neill denied any knowledge of this matter.

His Worship here pointed out that the meeting was not called to discuss Dr. Bingham's efficiency, but the question of appointing a sanitary inspector to act under Dr. Bingham. In this the council heartily concurred, and Ald. McWilliams's resolution above outlined, was voted on and carried.

STAGNANT WATER.

R. R. Hall, M.P., Mr. W. H. Meldrum of the Peterborough Cereal Co., and Mr. R. E. Wood for Col. Rogers of the Peterborough Canoe Company, waited upon the council with a view to arriving at a satisfactory solution of the nuisance arising from stagnant water at Col. Roger's property, caused by an obstruction of the free flow of water, the result of filling in by the city of the river front between the C.P.R. spur line and main shore.

Mr. R. R. Hall said the Peterborough Cereal Company are prepared to carry out their agreement to lay a conduit pipe of 150 feet through the land created by them at their premises. This, however, would necessitate the city continuing said piping to the southern boundary of King St. and then cutting an opening through the railway embankment into the main stream. He considered this, however would be a futile expenditure as the drain thus created would be practically dry for many months in the year.

A view of this locality will show that the city in their filling in between the railway and the water front have left a narrow stream along the shore, necessitated by lack of any arrangements between the Government and interested property owners for totally blocking the flow of water at this point.

Mr. R. R. Hall offered that as the Government will make further appropriations for dredging the river, the city's property might be filled in right up to the shore line and down to the southern boundary of King St., where if necessary a cutting could be made through into the river. This surely would satisfy Col. Rogers and remove any possible nuisance from stagnant water.

Mr. R. E. Wood suggested that the city should at his point fill in beyond the railway track for such a distance as Col. Rogers is entitled to by his deed.

Ald. McWilliams moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson.—That the mayor, Aldermen Adams and Elliott be a committee to arrange with the C.P.R., the Government and Col. Rogers, for filling in as outlined above, and providing for a free flow of water to abate any present nuisance.—Carried.

Lead, Zinc, & Silver Ore of Great Value

In this issue there appears a large half page advertisement that is well worth careful attention, especially by those seeking a profitable channel for investment of their surplus capital.

Mr. E. A. Cushman, treasurer of the Stanley Smelting Works of Bannockburn, who, as noted in The Times of yesterday's issue, was in the city on Thursday, and brought here some samples of the richest lead, zinc and silver ores that were ever seen in Peterborough, and who left that night for Toronto, will on Tuesday or Wednesday, run a free excursion to the mines owned by his company, in order that present and prospective buyers of stock may know exactly what they are investing in.

To quote Mr. Cushman's words "We don't want a single man to put a dollar in our mine without first seeing exactly what we have got. If we can only get capitalists, large business or small to see the countless tons of richest zinc, lead and silver ore on our property, the only trouble would be to say when to stop the sale and advance the prices."

In this mine, the amount of ore actually in sight, is almost beyond credulity. The ore is almost pure metal. Within four years the Stanley Smelting Works has spent, in actual cash, $150,000 in developments, and have, in the present crude manner of working, cleared over [illegible] in profits $100,000. It is interesting to consider under such circumstances, what the results will be in the future, when a modern and comprehensive plant is installed. Without doubt the stock of the company now quoted at par, (with lead at $100 a ton as at present) will quickly be rated at many times the present rate. We strongly advise intending investors to seriously investigate the ads in this issue.

Ketchecum Lake Club Returns

And now the Ketchecum Lake Fishing Club has sent back to the city their members looking ruddy, ugly and capable of breaking down a Fairbank's platform scale that would venture to test the invidious gained respectively by these marauds from the north.

The members of the club, comprising Messrs Harry Winch, E. A. Peck, J. J. Lundy, W. J. McCallum, Henderson Nesbitt, W. H. Denham, W. S. Davidson, and L. G. Bennett of Port Hope, report having had one of the times of their lives. The weather was fine, in fact most too fine for good fishing. The fish did not bite well, however the sport was good and the boys brought lots of fish home. The largest fish was caught by Mr. J. J. Lundy, which tried several times to double under his boat. Most of the fishing was done in Baker Lake, Beetle Lake and sometimes in Ketchecum lake.

The fishermen, whilst studying nature, in the forest primeval saw lots of bear tracks, and also learned something of the movement of the deer, and they predict good sport for the hunters who will go out next week.

Among the visitors to the camp, were Alex. Simpson and son, Theodore, of Otonabee.

LITTLE LIQUOR IS SMUGGLED

Upon Most of it Brought Into Canada Custom's Duty is Collected

ST. PIERRE MIQUELON

Is No Longer, as in the Past, the Home of the Smuggler—Its Glory Has Departed.

Ottawa, Oct. 27.—The glory of St. Pierre Miquelon as the home of the smuggler has departed. For years thousands of gallons of rum, brandy, whiskey and wines were brought into Canada from the French colony, despite all efforts to stop the traffic. Only in recent years have means been found to lessen the traffic, until now there is comparatively little liquor of any kind brought into Canada upon which a Customs duty is not collected.

Mr. Fred L. Jones, who since 1897, has been chief of the Canadian Government's preventive service, is the man responsible for bringing about the improved condition of affairs. As an official of the Customs Department he has been allowed practically a free hand in the work which has been conducted with great secrecy. But now that the smuggling has been practically stopped, Mr. Jones is willing to speak of what has been accomplished.

When seen yesterday Mr. Jones said that he was prepared to produce figures to show that, excepting in a small way, perhaps, smuggling from St. Pierre Miquelon is practically a thing of the past.

"There is a wrong impression abroad," said Mr. Jones at the outset, "that the liquor which, until recently, was smuggled into Canada in such large quantities, is made on the island. That is a mistake. The brandies, wines and whiskies came from France, and in addition to this, large quantities of West Indian rum were brought into Canada. This rum was first brought to Halifax, where it was placed in bond, and then shipped to St. Pierre, where it paid a nominal duty of $8 cents per gallon. From there it was sent over to points on the Nova Scotia coast and the Gulf of St. Lawrence in small vessels.

Palace Cigar Store is to Open Today

[illegible] Mr. M. Pappas grandly furnished new Palace Cigar shop, in the premises recently vacated by the former Palace Hotel, will open for business as well as the pool room to the rear. Unfortunately owing to delay and unfulfilled promises of the Toronto firm, which supplied and are supplying the fittings and fixtures, the barber shop department will not be ready for business for a few days. The new cigar store is beyond doubt the most handsomely fitted up outside Toronto and Montreal, and very few shops even in these larger cities, in any way compare with this Peterborough establishment. Plate glass mirrors and modern fixtures of the richest kind make a splendid store. Mr. Pappas, although a young man, is one of the most enterprising business men in the Province having branch stores in Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, London and Brantford.

This store has been fixed up by Mr. W. H. Berry, who has done most commendable work. Whilst unpacking, putting into place, and securing hundreds of dollars worth of expensive plate glass mirrors, not a single break has occurred.

Silver Wedding of Local Interest

Last night a silver wedding of quite considerable local interest was celebrated in good and proper style at 276 Euclid avenue, Toronto.

In this city are many old friends of Mr. J. D. Bland, who for over thirty years has called upon the jewellery trade of this city in the interests of Mr. Jos. M. Davis, wholesale jeweller of the Queen City.

Mr. Bland who is one of the best known and popular travellers now on the road in this part of the Dominion, after calling on his many customers in Peterborough yesterday, was noticed by those to whom he was best known, to be some what anxious and unusually nervous. After a considerable amount of "pumping," Mr. Bland admitted his desire to catch the Boat for Toronto, in order to participate in the ceremonies to be observed there in connection with his silver wedding.

While the exact 25th anniversary of Mr. Bland's wedding is today, for reasons too obvious to require an explanation, his silver wedding was celebrated last night instead of Saturday night. A telephone message, received late last night from our special correspondent, assured The Times that some fifty guests gathered at Mr. Bland's residence, laden not only with fitting and tangible expression of their regard and esteem, cat with a fixed and finally proven determination to both congratulate their host and hostess and also carry away a most pleasing recollection of this auspicious event. Mr. Bland is one of the best known and most universally respected "drummers" leaving Toronto.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle, of Moncton, N. B., Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for women's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was 'nerve exhaustion' and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, gave me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the place of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

TRADE SCHOOLS NEEDED

There is great and ever increasing demand for skilled mechanics, not only in Peterborough but throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion. A writer in one of the Toronto papers makes a very sensible suggestion for the welfare of the community, to the effect that trade schools are now necessary in which the work of the high school could be supplemented and carried out by teaching boys and girls a complete knowledge of some trade. That no such opportunity is afforded by any school now in existence is one of the anomalies of this virile community, and it is a startling commentary upon modern ways in teaching.

In fact, it is almost impossible for the average boy or girl nowadays to learn a trade at all, owing to the fact that labor unions restrict the number of their apprentices to as few as possible, and the work in factories and trades is mostly done by piecemeal, in which each employe learns only a small part of the business. This would seem almost incredible in this day and generation which boasts of its schools and advanced educational methods, but it is true that it is harder to get the opportunity nowadays than it is to study a profession. The country suffers with a painful surplusage of professional men, briefless lawyers and starving young doctors, but there is a great scarcity of skilled mechanics and an ever increasing demand for their labor.

Every boy should be taught a trade, if possible, even though he may not intend to practice it as a means of gaining a livelihood. A good mechanic is always sure of a living, while many ambitious young men waste their lives in professions for which they have no aptitude. Many a good mechanic is spoiled in making a poor lawyer, doctor or preacher. To know a trade increases a young man's self-reliance and gives him a sense of independence. Many of the world's most distinguished professional men and scientists find their greatest diversion in working in their leisure hours at a trade which they learned in their youth. And many a man has utterly missed his vocation and finds himself too late a failure because he has driven into some business or profession before he learned where his talents lay. Besides a trade school would solve most of the young problems of criminology. Many boys and girls drift into crime from not knowing how to do anything but the most menial labor to make a living. Satan always has mischief for idle hands to do and he gets a great many who would be kept busy at a trade if they knew one.

Canada may not have within its gates a great philanthropist like Peter Cooper, who left an honorable legacy to New York in the great training school he founded for poor young men in which to learn a trade and to study the mechanical arts and sciences. But sure there are enough philanthropic minded men and women in this rich and progressive country to combine their means and talents in such a great benefaction as Peter Cooper's which extends its blessings to working young men and women from generation to generation.

KEENE

According to announcement, the Sons of Heat met in the hall of wisdom on Saturday night last. At seven o'clock the hall was crowded to the door and several of the brethren were compelled to sit on the window sills. Amongst the visiting brethren were noticed the familiar faces of Tough Gowie, Sturdy Loockes and Goldtooth Paudloch. At the opening hour the president came in arrayed in a new arctic suit of broadcloth, with top boots and a silk hat to match the rest of his raggery. After carefully laying aside his silk hat and cane he took the chair and opened the meeting by a short prayer. He then declared the meeting open for business. Cockatoo Elliot rose and moved that Goldtooth Paudach favor us with a speech. Positive Legget seconded Cockatoo's motion and it was carried unanimously. Goldtooth then rose and in a very consequential manner addressed the brethren as follows: Dear brethren, I anticipate that it is unnecessary for me to introduce myself to you Keene brethren, as I have so frequently met you in your own village as well as in Hiawatha. Permit me to tell you that this is the first occasion that I have had the privilege as well as the honor of addressing a Keene audience. I feel that I would be in error tonight if I did not give expression to my feelings of friendship to the brethren of this society. I declare to you without exaggeration that I both love and respect you. The "One" matter I wish to mention to you tonight is that we have on two occasions been favored with a visit of Tom Deadeye, your district organizer, in our village. I am very sorry to relate to you that he on both occasions disgraced himself by making love to and kissing a sister squaw very much against her will. I wish to state to you before taking my seat that, irrespective of Tom Deadeye, I have always found the brethren of Keene very courteous and obliging to all my colored friends. May God bless you each individually and collectively. With these few preliminary remarks I beg leave to, you to take my seat. The president then suggested to proceed with general business as the closing hour was fast approaching. Fatty Drummond rose to his feet and informed the president that he had several serious charges to lay against Floridale Dickson. In the first place I charge him with falsely reporting the capture of a bird for truly he never had his clutches on it and in all probability never will. In the next place I charge him with talking in his sleep and using vain language, disturbing the slumber of the whole household. Lastly I charge him with boasting of having game on a string when in reality contained nothing but emptiness. The president jumped up and stamped his feet with rage at Floridale and told him that he intended to be very severe on him tonight; therefore for these charges impose a fine of two thousand dollars, to be paid in two weeks or imprisonment for five years with hard labor. I warn you also to take a dose of soothing syrup every night before retiring and do not forget to soak your head in buttermilk for at least twenty minutes every morning. Goodtooth Pue laid a charge against Jackplane Shearer for storing dirty nails in his mouth. The president fined Jackplane five dollars, to be cash down or trouble will be sure to follow. The president now asked Positive Legget and Tobias Brown to sing the closing ode. They sang the ode not too bad, but made several discords. The meeting was then closed until next Saturday at 7.30 in the hall of wisdom.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Are Never Without Pe-ru-na in the Home for Catarrhal Diseases.

MR. S. D. FOSS, 116 S. E. 6th street, Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"I wish to congratulate you on your medicine, Peruna. I have been a sufferer with catarrh of the stomach for over two years, but since I have commenced to take your remedy I have been steadily improving until now I can safely say I feel no more of my old trouble, and as a matter of course, I will always have a good word for Peruna.

A GOOD WORD FOR PE-RU-NA.

"I recommend it to all my friends."

Mrs. Magdalena Winkler, Route 4, Westminster, Md., writes:

"I thank you very much for your advice. I can safely say that Peruna and Manalin have saved my life.

"When I wrote to you the first time, asking your advice, my condition was so poor that I did not expect to live through the winter, but now I am perfectly healthy. I cannot praise your medicine enough and I recommend it to others."

PRAISE FOR PE-RU-NA.

T. T. Markland, a well-known business man of Cincinnati, O., writes from 2100 Woodburn Ave., as follows:

GAINED 10 LBS. IN WEIGHT.

"I can now breathe with ease, and also my cough is stopped. I had it for six months before I took down with the grip.

"I took no other medicine but Peruna and it accomplished all. You told me in your first letter that Peruna would cure me and it has.

"I am seventy-three years old and can attend to my work and business as usual."

Mrs. Theone Mikkelson, Brigham City, Utah, writes:

"I wish to thank you for all the good Peruna has done me. I am entirely free from the cough which used to bother me so much every winter.

"My kidneys are also in good condition, and I feel stronger and better all over. For all these I give the credit to your excellent medicine, Peruna. I am pleased to recommend it to everybody."

WILL NOW TRAIN MEN OF BRAWN

System of Technical Education Established in Nova Scotia

FIRST SCHOOL IS OPENED

Start of a Chain That Will Ultimately Extend Throughout all the Industrial Centres.

Halifax, N.S. Oct. 26—The Cape Breton Technical School, which started work at Sydney yesterday, is the first step in a movement now well organized to establish a system of technical education in Nova Scotia.

For the past three years Dalhousie University has conducted a chain of night schools in industrial centers in an attempt to reach the workmen and to give them some theoretical training along lines in which they were already practically engaged.

The courses, which included geometry, chemistry and coal mining were more or less of an experimental but were thoroughly successful, pupils entering from the collieries, the steel works, and even from business and professional life.

TRAINING OF MEN.

Two years ago King's College also established classes in Sydney and Glace Bay, with two purposes—the collegiate training of men in an engineering school, which it had established for which the industries of Sydney and the mining activities of Glace Bay and Sydney Mines offered splendid vantages; the trades school training of artisans in the same way as the courses already offered.

In the course of this program the King's College Engineering School erected in Sydney at some expense, an engineering building with lecture rooms and laboratories. The result was that there was overlapping of fields in Cape Breton of two universities, and a few weeks ago an agreement to consolidate their interests was concluded.

By this change King's College relinquishes its training of students for collegiate degrees in the several branches of engineering.

TRADE SCHOOL CLASSES.

In the place of the two sets of trade school classes, conducted last winter by the Dalhousie and King's interests, there appears a new school, stronger, because of the co-operation of the two parties and covering at present Sydney and Glace Bay in its field of operations.

Directors of the school are fortunate in attaining a combination of theoretical and practical men from the collieries and steel plants as their staff of instructors.

The establishment of this school paves the way for establishment of a Provincial school of technology for higher technical education under control of Provincial Government. The prospective increase in the subsidies from the Federal Government and the growing revenue from coal royalties will enable the Government to undertake this work.

A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. COAL

A Second Crow's Nest

Coal is actually today the greatest commodity of the world. With coal we run our mills and factories and our great railroads; with coal we propel our ships, provide our navies, and warm our homes; with coal we generate and produce electricity, with a few exceptions, where water power is available, but there are not very many Niagara Falls, however; with coal we produce iron, copper, lead, silver, gold, and all other metals that we need, and must have, because all of those metals are to be found mixed in with the rock and in the ore.

Without coal we could not make coke, and coke made from a certain kind of high-class bituminous coal is the only fuel yet known to man that produces a heat intense enough to melt ore and hard rock into a liquid, by which process we are enabled to extract the metals we need.

England would not be the great world-power she is today if it was not for her inexhaustible supply of coal.

Coal is the basis of all industrial and commercial wealth.

Coal mining in British Columbia has always been a great success. It is a great deal like diamond mining in South Africa—a bonanza of the first magnitude.

The great mountain barrier of the Rockies shuts out the eastern coal, leaving the great Pacific coast to be supplied by the British Columbia fields, excepting a small tonnage from the State of Washington of a very inferior quality; in fact, so poor that the United States navy of the Pacific division get all of their supply from the Dunsmuir Coal Mines on Vancouver Island, and pay the duty on it, but neither the Washington nor the Vancouver Island coal is of any use for furnace and smelters coke, because the coal from both of these places contains a great deal of sulphur, and does not make good smelters coke.

Nevertheless, Dunsmuir made millions after millions every year from mining coal, and died a few years ago the richest man in Canada. He made it all from coal, and his mines will be productive for generations to come, and are worth more today than thirty-five years ago, when first opened up.

OPPORTUNITY.

To see it, and grasp it in time makes a man the master of his destiny. DO YOU WANT TO MAKE MONEY HONESTLY, AND LOTS OF IT? Would you like to become interested in a coal proposition in British Columbia, and make $10,000 in three to four years from now on an investment of $500.00? We offer you the opportunity to do this.

You have $200.00, $500.00 or $1000.00 or whatever the case may be, in bank, drawing 3 per cent. interest yearly. Does this satisfy you, when you can many times double your money in one year in an investment like this we offer you?

PUT YOUR SAVINGS IN COAL. It is safe, and as good as Government bonds. There are no "ifs" about coal mining. There never was known a failure in coal in British Columbia, if quantity and quality and shipping facilities were assured, and the business was managed right and honestly.

The price of coal and the commercial value is always advancing from year to year, whereas the demand is increasing enormously every year.

Millions and millions of dollars have been made in coal mining year after year by all those engaged in the business, and to prove this we refer to the statistics on hand for the year 1902, where it is shown that nine of the leading bituminous coal mines in the United States and Canada made the enormous profits of $87,450,581 (nine years earnings).

There is no field of investment more absolutely safe and profitable than coal mining.

We now offer to the public 100,000 shares of the British Columbia Amalgamated Coal Company's treasury stock at the low rate of

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER SHARE.

The par value of this stock is one dollar, and is fully paid, and non-assessable, and shareholders are exempt from personal liability. Once paid and secured it is settled for ever.

This Amalgamated Coal Company controls 17,500 ACRES OF COAL LAND in Nicola Valley, B. C., and, according to coal experts' reports, this great area is underlaid with inexhaustible quantities of high-class bituminous coal, the best for steam, blacksmithing and cooking purposes, estimated to contain approximately 1,400,000,000 TONS OF COAL.

TWO RAILROADS

are now building into the Nicola Valley, the Canadian Pacific and the V., V. and E. (Great Northern), and the C. P. R. has already constructed and completed a line from Spence's Bridge, on Thompson River, to Nicola Lake, a distance of about fifty miles, whereas the V., V. and E. are rushing the work as fast as money and labor can do it, and it is expected to reach Nicola by Christmas.

This is certainly a rare opportunity for the small investors. For $250.00 you can now buy 1,000 shares of Amalgamated Coal Stock, which in a few years may pay you a yearly revenue or income of $10,000 figuring the dividend at $10.00 a share (the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. paid a dividend last year of $19.60 a share). This is an illustration to show what a few hundred dollars invested in coal stock means to investors. The Crow's Nest stock was offered to the people in the year 1896 at ten cents a share, and is today worth over $160.00, or $160,000 for 1,000 shares. You can get 1,000 shares of our stock today for $250.00, which may be worth as much as the Crow's Nest is today if you hold it long enough. Do you realize what this means for you? That the British Columbia Amalgamated Coal Company's stock will reach the $100.00 mark in from six to seven years from now is the belief of those who have seen and examined the properties and are familiar with the local condition in that country. Get in on the ground floor. Act quickly, and do it now. Do not ask your neighbor for his advice. Use and act on your own judgment. It will soon be taken. Call early or write, and we will give you any further information that you may desire.

BETTER THAN LIFE INSURANCE.

A source of income that will last as long as you live. An asset that you can leave behind you for your friends and relatives. Have you a wife? A dear child, a sister, brother, or friend, whose welfare you have at heart? If so, why not invest $50, $100 or $200, or any sum you can afford, in this coal stock, and get a certificate issued in their names; that will give them an income for life.

TWO YEARS FROM NOW

the stock should begin to pay handsome dividends, and in another year or two may have a cash valuation on the market from the dividends it then will pay of at least $100 per share. This calculation is based on sound and conservative business judgment, and on well-tried laws of natural growth. It is quite safe to say that when the Amalgamated Coal Company shall have fully equipped its four properties on Cold Water River, in Nicola Valley, B. C., and has built up a market for its product, and can produce coal and coke on a large scale, which may require six to seven years to accomplish (taking the Crow's Nest Coal Company, as an example), this stock should then be worth on its own merit, from the dividend it then will pay, $100.00 per share.

Opportunity knocks once at every man's door. To see it and grasp it in time is the keynote to success and wealth. This is meant for you. This is your great opportunity.

Fathers, mothers and guardians, who have the welfare of your children at heart, and want to provide for their future needs, write us for information, and investigate our proposition carefully. You will thank us later for the advice given. Ask or write for printed prospectus and reports, etc. We will show you samples of the coal and of the coke, and the assays of the coal from Government officials and other authorities.

RECOMMENDED BY BANKERS AND MERCHANTS

as the safest and best investment on the market today which is being offered to the public at large. We want men and women of moderate means to get interested in this great enterprise, and get in now, on its first inception.

Remember, for $250.00 you will get one thousand shares of Amalgamated Coal, which will secure for you and your family a source of income, and may make you independently rich. Remember, 1,000 shares of Crow's Nest Pass Coal is today worth $250,000, and brings a yearly revenue of over $10,000.00.

We cordially invite you to call at our office, No. 61-62 Confederation Life Building, Toronto. If you cannot call, please write us, and we will mail you prospectus, reports, maps, etc., that will state facts and will give you all the information you may desire.

Five Young Bandits Caught After Fight

Minot, N.D., Oct. 26.—After a chase lasting 36 hours, the sheriff's posse last night captured five bandits who robbed the Sawyer, N.D., Bank early Monday morning, when a battle ensued with citizens, during which 500 shots were fired, the robbers getting away with $4,500. The men were discovered on a farm near here. Escape was attempted, and in a fight which followed one robber was wounded in the leg. Another ran into a stream with $900 in gold and bills, and dropped the money into the water. Money was also scattered on the prairie by the bandits. Chief of Police Hagen recovered $3,000 of the money. Four of the captured men are young and well dressed, none being over 25 years old. The money was being carried in bags, and was composed of gold and bills, all the heavy silver having been thrown away.

SEARCH FOR TREASURE

Three Divers Are at Work to Locate Cargo of Steamer Wrecked in 1884.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 26.—Three divers in search of treasure are at work endeavoring to locate the wreck of the steamer Daniel Steinman, which was lost off Ramsro Point on April 3, 1884.

The cargo aboard the steamer, only part of which was recovered, was most valuable.

The wrecked craft lies in from 12 to 15 fathoms of water, and it is thought that the steamer is still in fact.

The Daniel Steinman was a large two-masted steamer, and the wreck was attended by heavy loss of life. The cargo included cutlery, glassware, tinware and other valuable goods.

YOU CAN SCRATCH

Out the blot which defiles the clean, white page of a ledger, but you can't scratch out the poisons that defile the blood. It seems rather that you scratch them in, and the irritation grows worse with each new attempt to relieve it. There is only one thing to do in such a case, and that is to entirely cleanse the blood from the infecting poison.

People who have suffered from diseases caused by impure blood, or blood poisoning, have found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a certain and enduring cure. Lotions and liniments may alleviate, but they cannot cure. The disease is in the blood, and the cure must be in the blood also. "Golden Medical Discovery" eradicates from the blood the impurities and poisons which breed and feed disease. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and so increases the supply of pure, rich blood, which, nourishing each organ, builds up the whole body in health and strength.

The cures effected by "Golden Medical Discovery" are positive and permanent. In many cases of disease, such as eczema, tetter, pimples, eruptions and rheumatism, an effectual cure has been found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, after all other medicines and means had failed to help or heal.

Sometimes a dealer tempted by the larger profits paid by less meritorious medicines will offer the customer a substitute in place of "Golden Medical Discovery" claiming that he knows it to be "just as good." There is nothing gained by trading one thing for another which is only "just as good." There is everything to risk in trading the "Discovery" with a world's record of cures for a substitute with nothing but the unsupported claim of an interested dealer behind it. If you are sick you want to be cured. That's why you want "Golden Medical Discovery" and nothing else.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

SUFFERED HORRORS.

"William Fiester, Esq., of Redoak, Montgomery Co., Iowa, writes: "I consider your 'Golden Medical Discovery' one of the best medicines on the face of the earth. While in the south-west, three years ago, I got poisoned with poison ivy. The poison settled in my blood and the horrors I suffered cannot be told in words. I thought I would go crazy. I could do nothing but scratch. I would go to sleep scratching, would wake up in the morning and find myself scratching. I scratched for eight months. Had it not been for 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I would be scratching yet. I tried different kinds of medicine, tried different doctors, but all the relief they could give me was to make my pocket-book lighter.

"I then began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Took four bottles without any relief. Kept on taking it. I took in all ten bottles and I got entirely cured. I can say that if people would take your medicine instead of fooling with some of the quacks that infest the small and larger towns, disease would flee like chaff before the wind."

NO BENEFIT FROM DOCTORS.

"For about one year and a half my face was very badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of 126 West Main Street, Battlecreek, Michigan. "I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertisements in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured. I can well recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to any one similarly afflicted."

FREE. On receipt of stamps to defray expense on customs and mailing only, we will send Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing 1008 pages. This book will prove a constant friend and wise counselor to every man and woman. It deals with the great and grave questions of human origin and reproduction in plain English. Send 21 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 50 stamps in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

MEANING OF MOLES.

A mole on the right side of a man's forehead denotes wonderful luck; on the left side of a woman's forehead, gifts from the dead.

On the left side of a man's forehead a mole denotes a long term in prison; on the left side of a woman's forehead, two husbands and a life of exile.

A man with a mole in the middle of his forehead has a cruel mind. A woman with such a mole is foolish, idle and envious.

A mole on the neck in man or woman promises a long and happy life, wealth and fame.

A man with a mole on the left side of the upper lip rarely marries, and such a mole in the case of a woman denotes suffering.

On the right side of the upper lip a mole promises good to both sexes.

Simple Cure For Neuralgia.

Here is a simple method of curing facial neuralgia. If the neuralgia is on the right side of the face the left hand should be placed in a basin of water as hot as can be borne, and neuralgia is on the left side of the face then the right hand should be placed in the hot water. It is asserted that in this way relief may be obtained in less than five minutes. The explanation is that the two nerves which have the greatest number of tactile nerve endings are the fifth and the median nerve, as the fibers of these two nerves cross any impulse conveyed to the left hand will affect the right side of the face or if applied to the right hand will affect the left side of the face. This is on account of the crossing of the cords.—Indian Review.

Palmistry.

Palmistry has been practiced in the east from time immemorial. The palmisters claim that several allusions in the book of Job indicate knowledge of this art.

The Korean Family Shrine.

The rooms of a Korean woman are as sacred to her as a shrine is to its image. Indeed, the rooms of a wife or mother are the sanctuary of any man who breaks the law. Unless for treason or for one other crime he cannot be forced to leave those rooms, and so long as he remains under the protection of his wife and his wife's apartments he is secure from the officers of the law.

The Civil Crown.

The civil crown was a Roman honor given to the soldier who saved the life of a citizen by slaying an enemy.

A Credit to Canada.

Newspapers in the United States with a circulation of fifty to a hundred thousand copies make a great deal of noise about it; but when one considers that right here in Canada we have a weekly paper with over 150,000 per week, representing perhaps 750,000 readers, Canadians have good reason to boast of it. The paper referred to is the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, and it deserves its success, for it is the greatest dollar's worth in America. Every enterprising farmer in Canada reads it and few homes will be found without it. Their premium picture entitled "a tug of War" which is given free to every subscriber is so vastly superior to the ordinary newspaper premiums that one wonders how it can be included with such a paper at so small a figure. No wonder the Family Herald and Weekly Star is gaining in circulation.

An Enormous Fee.

La Peyronie, the physician who attended Louis XV of France, received an enormous fee. The king gave him an estate comprising five villages and 207 farms, which produced a yearly income equal in purchasing power to $31,000 of our money. His majesty had only a slight fever.

LEAD REACHES THE $100.00 PER TON MARK IN CANADA

We sold lead two years ago for $58 per ton. The rapidly increasing population and prosperity of Canada, the installing of two large White Lead Corroding Works in Montreal has caused a great demand for lead at the present time that the price has jumped up in two years from $58 to $1.00 per ton, and the small consumers are complaining that they are unable to get Lead at all, and we predict that Lead will be as high in Canada as it is in the United States in another year.

WHY LEAD IS A GOOD INVESTMENT

From the above you can grasp why stock in the only company successfully producing Lead in Eastern Canada is valuable. Did you know that we are mining, milling and smelting Lead right in your Eastern Market? And that this is the only successful Lead producing district in all Canada that is outside of British Columbia. We, therefore, have everything our own way, and will in a few years produce all the Lead used in Eastern Canada.

PREDICTED

Four years ago when the present officers of the Stanley Smelting Works came to Canada to prospect for lead they foresaw and predicted the present condition of the demand for Lead in Canada, and have quietly been developing their mines, acquiring all the promising Lead properties with their own private funds, and up to date they own and hold options on 2,500 acres of rich Lead properties, partially equipped with mining, milling and smelting plants, and have over $2,500,000 of Lead blocked out in their mines. We are now prepared to produce a steady output by stoping, and in order to handle this output we require 2 Air Compressors, 2 more Concentrating Mills, 2 Scotch Hearths and Roasting Furnaces for our present smelting plants; we, therefore are offering 100,000 shares of our stock for sale at $1.00 per share, par value of $1.00, and no stock sold for less than par, to purchase this necessary equipment, The officers of this Company own 100,000 shares, and when this 100,000 shares are issued the total capital to draw dividends will be $200,000. Those that buy stock from this block of 100,000 shares offered will be getting in on the ground floor the same as the original stockholders. Investigate us by writing to Bradstr et's or Dun's Commercial agency, also look up our President, Mr. Edward J. Stanley of New York City, in the United States Commercial Agencies, to satisfy yourself that you are dealing with responsible parties. We respectfully offer below letters written to us by Mr. W. G. Harris, of the Canada Metal Co.; Mr. C. E. Bowes, Structural Engineer for the Reid & Brown Foundry, and Leonidas Catalones, French Chancellor and Mining Engineer—men of reputation who visited our properties and have gone down into our mines and have been so well pleased as to write to us their impressions.

Copy of Letter from Leonidas Catalonos, French Chancellor.

R. E. CUSHMAN, ESQ., the Stanley Smelting Works, 68 Victoria street, City:

Dear Mr. Cushman—I beg to say as interpreter for Mr. Leonidas Catalonos, French Chancellor, that he wishes to express his appreciation of your hospitality and ready facilities for the examination of your Lead Mines in Hastings. Mr. Catalonos says that you have the best mining proposition he has ever seen, and says he feels certain that his principals in France will join you in this Lead Industry and make it one that Canada will be proud of. Kindly have the plans and so forth rushed down here, as he wants them at once.

Trusting that these few lines will find you in the best of health,

LEONIDAS CATALONOS.
(per W. J. Bellingham, Interpreter.)

Copy of Letter Received from the Reid & Brown Foundry, Toronto.

R. E. CUSHMAN, ESQ., the Stanley Smelting Works, Toronto:

Dear Sir—With reference to my visit to your Smelting Works and Mines last Week, I should like to thank you for your hospitality, and also for the ready facilities afforded me for inspecting your different properties. I might add that I did not expect to find the statement made by you verified by inspection, and was agreeable surprised to find the value and richness of your deposits in excess of your statement, and your facilities for handling much better than I expected.

I will see you in a day or so in reference to the amount of stock I will take.

Very truly yours,
(Signed). C. E. BOWES,
Structural Engineer.

Copy of Letter Received from the Canada Metal Co., Toronto.

MR. R. E. CUSHMAN, The Stanley Smelting Works, Toronto:

Dear Sir—In reference to your inquiry as to how I found the mines of The Stanley Smelting Works at Bannockburn, I beg to say that through your kindness I visited the various properties controlled by you and found the principal mine working full, blasting and moving the ore from the veins, which have been well developed.

In this mine is a very large amount of work has been done, and while the work must have cost a considerable sum of money, the amount of Lead which has no doubt been taken from the mine should have paid well.

There are many tons of ore on the ground ready for the smelting process. After going to the bottom of the shaft and through several drifts, which show the Lead in good quantities, I visited other properties which you have prospected and Lead was very much in evidence. These properties are within a mile radius of Mine No. 1.

We then visited Mine No. 2, which is about six miles from Mine No. 1. This mine has had a great amount of money expended on the shaft, which runs down over a hundred feet, the vein of Lead, although not as large as in Mine No. 1, was well defined.

I enjoyed my visit very much and while I had heard of the Bannockburn Lead Mines, had no idea that they had been developed so far, and that the Lead was so plentiful as it is. It is evident, therefore, that you have a good property.

Yours truly,
(Signed). W. G. HARRIS,
General Manager.

Copy of Letter Received from Mr. G. G. Wolfram, Swiss Chancellor.

MR. R. E. CUSHMAN, Manager The Stanley Smelting Works:

Dear Sir—In compliance with your wish to give you my opinion on what I saw at your mines in Hastings County, Ont., when visiting them a fortnight ago, and what I think regarding their merits, I do not hesitate to say, in fact I am bound to say, that I consider your property in that County of the most excellent value, as to quality of lead and Zinc as well as to its richness of yielding. You remember my taking with me some samples (of the average quality) of ore. Well, I have shown them since to experts in mining matters. Both gentlemen expressed their real surprise, saying they had never seen richer quality, especially of lead ore, which could hardly be excelled.

Yours respectfully,
G. G. WOLFRAM.

We also number among our stockholders some of the most prominent men in Toronto, men whom we would be pleased to refer you to by personal and confidential solicitation. We pay all expenses of Engineers representing capital, or the parties themselves, to and from these properties. Take advantage of our free excursions to satisfy yourself of the great wealth of this Lead District. We expect to have machinery installed so that we can resume smelting operations by January 1st. Get some of this stock while it lasts.

Local Capital in Business Deal.

As several local capitalists have their money in the company, it will interest some of our readers to learn that, the Maple Leaf Rubber Company, of Port Dalhousie, Ont., has been purchased out and out by the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co., possession being taken today. The capital of the Maple Leaf Co. is $800,000, but the Consolidated decline to state the purchase price, except that it was a cash transaction.

Local Fall Fair Is Criticized

The Bowmanville Statesman says: Peterborough Fall Fair this year fell short of paying expenses by about $100. Why should such a prosperous city, surrounded by a purely agricultural district fail to hold a successful agricultural exhibition? There are people enough within the city limits to carry the show far beyond the bounds of necessary expenses if they would only make one visit to it. We in West Durham holding our fall fair in this town with a third of Peterborough's population have never known failure and we have numerous other exhibitions all round us. Evidently Peterborough lacks some essential that contributes to success in running a paying show. The question with the directors is to discover what is the unknown quality, quantity or motive power.

Law and Order Good Here.

County Magistrate Edmison submitted to the Department at Ottawa his report of the operations of the Peterborough county police court work for the year ending September 30th. He had over seventy convictions during the year, and a large number of summary trials. Compared with last year, the number of convictions is about the same as during the preceding term. Owing to the largely increased population this record speaks volumes for the county's morality.

Local Sports After Moose.

On Monday Messrs. Albert Mitchell, Chas. Hutcher, Thos. Parker, and J. Gottingham will leave for a couple or three weeks' hunting after moose in the Sault Ste. Marie district. This is the first time these gentlemen have gone after these monarchs of the wood, and it is safe betting that some splendid heads and antlers will come to Peterborough.

Men's Association Now Assured.

Good Threshing in Douro.

Mr Louis Sullivan of Douro township, in the third concession, has made a record in threshing. Two thousand bushels of oats, barley and peas, were threshed in nine hours. Some idea of the work done can be compared from the fact that 1,000 bushels per day is considered a good day's work.

John Campo is Dead.

The Lindsay Post, referring to a lamentable accident, particulars of which have already appeared in these columns, says;

Master John Campo, the twelve year old son of Mr. Peter Campo, Fenelon Falls, died yesterday morning as the result of injuries sustained from being shot in the back last week by his brother Fred. It will be remembered by our readers that the brothers were out hunting in the woods of Mr. Johnston, when the rifle, which Fred, the elder brother was carrying, was accidentally discharged. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved relatives.

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R.V. Pierce now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach troubles as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, sinkings or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

INFATUATED PAIR DIE TOGETHER

Registered at Hotel Under Assumed Names, and Are Found Dead---Was Murder and Suicide?

New York, Oct. 28. — Louis G. Hampton, Assistant Secretary af the United States Trust Company of this city, shot and killed Victoria I. Taszkow, a beautiful young woman in the Hotel Griffon, in West 9th street, late last night, and then committed suicide Hampton was infatuated with the woman, and they had been seen to gether many times during the past month. They had been at the hotel where the tragedy occurred since early yesterday. Whether it was the result of a pact between the man and woman to die together has not been determined.

Hampton, who was about 60 years old, leaves a wife and two children. Miss Taczkow was 29 years old, and lived with her father and invalid mother. She was employed in a Fifth avenue department store.

The United States Trust Company, of which L. G. Hampton was assistant secretary is one of the largest and strongest trust companies in New York. Ex-Secretary of the United States Treasury Lyman J. Gage was its president until recently.

USED ASSUMED NAMES.

The events leading up to the tragedy have been traced by the police, and, according to them, the last chapter in what looks to be an illicit romance opened on Thursday afternoon last, when Hampton, a distinguished looking man of medium height, with iron gray hair, called at the Hotel Griffon, and engaged a room. He said he would return later that night or the next morning, and expected to have his wife with him. Friday morning about nine o'clock he entered the hotel accompanied by a woman, and, going to the office, registered as "Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair, Burlington, Vt." The woman was an unusually handsome brunette. She was wearing a tailor-made skirt, white shirt waist, and carried in her hand a small travelling bag.

ASKED TO BE CALLED.

After registering the couple went to the hotel dining room and breakfasted, and then went to their room. The woman left the hotel several times during the day, but Hampton remained in the room. Soon after she returned from one of these excursions early in the evening, a light dinner was sent up to their room, and a request was sent to the clerk to call them at eleven o'clock. "We want to be called at eleven so that we might catch a train," said Hampton.

At five minutes to eleven a maid went to the room to call them, but her repeated raps at the door brought no response, and she notified the hotel office. Accompanied by the proprietor she returned to the third floor, and after rapping several times opened the door with her pass key. In an instant the silence was explained.

WOMAN SHOT FOUR TIMES.

On the floor between a large mirror and a dresser lay the man stretched out on his back. In his right hand was clutched a revolver, while his derby hat was held tightly in the left hand. Blood was everywhere around him, and a hasty examination proved that a shot fired into his mouth, had entered his brain, killing him instantly. On the bed half seated and half lying on the edge nearest the man was the woman, also dead, and bathed in blood. Her left arm lay across her face, as though to shield it, and in the arm were three bullet wounds. Right under the left armpit was a fourth wound, the result of a shot fired after she had raised her arm to her face The bullet had entered her body in a downward direction, and must have gone through the heart.

CANNOT MARRY DIVORCES

Union American Methodist Episcopal Church Adopts Resolution.

New York, October 27.—At the meeting last night of the Union American Methodist Episcopal conference, which is in session here, the committee on divorce brought in a report forbidding any pastor in the connection marrying divorced persons.

The resolution was passed unanimously by the general conference. The measure provides that any pastor in the connection, who is accused of marrying divorced persons, will be tried according to the discipline of the church and if found guilty will be expelled from the organization.

An Extensive Railway Project.

Trenton, N. J., October 29.—The Trans-Alaska-Siberian Railway Company, with an authorized capital of $6,000,000, has been incorporated here. The company is to construct a railroad from Kusak station, on the Trans-Siberian Railway, to Behring Strait, which is to be tunnelled to Cape Prince of Wales, Alaska.

More Literature For the Mechanics'

Notwithstanding the sign hung out on Water street, on which the legend reads "Public Library," it is only too regrettable a fact that no such institution exists in this city.

Whilst the public are assessed from $1.50 per year downwards for the privilege of readings books from this (?) library, there is indisputable evidence that the officers and directorate of the Mechanics Institute, as far as the funds available are concerned do all in their power to give subscribers good literature fort their money.

NEW BOOKS.

The following new books have been added to the library:

Citizenship and the Schools—Jenks
Roseh Elliott, Financier—Collier.
The Silver Maple—Keith.
Sir Nigel—Conan Doyle.
The Blue Flower—Van Dyke.
Sir John Constantine. — Quiller-Couch
Dan Gordon—Wilkins Freeman.

The Times Was Badly Hindered

Owing to Lack of Gas Last Night Our News Had to be Curtailed.

As is generally known the type of the modern newspaper is cast for each issue and set up on machines run by gas. Last night owing to their not being a sufficient supply of gas to run our line-type machines, we had, at the last moment to revert to the old time system of setting type by hand, thus, owing to lack of warning to prepare for such a contingency we were greatly handicapped, and will have to ask indulgence if The Times today is not up to usual standard.

Old Fashioned Social, Tuesday

Tomorrow night the Young Ladies Mission af St. Andrew's church will hold an "Old Fashioned" social Hallowe'en. It is expected that a good musical program will be provided with old fashioned games. There will be a real old fashioned time with the games of our ancestors, such as musical chairs, ducking for apples, etc.

Kaiser to Make a Visit to Italy

Rome, Oct. 29.—It is believed in diplomatic circles here that Emperor William is planning a visit to Italy, and that it probably will occur on occasion of the unveiling of the bust of Wagner, which he is presenting the city of Venice.

It is asserted in this connection that the visit of the German foreign secretary, Herr Von Tschirsky to Rome was intended to improve the relations between the powers forming the triple alliance, and that, with the same object in view, the German Emperor is anxious to strengthen his personal relations with King Victor Emmanuel.

These relations were somewhat weakened after the former's last visit to Rome, and the German attitude at the Algeciras conference did not tend to improve them.

HOPE OF SLOCAN

Advantages of Mining by Lease Company

LOSS TURNED TO PROFIT

S. S. Fowler Discusses Possibilities and Limitations of Operations by Working Lesses.

With the general renewal of the mining industry throughout the west, and especially in British Columbia, due in part, perhaps, to the rising values of silver, copper and lead, general interest is again being centered on the Slocan district that seems to feel the stimulous least of all.

The Silver Slocan was at one time the hope of Kootenay, but for the last six years it has been a scene of depression, disturbed on rare occasions by reports of rich strikes, only to subside again.

The Slocan district is known to contain many, at least hundreds, of rich properties. They are well known to engineers as well as to prospectors. They are neither inaccessible nor difficult to operate. They are just idle for want of capital. On the contrary capital has been spent on many and there have been adequate returns.

Evidently the system on which they have been worked must be defective, and if the country is to revive a new system must be followed.

A new system has already been introduced—the leasing system—from which much is hoped by those who have watched it in operation.

S. S. Fowler of Nelson has so far been one of the most successful operators on the leasing system, and his views on the possibilities and limitations of the system should be of considerable value. Asked his views on the subject by a representative of The Canadian, Mr. Fowler said:

"The greatest and also the most obvious advantage of the leasing system is the great saving of expenditure. The mining operations of a big company necessarily involve an office staff of fair salaried men, accountant, clerks, manager and engineer. Where the authority of the manager is limited it also involves frequently costly delays in obtaining consent and approval for projected operations.

"The system has been in vogue for some years in Colorado and has been successful there. The returns printed contracts show that the lessees pay a much higher royalty in Colorado than has so far been paid in British Columbia. There the companies usually do a certain amount of development work, sink a shaft and equip it, and start drifts. Then they lease parts of the drifts, making it a condition of the lease that the lessee shall do a certain amount of development work before he begins to stope ore.

"As to the royalties paid, the figures I have apply to two years ago, but I think there has been no material change since. The royalty is on a sliding scale, from 10 per cent. on the gross returns in the case of $25 ore to 70 per cent. for $200 ore, with the average of 45 per cent. on $100 ore. In British Columbia the ore is usually only 25 per cent. on $150 ore and calculated on the smelter returns.

"The first leases in British Columbia were generally taken on developed mines by former employees, who knew the location of small ore bodies and got leases merely to take them out, paying a small percentage of the returns. Such leases were usually, though not always, working miners.

"That condition, however, is rapidly passing. It had many defects. Such lessees seldom had any capital. They had to work on credit, with a merchant sharing the risk, and rely did no development work. The same system served no benefit.

"The new condition is creating a class of lessees with a small capital and usually with enough mining and business experience to satisfy the owners that the work undertaken will be well done.

"A recent contribution to the subject has advocated the formation of small syndicates, of 25 miners, each contributing $10 a month for development. Well, $250 a month will not go far to develop a mine.

"Few working miners have enough capital to really accomplish anything worth while. The lessees of the future will be men who can afford a few thousand dollars. They may then sub-lease special parts of the properties.

"It has been found that employees of a lessee do better work than men working for a big company. There is a definite object in view. They know that unless the work is successful it will stop and their occupation will be gone. In many cases, of course, where they are sub-lessees, they have a direct financial interest in the success of the work.

"Now, of course, the system cannot be followed with success in all fields. A big low-grade property—in which operation on a large scale is necessary for profits, can only be handled by a company or individual with large capital. Even a high-grade property requiring big and costly development work, such as the long tunnel of the Rambler-Cariboo, will never, I think, be done by lessees.

"But it seems to me that the Slocan is peculiarly fitted now for successful application of the leasing system. There are many small high-grade properties already opened up, with ore bodies definitely located if not actually in sight, and many of them are equipped with mills, or are near to concentrating plants of some kind. Such properties will probably never be able to pay expenses to company operation with its costly accessories and pay interest on investment too, but they may give excellent returns to working lessees. It is to be granted that a company manager and a working lessee are equal in efficiency, the latter has an immense advantage in economy.

"With the close supervision that is only possible with a small force, many other economies besides the saving of superfluous salaries may be effected. It is possible to see that all ore taken to the mill is clean ore, and there is every incentive to do so, as the returns depend entirely upon what is mines.

"One difficulty in the way at present is the scarcity of miners. The general prosperity of the West on both sides of the line has created a big demand for labor, and good miners are hard to get even at the highest wages.

"So far mining lessees in British Columbia have enjoyed very favorable terms. They have paid a low royalty as compared with that paid in other districts, and little in the way of development work has been required of them. There are no indications of any increase in the royalties, but the mine owners are now becoming keener as to the financial ability of the lessee to fulfill his contract, and do work that will benefit the property as well as himself and give the owner a substantial return in development as well as the small royalty, which amounts to little more, in some cases, than interest on capital already expended.

"With its limitations clearly understood and the need of economy and efficiency thoroughly appreciated, there is a splendid field in the Slocan for mining on the leasing system."

Royal Bank Has Secured Premises

As foretold in a former issue of The Times, the Royal Bank has definitely decided to locate in Peterborough, and have secured the premises now occupied by Mr. R. J. Soden's bookstore and Mr. Joseph Mitchell's barber shop and tobacco store, near the Bank of Commerce block, Hunter street.

It is understood that the leases of these stores have been secured by the bank, which will soon open its doors for business. Mr. John Belcher, C.E. will oversee the necessary improvements.

Farmers Kill a Bear Cub

Mr. Richard Birdsall, assisted by Mr. E. Taylor, whilst working in his turnip field, at Birdsall, on Friday last saw a bear crossing the field. Mr. Birdsall took a shot and whilst hitting the bear did not kill it: Mr. Taylor then took a shot and stretched bruin out. It was a nearly full grown cub, in good condition. Bears are numerous in that section this fall.

Rev. Dr. Symonds Preached Yesterday

Yesterday morning St. John's church was crowded to the doors, by its own congregation augmented by many from other churches both Methodist and Presbyterian, who came to hear Rev. Dr. Symonds rector of Christ's Church Cathedral, Montreal. This eloquent divine, who was formerly of this city, and who is one of the most noted preachers in Canada's Metropolis, preached a most eloquent sermon taking his text from Galatians V., 13, 14, 15. The main burden of his most eloquent address was a reconciliation of the scientific belief in the survival of the fittest, with the christian doctrine of bearing one another's burdens, and was a masterly treatment of a broad subject. He read several lines from Tennyson illustrating hisargument,

The rev. doctor preached another eloquent sermon, at evening service in St. Luke's Church, where he will lecture tonight.

A meeting of the House of Refuge Committee of the County Council met Saturday afternoon, but nothing of importance was done.

ENGLAND, FRANCE, ITALY IN DEFENSIVE ALLIANCE?

King Edward's Dream of a League of Peace Said to be Realized---U.S., Spain, and Portugal in Sympathy.

New York, Oct. 28.—A London despatch to the Sun says that close secrecy, which for a considerable time has surrounded an event of first magnitude in international politics, is broken by an announcement that a military convention, which in effect amounts to a full defensive alliance, has been made between Great Britain, France, and Italy. This momentous instrument has not nominally come into effect as yet, but in reality it is already an almost dominating factor in the European situation. It becomes operative whenever the triple alliance between Germany, Austria-Hungary, and Italy, or rather the three treaties usually grouped under that designation, shall expire, "either by expiration of time or by other cause."

This regrouping of great powers is a natural outcome of the destruction of the balance of power in Europe, consequent upon paralysis of Russia in the Japanese war. it is an important step in the formation of a league of peace—the great object which King Edward has abored to achieve ever since he came to the throne of Great Britain. It has behind it the cordial support of Spain and Portugal. There is good reason for believing that it commands also the sympathy of the United States Government, which has been well aware of its inception and purposes.

The creation of this new international has been accomplished and followed by serious difficulties and even dangers. First and obviously was the fact that Germany would regard it not only with natural resentment, but as a direct menace. It was negotiated on the eve of the Algeciras conference, and it can hardly be denied that it was designed to some extent to act in restraint of Germany at that time. Its purpose however, is in every respect non-aggressive, and it was and is impossible for the German Emperor to criticize it except by abandoning his oft-professed love of peace.

The political situation in Europe as a whole is more satisfactory to-day than it has been for several years. Pessimists point to the fact that the demise of Emperor Francis Joseph may create a crisis at any time. But the safeguards of peace grow stronger day by day. King Edward's league of peace should be able very soon to bear any strain that may be put upon it.

GOOD STORY, BUT UNTRUE.

London, Oct. 29—The Reports published to the effect that a military convention had been arranged between Great Britain, France, and Italy are officially declared to be baseless.

CHICAGO THE BEAUTIFUL.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Chicago is to be made of the most artistic cities in the United States.

Comprehensive plans for the development of the city along architectural lines, with beautiful public places and driveways, a connecting north and south boulevard, an outer parkway extending the entire length of the city along the lake front, and in time an outer park system, will be prepared under direction of the Merchants' Club.

Daniel H. Burnham, who recently prepared plans for the U. S. government for Washington, D.C., and for Manila, and also for the City of San Francisco, will have general supervision of the work. As consultants the most famous artists and architects of the world will be asked to come to Chicago.

SATURDAY'S GAME PLAYED IN THE RAIN

Argonauts in Hotly Contested and Interesting Contest Won Out by Thirteen to Seven.

Saturday afternoon one of the most closely contested and interesting games of Rugby ever seen here was played in a continuous downpour of rain at Riverside Park, between the Argonauts of Toronto and the local team.

Notwithstanding the dirty weather and rain before as well as during the game, the grandstand was well filled many hundreds having paid admission. Owing to the several hours, rain fall the ground was very slippery so that many a good get away was frustrated by the runner slipping and falling even before tackled. The locals played a good game, far better in fact than they put up against the Tigers. Very little unnecessarily rough play was indulged in, and very few serious disputes were in evidence. A noticeable feature of Peterborough team's play was the marked improvement in their signals in the snap-back play; in this respect they excelled the Argos.

The only unpleasant feature of the game was an accidental but heavy kick given the head of a Toronto player, as he was on all fours on the ground. He was hurt so badly as to have to quit the game, and be replaced by a substitute. Just after half-time the Argos. had a great streak of luck, a regular hurricane springing up, driving the ball to the Peterborough goal.

For the locals splendid work was done by Crowley, Gillespie, Quinlan and Easton.

At half time the game stood even, 6-6, but when the last whistle sounded full time it was 13–7 in favor of the visitors.

DO NOT BE A BURDEN

Some Good Advice to Readers of The Times.

A weak stomach and its resulting ills are not natural. With proper care and the use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets, the very worst cases of indigestion or stomach trouble can be completely cured.

It is a sin to deprive oneself of enjoyment in life and become a burden to others through indigestion.

The backaches, headaches, distress after eating, loss of appetite, gulping up of undigested food and gases are not natural. Mi-o-na stomach tablets used for a few days before meals will so strengthen the digestive organs that you can eat anything you want without fear of distress or resulting sickness.

The directions for taking Mi-o-na emphasize the difference between this remedy and the ordinary medicine that is given for indigestion. Mi-o-na is to be used before meals, strengthening the digestive system for the food which is to be eaten, while the ordinary remedy is taken after meals, and simply digests the food without strengthening the stomach.

We absolutely agree that your money will be refunded should you buy a 50-cent box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets and not be satisfied with the results. Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere, or will be sent by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents.

Write today for a free sample package, and also give us your symptoms, and one of the best known stomach specialists will give your case his careful and personal attention without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used-up Condition.

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more flesh and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At times I was prostrated with nervous and sick headache. All day I was tired. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and suffered from heart palpitation. You could scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well."

Remember this. No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, OCTOBER 27 1906

THE SPANISH ORDERS

Reaction against the Roman Catholic orders in Spain similar to that in France is reported from Madrid to have resulted in a denunciation of the Spanish concordat of 1851 with the Vatican. New regulations are proposed for a new concordat embodying parliamentary authorization of religious orders, suppression of orders "dangerous to morality or public tranquility," right of government inspection, restriction of property and endowments, and regular taxation of industries or trades in which orders engage.

Spain, like Italy and Austria, is grievously overtaxed. The relief from governing and exploiting the Antilles and the Philippines has been followed by a considerable development of manufactures, trade and foreign commerce, as well as of agriculture, and the country is believed to have a prosperous future; but there is no such accumulation of wealth and investments as to create a powerful class deeply interested in domestic tranquility. With little business to tax, levies fall heavily on the peasantry and the poorer classes in the cities. A sacramentic government, especially in Barcelona, Valencia and the coast cities, has in the absence of an organized commercial opposition to disturbances gained a strong momentum.

The religious orders stand almost helpless in the way of the radical chariot. Ultra-conservative, they hand down their monarchistic tendencies from teacher to pupil in an unbroken succession, very little exposed to outside influence. As the chief organized force opposed to the introduction of democratic or socialistic features of government, they present a shining mark to the radicals.

The tone of the Minister of Foreign Affairs in the present note to the Vatican is mild, but the elements that brought it about may be expected to grow bolder, and even to force repetition in Spain of the French scenes of violence. The relations of the bishops and parishes to the government will doubtless become also a subject of discussion.

A STATE OF ANARCHY

The California Christian Advocate, published in San Francisco, "speaks right out in meeting" in denunciation of the lawlessness and the official incompetency which are the curse of that city: "There is no protection," it declares, "to any soul in San Francisco. It is the paradise of the bully. A man is as safe in the heart of Africa as he is in San Francisco. The police make comparatively few arrests. Thugs and thieves swarm through the streets day and night. The conditions in San Francisco are absolutely anarchistic. Nothing but Gen. Funston and the soldiers saved the city during the great fire. Never was a city cursed with such a pusillanimous government." There is a great deal more in the same vigorous vein, but the above will suffice to show the sentiments which are entertained by people such as those who support the Christian Advocate. If the daily papers of the city would talk as plainly as does this religious journal, they would soon make San Francisco a safe and fit place for human habitation.

Labor-unionism in Great Britain, as in the United States, is infected with socialism and anarchism. The labor party in the House of Commons is divided into two sections—the Liberal section, under the leadership of John Burns, and the Socialistic section, led by James Keir-Hardie—and both of these sections are striving for control of the party. At a meeting of the Federation of Miners, held recently at Swansea, a decision was reached by ballot not to join the Hardie section. Simultaneously, a conference of the Amalgamated society of Railway Servants was held at Cardiff, and after long and bitter debate it was decided to adhere to the Hardie section, although their leader, Richard Bell, M. P., was strongly opposed to socialistic domination. There is little doubt that in the end socialism will gain control of the party, for the teachings and the ideals of unionism all tend in that direction.

A Rare Chance for Investment

Smelting Pays Large and Assured Dividends on Capital Invested

The historic epigram of President Abraham Lincoln that "you can fool some of the people all the time and all of the people part of the time but you can't fool all the people all the time," is particularly applicable in considering the purchase of mining stocks. Whilst undoubtedly some people have lost, and sometimes lost heavily by putting capital into mining stock, there are nevertheless thousands of men of vast wealth whose present capital grew directly from the nucleus of a small amount invested in such stocks. Careful and judicious investors in mining stocks earn larger dividends from their mining stocks than from any other channel.

Among the many mining concerns now offering their units and stocks for sale, there is none more generally or highly endorsed by the independent press than the Colorado Gold Mining and Smelting Co., of Denver, Colo. This company has never, like too many other mining companies, given away a share of stock to the favored few, or for promoters' fees; every one owning stock in this company has paid for the same in good hard cash. The directorate is composed entirely of men well and favorably known in banking and commercial circles.

The company operates two of the most valuable properties in the richest district of the great mineral State of Colorado. These are the "Excelsior Group" on the favored side of Mount Ross, with tunnels, levels, raises, cars, buildings, etc., together with two hundred thousand tons of valuable ore now blocked out, and ten times that to be yet developed. They also operate the "Black Prince," with unlimited tons of ore worth $45 per ton.

The Colorado Gold Mining and Smelting Co. are now offering for sale a limited number of their first mortgage bonds at par, viz., $100 each. These are coupon 6 per cent. bonds, interest payable in April and October; with each bond is given 25 shares of stock. This is about the gilt edged investment as is now before the public.

Astrology.

Astrology was the invention of Chaldean and Egyptian priests. There is reason to believe that astrology was practiced in connection with astronomy in Chaldea and the valley of the Nile between 4000 and 5000 B. C.

Glass Eyes.

The making of glass eyes, says a writer in London Health, is now so fine an art that an artificial one in a human socket cannot be detected except by an expert. "The most peculiar thing I know of in the trade relates to two of my regular patrons—a man and his wife. They have been married now three years, and to this day neither of them knows that the other is deficient of an eye."

Breathing.

All children should be taught to breathe through the nose and to keep the mouth tightly closed. Many disease germs enter through the open mouth, while if the mouth is kept closed the air becomes purified while passing through the long, moist passages and tempered for the lungs.

Badly Scalded by Steam.

Deseronto, October 25.—Albert Fields, an employe of the Standard Chemical Company, was badly scalded here yesterday. He was engaged in taking a valve off a boiler and had neglected to shut off the steam. His condition is considered serious.

Constipation

You cannot possibly enjoy the best of health if your bowels are constipated. Undigested material, waste products, must be daily removed from the body, or there will be trouble. Constipation means bilious attacks, indigestion, headaches, nausea, dizziness, loss of appetite, thin blood. Ayer's Pills are gently laxative, all vegetable. We have no secrets! The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. A NOVEL SOUTHWORTH

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"Yes, Mr. Cassinove, and after—after—when——"

The words seemed to suffocate her, for she could proceed no further.

"When all is over with me," suggested the prisoner, in a gentle voice.

"When you are with God," said Rose, in a firmer tone, "then I would pray Laura to return with me to Beresleigh House, and share my heart and home forever."

Cassinove looked with reverential admiration upon her eloquent young face, but answered nothing as yet.

She continued:

"I fear it will be thought too presumptuous in me to ask such a thing of Laura; I should scarcely venture so much if I did not know that her greatest comfort will be found in doing good, and that her presence will be a great good to me."

"And—the duke, madam?"

"My husband understands the great blessing that Laura would be to me, and for that reason, as well as for the high esteem he has for her, he warmly approves the plan. He authorizes all that I have said, and more."

The doomed man looked from the earnest, fervent countenance of the young duchess to the beautiful, pale face of his wife, and hesitated. Rose, seeing his embarrassment, hastened to say:

"Oh, Mr. Cassinove, I have already spoken to Laura. Do you also speak to her; she will not gainsay you. Persuade her to consent to share my home, and then leave her with confidence to my heart. To me and to my husband she shall be as the dearest of our sisters."

"Ah, your sisters, madam—how would they receive my stricken one?" inquired Cassinove, turning a look of unutterable love and compassion upon his wife.

"With the warmest welcome, with the most respectful sympathy. All will study her comfort, from my noble mother-in-law down to me. We are a united family, Mr. Cassinove. We think with one mind, and feel with one heart. Oh, believe it."

"Alas, madam, I have but words; and words are all too poor and vain to express how profoundly I feel your goodness."

"You approve my plan, and you will persuade Laura to agree to it?"

"My wife will require no persuasion to become your guest for a few weeks, and I shall be tranquilized to think that in the first days of her grief she will be in a safe haven among dear friends."

"Laura, you hear?" exclaimed Rose, turning to her friend.

"Yes, I hear, sweet Rose," replied the pale woman. Then going to her husband, she asked, "Is this your will, dear Cassinove? Shall you be happier to have me so disposed of?"

"Yes, love, yes; it were ungracious and ungrateful to refuse so kind an offer. You will go to the Duchess of Beresleigh for a few weeks, until you have recovered the shock of this calamity. Afterward, Providence will provide."

"She will never have the heart to leave me. I will love her so well," said Rose, rising, and gravely embracing Laura. Then looking at Cassinove, she said, "This is settled."

"It is settled," answered the prisoner and his wife in the same breath.

There was a pause, and then a sudden paleness overspread the face of Rose. She knew that she must no longer intrude upon the last hours of the condemned man and his devoted wife, but she felt all the horror of bidding a last farewell to a man doomed to die a violent death in a few hours.

For an instant the sudden and acute realization of all this overwhelmed her, the scene darkened before her eyes, the floor seemed to sink under her feet.

"Oh, I must not faint! I must not even be weak—I, who am required to support others," was the thought that called back her ebbing strength. She went up to Cassinove and offered him both hands, saying:

"Mr. Cassinove, I need not tell you that I believe fully in your innocence; you know that I do. May the Almighty and All Merciful support and comfort you! When I can out of your sight, I shall be on my knees in prayer for you. Good-by."

"Graceful, blessed angel! May the richest blessings of Heaven descend on you and yours," said Cassinove, with deep emotion.

Rose turned to the prisoner's wife, saying:

"I shall come for you, Laura, at the hour of closing. Good-by for the present."

Laura rose to accompany her back to the hackney-coach, but outside the cell she met Dr. Clark, and consigned Rose to his care.

Forthwith Laura remained in the cell with her husband until the return of Dr. Clark and Mr. Watson, when she retired to let them speak unreservedly to Cassinove, while she herself went to seek an interview with the warden of the prison. On entering his office, she sat down, and, in a hesitating manner, preferred her mournful request to be permitted to remain with her husband on this last night of his life; but she was kindly, though firmly, informed that the rules would not allow her to do so.

Laura saw that entreaties and prayers would be of no avail to break these stern rules, and, in pale despair, she arose and left the office.

As Laura re-entered Cassinove's cell, she was surprised to observe that Mr. Watson was no longer there, but that an unexpected visitor, Colonel Hastings, was seated beside Cassinove, whose suddenly blanched face and fixed eyes betrayed the fact that he had received some unexpected intelligence that even in this day of doom had power to transfix him. Both the prisoner and the visitor were so deeply absorbed that they, neither of them, observed the entrance of Laura, who sank unnoticed into her chair. Colonel Hastings was saying:

"After the sudden death of my son, I hastened from Baden Baden to do you this late justice. I found you on trial for life, and had no opportunity of communicating with you. I placed myself among the witnesses for your defense, and awaited the issue of the trial. After your conviction, I saw that there was no time to be lost in trying to obtain the clemency of the Crown. I sought the minister immediately, I found the Duke of Beresleigh with him on the same errand of friendship, but we failed of obtaining his favor. This morning I obtained an audience with the King, and having preferred my petition, was bluntly refused and dismissed. I next sought an interview with the Queen, and implored her intercession, but in vain, for neither pardon, commutation nor respite could I get. In despair I returned home, and thought that I would let the matter drop, as the revelation at such a crisis would avail nothing. But then an irresistible desire to confess everything, and obtain your forgiveness, brought me hither."

"It is very, very bitter—to nothing to her of this until it is all over, to know it now would only increase her distress; whereas the knowledge a few days hence might have a beneficial effect upon her spirits. Now, if you please, Colonel Hastings, bring me those documents of which we spoke, and an able lawyer at once. I have but little time to attend to some necessary forms; the rest must be left to your management."

"If I live I will do all I can toward making restitution," said the colonel, rising to leave the cell, and seeing for the first time that the wife of the prisoner had entered.

"Good-morning, Lady—I should say, Mrs. Cassinove. You see here one dying man come to ask pardon of another," said the colonel, solemnly, as he bowed and left the cell.

And indeed his very decrepit appearance seemed to warrant his grave words.

As soon as he was gone, Laura spoke:

Early Bedtime.

The majority of grown people as well as the children in ancient Rome rarely lighted a candle unless at dawn. The bedtime in Rome, Athens, Egypt and other parts of the Mediterranean shore was between 7 and 9 o'clock in the evening, according to the season.

The Slippery Elm.

The slippery elm contains in its inner bark a great quantity of mucilage, which gives it its peculiar property and name.

James Crichton, better remembered as "the Admirable Crichton," could read, write and dispute in twelve different languages. He was an expert swordsman, a civil and military engineer, a mathematician, a dramatist, and, although but twenty-three years old at the time of his death, he was the master of all the sciences and learning of his age.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 250,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 500 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 240 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

CURED PAINFUL IRREGULARITIES

Strong Testimony From a Lady Resident of Clarksburg, Proving that Ferrozone Surpasses all Other Remedies.

The health of many women is constantly imperilled through failure of certain organs to work according to nature's requirements.

Where this condition occurs there is no safer remedy to employ than Ferrozone, which has a specific action in female troubles.

Not only does it act directly on the organs, ensuring regularity and freedom from pain, but by forming rich red blood fortifies the system against weakening drains.

FERROZONE
STRONG WOMEN.

Ferrozone possesses a volume of merit totally absent in the ordinary medicine, and its superiority is proclaimed by thousands of women it has restored to vigorous health. From Mrs. F. G. Caldwell, [illegible] the following endorsement, while [illegible] her home in Clarksburg: "I went through a most trying experience with what is commonly known as 'Female Trouble.' It isn't necessary to state my symptoms, but I suffered a great deal. My health was well nigh ruined, and I got into such a condition that I couldn't even sleep. I was dreadfully nervous, weak and pale. Different prescriptions were recommended and I tried them. But Ferrozone was the first to help. I improved steadily under Ferrozone, and normal conditions were finally established. I gained weight, my color and spirits improved, and my former health was restored. Ferrozone cured me, and with a full heart I recommend this good medicine to all other women."

Beware of imitations—don't allow a druggist to palm off anything else for Ferrozone, which costs 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50 at all dealers.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

Bensfort, East Emily and Shearer factories brought in many boxes of cheese Saturday

The music at both services in St. John's Church yesterday was of a very high-class and greatly enjoyed by large congregations.

On Saturday Mr. F. Mason the enterprising george street florist, got in several cases of palms, azaleas, and other plants direct from Ghent, Belgium.

Dr. Wightman. D.D.S. has had a "Cleveland" bicycle stolen. He had left it on Hunter street near McDonald's drug store. The police are searching for clues.

Buyers at Saturday morning's market were somewhat agreably surprised at the price of poultry. Chickens that for the past year would have brought from 50cts. to 80cts. went from 30 to 40cts. with ducks as cheap in proportion.

Music at St. John's Church

Yesterday being the Feast of St. Simon and St. Jude, the services were of a festival character. The solo at matins was admirably sung by Mr. Jos. Halpany. It was entitled "The Heavenly Song," and afforded full scope for skilful and effective accompaniment which was forthcoming at the hands of Mr. R. J. Devey. Evensong was fully choral, Tallis's grand old setting of the responses: Psalms sung to cathedral chants—canticles in service form—all were sung splendidly by a full choir, the rector giving the singers a word of kindly appreciation in the vestry. Mansfields "I will lift up mine eyes," full anthem, was well rendered by the choir, the solo being taken by Mr. Hague Sawers, bass, and the duett by Mrs. Devey and Mrs. Seward all being in good voice.

$1,000,000 FROM COBALT!

Some Cars Leaving That are Worth About $100,000 Each,

Cobalt, October 29.—Shipments of ore from the Cobalt camp during this month may be safely estimated in value at one million dollars. Freight officials who are in a position to know stated unhesitatingly that the total number of cars bearing the rock encased metals to the smelters would be fully forty for October, which will be a gain of sixteen over September.

There are undoubtedly some cars leaving the station with contents worth $100,000 each, but then again there are others loaded with a poorer grade of ore that will hardly realize $20,000 apiece.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Whiskey or the abuse of it caused a man named Heard and his two sons as well as a man by name Joe Peters, involuntary guests at police headquarters Saturday night. The latter was captured, along with a lusty jag on George street by P. C. Newhall. He will face the magisterial music this morning.

The other trios' difficulty arose through a case of mistaken identity of a horse and rig.

It seems that whilst "under the influence" they took a horse and rig out of Flynn's hotel yard, mistaking it for their own. After driving some distance and possibly getting the alcholic fog dispelled by the fresh air, they discovered their mistake and took the outfit back to get their own. Unfortunately two brawny keepers of the peace were laying in wait and gathered them in. They were released yesterday evening on their own recognizances to appear for trial this morning.

Three young men lined up before hir Worship on Saturday, viz., Messrs. Tibault Tobin, and Vinette: another by name Hogan was called but was not present. The four were charged with having created a disturbance on Hunter street, East Ward, on the night of Oct. 54th. Tibault and Vinette pleaded guilty to having been drunk but not to raising a disturbance. Tobin pleaded not guilty.

Ms. Chas. Moore of the East Ward, in the witness box, said he was awakened about 12.15, and heard a disturbance, and much profane language. He saw a man and a woman with a baby carriage passing along the street. The woman did not like to pass, being afraid of the young men. At last she went by when the young men stopped her husband. Then the young woman went back and "sailed into the young men for fair." Did not recognise any of the prisoners as it was dark.

Robt. Butcher said he was going home that night with his wife and met the young men. He recognized Vinette and Tibault. He heard no bad language, but the young men were not sober.

Mrs. Butcher said she did not like to pass the young men. Hogan said "Upset the buggy and dump out the young one." Hogan grabbed at the carriage but she quickly pushed it out of his way.

P. C. McGinty when telephoned for went over and heard much noise. Tobin and Tibault ran. There was much loud talk and swearing.

The magistrate said Tibault and Vinette admitted being drunk, and there was evidently a disturbance as Rev. Mr Langfeldt had phoned for the police. We must have our streets kept quiet and decent. He fined each of the defendants $2. They paid up, so that the city treasury was swelled to the extent of $8.

Alarming Reports From Morocco.

Madrid, October 29.—In view of the alarming news from Morocco the Spanish Government has decided to load several cruisers ready for despatch to the West coast, for the protection of Spanish subjects.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

A Hard Work Doctor Changes "Drinks."

The country doctor who has to drive day after day, night after night, in all kinds of weather, at all times of the day and night, is not be be envied.

They get personal experience as well as experience from others.

"I have been doing a great deal of driving and drinking a great deal of coffee," writes a doctor. "I found it was not only injuring my stomach, but was causing dizziness and was interfering with my circulation.

"Since using Postum, I have had none of those unpleasant symptoms. I shall take pleasure in recommending it to others."

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.
An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts."

YOUNG GERMAN INHERITED A FORTUNE

Montreal, Oct. 30. — A romantic story, involving the sum of $1000 and the sudden rise to wealth of a young German resident of this city, has just come to light.

Some years ago Karl Cremer, disagreeing with his father in Germany over his attachment for a young woman left the parental roof and came to Canada.

He worked here in Montreal, first as a driver for the Dominion Transport Company, and afterwards as shipper for the Canadian Rubber Company.

Some two weeks ago, young Cremer, who is a fine looking man of military bearing, and who has in fact, held a commission in the German army, was informed that his father had passed away and that his share of the fortune would shortly be forthcoming.

Cable communication informed him that $140,000 was at once available, and that the remainder $320,000, would be obtained upon the settlement of the estate.

Upon receiving the glad tidings, Cremer, who for years has striven self to uphold a principle, resolved to open more live becomingly, and he thereupon began placing orders with house owners, house furnishers, plate manufacturers, [illegible] dealers until in a few days' time he had accumulated a better establishment than most well-off men would gather together in a lifetime.

His purchases include as fine a pair of high-steppers as could be obtained in Canada, for he has always been a lover of fine animals, and never so happy as when surrounded by them.

Then, to cap it all, Karl Cremer will, in his altered position, marry again, for the first wife for whom he left Germany died several years ago.

ANARCHIST MISSING

New York, Oct. 29.—Emma Goldman and certain of her followers were a good deal alarmed last night over reports from Cleveland, that Alexander Berkman, who in telling his prison experiences in western Socialistic centres dropped out of sight there on Wednesday night. Miss Goldman sent telegrams to Columbus, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Buffalo and Rochester in an effort to get track of him. Berkman left here two weeks ago on a lecture tour.

Canada's Growth.

London, October 30.—The High Commissioner for Canada has been notified by cable that the returns of the census which has recently been taken in western Canada show that the new province of Alberta now has a population of 183,000, an increase of 152 per cent. in five years.

Local Lady is Highly Honored

On Friday evening, Oct. 26th, a very interesting ceremony took place in the Sons of England Hall, which the local press seems to have overlooked and which by lack of space to run our machines the Times left out previous to this issue.

When the Order of Chosen Friends met that evening with the chief counseller of the Peterborough Council presiding, the main feature of the meeting was presentation of an illuminated address to Mrs. Ellen Melbourne, founder of the Hospital Cot Board of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends of Toronto.

It might be mentioned that the above named lady is one of the oldest and most prominent members of the Canadian Order, and is the mother-in-law of Mr. A. Johnston, popular proprietor of the Windsor House, Brock street.

Without taking the space to give the handsomely inscribed and framed address in full, we might say that one paragraph is the address called Mrs. Melbourne, "The Mother of the Hospital Cot Board."

The president of the Hospital Cot Board, in a well worded address made the presentation, and Mrs. Melbourne, who was taken by surprise, replied in suitable words. The framed address with signatures of the officers is now in Mrs. Melbourne's rooms at the Windsor Hotel.

At the meeting above referred to, the grand officers of the Order were present, viz.; Grand Chief Councillor Tom Emery, Grand Organizer Campbell, Grand Recorder F. W. Montague.

The Toronto Hospital Cot Board sustains five beds throughout the various hospitals in Toronto and Mrs. Melbourne yesterday signified her intention to The Times to try and establish a similar institute here.

No Quorum at Board of Health

As, well perhaps not quite as usual, but as not unusual, there was no quorum yesterday at the advertized Board of Health.

The Board was to have taken up the isolation hospital question and also to receive Dr. Bingham's report on milk inspection.

It is said that the chairman is anxious to get these matters settled before the [illegible] year.

The medical health officer's report on milk inspection is also a very important feature just now. The doctor considers that he can inspect the milk, and claims that if it is adulterated he could detect it.

Another meeting will probably be billed for some date in the near future.

The New Pure Food and Drug Law will mark it on the label of every Cough Cure containing Opium, Chloroform, or any other stupifying or poisonous drug. But it passes Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure as made for 20 years, entirely free. Dr. Shoop all along has bitterly opposed the use of all opiates or narcotics. Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is absolutely safe even for the youngest babe—and it cures. It does not simply suppress. Get a safe and reliable Cough Cure by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's. Let the law be your protection. We cheerfully recommend and sell it. J. D. Tully

DISTURBANCES IN CHINA

The Country in State of Unrest and Disorder.

Odessa, October 30—The "Koelnische Volkszeitung," publishes a letter from a correspondent in the south of the Chinese province of Shantung, according to which a great catastrophe is impending in China.

The disturbances of the year 1900 will probably, the writer declares, be child's play as compared with the forthcoming disorders. A peculiar unrest prevails among the people.

A regular rebellion has broken out in Shantung, and at Tsin-chu-fu twenty thousand robbers are under arms. The well-to-do people are fleeing into the towns, the villages having been plundered. Pitched battles between troops and brigands have been of frequent occurrence, the brigands being victorious. The latter characterize the proposed withdrawal of the European troops as an extraordinary shameful proceeding.

Sturgeon Falls Paper Mills

In reference to Mr. Alex. Hamilton's pulp mills at Sturgeon Falls the Toronto Star has the following:

"A re-arrangement of the various bond issues of the Northern Sulphite Company, and the Imperial Paper Mills, at Sturgeon Falls, which has been rendered necessary by the proposed amalgamation of the two industries, has resulted in Mr. John Craig, the managing director of both companies, being appointed receiver. It is understood that as a result of the amalgamation, a considerable impetus will be given to business in Sturgeon Falls.

A representative of the company said on Saturday that the paper mills which are now producing fifty tons a day will have their capacity doubled, and the output of the sulphite mills will be increased to seventy tons per day.

The appointment of Mr. Craig was made recently by Mr. Justice King as the result of a friendly application by the company.

GRANDPA'S BOY

11 Year Old Boy Writes Letter for Him.

"I am a boy eleven years old, in the Fifth Grade in Grammar School, and my grandfather wants me to write you what Grape-Nuts has done for him," says a Calif. boy.

"For more than fifty years he was troubled with a kind of nervous [illegible] which would attack him in the night, especially when he was very tired, and no cure could be found for it.

"Also for about ten years he was troubled with indigestion which caused heartburn and he could only eat a little bread and milk for supper, and even that careful diet did not always prevent it.

"After eating Grape-Nuts for a little while, the attacks of heartburn and indigestion disappeared altogether.

"Today at the age of 78 he is hale and hearty, and is entirely cured of all his old troubles. I can never thank you enough for what Grape-Nuts has done for my dear grandfather.

"As for myself, I believe Grape-Nuts is the best food a boy can take while attending school." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

ELECTRIC CARS HURLED FROM BRIDGE

Terrible Catastrophe on West Jersey Railway, Near Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, Oct. 29.—Three coaches of the West Jersey and Seashore Electric Railway jumped their rack on the trestle bridge over the Thoroughfare yesterday afternoon, carrying many of the passengers to a watery grave.

As the sickening details of the wreck developed during the night the disaster became more appalling. The total number of persons whose lives were snuffed out almost instantly is probably sixty-six, with nearly a score injured, several of whom it is thought, will die.

BODIES RECOVERED.

Forty-eight bodies have already been brought to the surface.

There were ninety-one persons on the train, fifteen passes and seventy-six fares.

Twenty-five of this number have been accounted for, which, with the bodies recovered, bring the total to seventy-three.

This leaves eighteen persons not accounted for, and who are supposed to have been drowned.

It is possible that some of these may never be found, as it is the belief of the divers that some of the bodies floated through the broken windows out into the Thoroughfare, and were carried by the swift current out into the Atlantic.

At police headquarters this morning it was stated that the effects found on the bodies were not sufficient to permit of identification of more than six, and that identification will have to be made by personal inspection. The police officials, worn out by their vigil, went to their homes early in the day saying they would not return to headquarters until after nine o'clock. In the meantime all of the bodies are being embalmed.

PATHETIC SCENES.

Thousands of persons quickly gathered at the scene of the disaster, and a score of boats soon surrounded the spot where the cars disappeared, but they were unable to render any aid, and could only await the arrival of the divers.

At the morgue the scenes were pathetic. Persons who had friends on the train, crowded around the entrance, and were with difficulty restrained from forcing their way into the building. One of the most heartrending incidents was furnished by Frederick Benckert, who lost his entire family, a wife and two children. Benckert was not informed in Philadelphia of the accident until too late to catch a train, and he hurried here in an automobile. When he saw the dead bodies of his wife and two little boys lying side by side on the floor, he collapsed, and had to be carried from the building. Benckert had intended to accompany his family yesterday, but was unable to get away.

THE WRECK DESCRIBED.

The wreck occurred at the drawbridge which spans the Thoroughfare, a small waterway about one mile outside of this city, just on the eastern edge of the meadows, and was directly due to the failure of the bridge to close properly. The fishing schooner Sinbad had just passed through. As she was entering the draw an electric train of three cars came in sight across the meadow in the direction of Pleasantville, and before the bridge had swung back into position the train, running at a high rate of speed dashed upon the trestle. With a lurch the forward car left the rails and dashed into the guardrail, the other cars following. At the point where the cars jumped the track the trestle is nearly twenty feet high. When the two cars struck the bottom of the waterway they stood almost on end, and the first man to descend reported that the victims were packed in the lower ends of the submerged cars so tightly that it was difficult to move them. The bodies of men, women and children, many of them badly cut and bruised, bore grim proof of the terrible sufferings of the victims.

The third car hung for a short time on the abutment, and this saved the lives of several passengers, who leaped out of the windows and rear doors.

Motorman Scott stuck to his post, and went down with his train.

Brakeman Wood ran to the rear door of the last car and heroically held it open for the passengers to escape. He went down with the car, but swam ashore.

Rev. Dr. Symonds Gives an Address

Ministerial Association Met Yesterday in Y. M. C. A. Hall.

A most interesting meeting of the local Ministerial Association was held in the Y.M.C.A. parlor yesterday morning. The following members were present, Rev. Canon Davidson, P. J. Scott, Dr. Crothers, J. G. Lewis, H. M. Manning and A. Bright.

In response to a letter received from Mr. Williamson, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., it was resolved to request all the Protestant ministers of the city to preach a sermon to young men on Nov. 11th, or 18th.

The recent social gathering of the various Protestant denominational representatives in St. John's church, was the cause of many warmly expressed and sincere words of commendation.

Rev. Dr. Symonds, who was present by request as a former member and president of the association, received a very hearty welcome. He gave a most interesting and profitable address upon "The Present Trend of Theology."

A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Rev. Dr. Symonds for his inspiring message.

The Hospital and Home visitation for November is as follows:

Nov. 5, 7.—Rev. F. J. Scott.
Nov. 12 14—Rev. J. G. Lewis.
Nov. 19, 21—Rev. Canon Davidson.
Nov. 26, 28—Rev. A. Bright.

Rev. F. J. Scott and Rev. H. M. Manning were appointed to prepare papers for December and January.

Local Man After $1000 Commission

The Toronto Globe says:

Three creditors of the Henderson Roller Bearing Company have put in claims which are being contested by the liquidator, the Trust & Guarantee Company. They are Mr. W. C. Austin of Peterborough, who asks $1,000 as commissions on stock sales, Mr. J. E. Haines of Brampton, who claims $1,200 for the same transaction, and Mr. Wm. Breese of Chatsworth also for commissions. They appeared either in person or through counsel yesterday before Master in Ordinary Hodgins. Mr. Casey Wood appeared for the liquidator and Mr. S. T. Medd, of Peterborough, for Mr. Austin. Mr. Haines' claim was disallowed. Mr. Breese's claim was allowed at a week, and the claim of Mr. Austin was not concluded.

Mr. R. J. Soden is Moving His Stock

Mr. R. J. Soden, one of Peterborough's most progressive merchants, who for the past year has, as noted in The Times frequently, conducted a bookstore on Hunter street, next to the Bank of Commerce, began removing his stock yesterday. The new location is to the store formerly occupied by J. Sutcliffe & Son, in the drygoods business.

This store is nearly twice as large as the one he is leaving, thisbeing necessitated by a rapidly increasing business, as well as by the fact that the Royal Bank of Canada has secured the premises.

This morning Mr. John Belcher, who is the architect for the improvements to the bank, will leave for Toronto, where he will purchase stone and other material required.

HARMFUL STOMACH DOSING

No Need of it When Hyomei is Used to Cure Catarrh.

Physicians and scientists agree that the less medicine one swallows, the better. It is in keeping with this idea that Hyomei is recommended by leading physicians throughout this and other catarrhal sections.

When this treatment is used in catarrhal troubles, there is no stomach dosing, for the medicine is taken in with the air you breathe, and goes right to the spot where the catarrhal germs are present, healing the inflamed and irritated mucous membrane, killing the disease germs, and entering the blood with the oxygen, driving all catarrhal germs from the system.

Do not try to cure catarrh of the head by putting medicine into your stomach—this is neither a scientific nor common-sense treatment. Breathe the healing balsams of Hyomei and in a few days you will notice relief, and its continued use will result in a complete and lasting cure.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents. We do not want anyone's money unless Hyomei gives relief and cure, and we absolutely agree that money will be refunded unless the remedy gives satisfaction.

All druggists should be able to supply you with Hyomei or we will send it by mail on receipt of price, and every package is sold with the distinct understanding that it costs nothing unless it cures. Write us today for a symptom blank, which we will send you free, together with treatise on Catarrh and how to cure it. When you fill in and return to us the symptom blank, our consulting physician will give your case the best care and attention, and write you a letter of advice without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Buffalo, N. Y.

Fish and Game Officers Here

Mr. Oliver Adams, vice-president and Mr. Kelly Evans, secretary, of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association passed through the city yesterday on their way to Campbellford, where a meeting was held last night for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Association at that place. These two well known advocates of the protection of fish and game have commenced a tour of the province, during which many new branches will be organized.

BACK INTO ITS COURSE

Engineers of Southern Pacific Have Turned the Colorado River.

Imperial, Cal., October 30.—After months of work the fight has been against the Colorado river. On Thursday the Southern Pacific engineer corps turned rock into its channel, leading to the Gulf of California, the first water of the river that has flowed there for two years.

By this great achievement $25,000,000 worth of property and the homes of 10,000 persons are rescued from threatened inundation.

Salton sea, a vast lake, which has been created during the two years that the river has been pouring into the lowlands of the desert, will now dry up. The engineers have a concrete dam or gate, supplemented by a rock and gravel dam, across the break.

Otonabee to Vote on Two Bylaws

The ratepayers of North Monaghan township will vote on two bylaws at the municipal elections in January, in regard to the assessments on the plant and buildings of the Brinton Carpet Company and the Peterborough Sandstone Brick Company.

At a meeting already held the bylaws were given the second reading. Mr. E. H. D. Hall appeared for the Carpet Company, Mr. W. S. Davidson and Mr. E. S. Clarry for the Sandstone Brick Co., Mr. R. M. Denniston, township solicitor, was also present.

The assessment of the Brinton Carpet Company is fixed at $10,000 for period of ten years, on condition that the company expend $100,000 in buildings. Under the terms of the bylaw the company agrees to pay the regular school rate on the full value of the plant and buildings, and a frontage tax in connection with local improvements. The bylaw further provides that two houses of the company shall be exempt from taxation.

The assessment on the Sandstone Brick Company's plant and property is fixed at $8,000 for a term of ten years on similar conditions.

It is altogether likely the intelligent ratepayers of this flourishing township will unanimously pass these rules, which are altogether to the benefit of the township.

Miss A. Davis Was Poisoned by Gas

Miss Alberta Davis of Division St., on Sunday night had a close call from poisoning by gas whilst at the George street church. It seems that during the church service some of the jets went out from lack of sufficient supply of gas. Miss Davis, happening to be sitting near one of these jets, that went out, was overcome by the poisonous fumes, and taken to her home, where Dr. Gray was called and succeeded in restoring her to full consciousness.

Mr. Rogers Sells Lots at Sandy Point

Mr. R. B. Rogers, the father of the lift lock, has during the past week sold some 20 lots near Sandy Point or Clear Lake, to local people. A large reserve is left for a park to be known as Kawartha Park. This reserve alone has not been disposed of yet, and is still so Mr. Rogers' possession.

There is good reason to believe that the street railway will extend their line to Sandy Point as the park will be a spot which will be difficult to surpass in beauty.

BARONESS A HEROINE

Permits Square Foot of Her Skin to be Grafted on Girl.

Geneva, October 29.—A Russian baroness, who wishes her identity to remain a secret, recently visited the hospital at Thonex, and saw a poor Swiss girl brought in, terribly burnt by a petrol lamp explosion. The baroness was told that unless new skin was grafted on the girl her case was hopeless.

The young baroness insisted that they should take nearly a square foot of her own skin to heal the sufferer. The operation was performed, and the Swiss girl will now recover.

VERY REMARKABLE TRIP TO NORTH

Through the Unknown Wilds of Labrador

BY EXPLORER WELL KNOWN

Tells of Many Travels Through the Wilderness, Took Much Better Route Than Hubbard.

Montreal, October 30.—Mr. Stephen M. Tasker, the well known sportsman and explorer of Philadelphia, is in the city, after making one of the most remarkable expeditions through the unknown wilds of Labrador that have yet been achieved. On July 11 last, Mr. Tasker, with Mrs. Tasker and a couple of Indian guides, started for the loneliest spaces of the map from Northern Ontario, the whole party travelling in a canoe 19 feet long by three feet beam, starting from Missanabie on the C. P. R.

They paddled down the Missanabie and Moose rivers to Moose Factory, where they spent ten days and then took the Hudson's Bay steamer to Charlton island, which is the port for the Hudson's Bay Company steamers on their annual trips.

Thence they continued in the small steamer to Rupert House, just north of James bay, where there is an excellent harbor, and followed the shore up to the Great Whale river, Hudson's Bay post. There Mr. Tasker's party again took to the canoe and paddled three days northwards to Richmond gulf, on the east coast of the bay.

Thence they struck north-east along the Ouiadiniam river, and following this river and chain of lakes reached the Upper Clear Water river to Clear Water lake, which Mr. Tasker said was so big they could not see across it, and could get no clear idea of its real area.

A further paddle brought the party to Seal lake, which is about 40 miles long, and here they found themselves at the height of land, stepping away to the northeast corner of the continent. After a lot of hard portaging and traversing small lakes the party reached another lake, in county which is marked on the map with a significant dotted space—that this lake was the headwater of a stream running into the Ossock river, and after following this they reached Fort Chimo, one of the outlying posts of the Hudson's Bay Company, about 60 miles above Ungava bay. This post they finally reached after twenty-nine days' journey through the interior wilderness of Labrador.

This was found to be a much better route than that taken by other explorers, who, like Hubbard, coasted Grange River, accompanied Hubbard on his last journey, and also Mrs. Hubbard when she made the trip after her husband's death. Mr. Tasker's party had no difficulty getting food, living chiefly on ptarmigan, spruce partridge and trout and lake trout. They encountered numbers of caribou, but killed few as they could not carry them along.

On reaching the ocean at Fort Chimo they took the Labrador coasting steamer to the mouth of Hamilton inlet, where by good luck they fell in with a trading steamer from Newfoundland, and soon reached St. John, Nfld. After going from Newfoundland to Port au Basque, they crossed the straits and took the Intercolonial for Montreal, after making a four thousand mile circuit of one of the least known sections of the continent.

So far from being any the worse for their long trip through the wilds, Mr. and Mrs. Tasker left last night for Bisco on the C. P. R. in Northern Ontario, in quest of moose. Mr. Tasker has been invited to attend the annual dinner of the Canadian Camp in New York, and tell the members of his experiences in the Labrador wilds, an invitation which he will probably accept.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has shown good judgment in bringing the question of technical education before the Federal and Provincial authorities at this time. The question of promoting the extension of technical education in the Dominion is one the importance of which must be realized by everyone who has given the subject any consideration. From time to time it has been discussed in both the Federal and some of the Provincial legislatures, but without any practical results. There is, however, a growing sentiment that some action must be taken in the national interests and that Canada may hold her own in the industrial between the different countries. Private enterprise has done something to provide facilities for technical education. The munificence of a few private citizens of Montreal has resulted in McGill University being furnished with a splendid equipment for technical education and hundreds of students from all parts of Canada have availed themselves of the opportunity afforded there for the prosecution of studies to fit them to engage in business and professions requiring a knowledge of applied science and of mechanical, chemical and other technical methods and processes. But the field is too large to be covered completely by any private corporation or institution however rich and the state must take the matter up. The example of Germany is one that may be followed with advantage by other countries. Her technical schools and universities have repaid a thousandfold the money expended by the state in their foundation, equipment and maintenance. Take one illustration alone of this—that of the manufacture of aniline dyes from coal tar, a waste product in the manufacture of gas. Discovered by an English chemist, Dr. Perkins, about fifty years ago, the industry was originally established by him in that country. But the researches of German chemists, and the facilities available to them for the prosecution of their investigations through the magnificent laboratories and appliances of the technical institutions, have resulted in the practical transfer of an industry of an annual value of hundreds of millions of dollars from England to Germany. This is only one of the industries in which the Germans with their thorough scientific training have outdistanced their British rivals. These things have not been without their effect in the United Kingdom and the Imperial government. County councils and municipal bodies are all giving serious attention to the matter of providing for the technical education of the people.

With the exception of the efforts put forth by the institution we have mentioned, little has been done in Canada for the promotion of technical education on a scale commensurate with the national requirements. It is opportune, therefore, that the attention of both the Federal and Provincial governments should be called to the matter. It is simply a question of arrangement or convenience whether the work should be undertaken by the central administration or those of the provinces. It would seem that the former would be better inasmuch as it could provide one uniform system for the whole country without losing the benefit of interesting local effort in the matter. But the chief thing is to get the importance of the subject understood by the people, so that Canada may not lag behind in the keen international industrial competition.

Canadian Author Dies in New York

Chatham, Oct. 29.—Word has been received here of the death in New York, of Ed. Sandys, the popular magazine writer, and a well known Chatham old boy. Edwin William Sandys was born in this city in 1860, the son of the late Ven. Archdeacon Sandys.

He received a private education, and became editor of the Canadian Sportsman and journalist to the Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Sandys removed to New York to become editor of Outing and special writer for several other publications.

He was the author of "Upland Game Birds," "Trapper Jim," "Sportsman Joe" and other articles and sketches.

THE BEAR HYDRAULIC

Mr. Etienne Ritter, a Prominent Engineer of the United States, is Most Favorably Impressed With the Property Which He Has Just Returned from Examining.

Etienne A. Ritter, of Colorado Springs, came down from Cariboo on Thursday's stage. His trip up into the Cariboo was made principally to examine the Bear Hydraulic Mining Co's properties near Barkerville.

"Mr. Ritter is one of the foremost mining engineers and geologists of the United States and his experience has been a very wide one. During the course of an interview in which he was questioned regarding the merits of the Bear Hydraulic property on Cunningham Creek, Mr. Ritter said:

"All that has been claimed by the Bear Hydraulic people regarding the value of their property is, in my opinion, well within the mark. I was deeply impressed with the property after examination and while dumping facilities are not of the best still this will be overcome by lengthening the flume and as the grade of the creek is greater than the grade of the flume they will get more and more dumping ground as the flume is extended. Besides they will be helped greatly by the spring freshets and because they have installed an over-head inclined cable-way which will handle all the big boulders leaving only the gravel and lighter stones to be sluiced through the flume.

"Another very favorable point to be considered is the water. The company can provide a very large quantity, in fact they will be able to place on their ground water sufficient to move from one half to three-quarters of a million yards of gravel per year.

"The tests of the gravel which I have made convinced me that the estimate of the company of 10 1-2 cents per yard is as near the mark as it is possible to get without knowing the actual value of future cleanups. The results of the cleanups of previous years confirm this."

Speaking of the management, Mr. Ritter said: "In my opinion Mr. Lasette and Mr. Wendle are two of the best mining men I have met in all my experience.

"Let me give you an instance of their resourcefulness. They have a rock cut on Cunningham Creek property twenty feet or so deep about the same in width and extending for a couple of hundred feet. Instead of blasting this out in the ordinary way with drill and powder they have used the two monitors; the ground in the cut is sluiced and one giant throws its column of water against the edge of the formation loosening it up, while the other takes the loosened stuff and hurries it on through the flume, a very striking illustration of the tremendous force exercised by hydraulic machinery. It is certain that they have by using this novel device cut the time for making the cut in half and cheapened the cost fully four times.

"They are cleaning up now and within the next three weeks the cut will be finished and the flume laid down in the upper end and everything will be in readiness for a successful season next year."

Speaking of the Cariboo, Mr. Ritter said he was very greatly impressed with the country in a general way. Among mining men in the United States there is a feeling that the next decade will see an advance along mining lines in the north-west greater than the country has ever experienced before. As proof of this he pointed to the movements of such large operators as Heinze and the Guggenheims. Their example will surely be followed by others and the mineral resources of the country will receive all the money required for their development.

Mr. Ritter was also favorably impressed with the China Creek and Nugget Gulch hydraulic properties and while on his return to Barkerville visited the Waverly on Grouse Creek. He believes from what he was able to see that the claim of the company that they will be able to pay next year $10 a share in dividends as ongoing $5 the year is well founded.—Victoria, B. C. Journal.

Hammer & Lasseter, the operators of this mine, would be glad to send a copy of Mr. Ritter's report on this mine to anyone writing for it.

The Bear Hydraulic Mining Company, Ltd., is incorporated for 250,000 shares. This firm has no capital, on a 1-4 interest in this mine of 62,500 shares. Before offering shares to the public it was agreed to send an engineer of prominence to examine the property, and confirm the statements made. Send for a copy of Mr. Ritter's report, which is free for the asking. HANAUER & LASELLE, Hydraulic Mine Operators, 501 Colman Bldg., Seattle, Wash.

VARICOCELE CURED

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double Varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician said the an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. He wrote them and got the New Method Treatment for me. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, to-day I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"I must not deceive you, Cassinove. I have been here some minutes, and I overheard the conclusion of your interview with Colonel Hastings."

"And you have learned——"

"Nothing, but that something has been concealed from me."

"Only for a few days, dear one, then you shall know all. And then you will try to bear up and live for my sake?"

She turned on him a look of unutterable affection, and gave him her hand.

They were soon interrupted by the return of Colonel Hastings with a lawyer.

"Retire for a little while, dearest. I must see the gentlemen alone," said Cassinove.

And Laura left the cell, and took her seat upon a bench in the passage outside. She looked up and saw one of the officers of the prison approaching. She asked him what o'clock it was.

"Gone three."

Gone three! and she must leave him forever at six. Only three hours left, and those men taking up the precious time!

While she sat there with her life-powers ebbing away, Dr. Clark and Mr. Watson came up. The worthy physician and the good pastor had been in attendance upon Cassinove the greater part of the day. They looked surprised to see Laura sitting outside, but she explained to them that her husband was engaged with his lawyer.

The clergyman sat down beside her. Dr. Clark took her hand, and looked into her face, and then hurriedly walked away. He returned in a few minutes with a glass of wine and a biscuit, of which he forced Laura to partake.

At that moment, also, the cell door opened, and Colonel Hastings and the lawyer came out. They bowed in passing, and immediately left the prison.

It was now past four o'clock; in two hours more Laura must bid her husband a final adieu. She re-entered the cell, accompanied by her two old friends, to pass those two precious, awful hours in his company. They found Cassinove grave and collected. He greeted his friends calmly, and then drew Laura to his side, and sat with her hand clasped in his. Oh, the clasp of that loved hand, so soon to be convulsed in a violent death! Oh, the glance of those loving eyes, so soon to be closed forever! The thought was suffocating, maddening to her. All the suffering of the last few dreadful days had failed to prepare her for this hour of supreme agony. She felt that sudden death or insanity threatened her, that heart or brain must instantly give way. She breathed a silent, agonized prayer, for help and strength. Mr. Watson noticed her increasing agony, and, knowing the efficacy of Divine consolation in such extreme cases, he proposed that all should kneel and unite in invoking it. They knelt, and the venerable clergyman poured forth his soul in earnest prayer for the doomed prisoner, and for his most afflicted wife.

They arose from their knees strengthened to endure. And though her brain still reeled, and her heart still bled, Laura felt that she could now retain life and reason through the anguish of the hour.

Mr. Watson signed to Dr. Clark, and said:

"Cassinove, we will leave you together now until the hour of closing then we shall return to pass the night with you, and the doctor to receive your wife. Be firm, dear friends; continue to call on Him who sounded the depths of human woe to be your stay and comfort. Remember that this parting is but for a little time, life at longest is but a span; and your reunion here after, in the better land, will be for all eternity."

And so saying the good pastor pressed the hands of Laura and Cassinove, and beckoned Dr. Clark to follow him from the cell.

"They have little more than half an hour; let them pass it together," said Mr. Watson.

Nor will we, reader, intrude upon a grief so sacred. We will remain with the clergyman and the physician in the passage, where they passed the time in pacing up and down before the closed door of the cell, until an officer of the prison advanced and told them that the lady who had been there in the morning had returned in her carriage, and was waiting to receive Mrs. Cassinove.

Dr. Clark went immediately to receive Rose, and conduct her to the door of the cell.

The pallid brow and dilated eyes of the young lady betrayed the sympathetic sufferings that she would willingly have concealed.

"Can you bear this, madam?" anxiously inquired Dr. Clark.

"Yes, yes, as my day is, so shall my strength be! Is it not so, Mr. Watson?"

"Yes, dear madam, so may you prove it," replied the minister.

She needed all her strength now, for the great crisis of suffering had arrived.

The governor of the prison came up, saying:

"It is six o'clock, Mr. Watson. Will you be so good as to go to the prisoner and tell him so, and bring his unhappy wife. It seems a cruel thing to part them to-night, but in such cases the iron rule is the most merciful."

Mr. Watson bowed, and slowly and sadly entered the cell.

Cassinove and his devoted wife were standing together, his arm supporting her form, her head resting upon his breast.

"Is it time?" he inquired.

"It is time," replied the minister.

"The hour has come, love," said Cassinove, stooping and whispering to his wife.

She raised her head, and fixed her eyes upon his face with a long, long gaze, threw her arms around him again, and clasped him to her heart with the strength of despair, as though her frail arms could have held him away from the whirlpool of fate that was drawing him from her. She muttered incoherent, gasping phrases, of which nothing could be distinguished but the words:

"Oh, must I—must I go, even now? God bless you, love! Farewell!—farewell!"

"God be with you, my own true wife! Farewell!" said Cassinove, gently disengaging her arms from about his neck, and giving her to the charge of Mr. Watson.

The good minister supported her from the cell. She was white, cold and [illegible] from her. But the forethought of Dr. Clark had provided for this emergency. They sat her down upon the bench, beside the young duchess, who tenderly supported her fainting form, while the doctor bathed her face in spirits of camphor.

Then, after a few minutes, supported on one side by Dr. Clark, and one the other by Mr. Watson, and attended by Rose, she was taken to the carriage. Rose got in first that she might receive Laura, who was placed, more dead than alive, in the carriage. Rose received Laura in her arms, and supported her on her bosom, and the order was given to drive to Beresleigh House. No word broke the stillness of that ride. Rose could not mock that awful sorrow with any commonplaces of consolation.

When they reached the Beresleigh House they found Dr. Clark awaiting them. He had thrown himself in a hackney coach and preceded them, to attend upon Mrs. Cassinove, whose condition, he foresaw, would require his utmost medical skill.

Laura was lifted immediately from the carriage, and conveyed to bed in the sumptuous chamber prepared for her, where she lay insensible to all that was passing around her, looking more like the dead than the living.

CHAPTER XXXV.

Laura had not spoken since she had been brought to Beresleigh House. All night long she lay senseless and seemingly without life. Dr. Clark and Rose watched beside her till long after the sun had risen.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

OUR ZINC COMPANY IS DIFFERENT

Holders of Preferred Stock have a priority lien upon all property until they have received in dividends the par value of their holdings.

Combines the safety of a government bond with the speculative element of a gold mine.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00; 200,000 shares are made preferred stock, and placed in the treasury by charter provision. This stock is protected to the complete exclusion of the common stock, until it has earned in dividends an amount equal to its par value.

Zinc mining is the safest, the cheapest, and the most profitable in the realm of mining.

The great Southwestern Lead and Zinc District is the greatest in the world. More than 800 paying mines are located in this district. The Empire Zinc Mine has paid dividends of 240 per cent. The Enterprise Lead and Zinc Mine has paid 250 per cent. and its stock is worth seven times its par value. The Northern Arkansas mineral region is a part of this famous District. The ores from Lawrence and adjoining Counties, Ark., were awarded the Bronze Medal at the late World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U.S.A. Some of these ores were taken from the land where is now located the group of New Era Mines belonging to our Association.

If you want to get in with a live company where things are moving, come with us. Write today. You must act quickly. It is the opinion, and believed by experts and miners, that within a few months our company will be paying large dividends. Development work now done has brought our miners into a zone which is yielding rich ore, and every indication points to an immense deposit of zinc.

We have the mines. We have the ore. We need a concentrating plant for the treatment of this ore. Were it not that we consider it better business policy to sell a block of preferred stock and purchase an equipment of machinery at once than to wait and have our ore treated by custom mills, NOT ONE DOLLARS WORTH OF THIS STOCK WOULD BE OFFERED FOR SALE.

Write to us today for full information.

GIRLS OF TO-DAY ARE WEAKLINGS!

Few Possess the Vitality and Girlish Beauty of the Olden Times.

Never before was physical health and vigor so highly esteemed and so eagerly sought for as today.

No man finds happiness in a sickly wife, and the woman who wishes to enjoy the pleasures of life should spare no effort to maintain perfect health.

Is your daughter growing up strong and ruddy? Has she strength to drink in greedily all the pleasures that youth so zealously seeks—or is she compelled to use the street car instead of enjoying the delightful exercise of walking—does she after the ball arise refreshed and vigorous, or is she exhausted, indifferent, and perhaps irritable?

When strength and vigor can be so easily maintained by Ferrozone, when the glow of health is so quickly brought to the cheeks and elasticity to the step, it is plainly a mothers duty to see that Ferrozone is on hand to assist her daughter back to health.

Upon the wake of Ferrozone quickly follows a stream of rich, nourishing blood which imparts that power and surplus energy so earnestly desired by those in ill-health.

Stop and think what this means for your daughter—certainly a great deal, and it can be accomplished by Ferrozone.

Every growing girl and young woman derives enormous benefit in many ways from this nutritive, vitalizing tonic.

It is specially suited for young women and is a guarantee of health and regularity as long as it is used.

Ferrozone is free from alcohol and perfectly safe to use. Prepared in the form of a chocolate-coated tablet and sold in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

Paid the City $440 Yesterday.

Yesterday Mr. M. Pappas, who operates two pool rooms on George street, helped out the city revenues to the tune of $440, ie. $40 each on eleven tables. In conversation with Mr. Pappas, this gentleman remarked to The Times, "I am just working for the city. What with my taxes, and the $440 license paid yesterday, the city gets all my profits." With all due deference to this statement of Mr. Pappas, we venture to say that he will not lose any.

Glass Case Over 200 Years Old

Mr. Frank Clarke, the jeweller at the corner of Brock and George Sts., has in his north window, a curiosity that is unique in the trade of Canada. It consists of a quite large jewel box, made entirely of English spun glass, decorated with the proverbial roses, of England in natural colors in native glass. This box was made, and on undoubted proof, shown The Times by Mr. Clarke, in the year 1700. This is a relic of the Willis family of Somerset, England. This box is one of the most unique specimens of old time work to be found in Canada and is well worth a visit. The lid of this case has a miniature silk pin cushion, and is not set on hinges but lifts out. The whole case is a marvellous curiosity well worth purchase by any museum.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

At yesterday's session of the police court, Thos. McDonald, whose name among his intimates is Pussy, claimed to have lived in this city for over four years, and who has only been out of jail for a few days, was charged with being a vagrant, was given six months in jail at hard labor.

Jas. Heard, Robt. Heard, and Richard Affords, were charged with having been found drunk in a public place. Mr. Heard, senior, admitted to having had a couple of glasses too much.

"Would you sooner go to jail or pay a fine?" the magistrate asked. Robert answered, "Well, I don't like the jail idea very much." "$2" replied his worship. "Well, thank you sir, that's letting us down pretty light. If it had not been for the horse scrape I would not have been here," said the old gentlemen. The coin was handed in. Still another citizen paid in fine of $2 for the same offence.

150,000 Feet New Gas Holder Working

The Peterborough Gas Company has made the final connection of the mains for the gas tank, and gas is now supplied by the new holder. This was accomplished only after a desperate effort by the company. All the work was rushed during the past week, including Saturday night and Sunday.

It will be remembered that the City Council gave the company five days to finish the work and get George street and Water street connected up. It took a day longer, but now the people will have no more trouble in the center of the city.

Rod and Gun for November.

Exploration has its turn in the November number of "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., the opening paper being entitled "To Abitibi with the Prospectors." In a well-written and finely illustrated story Mr H. R. Hyndman tells of a trip taken to this Northern Lake, which is likely soon to come into greater prominence owing to the new transcontinental skirting one of its shores. This is followed by one of Mr. Bonnycastle Dale's nature studies—the Golden Eye, the illustrations accompanying which are as fine as the patient and careful study which makes the paper valuable. Dr. Franklin Hawley, whose paper on "Scientific Deer Hunting" in the October number attracted wide attention and very warm commendation, writes on "Some Common Mistakes of the Deer Hunter"—a paper which ought to be perused by all the numerous bands of hunters who will go to the woods this month. The wide interest now taken throughout the North American continent in the subject of game protection is shown in a paper summarizing the progress of the movement throughout Canada and the States by legislation, and attempted legislation in 1906. A little adventure in finding the Alpine Club Camp is notable for its fine illustrations. The awakening of public opinion to the importance of the fish and game assets of the provinces in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick is also told, and the whole number ably sustains throughout the wide interest the magazine has created in Canada's sporting advantages through out the world.

Preventics, as the name implies, prevent all Colds and Grippe when "taken at the sneeze stage." Preventics are toothsome candy Tablets. Preventics dissipate all colds quickly, and taken early, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Preventics are thoroughly safe for children, and as effectual for adults. Sold and recommended in 5-cent and 25-cent boxes by J. D. Tully.

Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood.

"You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. * * * It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs; especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal glands."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Robert A. Hare, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land.

Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

Constipation cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One or two a dose.

Dogs Still Worrying Sheep.

It seems that dogs are still worrying sheep in the nearby townships of this county. On Sunday night, Mr. J. J. Bowden's sheep were worried by these uncivil canines. It is up to those interested to have an end put to such brutes. Otonabee seems to be the worst sufferer in this district especially in the neighborhood of Crawford's Grove. Short shrift should be given to sheep killing dogs.

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

Stanley Smelting Works' Success

Great Fortune for Canada's Leading Lead Mine.

In our issue of Saturday, Oct. 27, there appeared a large half-page advertisement in which a somewhat misleading typographical error occurred. As per that issue the most prominent and largest producing lead, zinc and silver mine in Canada, owned by the Stanley Smelting Works, with head offices at 58 Victoria St., Toronto, was made to seem belonging to the Standard Smelting Works. We regret that, in connection with one of Canada's most promising industries, a mistake should have been made. Of course the Stanley Smelting Works is too generally and favorably known to suppose that a real mistake could be made by our readers.

It might be added that the Stanley Smelting Works, at Bannockburn Ont., is well known among the various large factories using lead in any form, whether for paint (white lead) or otherwise, as the largest producer of lead in this country. Although only operated during the past four years, the Stanley Smelting Works has sold more than enough lead to repay the whole original outlay.

The company which has now acquired possession of some 2500 acres of rich lead properties, samples of the ore from which, composed of almost pure lead, were in The Times office last week. The company has letters, bona fide signed letters, from many of Canada's leading capitalists testifying to the enormous value of their properties.

In order to increase their present output, by adding air compressors, mills, Scotch hearths, roasting furnaces, etc., the company has decided for a limited time only, to place a block of stock on the market at par, viz., $1 per share. This is no investment that will, beyond any shadow of doubt, return investors not only large dividends but double or treble the value of such investments within a very few months.

The Stanley smelting Works is highly rated by Bradstreets' and Dun's commercial agencies. For full particulars of stock, apply to Messrs. Thos Paterson & Co., fiscal agents, 161 Simcoe street, Peterborough, or the Stanley Smelting Works, 58 Victoria street, Toronto.

Two Men Burned in Prison Cells

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 30.—K. C. Cousins, an Oxford graduate, and Dan Mackenzie, were incinerated when the Chilliwack courthouse and jail were destroyed last night. Both had been jailed for drunkenness and confined to the basement cells. MacKenzie started the fire in the hope of escape, and paid for his folly with his life.

Co-operative Dairy Company.

Brantford, October 31.—Because the price of milk has recently been advanced from five to six cents per quart, laborers will form a co-operative dairy company with a capital of $10,000 and sell milk at four and one-half cents per quart.

U. S. Will Fulfil Promise Made to Them if They Keep Good.

Washington, D.C., Oct. 31. — The President is preparing to redeem his promises made to the Philippine people through Secretary Taft that they shall have a parliament of their own, conditioned upon their good behavior for a term of two years, and it is understood that Secretary Taft himself will proceed to the Philippines next spring to witness the installation of the new form of representative government. March 27, 1905, the Philippine census was published, and consequently two years from that date, March 27, 1907, under the terms of the Act of Congress, the President will direct the Philippine Commission to call a general election for the choice of delegates to what will be known as the Philippine Assembly. This body is to take over all legislative powers heretofore exercised by the Philippine Commission in all that part of the archipelago not inhabited by Moros or non-Christian tribes.

As this date draws near the Philippine people are showing signs of agitation, and to the officials here it is evident that they are expecting some benefits that cannot at once be realized. For instance, the assembly of provincial governors recently in session in Manila, with the view to arranging the preliminaries for the meeting of the Philippine Assembly, is reported to have recommended that the suffrage be widely extended. It is pointed out here that this is not possible, for the reason that the Act of Congress under which the assembly will be convened expressly states the qualifications of voters. These in brief are that the voter must be at least 23 years of age (which was the Spanish requirement), must be able to read and write either Spanish or English, or must own a certain small amount of property or must have been in the past an officeholder under the Spanish government. These qualifications were framed upon the old Spanish practice, and no Philippine assembly can change them.

The new assembly or legislature will consist of two houses, to be known as the Philippine Commission and the Philippine Assembly, the latter to consist of not less than 50 nor more than 100 members. It is probable that the present commission will be merged into the upper house.

MAYOR DROWNED

Searching Party Looking for Body of Mayor Snyder, Dayton.

Port Arthur, Oct. 30. — A special train with twenty citizens of Port Arthur went out on the Duluth extension this morning to Whitefish Lake to join the party there searching for the body of Mayor Snyder, of Dayton, Ohio, who was drowned several days ago. The search with grappling hooks and dynamite is still being continued, upwards of fifty dynamite shots having been exploded today, without the effect so far of raising the body. The hat of the drowned man was found floating, the sweatband being missing. Two diving outfits went out this morning. Rafts are being constructed and tomorrow the bottom of the lake in the vicinity of where the drowning occurred will be searched. A special train arrived back about 10.30 tonight. The Council of Dayton have offered two thousand dollars reward for finding the body.

Bad Smashup Above Kinmount

Four Cars Dumped Into Burnt River Yesterday.

A rather bad accident occurred yesterday afternoon on the Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa Railway, about five miles from Goodeham, at a point on Burnt River known as William's Falls. The regular train was on its way to Kinmount, and a loaded flat car next the engine, left the track on rounding a curve. The coupling broke and the car went over the bank into the river, dragging two other cars with it. Two of the cars are lying bottom side up in about 16 feet of water, and the other two are on the bank of the stream. The passenger coach had a close shave, as the front truck had left the track and the car was nearly on a balance.

There were about a dozen passengers, including Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Crowley and child, of this city, all of whom were considerably shaken up, but not seriously injured. The entire party climbed on the engine and were taken to Kinmount, where they were transferred to the G.T.R.

Bancroft Men Sued for Damages

A Toronto despatch says, in connection with an action taken by a Toronto drover, Mr. G Alderson, vs. J McGaw and A. Harycett, cattle dealers of Bancroft, for $1500 damages, that Chancellor Boyd gave judgment in favor of the defendants.

It seems that the reason for the suit was on the grounds that there was a non-fulfillment of contract, and was tried at the non-jury sittings.

Plaintiff claimed that on June 15, 1905, he had entered upon a contract with defendants for 1,500 lambs to be supplied to him at 3¾ per hundred pounds live weight. The contract provided for the payment of a deficit of $200, and Alderson claimed to have tendered a cheque which had been refused.

Evidence was given on behalf of the defendants showing that the contract had been entered upon on their behalf by Mr. W. J. Sargent, a local banker, after getting a draft of the agreement approved by telephone. After the contract had been signed, Alderson told Mr. Sargent that he had not sufficient money with him to pay the deficit, but would be able to let him have it the following day, as he would mail him a certified cheque, immediately on reaching Ingersoll. On that understanding, Alderson took a copy of the contract, and Mr. Sargent kept a copy.

McGaw called on Mr. Sargent for the cheque the following day, but the cheque had not arrived. He was, however, induced to wait till Monday. No cheque being forthcoming on that day, McGaw and Harycett decided to rescind the contract, and on Tuesday notified Alderson to that effect. A cheque was tendered to McGaw and Harycett, through Alderson's solicitors, but the former refused to accept it.

Witnesses were called to show that the market had advanced, and that the defendants had been glad to escape from the contract.

LORDS REJECT COMMONS' BILL

Grand Trunk and Steamship Service

No Truth in the Story of New Ocean Line.

Montreal, October 31.—A cablegram sent out by the Canadian Associated Press announced that the Grand Trunk Railway Company was about to place orders for several large cargo and passenger steamers for service on the Atlantic and Pacific.

Mr. Charles M. Hays, second vice-president and general manager of the road, was asked today for a statement as to the facts. He said: "There is not one word of truth in the story. We have not yet considered such a proposition, let alone placed any orders for steamers."

It is generally believed, however, that the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific, with a line crossing the continent, will, within a comparatively short time, follow much the same policy as that adopted by the Canadian Pacific. There have been rumors for some time that a deal has been proposed and discussed of which a line of steamers at present running to Montreal might join with the Grand Trunk, so that at almost an hour's notice the railway company would be in a position to announce itself as the owners of a service able to meet competitors at every point.

The management is extremely conservative in giving out any statements in this connection, but its recent land purchases in Montreal and other moves to which half hearted denials were given have resulted in a general belief that the policy of progress is greater than even the most optimistic Grand Trunk admirer had any idea of.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

At yesterday's session of the police court Wm. Upfold and Wm Simmons, employed as laborers at Lakefield, whilst in the city, were arrested on Hunter street, whilst driving in a buggy with a large jug evenly divided between them, and an unlapped keg of beer in the rig.

They said that they could pay their fines when they got to Lakefield, but his worship replied that they must pay it forthwith or go to jail.

Fortunately for their liberty, a friend in need came to their aid and whacked up the ducats.

Another case of riding on the pavements on a bicycle was tried with the usual result, $2.

RUGBY.

Those who enjoy a real live game of foot ball should be at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon. The last Rugby game of the season will be played here that afternoon when the Victorias, of Toronto meet Peterborough at Riverside Park. Peterborough, it will be remembered won from the Vics in the first game of the season by 17—7. There is no reason for thinking but that the white and blue will do up the Hogtown visitors, although the Vics have strengthened up considerably during the season. So has Peterborough. There will be a hustling practice tonight in the rink.

The C.G.E. team have registered a protest against Saturday's game in the City League, on the ground that it was too dark to play rugby in the last half. A meeting of the City League is called for Wednesday night at 7.30 o'clock at the Examiner office.

Amendment Making Religious Teaching Compulsory Carried by 256 to 56 Votes.

London, Oct. 31.—The final vote in Committee of the House of Lords on the Education Bill was taken last night, and resulted in the defeat of the Government by a majority of 200.

The vote came on an amendment to the first clause in the bill. The amendment, which was offered by Lord Henegge, Liberal, makes religious instruction compulsory during a part of the daily school hours in all public elementary schools.

Earl Crewe, speaking for the Government, refused to accept the amendment, but after a most businesslike debate, the amendment was carried, 256 to 56. The majority included the entire Opposition in the House of Lords with the exception of Lord Ampthill, who voted with the minority. Among the majority were the Archbishop of Canterbury, 20 bishops and the Duke of Devonshire.

Among the minority were all the peers who are members of the Government, and Lord Rosebery, the Duke of Manchester, the Earl of Durham, Earl Russell, the Marquis of Northampton, Lord Brassey, Lord Grimthorpe, Lord Weardale, Lord Haversham, and Lord Reay.

COMPEL LANDLORDS TO SELL.

John E Redmond, the Irish leader, moved the adjournment of the House of Commons yesterday in order to call attention to the lack of progress in the matter of reinstating evicted tenants in Ireland, owing, so the speaker alleged, to the landlords hindering the operations of the Land Act by refusing to sell untenanted lands. The land commissioners consequently were unable to provide farms for evicted tenants.

Mr Redmond said it was obvious that the Government must resort to some system of compulsion. The patience of the Irish people was becoming exhausted, and, although the Irish party desired to give opportunity for the greatest degree of fair play pending a declaration of the Government's intention regarding Irish self-government, he thought the Chief Secretary for Ireland, Mr. Bryce, ought to grapple with the matter vigorously.

Replying to Mr. Redmond, Mr. Bryce after some debate, said the Government had done its best to cope with the grave difficulties in regard to [illegible] and had won a certain measure of success. If the remedy is compulsion, the Chief Secretary said the Government might have to come to that.

Walter Hume Long, Conservative, then declared that Mr. Bryce's statement involved a complete triumph for the Nationalists, and the subject was dropped.

Rich Gold Strike In New Ontario

Winchester Man Finds Valuable Vein in Hinterland.

New Liskeard, October 31.—Reports of rich gold finds in the Larder lake are confirmed by Dr. R. Reddick, of Winchester, Ont., who gets the credit for the discovery, though the first actual find was made by Edward Flynn, of Chesterville. Dr Reddick has just returned from the north. The first signs of gold, he says, were found by Ed. Flynn, on July 26th, while the party were on their way to visit Chaminey, Quebec. Two days afterwards Dr. Reddick found a large body of quartz on the north side of the north-east arm of Larder lake. Actual gold was found on the last day of July.

Dr. Reddick named the rock Reddick lode. Gold was visible in the quartz and they could knock this off with their picks. Four or five assays were made, and the quartz, he declares, will run from $122 to $1,868 in gold per ton.

Ontario Bank Share's Not Dead

Rumors That Stockholders May Yet Realize 25 to 50 Per Cent of Their Money.

A Toronto dispatch says that the assets of the Ontario Bank in sight will be sufficient to yield the shareholders twenty-five cents on the dollar, and there is just a possibility that this may ultimately be expanded to 50 cents. This, of course, is placing the shares at a par value of $140. The curator is not making any assurance statements, as the assets in no large a transaction may possibly be lessened.

It is said by one of the bank's directors that the Ontario Bank has considerable real estate which has not been included in the agreement with the Bank of Montreal, and which will realize a goodly sum for the shareholders.

Mr C. Gaude has received a number of letters from shareholders endorsing the movement he has instituted for the organization of a shareholders' association. The curator and the advisory board are also favorable to the formation of such an association. The feeling is growing that the affairs of the bank are in good hands, and that everything possible will be done to conserve the interests of all concerned.

In the practical liquidation of the assets of the Ontario Bank, it is pointed out that the Bank of Montreal is acting without fees, which may result in a saving of $850,000 to the shareholders, figuring on a basis of five per cent.

Mounted Police Reject Ross Rifle?

After Two Years' Severe Test, It is Decided to go Back to the Lee-Metford.

Regina, Oct. 31.—The Mounted Police Department is to discard the Ross rifle which was recently purchased, and already large numbers of the members of the force have gone back to the use of the Lee-Metford. The firearm known as the Ross rifle was purchased a couple of years ago after what was believed to have been a thorough test, and the whole of the R.N.W.M. Police force was rearmed with the gun. After a couple of years' use the firearm has been tried and found wanting, and it is back to the old gun for the policeman.

The rifle has been given the severest test of hard use, for it is in the R.N.W.M. Police that a gun gets its use, and the men who have judged the rifle to be no good are meanwhile have every reason to know what they are talking about.

Although the officers of the force have known for some time that the rifle is almost worthless, it is only lately that they have definitely decided that the gun could not be used longer.

Cause of Delay With York Loan

Toronto, Oct. 31.—Shareholders of the York Loan and Savings Company are still withholding their stock certificates and books, and thereby hampering the efforts of the liquidators in endeavoring to get the affairs of the company straightened out. The staff of clerks who were taken over from the York Loan offices are still employed in the work.

The liquidators at first determined to withhold all statements of assets and liabilities until the shareholders' books were all in. In view of the difficulty experienced in collecting the books, however, it is not impossible that an interim statement may be presented for the shareholders in a few weeks.

In the meantime the liquidators await the advent of a car-line up Roncesvalles avenue, before making general effort to dispose of the vast areas of York Loan property in that district.

WAR ON THE INDIANS

A Battle Between the Military and Renegade Utes is Expected.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 30.—The departure from Fort Robinson, Neb., yesterday of four troops of the 10th Cavalry, makes 16 troops of cavalry in all, a total of 765 officers and men now en route to round up the band of renegade Ute Indians now supposed to be in camp on Powder River, in Wyoming.

A despatch to the Bottle Miner from Sheridan, Wyo., says: Soldiers are now approaching the band of renegade Utes from five different points, and it is only a question of time until the redskins are either forced to surrender or are annihilated.

Edison Says His New Battery Solves the Problem of Economical Power

WILL TRAVEL FOR 15 YEARS

Inventor Describes Long Search for Metal, Which Ends In Success.

New York, October 31.—Thomas A. Edison has accomplished a surprise for the world. He has worked out successfully the problem of cheap power. He promises to put on the market within six months a new storage battery which will enable every man to travel in his own private carriage at about the cost of car fare. Without danger, without breakdowns, without cost, almost, a carriage, once supplied with the new power, for $200, will travel without repairs for fifteen years, for 100,000 miles if necessary, says the wizard.

Mr. Edison reiterates the declaration that he has invented a storage battery which will solve the problem of congested traffic in the big cities of the world as soon as he can manufacture enough of the batteries. He is erecting two large factory buildings, now nearly completed, and is installing in them new machinery especially for the manufacture of the motor battery.

SAYS HORSE IS DOOMED.

"In fifteen years from now the horse will be a curiosity; we shall be paying 50 cents to look at him in side shows," said Mr. Edison to an interviewer.

"Last year you were sure that you had solved this problem?" he was reminded.

"Yes, last year I was sure," replied Mr. Edison, "but now I am dead sure. There is a difference between the two. It's one thing, for instance, to be sure, and another thing to be—Wall street sure."

For three years 25,000 storage batteries have been constantly at work in the test-shops of the Edison plant at Orange, N. J.

"I never believed that nature, so prolific of resources, could provide only lead as a material ingredient of the battery," said Mr. Edison. "I have always found her ready for any emergency, and based on this confidence that she never betrays, I commenced diligently with her. Then I thought I had accomplished the task."

But he hadn't, to the satisfaction of his commercial instinct. The question of the weight of the battery was most important as was that of its durability.

COBALT SOLVES RIDDLE.

Nickel, rust tried, other things failed, everything the ingenious Edison, with his trained, scientific mind, could conceive, failed.

"Then I tried cobalt," he said, and punctuated the statement with a broad smile.

"And it worked?"

"It certainly did, but cobalt, being one of the rare metals, the problem was not solved. I scoured the country to find cobalt in sufficient quantities to warrant its use, and discovered lots of it in Canada, in Wisconsin, in Oregon and in Kentucky. Then I knew that it was all right."

"What are you working at now in connection with this phase of the discovery?"

"One of the most difficult processes in metallurgy is to separate cobalt from the ores with which it is associated. At present it is done only at great expense, and so for the last few months we have been devising a plan of getting cobalt out of the ore cheaply within a ratio of cost already calculated for the price of each cell."

SUCCESS COMES AT LAST.

"And you have succeeded?"

"Completely. I can positively promise that the new battery will be on the market in the spring. The factory buildings are ready and the machinery is being installed."

"But there may be some surprise that nature is holding back that will interfere?"

"Absolutely none. I haven't kept 25,000 batteries working for three years without discounting all chances of failure."

The actual cost of recharging the new battery as a matter of a few cents per cell, the greatest achievement being in making it light in weight, in compact shape and above all, durable.

The new storage battery is not designed for fast automobiles.

"But I am not an automobile manufacturer, and I have thought only of solving the problem of street traffic, which is serious in all the great cities of the world," says Edison.

WHY SO WEARY?

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But It's Dangerous.

You have to work hard. This uses up lost of nerve force and tears down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't shake off. The water in your blood must be turned into nutriment and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which renews the blood and nerves, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, debility, or sickness of any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill, of Orr Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from over-powering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight hacking cough also added to my burden.

"My doctor said to try Ferrozone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous sensations disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 66, I consider Ferrozone is a marvel." (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS: Ferrozone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty chocolate-coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

OLD MEN AND YOUNG WIVES

Men differ greatly in their opinions concerning religion, politics, medicine, art, science and a multitude of other things, but there is a substantial agreement among them in regard to one thing and that is that the old man who takes a young wife is a fool. The only dissident is the old man himself.

How could it be otherwise? Even in regard to people who are of no means old it is almost proverbial that very youthful marriages are the happiest. That is partly because there is not apt to be much disparity of age and partly because assimilation is easier. If, then, there is a disadvantage in marrying at 35 instead of 25 there must be a proportionately greater disadvantage in marrying at 65 or 75, even when the woman is of corresponding age. The climax of unreason is reached when the man of 75 marries the woman of 35.

The most important condition of happiness in married life is similarity of taste. Differences in fortune, in intelligence, in religion and in matters of opinion so far from producing marital dissensions simply give variety to married life. On the other hand, differences in regard to art, music, dress, furniture and manners are irreconcilable and lead to the fiercest sort of conflicts. It does not help the matter any but makes it worse if these differences in taste are the result of age.

This is the rock on which the old man splits when he yokes himself up with a young wife. The tastes of youth are widely and hopelessly different from the tastes of old age. Youth admires noise, excitement, and display. Old age craves quiet, moderation and simplicity. Fire and water, light and darkness, life and death, could not be more antipodal than these tastes and tendencies. How, then, can an old man hope for happiness with a young wife?

Great wealth might be supposed to bridge over this dissimilarity, but the truth is it only aggravates it. The passion of the young wife for frivolity, inanity and display is immensely stimulated and the gulf between her and her aged companion is made wider than ever. How could any one but an insane person expect happiness from such a relation?

Whether he and his wife expect happiness or not they never get it. The inevitable disagreement and divorce are not long in arriving and when they arrive the world justifies the woman in marrying for money but curses the man for being such a consummate fool.

It is perfectly true that old men should as far as possible surround themselves with things that are new and with companions that are young. This is a fine means of retaining a youthful and joyous spirit, but it does not apply to the married relation. That is an intimacy in which there must be unity of taste and institution—or death.

Everybody knows which one it is that dies. When an octogenarian takes a young wife the undertaker gets the shroud ready and the world says: Amen!

And still Great Britain's warships are being planned and launched steadily and regularly, and just as steadily do we hear the plaints and wails of the alarmists that Britain will soon be outclassed unless she wakes up. The latest news that three new vessels equalling the Dreadnought in fighting qualities are to be added to the British navy at once may serve to quiet the nervous terrors of these complainants for a while, but they are sure to read somewhere that Germany is planning to build a whole fleet of battleships to put Great Britain off the seas and their quakings will begin again.

Great Jail Delivery in City of Montreal

Montreal, Oct. 30.—There has been a great jail delivery. Twenty-three drunkards have been let out of the Montreal jail, and a still greater number are to be let out of the Quebec jail.

These men have been released on a writ of certiorari, taken out by Mr. I. Houle, advocate, who took the grounds that the recorders had no right to sentence drunkards to such long terms as from six to nine months. The result of these long terms has been an overcrowding of the jail, so that about fifty of the prisoners had to be sent to Quebec.

Mr. Houle took a test case before his Lordship Judge Taschereau on the 15th inst., and he quashed the judgments given in the drunkenness and loitering cases by the recorders. The result of the judgment will be far-reaching. Not only will a total of about a hundred drunkards and vagabonds be given their liberty, but this hundred has instructed Mr. Houle to sue the city, and the suits will be brought for amounts at the rate of two dollars a day for each day spent in prison. With added costs this will be quite a serious thing for the city.

Will Appeal to Other Colonies.

Halifax, Oct. 30.—A despatch from St. John's, Newfoundland, says the Colonial Legislature will meet early in January for the purpose of considering the American fisheries difficulty. This is nearly two months prior to the usual time of assemblage. The Legislature will enact measures asserting the colonial authority in such manner that the Imperial Cabinet will find it difficult to veto them. It will also appeal to Canada Australia and South Africa to support the colony in insisting upon her power to legislate respecting her own people. It is held that the modus vivendi tramples upon this power.

THE BEAR HYDRAULIC

Mr. Etienne Ritter, a Prominent Engineer of the United States, is Most Favorably Impressed With the Property Which He Has Just Returned from Examining.

Etienne A. Ritter, of Colorado Springs, came down from Cariboo on Thursday's stage. His trip up into the Cariboo was made principally to examine the Bear Hydraulic Mining Co.'s properties near Barkerville.

Mr. Ritter is one of the foremost mining engineers and geologists of the United States and his experience has been a very wide one. During the course of an interview in which he was questioned regarding the merits of the Bear Hydraulic property on Cunningham Creek, Mr. Ritter said:

"All that has been claimed by the Bear Hydraulic people regarding the value of their property is in my opinion, well within the mark. I was deeply impressed with the property after examination and while dumping facilities are not of the best still this will be overcome by lengthening the flume and as the grade of the creek is greater than the grade of the flume they will get more and more dumping ground as the flume is extended. Besides they will be helped greatly by the spring freshets and because they have installed an over-head inclined cable-way which will handle all the big boulders leaving only the gravel and lighter stones to be sluiced through the flume.

"Another very favorable point to be considered is the water. The company can provide a very large quantity, in fact they will be able to place on their ground water sufficient to move from a half to three-quarters of a million yards of gravel per year.

"The tests of the gravel which I have made convinced me that the estimate of the company of 10 1-2 cents per yard is as near the mark as it is possible to get without knowing the actual value of future cleanups. The results of the clean-ups of previous years confirm this."

Speaking of the management Mr. Ritter said: "In my opinion Mr. Lowelle and Mr. Wendle are two of the best mining men I have met in all my experience.

"Let me give you an instance of their resourcefulness. They have a tank cut on Cunningham Creek property twenty feet or so deep about the same in width and extending for a couple of hundred feet. Instead of blasting this out in the ordinary way with drill and powder they have used the two monitors; the ground in the cut is washed and one giant throws its column of water against the edge of the formation loosening it up, while the other takes the loosened stuff and hurries it on through the flume, a very striking illustration of the tremendous force exercised by hydraulic machinery. It is certain that they have by using this novel device cut the time for making the cut in half and cheapened the cost fully four times.

"They are clearing up now and within the next three weeks the cut will be finished and the flume laid down in the upper end and everything will be in readiness for a successful season next year."

Speaking of the Cariboo, Mr. Ritter said he was very greatly impressed with the country in a general way. Among mining men in the United States there is a feeling that the next decade will see an advance along mining lines in the north-west greater than the country has ever experienced before. As proof of this he pointed to the movements of such large operators as Heinze and the Guggenheims. Their example will surely be followed by others and the mineral resources of the country will receive all the money required for their development.

Mr. Ritter was also favorably impressed with the China Creek and Nugget Gulch placer properties and while on his return to Barkerville visited the Waverly on Grouse Creek. He believes from what he was able to see that the claim of the company that they will be able to pay next year $50 a share in dividends as against $5 this year, is well founded.—Ashcroft, B. C. Journal.

Hammer & Lasselle, the operators of this mine, would be glad to send a copy of Mr. Ritter's report on this mine to anyone writing for it.

The Bear Hydraulic Mining Company, Ltd., is incorporated for 250,000 shares. This firm has an option on a 1-4 interest in this mine or 62,500 shares. Before offering them to the public it was agreed to send an engineer of prominence to examine the property, and confirm the statements made. Send for a copy of Mr. Ritter's report, which is free for the asking. HAMMER & LASELLE, Hydraulic Mine Operators, 504 Colman Bldg., Seattle, Wash.

VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician said an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. He wrote them and got the New Method Treatment for me. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I formerly earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

At length the doctor arose, and coming around to the side of the duchess, said:

"You may retire to rest now, my dear madam. The last earthly troubles of Ferdinand Cassinove are over."

Rose looked up in wild affright.

"It is past eight o'clock, he died, you know, at seven."

Rose with difficulty suppressed a shriek, although the news gave her an inexplicable relief, for she thought:

"His soul is no longer agonized on earth; it is at peace with God."

"You will do well to retire to rest at once. I expect Mr. Watson here very soon. He promised, you know, to remain with Cassinove until all should be over, and then to come and bring his last words to his wife."

"Then I will stay till he comes, and I see now my dearest Laura bears it," said Rose, resolutely.

Laura's condition seemed to change; from time to time she partially opened her eyes, and moaned as one in intolerable pain. At last she spoke:

"Oh, the long, long night—the long, long night—how does he bear it?"

At this moment there came a gentle knock at the chamber door. Mrs. Maberly went to open it. A servant appeared, who delivered a message, and retired. Mrs. Maberly came back to the doctor, and in her turn whispered:

"The Rev. Mr. Watson, if you please, sir, is downstairs in the library waiting to see you."

The doctor nodded, and then looked anxiously at Laura. She seemed to have sunk back into apathy. He felt her pulse, and then, with a sad shake of the head, laid the pale, attenuated hand down upon the bed, and arose and glided from the room.

He went softly down the stairs and opened the library door.

Mr. Watson advanced to meet him; they shook hands in silence, and then the doctor said:

"You have come to tell us that it is finished."

"No—look there," replied the clergyman, drawing his friend toward a gentleman who stood at the window with his back toward them.

This gentleman turned around, and when the doctor raised his eyes, he stood face to face with——

Ferdinand Cassinove!

Yes, with Ferdinand Cassinove, who, holding out his hand exclaimed, in a broken voice:

"My wife! how is she, doctor?"

"Great Heaven of heavens! Cassinove! alive! escaped!" exclaimed the doctor, beside himself with astonishment.

"Pardoned, fully and entirely pardoned, for—a crime that he never committed," replied the clergyman, gravely.

The doctor turned and met Cassinove's dark eyes, and grasped his hands in speechless joy, that presently found expression in a burst of manly tears.

"But how is this? What moved the minister. Tell me all about it?"

"What moved the minister was the attested confession of the wretch who really did commit the crime, and who has now gone to answer for it. Cassinove, the guiltless victim of circumstantial evidence, was to have suffered at seven o'clock this morning. At seven o'clock this morning Cassinove was free, and Thugsen, the threefold murderer, was dead by his own hand!"

"For Heaven's sake, how was that?" inquired the greatly agitated doctor.

"I will tell you all by and by. The attested dying confession of Thugsen was in the hands of the minister last night; but for the abominable routine Cassinove might have been free last night, and we all have been saved twelve hours of anguish. The pardon was placed in the hands of the sheriff at six o'clock this morning. An hour later and a legal murder had been committed. There, that is all I can tell you now, for I see that Cassinove is anxious that his wife should be comforted."

"His wife! how did she pass the long night? How is she this morning?" inquired Cassinove.

"She passed the night in patient, almost anguish; this morning she may possibly be said to live. But do not be alarmed if she does not know that I shall presently carry to her a will bring her back to life. Yes, Cassinove, this is my firm conviction, that if you had died this morning, she would not have survived the night."

"Oh, good friend, will you not go to her immediately, and break this news to her, and prepare her to see me?" said Cassinove, turning anxiously to Mr. Watson.

"Patience, my young friend; I must consult her physician first. Will it not be dangerous to communicate this intelligence in her present exhausted state, doctor?"

"No; I certainly think not. It is just the sort of shock she requires to bring her back from the borders of the grave."

"But the dangerous effects of sudden joy?"

"Circumstances alter cases. The sudden joy that would kill a person in the full possession of their health and strength, would only electrify to new life one dying of grief. It is the principle of the antidote, air—the principle of the antidote. So come with me, if you please, Mr. Watson, to Mrs. Cassinove's bedside. Come, Cassinove," said the good doctor, leading the way upstairs.

When they had reached the chamber door, the doctor paused, and said:

"We must use caution in applying this electric shock, however. You two had better remain outside a few moments, until I go and prepare her."
